DEMOCRATIC CONVENTIONS.

Candidates for State Officers Will be Nominated at Ogden, Sept. 4.

Judicial Conventions Will be Held in the Different Districts on September 18th.

There was a meeting of the Territorial Democratic committee in room 15, third floor, of the Hooper block this forenoon and another one is being held at the same place as the News goes to press.

The session of these sessions was the work of fixing dates and places for holding Democratic conventions and transacting business incidental thereto. Both meetings were presided over by Chairman John T. Caine, and Secretary Harris, of Cache, performed the duties belonging to his office.

Ogden was named as the place for holding the convention for the nomination of State officers and September 4th as the date. The candidates to be nominated are, a representative to Congress, governor, secretary of state, auditor, treasurer, superintendent of public instruction and three supreme court judges.

The basis of representation will be about one delegate to every thirty votes cast at the last election for J. L. Rawlins, delegate in Congress. The votes was 10,321 which will give a convention of practically 350.

The judicial district conventions will be held on Sept. 14, with the exception of the one at Ogden, which will convene on the 16th, the day after the state convention. The places will be held as follows:

First district comprising the counties of Cache, Box Elder and Rich, at Logan.

NEWSBOYS' EXCURSION.

The Energetic Little Chaps Offer Many Attractions at Their Saltair Outing.

The newsboys of this city will have an excursion to Saltair on Friday, August 30th, at which time prizes amounting in value to $2,000 will be distributed to those attending. Among the prizes is a fine music box valued at $125, which plays eight tunes to a manner scarcely excelled by any other musical instrument. The other prizes consist of silk hats, Shetland ponies, gold and silver medals and a gold medal studded with diamonds to the best lady and gent waltzer at the resort on that day. The newsboys have shown great enterprise in arranging an excursion of the kind, and going to such an expense in distributing prizes, and the public should show their appreciation of their efforts by swelling the numbers at the resort on that day.

BAD STABBING AFFRAY.

Andrew J. Hendrick, in Jail for Attempting to Carve Up the Body of C. H. Hamblein.

The police court had a number of cases to dispose of today.

James Price was charged with drunkenness. He said he had taken one drink, or a little more, of blackberry brandy for medicinal purposes. He was fined $7.

William Clark, Ed. Williams, Frank Henry, John Shipley and A. S. Carroll were each fined $5 or three days' labor for stealing a ride.

John Doe forfeited $5 for drunkenness.

Will Ross, a colored boy, was arraigned for keeping a gambling house. He said that it was not a gambling house but only a place to play a friendly game. The court considered the evidence and found the defendant guilty. He got the usual fine of $25.

John Bergen (not the latter) came up for trial on the charge of drunkenness; he was sentenced to ten days or to pay a fine of $10. Walter Garretson was arraigned for assaulting N. B. Dresser on east Second south street Wednesday night. Mr. Dresser struck a little dog belonging to the defendant with a cane and very soon received a blow from the cur, administered by the same kind of a weapon. An apology followed but the defendant was fined $10.

Eight men were sentenced to several days' labor for trespass.

Nannie Jones and Carrie Doe forfeited $5.50 each for prostitution.

Jim Sullivan was arrested for keeping a house of ill-fame and was arraigned for trial this afternoon. Through his attorney he pleaded guilty to keeping a house but seldom then he rented rooms that were used for immoral purposes. This is a violation of a city ordinance which has not been carried into effect lately. The case was continued until tomorrow that Prosecutor James might consult City Attorney Hoge to find out the city's policy in this matter. The police say that this case is revolting in the extreme.

The hearing on Andrew J. Hendrick, for assault with a deadly weapon, will be here tomorrow morning. This morning Hendrick was given the chance to go on $500 bonds. The complaint is made by C. H. Hamblein. He says that yesterday about 5:30 o'clock he found Hendrick on some premises which he was charge of at Ninth North and Fifth West street, and he ordered him off. A dispute came up over something he had said about the defendant's wife and words passed between them. Hendrick then drew a knife and stabbed him in the right eye, the blade passing under the ball. Hamblein struck at him with his left hand and the knife is flicked aside and missed his arm. Again a thrust was made, this time at the heart, but the distance between the two men was too great to allow it to be fatal, and the knife only ripped the shirt and inflicted a flesh wound.

Twenty-third Quorum.

The Twenty-third quorum of Elders will meet in the Fifth ward meeting house this evening at 8 o'clock.

TERRITORIAL ITEMS.

Potatoes in Wasatch—The Ballot Came Close—a Case of Healing.

Wasatch Wave: We were shown a sample of potatoes this week that were grown in six weeks from the time the seed was planted. They are called the "six-weeks potato" and are supposed to be large enough for use in that length of time. The samples shown us were as large as a hens' nest. A potato of this kind would be a great vegetable for this country, it seems, as they could be planted from the 1st to the 10th of June, or even later, and have plenty of time to mature..... While Will had a very close fight, he lost his one day last week. While he was at work on his father's ranch on Lake creek a rifle ball came singing along on a downward course, striking a big bal brim so surprised Will to the ground in fright of him. It was afterwards learned that a young lad had aimed at a prairie chicken on the wing across the creek from where the Will boy was at work, and although the force of the ball had lost speed, it would have made an ugly and possibly fatal wound had it struck him on the head.

Brigham City Bugler: One day last week, Andrew May, of Call's Fort, was seen driving merrily over to Logan to visit friends. He is the young man who, only a few weeks ago, had the great prong of a derrick plunge clean through his body. His rapid recovery is looked upon almost as a miracle. It seems that when the cruel derrick caught him in its giant grasp, one of the large prongs struck him in the back, piercing the lung and breaking a rib on the opposite side of his body. The unfortunate young man sank down unconscious, and it was thought by those present that he would expire before he could be removed to the house. Elders forthwith administered to him; he seemed to almost immediately revive, and now declares that at the time he heard and felt the pieces of the broken rib rumble. He has practically suffered no pain since from the terrible wound and has been able to sleep comfortably every night since the accident. His recovery has been so steady and rapid as to be a marvel to his friends. Today he would be on the farm performing his usual labors, but at the earnest solicitations of friends he went to Logan last week for a short respite from the arduous duties in conducting a large farm.

IN A VERY BAD BOX.

conduct. But through all his ups and downs and over all his disguised course in this city he has had strong sympathizers and staunch friends, and to his latest unfortunate experience they will not desert him. Whatever the outcome may be, he will probably be brought to the realization that the worst enemy he has out is himself, for hitherto he has been very considerately dealt with even by the police commissioner and his commanding officer.

WILL COME UP SOMEHOW.

This afternoon a hearing of the charges against McDonald was set down for 10 a.m. tomorrow. The inquiry will be before Judge Smith. It is the belief of many of his brother officers that "Mac" is suffering from mental alienation superintensed by the excessive use of liquor. A crazy policeman, always armed with a revolver of formidable proportions, is a dangerous element to be patrolling the street, and the prospects are that McDonald will be locked after and kept under restraint until he recovers. There is little doubt but that he will be relieved of his star, whatever may be the result of his trial.

Death of S. M. Lovendahl.

Elder S. M. Lovendahl, an old and respected citizen and faithful Latter-day Saint, died at his home, nine miles south of this city, at 12 o'clock last night. The cause of his death was a protracted illness which had lasted for the past two years.

Elder Lovendahl was born at Malteryd, Christianstadt's Lans, Sweden, Nov. 4, 1833, and was comparatively in his 62nd year. In his youth he received a common school education, and afterwards gained a good understanding of blacksmithing, carpentry and farming. He was baptized into the Church on July 17, 1856, by Elder Mons Jorgensen, and a few months later was ordained an Elder O. N. Liljenquist, and went out to preach the Gospel in Denmark. He labored four years as a missionary and in 1861 emigrated to Utah, crossing the Atlantic in the ship William Tapscott and arriving in Salt Lake City October 5, 1861. He settled at Lehi, Utah county, where he resided three years, after which he purchased a place in Spring Lake, Utah county, where he has resided ever since. Elder Lovendahl has taken a very active part in home industry, has given much time to boulder and labored hard to develop the natural resources of this county. Although he has passed away, his name will live in the history of this Territory, for the good deeds which he did to the Territory as well as to his fellow men.

Funeral will be held at the Spring Lake meeting house on Wednesday at 2 p.m.

A. O. Smoot Jr., Reed Smoot and J. W. Sears, executors of the estate of A. O. Smoot, deceased, have commenced an action against James R. Pierpont and George H. Naylor. Plaintiffs ask that defendants be enjoined from conveying or encumbering certain Provo real estate, deeded to George H. Naylor by James R. Pierpont on the 5th of March, 1895, which transfer, plaintiffs allege, was for the purpose of preventing them from levying upon said property under a judgment against Pierpont & Sons, in favor of A. O. Smoot, deceased, and that the property in question be declared subject to levy and sale on execution to satisfy the judgment against Pierpont.
