BERLIN LETTER.

Chancellor Caprivi Explains the Aims of the Government.

BERLIN, June 21.—During a prolonged sitting of the Bundesrath, Chancellor Caprivi explained the aims of the government in concluding the Anglo-German agreement in relation to African territory. He dwelt on the immense importance and strategic value of Heligoland, and recalled the fact that during the war it was necessary to detach large forces to guard against a possible French landing at the mouth of the Wehr and Elbe rivers and lay submarine mines to protect the water approaches to Hamburg and Bremen. He produced an opinion from Von Moltke that Heligoland could be so fortified that it would be equivalent to a large increase in the German army in the event of war. The Bundesrath unanimously approved the contract and congratulated the Emperor and Chancellor.

A report that England was anxious to cede the island is in direct variance with all reports here. The opinion of the people of the Island does not count with either government. Both know the inhabitants are opposed to annexation to Germany, both on account of a dread of military service and the customs regulations. Germany will make concessions on these points for 20 years.

LEADING HAMBURG JOURNALS regret the granting to England of a protectorate of Zanzibar, because it will place the whole trade in the hands of the English East African Company. Wissmann has telegraphed similar views. All declare, however, that the acquisition of Heligoland balances the losses elsewhere. The National Zeitung reminds the malcontents that most of the region conceded to England never belonged to Germany.

An ominous note was presented today to the Porte by the Russian Ambassador Nelidoff. It suggests the intention of the Czar to actively interfere in the Balkans. The note declines the request that Russia wait until November for payment of the war indemnity by Turkey, and demands immediate payment. The note declares that in the event of refusal Russia reserves the right of taking all necessary measures to compel payment.

Yesterday the Bulgarian envoy presented to the Porte a note from Stambuloff demanding an extension of religious liberty to the Bulgarians in Turkey, and also a recognition of the Bulgarian government. Stambuloff is acting in concert with Russia without regard to the personal interests of Prince Ferdinand, and it is expected that his action will develop a proclamation of the independence of Bulgaria under a prince who will be agreeable to Russia, with the absorption of part of Macedonia into Bulgaria.

The French Chambers.

PARIS, June 21.—The report of the committee appointed to investigate the position of the shareholders and bondholders of the Panama Canal Company was submitted today to the Chamber of Deputies. The minister of justice, replying to questions, said the authorities never accepted a joint responsibility for the enterprise, but had not remained insensible to the disaster befalling it. In a few days the official liquidator would be able to report on the present position of affairs, and when it was established who were the responsible parties, the minister of justice would intervene if necessary.

Regarding the British protectorate in Zanzibar, the Minister of Foreign Affairs replied that the act of the Berlin conference rendered it obligatory upon every nation desirous of establishing a protectorate in Africa to communicate their intentions to the other powers. Great Britain could not take any action without a previous understanding with France.

An Uprising in Mexico.

CHICAGO, June 21.—A Times special from the City of Mexico says: Information is given of an uprising in the State of Guanajuato, which is believed to be the beginning of a general revolutionary movement, of which there have been repeated warnings for some time past. As the telegraphs are under government censorship it is impossible to get details by wire, and some days must elapse before all the facts can be obtained. There are signs of uneasiness in government circles, and the feeling is that a crisis is imminent. The tyranny of the government is daily becoming heavier, and it is almost certain that within a year Diaz will proclaim himself dictator. Only a revolution can prevent such a disaster to the republic. This may come quickly if the movement in Guanajuato shows the strength expected of it, and be put down successfully by the government, then the day of general resistance will be postponed. Business is dull and a reaction has set in against the buoyancy created by credit. The latter is exhausted and the inevitable is at hand. This state of things increases the feeling of restlessness. There is no freedom of the press. Therefore, one need not look to the Mexican papers for information.

Order of Conductors.

NEW YORK, June 22.—Representatives of the conservative element of the Order of Railway Conductors opposed to the recent action of that body in cutting out the non-striking clause from the constitution, met here today, seceded from the old organization and formed a new one, to be known as the "Independent Order of Railroad Conductors." The constitution of the order adopted is practically as it was before the recent meeting. Ex-Grand Chief Wheaton was elected president of the new order.

A Notable Man Dies.

FAIRFAX COURT HOUSE, Va., June 22.—Judge Henry W. Thomas died here this morning, aged 78. He was member of the commission that visited President Lincoln in 1861 with a view to averting hostilities. After the war he was a member of the court of conciliation.

IN THE HOUSE.

Speaker Reed States his Position: What Followed.

WASHINGTON, June 21.—In the House, Speaker Reed proceeded to state his position on the mooted question of reference of the Silver bill, which he had referred to the committee on coinage, weights and measures. He said the rules required such bills to be referred, and that a statement to that effect should be put in the journal. A record of statements was made and the House saw fit not to permit it to remain a part of the journal. That left a somewhat difficult question as to the status of the bill. Individually the chair believed a refusal to record a fact did not obliterate the fact itself. The chair believed the Senate amendments to the silver bill came within the purview of rule 20, which prescribed that any amendment made by the Senate to any House bill must be considered first in committee of the whole, if it would have been so liable had it originated in the House. The Senate amendment to this bill struck out the first section and substituted another section containing no words of appropriation and proposing a different line of action, to wit: the coinage of all silver presented, instead of the coinage of silver bullion. This and other substitutes were plainly new propositions, requiring consideration in committee of the whole. Under these circumstances and in conformity with the rules that the bill had been referred and was now referred to the committee on coinage, weights and measures.

Bland (Mo.) appealed from the decision and proceeded to argue that the appropriation clause in the original House bill and the bill as it came from the Senate were similar in terms and purpose, and the bill was not subject to reference to the committee of the whole.

Springer declared that the Silver bill had only been subjected to this treatment. The Republicans and their Speaker were dodging the silver question.

Crisp (Ga.) said a discreditable way had been found under the rules to stifle the minority when that minority had become a majority. This was the only opportunity to get a vote upon free coinage.

Morrow (Cal.) contended in opposition to the Speaker's ruling. The bill was on the Speaker's table, open to the disposition of the House.

Hermann (Ore.) said the silver question was an issue of the election held four weeks ago in his State. He agreed to support the Republican state platform, declaring in favor of free coinage. These were his sailing orders.

Bartine (Nev.) said the representatives of the silver producing States were mostly new members not learned in Parliamentary tactics, but he could read plain English and said the bill must be considered in committee of the whole.

Perkins (Kansas) said it was the purpose to secure free coinage, but to drive through a bill that the president would be [illegible].

[illegible]

Henderson (Iowa) held up the urgent Deficiency Appropriation bill as an instance of a bill taking the same course as the silver bill in reference.

Carey (Iowa) said there were not three districts in the United States, outside of the silver producing States, that would support such a proposition as was contained in the amended bill. As for the coinage committee, he would promise again that the bill would be reported back at the earliest possible moment. The committee was not unfavorable to silver.

Connell (Neb.) said he could not see why this should be regarded as a political question. None of the democrats would be found voting against the majority of their party. Why should not the western republicans show the same independence?

The debate having closed, McKinley moved to table Bland's appeal. The yeas and nays resulted—yeas 134, nays 117. So the appeal was laid on the table. The following republicans voted with the democrats against McKinley's motion: Bartine, Connell, De Haven, Hermann, Kelly, Morrow, Townsend and Funston. The following democrats voted with the republicans in favor of the motion: Buckalew, Dunphy, Fitch, Geissenhainer, Mutsh, McAdoo, Mutchler, O'Neil (Mass.), Quinn, Wiley and Stahlnecker. A number of pairs were announced.

McKinley, upon the announcement of the vote, said: "So the appeal is tabled and the bill stands referred to the coinage committee."

Brewer (Mich.) presented a report from the appropriation committee on the Senate amendment to the fortifications bill. The House nonconcurred and a conference was ordered.

To Construct a Harbor.

LONDON, June 22.—A company has been formed to construct a harbor at Breanderm, on Bristol Channel, for American liners, the port to be linked with London by the Great Western Railway.

Despair.

DUNBAR, Pa., June 22.—The rescuing party has not yet reached the entombed miners; they are working hard, but no one knows how far they have to go yet. Hope has given way to despair.

World's Fair Commissioners.

WASHINGTON, June 21.—The President today appointed the following commissioners-at-large to the World's Fair at Chicago: Gaston W. Allen, New York, in place of Edwin H. Ammidown, declined, with Louis Fitzgerald, New York, as alternate; William M. Lindsay, Kentucky, with Patrick J. Walsh, Georgia, as alternate.

Incorrect.

WASHINGTON, June 21.—Referring to the published stories concerning the scene in the room of the committee on appropriations the other day, a gentleman, who was present, said tonight that the whole affair was greatly misrepresented. The discussion which took place was not in relation to the general schedules of the McKinley bill but the feature which Blaine condemned was that of giving a free market in the United States to the products of the sugar planters of the southern continent, and not asking in return free market for the products of our own farmers, where we can get them merely for the asking. Blaine said that corn would not be selling in Nebraska for 15 cents a bushel if the markets of Latin-America were open to our products.

Irrigable Lands.

WASHINGTON, June 21.—Senator Paddock to-day reported from the Committee on Public Lands a substitute for the bill to restore irrigable lands of the United States to settlement. The substitute repeals so much of the act of October 12, 1888, as reserves from entry, settlement or occupation, public land excepted as sites for reservoirs, and rights of way for canals and ditches.

Brazil's Constitution.

RIO DE JANEIRO, June 22.—President De Fonseca signed the new constitution at a ministerial dinner tonight. The text of the constitution was approved at a cabinet council yesterday.

Deaths in The Riviera.

NICE, June 22.—The startling announcement is made that the Riviera, which has long been esteemed the best of sanitariums for lung patients, is now the scene of more deaths from consumption, proportionally to its population, than any other part of Europe, nor are the victims strangers who come here for relief, but native inhabitants. Indeed, consumption has become almost an epidemic at San Remo and Mentone. So serious is the situation that a meeting of local physicians has been held to consider the cause and possible means of relief. Their unanimous opinion was that the alarming prevalence of lung disease was due to the presence of so many patients from abroad, whose breath, expectorations, etc., poisoned the air and soil. The local authorities have undertaken to disinfect the entire region as thoroughly as possible, hoping to destroy the germs of disease and check contagion.

Chicago's Population.

CHICAGO, June 22.—Census Supervisor Gilbert, in an interview last night said that from the returns already in the population of Chicago was certainly over a million. How much he could not say, but thought considerable. The population of the city was certainly more than doubled in the last decade.

Strike on the Union Pacific.

PORTLAND, Oregon, June 22.—The employes of the Union Pacific machine shops along the line from Pocatello, Idaho, to Portland, struck yesterday on account of a reduction of wages.

The Texas Pacific Robbery.

TEXARKANA, Ark., June 22.—The wife of Ratcliffe, the wounded Texas Pacific train robber who died last night, has furnished the authorities a full statement of the most sensational robbery near here. She states the persons now in jail, Detective Williams, Napoleon McDaniels and John Browley, with her husband, committed the robbery. McDaniels went through the express car while Browley and Williams stood guard. Ratcliffe did the shooting which disabled the express agent with Williams' Winchester. McDaniels shot Ratcliffe through mistake, supposing in the darkness that the fireman had armed themselves and determined to resist. The woman did not in any way countenance or encourage the robbery, but was enforced to silence.

Murder by Drunken Negroes.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 22.—Marshal Dillon of Haughville was mortally wounded this morning. The negroes had a big dance and all got more or less drunk. About midnight one of them, Peter Carpenter, got into a row with Patrick Horn, an Irishman, and Horn was cut with a razor. This victory made the negroes hilarious. Marshal Dillon was called in, and, in company with Amy Moore, attempted to quell the disturbance. They were attacked by the whole mob, the member brandishing knives and razors. The mob soon began firing their revolvers and about thirteen shots were fired, one of them fatally wounding Marshal Dillon.

Peter Carpenter has been arrested for cutting Horn and Allen Ross for shooting Dillon. They were brought to this city to avoid mob violence, as the citizens of Haughville were much excited.

A Split.

NEW YORK, June 22.—A split has occurred in the Central Labor Union today. The socialistic delegates were compelled to withdraw and they have formed a new central body, which will be known as the Central Labor Federation. There was a war of words, loud and vigorous.

Jealousy the Cause.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., June 22.—This morning Charles Cato, white, shot and killed his mistress, Lizzie Mitchell, a negress, and then suicided. Four hours later William Tatum shot and mortally wounded Mary Ratcliff, his mistress, and then blew out his own brains, in a different bagnio. Jealousy caused both crimes.

Captured by Brigands.

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 22.—Brigands near Sinekle captured Mahmoud Bey, a man of great wealth. They demanded £12,000 for his release. Turkish soldiers have been dispatched in pursuit of the brigands.

Struck By Lightning.

CONEMAUGH, Pa., June 22.—Mrs. Patrick Stanton of Upper Prospect was struck by lightning to-night and instantly killed. Her husband and son were also shocked and fatally injured.

Carlisle's Successor.

LOUISVILLE, June 22.—Worth Dickerson was yesterday chosen by a small majority to succeed John G. Carlisle as representative in Congress of the Sixth Kentucky District.

An Agreement.

PARIS, June 22.—It is stated that the English and French governments have exchanged satisfactory communications regarding the Anglo-German agreement.

Corbin's Resignation.

PHILADELPHIA, June 22.—The report that Austin Corbin would shortly tender his resignation as president of the Reading Railroad is confirmed by the directors of that road. His successor will be Vice-President A. A. McLeod. When asked what led to Corbin's action, Director Antelo said that he resigned in order to push forward a big enterprise in New York City. Antelo declined to speak further on the subject.

Philadelphia's Population.

PHILADELPHIA, June 21.—Returns of the census enumerators are almost entirely completed, and the supervisor for the district gives the population of Philadelphia at 1,040,449.

The Invention of Printing.

MAYENCE, June 22.—The great printing exhibition opened in Electoral Hall here yesterday. This exhibition is in commemoration of the four hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the invention of printing, and the display includes specimens of every kind of printing apparatus and the products thereof, from the time of Guttenberg to the present. The State library contributes some bits of printing that were actually done by Guttenberg himself. Next Thursday is the anniversary of Guttenberg's birth, and there will be an imposing demonstration in his honor. The whole city will be illuminated and there will be elaborate festivities in the Guttenberg Casino, which has been built on the exact site of the house in which the inventor was born.

Excitement on a Train.

ATLANTA, Ga., June 22.—A row occurred on the East Tennessee train near Ellijmood last night. Mr. Hooks of Dalton and Mr. Bassett of Rockmart, white men, were badly wounded by pistol shots. Two negroes were killed, shot through the head, and another cut almost to pieces. During the melee several women narrowly escaped injury from flying bullets.

A Lucky Escape.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., June 22.—Two young men of this city returned in a buggy from a pleasure resort tonight and were confronted by three masked highwaymen on the turnpike where Farmer Rosecrans was murdered two years ago. Their horses being frightened by the dark lanterns needed no urging, and the young men made their escape, amid a fusilade of revolver shots. A posse has gone out in pursuit of the robbers.

Brigandage Spreading.

ROME, June 22.—Brigandage has become so prevalent in Sicily that the government is at the point of declaring portions of that island under martial law. Not only are travelers waylaid and held for ransom, but armed bodies of bandits have entered Salemi, Termine and other towns and carried off leading citizens from their homes. These brigands are not what might be termed professional outlaws, but were until recently honest and industrious citizens, who have been driven to brigandage by the unprecedented distress that prevails throughout the kingdom.

For Consultation.

BELGRADE, June 22.—M. Ristich, the first regent of Servia, is going to Vienna to consult the Austrian government on the question of restoring ex-King Milan to power in the country as commander-in-chief of the army. This would be an offset to Russia's attempt to get Milan into that country and interest him in St. Petersburg intrigues.

Went Over the Horseshoe Falls.

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., June 21.—At 8 o'clock this morning a pleasure boat was discovered floating down the upper river. Just as it reached a point opposite the third Sister island it lurched to one side, and the people who were watching through glasses are positive that one or more persons were lying in the bottom. It continued on its way through the upper rapids and made a plunge over the Horseshoe Fall without any stir being made on board. It seems probable one or two lives were lost. This is the second boat that has made a leap over the cataract this week.

An Alleged Whipping.

WARRENTON, Ga., June 21.—David Beckman, a Mormon Elder who has been enticing people away from Glasscock county to Utah, was terribly whipped near Gibson Thursday night. The victim was found crouching in the loft of a house of a convert. He was whipped and a coat of tar and feathers applied. He was given an order to leave the county forever.

Pugilistic Editors.

PALATKA, Fla., June 21.—Charles H. Pratt, editor of the Evening Herald, assaulted J. Russell Kennedy, editor of the Times, today with a heavy cane, which he broke into splinters over his victim's head. Kennedy closed in on him and while the pair were locked in ferocious embrace, each trying to draw his weapon from his pocket, the bystanders and police interfered and separated them. The trouble grew out of an article in the Times. Kennedy's wounds are not dangerous. Lawsuits are likely to follow.

An Ancient Marine.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., June 21.—Major Isaac L. Doughty, the oldest marine officer in the United States, died today. President Jackson appointed him a major of marines, and he served forty years.

Mrs. Stuart Robson Dead.

COHASSET, Mass., June 21.—Mrs. Stuart Robson, wife of the comedian, died very suddenly this afternoon at their summer residence at Cohasset harbor. The cause of death is believed to be the bursting of a blood vessel near the heart.

The Turner Bunds.

NEW YORK, June 22.—The fourteenth annual convention of the North American Turner Bunds met this morning in the Central Turner Hall and began formal business. President Hugo Muench delivered the opening address. The organization controled a greater social and political power, he said, than any other in the United States. No other civil body furnished so many able-bodied soldiers during the late war. The annual report shows a roll call of 35,912 members, with property amounting to $4,771,221 and an indebtedness of $214,038. The following board of officers were elected: President of the convention, Heinrich Brown, St. Louis; Henry Metzner, New York, vice-president; Victor L. Berger, Milwaukee, secretary.

From the Mexican Capital.

CITY OF MEXICO, June 22.—United States Minister Ryan is ill.

An attempt was made yesterday to assassinate Jose Sanchez Ramon, general manager of the Inter Oceanic Railroad.

French Merchants Excited.

PARIS, June 21.—The excitement among the French merchants arising from the difficulties caused by the new regulations concerning the importation of goods into the United States is spreading to the Chamber of Deputies and to the newspapers. A few excitable people talk of retaliation. The government officials and the artistic community were both startled by the news that the Finance Committee of the American Senate has stricken out the clause in the Tariff bill putting works of art on the free list. There is a great outcry over this action.

Sullivan's Party.

PURVIS, June 21.—John L. Sullivan and party arrived here this morning, prepared for his trial, which will begin Tuesday.

THE most complete line of Wall Paper in town at PEOPLE'S EQUITABLE CO-OP.

Kilrain's Indignation.

CINCINNATI, June 21.—At the close of the Muldoon-Kilrain Combination's exhibition at the Grand Opera House this evening, Kilrain was served with a summons in a civil suit, brought for alleged services in escorting Kilrain to the battle ground of the Sullivan-Kilrain fight. Kilrain was very indignant.

Won't Go to the Coast.

ALBANY, N. Y., June 21.—Governor Hill has accepted an invitation to attend the unveiling of the Hendricks monument at Indianapolis July 1st. By reason of official duties, the governor has declined urgent invitations to extend his trip to the Pacific slope, including one from the State of Washington to be present at the organization of the Washington State Association of democratic societies at Tacoma in August.

A Lottery Offer.

BATON ROUGE, June 21.—During the lottery discussion today, Harris said that he had received a letter from Morris, which said that if the lottery bill was submitted by the legislature to the people he (Morris) would advance $1,000,000 in 1892 to levee building and repairing in the different parishes of the State and the same amount in 1891.

Must Find Another.

DUBLIN, June 21.—At a meeting of the national electors today, resolutions were adopted censuring Justice Huntley McCarthy for his persistent neglect of his parliamentary duties, and declaring at the next election a new candidate would be nominated in his stead.

Not an American Citizen.

READING, June 21.—Today Judge Endlich refused the application of Charles Ah Sing, a Chinaman, for naturalization papers. The judge finds no warrant in law for making a Chinaman an American citizen, no matter how respectable or worthy.

Dismayed.

NEW YORK, June 21.—The holders of the sugar trust certificates were dismayed this morning when they heard this morning of the unanimous vote by which the House adopted the conference report on the anti-trust bill, and long before the opening of business the sugar post on the floor of the exchange was surrounded by a large and excited crowd of traders discussing its effect. They soon realized what the effect would be, however, for when the chairman's gavel fell the entire crowd began to offer certificates. At the close of business a decline of 17 per cent was noted for the day. Many speculators who bought certificates above 80 last week are crippled and it is feared will have to liquidate Monday.

The representatives of the sugar trust are anxiously awaiting a decision from the court of appeals on the legality of the trust.

"Uncle Bob" Wins.

CHICAGO, June 21.—Forty thousand people assembled at Washington Park this afternoon to see Uncle Bob, son of Luke Blackburn, win the great American Derby. His reputation as a mud runner was amply sustained. Every foot of space in the stands was packed to say nothing of the crowds in carriages and on the lawns.

Amid uproarious howls of delight Uncle Bob passed under the wire two full lengths in the lead, while Santiago was second, only three-quarters of a length ahead of Kingsbury. Jed was fourth, while the others straggled in, pulling up badly beaten. Time, 2:50½. The Derby stakes won by Uncle Bob were about $18,000.

Uncle Bob was bred in Nashville, Tenn., and was named for a famous old darky hostler at Belle Meade. Uncle Bob. The colt was so poorly thought of at the Belle Meade sale in the spring of 1888 that Uncle Bob bought him for $225. A few days afterwards he sold him to Sam Bryant for $400. The next sale was by Bryant to Hankins, of Chicago, three days ago, for $15,000, $2,500 more to be paid if Uncle Bob won the Derby. As he did so and landed in Hankin's pocket $18,000 stake, besides outside bets, it may be considered a reasonably good purchase.

All Run Down
