Theodore Rasmussen, a lad of ten years, was up before his honor as a candidate for the Industrial school charged with habitual truancy. After a fatherly lecture he was allowed to depart.

CEDAR CITY.

Crop, Wool and Live Stock Interests are Promising.

Special Correspondence.

Cedar City, Iron Co., May 21.—We are having delightful weather, crops never looked better for this season of the year, notwithstanding the universal cry of scarcity of water for agricultural pursuits our stream has been remarkably high for the past two weeks, and it is reported that the most of the lucern fields have been watered, thereby securing to the farmers one full crop of lucern and probably two. The high water has been a veritable boon to our citizens, as much inconvenience is felt here through the scarcity of hay, caused through the light crops of last year.

Cedar City is not behind its sister settlements in the matter of contributing aid to the widows and orphans of the Scofield disaster; some $80 is now subscribed to the fund, and on Wednesday evening a grand musical entertainment will be given in the tabernacle for the purpose of swelling the fund.

WOOL AND LIVE STOCK.

Sheep shearing is now almost done, our flock men are having a fair harvest. Some few wool buyers are preambulating our streets but seem somewhat shy, and claim the wool market is quite unsettled. One company here has about seventy thousand pounds of wool to dispose of, and there are about one hundred and fifty thousand pounds in the hands of private parties.

Cattle and sheep are doing well on the range and the outlook for the live stock industry is more promising than it was one month ago.

THE LIQUOR QUESTION.

Our city fathers are now wrestling with the liquor problem. An application for a saloon license was presented at their last meeting. Cedar has been without a licensed saloon since the advent of the new administration, but it is currently reported that considerable intoxicating drinks are being disposed of notwithstanding the decided stand taken against the opening of a saloon by the city authorities.

Times are brightening up a little, and our merchants report a favorable business for the time of the year and all we lack now is the advent of the iron horse to place us in touch with the rest of the civilized world.

A Woman's Awful Peril.

"There is only one chance to save your life and that is through an operation" were the startling words heard by Mrs. I. B. Hunt, of Lime Ridge, Wis., from her doctor after he had vainly tried to cure her of a frightful case of stomach trouble and yellow jaundice. Gall stones had formed and she constantly grew worse. Then she began to use Electric Bitters which wholly cured her. It's a wonderful Stomach, Liver and Kidney remedy. Cures Dyspepsia, Loss of Appetite. Try it. Only 50 cents. Guaranteed. For sale by Z. C. M. I. Drug Dept.

MIDWAY.

Unfathomable Hot Pots of the Wasatch—"News" Agency.

Special Correspondence.

Midway, Wasatch Co., May 19.—This place is famous for its hot springs, or hot pots, as they are called, owing to the peculiar formation of each spring, through the deposit of lime from the springs.

Some of the pots are still in course of formation, others are dry. They are indeed great natural curiosities, extending over a space of about four by five miles of country, bordered on the south and east by the Provo river, and on the north and west by the towering peaks of the Wasatch range. At one of the largest pots or springs is now established a hotel and resort. The temperature of the water is fine for bathing. Mr. Fitsgerald, the proprietor of the hotel, sounded the spring in this pot to learn its depth, and after letting the lead down 5,000 feet and running out of cord came to the conclusion that it was a part of the bottomless pit.

EUREKA.

Death of Alfred Adelman, a Colorada Miner—Funeral of Miss Field.

Special Correspondence.

Eureka, Juab Co., May 20.—Alfred Adelman died at the Flying Dutchman mining claim in West Tintic the other day and his body was carried to Eureka this morning for interment. H. Hoesch, who was a partner of the deceased, says that Adelman had not been ill very long and that his death resulted from quinsey. The two men, Hoesch and Adelman, left Grand Junction, Colorado, less than a month ago to work the property in West Tintic. Shortly after arriving on the ground, Adelman complained of a sore throat and in a few days he died. A ten-year-old son of the deceased was brought in with the dead man and a daughter is said to be a resident of Texas. Aside from these there are no other relatives. The boy, if not claimed by relatives, will be adopted by residents of this place, several people having expressed themselves as desirous of giving the boy a home.

The funeral services will probably be held here Monday.

FUNERAL OF MISS MAUDE FIELD.

The funeral services over the remains of Maude Field, the fifteen-yearold daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Heber Field, were conducted from the Odd Fellows' hall here today. Miss Field died Friday at the Holy Cross hospital at Salt Lake City, from appendicitis. The services were very impressive and the seating capacity of the hall was inadequate to accommodate the immense crowd. Some appropriate music was rendere by John Ivey, A. N. Wallace, Frank Morley, Arthur Law, J. J. Harper, Miss Grace Meyers and Mrs. J. J. Harper. The long funeral cortege was led by the school children.

The Lagoon Road-Race.

J. P. Gunn, who is promoting the bicycle road race to Lagoon on the 30th, announces that the entry list will close Saturday night. A number of riders have entered, from Ogden this week and more are expected from there and Provo. Mr. Gunn says that a Chinaman in Salt Lake has expressed a desire to compete in the race.

How Ladies Should Ride.

"There goes a woman who knows how to ride a wheel," said an agent whose store overlooks a cycling thoroughfare. "You will notice," he continued, "that she rides quite easily, and that from the waist up her body does not move. It is maintained always directly over the center line of her bicycle; that is why the front wheel runs straight and does not swing from side to side as you notice it with so many women riders, and even with a great many men cyclists also. Neither does she lunge forward with her shoulders at each pressure of the pedals.

"What is the result. She maintains a smooth, even, steady gait, and seems to be riding without effort. She is getting all the speed out of the wheel that she is capable of, an if she practiced the objectionable tactics that I have mentioned she would not be able to ride so fast or so far. You will also notice how rapidly her feet are moving. It is plain that she is riding a low gear wheel, possibly 60.

"Right there lies one of the greatest troubles women cyclists have. The gears are altogether too high. In the effort to keep up with their stronger brethren, women cyclists are riding gears anywhere from 70 to 84. Whether through carelessness or because they think there is demand for them, most makers are equipping women's wheels with gears above 70. This reprehensible practice will eventually do more to unpopularize the bicycle than any amount of talking will undo. As soon as the point where cycling is an easy exercise is passed, harm is being done. When a woman looks graceful on a wheel, in nine cases out of ten the fault lies in the gear of her bicycle. In the years when a gear in the neighborhood of 60 was considered high for a woman, there were far more women riding wheels than there are today. I would advocate the use of 52 gear for a woman who finds difficulty in pushing a higher one. It is foolish to argue that it is not pleasanter to make more revolutions of the pedal with less muscular effort.

"If agents would only realize when they are defeating their own interests when they advise big gears for women's wheels I think they would stop it. Doctors realize that bicycle riding, as long as it does not become too great a strain upon a woman's physique, is the finest exercise in the world for them. Its main point of excellence over other sports lies in the absence of effort and in the exhilaration the rapid motion produces. This, of course, is increased as the wheel runs easier, and is lost as it runs hard. Women should never ride a wheel heavier than twenty-five pounds, and it should be kept always in the easiest running condition. Most of all, they should reject all device tending to increase the size of the gear above 70."

SPORTING NOTES.

About the best piece of news concerning the Short Line nine is that a number of changes are soon to be made in the line-up. Gierhardt, the pitcher, who is now in Denver, may be secured.

* * *

During last Sunday's game, Rand, Pocatello's second baseman, was fined $5 by the umpire for kicking. President Horne will see that the fine is paid.

* * *

If all goes well there will be an amusing game of baseball or something at Walker's park next Thursday. It will be remembered that the City Council and the Elks are scheduled to play.

* * *

Judging from the way Ogden handled Pocatello yesterday, Pitcher Harmon was ineffectual. The fact of the matter is, the Ogden lads were not afraid of him.

* * *

Last Sunday John Chapman rode a half mile in 56 seconds flat at the Salt Palace. That shows that the popular young rider is in shape to show Salt Lakers a thing or two in the way of riding.
