The Evening paper is the paper of Today, the morning paper is the paper of Yesterday.

DESERET EVENING NEWS.

5 O'clock ~EDITION.~

TRUTH AND LIBERTY!

NO. 268. TUESDAY, OCTOBER 6, 1896, SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH. VOL. XXIX

VIVE LE TZAR!

Paris Shouting for Nicholas and Alexandra.

FRENZIED ENTHUSIASM.

Dazzling Decorations, Glittering Swords, Flags and Flowers.

STREETS FILLED WITH HUMANITY.

The Czar Hardly Moved by the Heartiness of the Welcome Accorded Him.

PARIS, Oct. 6.—The czar and czarina arrived here safely at Bonelagh station from Cherbourg at 10 o'clock this morning. The weather was fine and the spectacle decorations showed up splendidly in the sunlight.

Their majesties were accorded a most rapturous reception and reached the Russian embassy, where they will reside during their visit to this city, at 11 o'clock. Crowds began gathering along the route of procession shortly after daylight and by 9 a. m. the neighborhood of Avenue Roi Bois de Boulogne, Place De L'Etoile, Avenue des Champs Elysee, Place de La Concorde, Pont de La Concorde, Boulevard Germaine, Rue St. Honore and Rue de Grenelle, on which the Russian embassy is situated, were thronged with enthusiastic people. A double line of Bruce held the route from the national depot to the embassy. Shortly after 7 o'clock they were reinforced by gendarmes, sergeants de ville and detectives, including a number of agents of the Russian secret police and picked men from the Nihilist detective corps. The decorations eclipsed anything ever seen in the French capital. Russian and French flags, entwined and floating side by side, predominated. At the principal points, such as Place de la Concorde, Place de l'Etoile, Place de Bastille, Place de Nation, Place du Chatelet, Place de la Concorde