CAPTURED THE BANDITS

Murderer of Engineer Dempsey is in Custody.

S. FRANK AINSWORTH OF ROODHOUSE, ILL.

In Company With Bill Jackson, Attempted to Rob the Burlington Train—Tracked by Bloodhounds.

St. Louis, June 25.—A special to the Post-Dispatch from Whitehall, Ills., says:

Frank Ainsworth and Bill Jackson of Roodhouse, are the men who held up the fast express on the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy road about a mile north of the depot here last night and killed Engineer Fred Dempsey. A sheriff's posse was immediately organized and bloodhounds brought to F. Dennell of this place, to-day. The dogs have trailed and captured Ainsworth in this part of the country. They were tracked Jackson to Brighton, where he was arrested. Jackson told the whole story of the holdup and Ainsworth was arrested a few hours later.

The train pulled out of the station about seven minutes late and when it slowed up at the Chicago & Alton crossing it was boarded by Ainsworth with a gun in his hand. He used the usual tactics, crawling over the tender and calling the engineer to throw up his hands. Dempsey evidently did not understand. He reversed his engine and threw on the oil. Ainsworth began firing and Dempsey was shot in the body, falling to the floor of his cab. The firemen escaped through the front window. A general alarm was spread on the train and the desperado fled. They were white masks, and as the one who killed Dempsey left the train he fired his gun in the air and yelled, "Come on Bill."

The night express is supposed to carry a local and through mail, and the plan evidently was to cut off the express car and run ahead with it.

The express messenger was held in the city hall here today over the body of the dead engineer. A great crowd was in attendance and excitement was high.

Prominent officials of the Burlington road are here to attend the inquest proceedings, and no effort will be spared by the people to bring the desperadoes to justice.

At Roodhouse, Hardtmen and Whitehall, where Engineer Dempsey is well known and liked, the excitement is intense and violence to the prisoners is feared.

Jackson, who confessed to the holdup, said that the plant had been laid two weeks to stop the train, cut off the express car and loot it. Ainsworth is a son of E. F. Ainsworth, an extensive dry goods merchant at Roodhouse.

THIS IS PEACE TALK.

That Is the Prospect Action Would Hurry the Close of the War.

Washington, June 25.—The proposal to attack the coast of Spain itself, while not having progressed to any definite stage, has not been abandoned by the administration. On the contrary, it has been the subject of some earnest discussion in administration circles though it has gained no serious attention in the deliberations of the cabinet as a body. The idea is informally discussed looks to taking a number of our best class battleships with a sufficient fleet of colliers and supply vessels and making war on the large cities along the Spanish coast. In this connection the statement of a cabinet official today that he favors an early ordering of about ten of our vessels of the first rating with orders to carry what will be needed in the course of so long a journey, to be taken away from our fleet in Cuba, and look after on this mission, is significant. He said he believed that said some such work as that should be undertaken if the government of Spain will fail to appreciate the intention of the government with which she is at war.

DeRaft Women Finds Guilty.

Morristown, Pa., June 25.—Louis De Raft, the Atlantic woman in black, today pleaded guilty to the charge of offering a reward of $500 for the murder of Mrs. Rosina P. Kelsey, and was sentenced to two years in jail by Judge Hunter.

COAL FOR DUTCH.

British Ships Leave Philadelphia with 6,000 Tons for the Fleet.

Philadelphia, June 25.—The Dutch ships Oldenzaal, Captain Olsen, and East Lothian, Captain McFarlane, sailed from this port today for Batavia with nearly 6,000 tons of coal for Admiral Dewey's fleet. The cargoes are valued at about $15,000 but the freight received by the two ships will be much greater than that.

The two vessels will go all to their power to get to Manila in the shortest possible time.

Count and Countess Tassini Arrested for the Crime—Three Names Set on the Household Register.

London, June 25.—A special dispatch received here from Vienna this afternoon says it is reported there that Count and Countess Tassini, said to be first lady-in-waiting and chamberlain of the czar and the latter waiting on the empress, have been arrested and charged with an attempt to poison their sovereigns.

The dispatch does not show the name of the Count and Countess Tassini as being attached to the persons of the Russian imperial monarchs.

WANT SIX MORE.

That Number of Men Will Complete the Light Batteries.

Today Lieut. Wodgnell sent three more men to be examined by the physicians for service in the batteries. There was a half dozen rejected by the examiners before they got to the physicians. The officer says that a great many people have mistaken these as to the kind of men needed for service under Uncle Sam. It is not the physically weak, but they are at once rejected by the recruiting officer if they do not bear upon their faces the stamp of ordinary good citizenship. Those who were accepted by Lieut. Wodgnell today are: Frank Hodgson, Ogden; Charles Ward, Ogden. The physicians were Karl Lundstrom, Chas. Waggoner and Richard Kearney.

Six more men are needed to fill the batteries to their maximum strength, and they will probably be recruited in Montana or Idaho. Lieut. Wodgnell does not expect to leave for San Francisco before Wednesday, because in adding to the work to be done in preparing the remaining six men to complete the 104 originally wanted, the lieutenant is kept somewhat inconvenienced and will probably not be in a day before taking up his journey to the coast.

Home Missionaries.

M'MILLEN'S CONFESSION

Judge Norrell Decides That It Was Voluntary on the Part of Defendant,

AND WILL BE ADMITTED IN EVIDENCE.

Testimony of Witnesses Today—What T. H. Mitchell Saw—Bob Skeen's Few Words—Other Court Matters.

The confession of Jesse E. McMillen is to the part he took in the killing of John Tyson on the Roosevelt road last June, as made in the presence of a number of persons in the office of the chief of police the day following the murder, will go to the jury as a part of the state's testimony, Judge Norrell decided this morning that the same was voluntary on the part of the defendant.

The whole of yesterday and a portion of Thursday was devoted to the introduction of evidence and argument upon the question as to the admissibility of the evidence, the defense contending that promises were made McMillen by the officers that it would be easier for him if he would confess. When court adjourned last evening Judge Norrell had taken the matter under advisement, and this morning ruled as before stated, that McMillen made his confession voluntarily.

The following witnesses were called by the state: The witness called the attention of McMillen to his confession to the murder of Tyson.

Detective Sheets was next examined. He identified a revolver as belonging to McMillen. The latter's testimony was in the office where the same should be, he supposed, if it was not lost. He had lost the bottle. McMillen lost others, was full when he took out the one for Keys. When arrested McMillen had the revolver in his pocket. Witness denied that Keys or Hodge had been in his room the night preceding the murder. It was not so. He was confronted with Mitchell that he swore it was so.

John Hacker testified that he was captain of police during July, 1897. Was in charge of the case against McMillen and the other officers. The defendant was arrested on Friday, July 9, and he was in the station when the night preceding the murder and the defendant's night was spent in the station. He was there during the early part of the evening, but that Keys had not been in the place at that time. He saw McMillen that day. He was drunk. Witness denied that he was present during another conversation had with McMillen. Mitchell was present. Witness denied that he told McMillen that he, Bob Skeen and Keys were in the saloon on the Saturday night and Sunday morning before the murder. Witness denied that Mitchell's statement was true. It was true that Mitchell made a statement to McMillen. He was not confronted with Mitchell. He did not know much morphine he put into Keys's beer and his object in so doing, which was not stated.

Cross-examined by Mr. Whitmore: Witness did not remember whether the confession was made before or after the officers had accompanied McMillen to the saloon. Malvey and Gleddining were present when the morphine was secured out. Witness knew nothing of the putting a newspaper containing an account of the murder in McMillen's coat, neither did he know of Mr. Stroup calling to see the defendant. It was quite possible that information had been given that he should see McMillen, but he was not aware of such an order.

T. H. Mitchell was next called. He said he was a dealer in hides by trade. Was in the Senate saloon about a week Saturday night the 23d of July. He drank two glasses of beer. The first part of the evening he stood up against the bar and afterwards went into a wood room in the west part of the house. His reason for going in there was because he was taken sick with cramps in the stomach. He came out shortly afterwards and met the bartender, Osborn, he was sick. He took some tonic, another fellow was there, and two men came in who he afterwards learned were Fagan and Phelps. Both were drunk. Fagan had a bottle of whiskey and he offered McMillen, brought in the drinks. Fagan drank beer and Phelps whiskey. They had two or three rounds while witness was in the room. Keys appeared to have been drinking but knew what he was about. Keys and Fagan had taken the last drink, which was about fifteen minutes after the men came into the room. Keys said he was going home and he left. Witness thought he could't walk. The last witness saw of Keys he was lying with his head and arms on the bar. He was breathing very heavy. He did not remember Phelps leaving the room. He could't tell how long Keys had been asleep. Witness then left the saloon. When he passed Justice's Parlors he saw a man lying on the sidewalk. As he went out of the saloon Phelps and McMillen were standing at the bar talking. Witness's attention was not called to McMillen. Witness had not thought he saw another man behind a screen. Court then took a recess.

HOW IT STANDS ON THE DOCKET.

On the resuming of court this afternoon Mitchell was cross-examined at some length by Mr. Whitmore.

Robert Skeen was next called. He testified that he was in the Senate saloon a number of times on Saturday night, July 23, with Keys and Phelps. Does not remember seeing anyone else with him. Saw Phelps and McMillen talking together. Was not sure McMillen was there when a wine room. Witness thought both drinks was beer, but was not sure. Was sober. Was not out of the saloon all night. Between 2 and 4 o'clock Sunday morning he saw Phelps waiting for Keys to go home. He asked witness to help him get him out. Skeen said he and Phelps carried Keys to the door and left him on the sidewalk. Saw Keys and look him out. Saw the alley way where they left him. Witness thought Keys was drunk. Was breathing heavy. The witness was under cross-examination when the "News" went to press.

INTERESTING QUESTION RAISED.

Attorney Pierce Claims that a Provision of the Statute is a Violation of the U. S. Constitution.

In the case of Hollaker vs Deseret, argument was heard before Judge Hilton by W. H. Dickson for plaintiff and Frank Pierce for defendant, a very interesting question was raised. It was set up in addition to pleading a mechanic's lien, the statute provides for an attorney's fee of not to exceed $25 to be allowed to the lien holder in case he wins in court. Mr. Pierce claimed that this provision of the statute was in violation of the 14th amendment of the Constitution of the United States, in which it is provided that no state shall deny to any person the equal protection of the laws. Mr. Pierce claimed that the allowance of an attorney's fee to the lien holder, if it be taken out of the amount of the property it he wins, is a deprivation of the property of the lien holder, and is a violation of the 14th amendment.

The Supreme Court of the United States has held that a law providing for the payment of fees to the United States judge, or U. S. building, such a law was constitutional. Judge Hilton took the matter under advisement.

Petty Prisoner's Troubles.

Felix Pulcino, a prisoner in the city jail, was called, appeared before Judge Hilton today on an order to show cause why he should not be punished for contempt of court in failing to pay his fine and costs in a case against him. He pleaded that he was unable to pay the fine with a fine of $100 or imprisonment at the rate of $1.50 per month.

Mr. Peterson recently filed an affidavit setting forth that the defendant was not complying with the court's order. Pulcino had a straight forward story. He said he was married and that his married name is a number with four children, whom he was obliged to support. Further, he was only married for a month and has to pay $5 each month to an aged mother.

The charge of contempt was dismissed without prejudice, and it is thought that Pulcino's wages will be garnished.

Taken Under Advisement.

In the matter of the application of Martin Christensen for an accounting by David W. James, assignee of the Western Shoe and Dry Goods company, Judge Hilton today took it under advisement.

Christensen alleged that James, as assignee, had neglected to perform the duties of his trust, in that he was allowing the property and effects of the Western company to be wasted and lost, and was neglecting to collect outstanding accounts, etc., which that James is required to give an accounting of his acts, to his and other stockholders of the company.

Receivers to be Discharged.

Judge Hilton made an order in the case of the Denver Mining company vs the Bank of Salt Lake today requiring receivers Frank Kiesel and Charles H. Jacobs pay to Clerk Hills $2,000, the balance of funds in their possession, and that upon the payment, they be discharged as receivers and their bondsmen exonerated.

Estate of Russell C. Woolcraft, deceased; order to pay final account.

Estate of Frederick Houghton, deceased; order made settling final account and distributing estate.

Estate of Morgan H. Williams, deceased; same order.

In Favor of Defendants.

In the case of the National Bank of the Republic vs George M. Scott & Co., Judge Hilton today rendered judgment in favor of the defendants and interveners.

Before Judge Hilton.

Judge Hilton made the following orders today:

W. H. Atwood vs Henry Weber et al; judgment for plaintiff as against defendants Weber and Roland, for $1,15, and costs.

James Thompson vs M. B. Whitney; judgment for plaintiff for $60, being it seems, the balance of the wages of capital stock of the Salt Lake Improvement company and interest from September 1, 1893.

F. A. Sprague vs Marshall Weber; judgment for defendants.

To Visit the Mormon City.

Denver Republican: Traveling Passenger Agent Daveley of the Rio Grande Western has come to Denver to assist the Utah delegates to the Mormon in their efforts to organize a party to take a side trip to Salt Lake, where the Mormon Congress will be in session June 26th to July 3rd. Mrs. Harriman has agreed to be present and deliver an address, and as this is the last time of the year to visit the great Mormon city, it is expected that a large party will make the trip. Mr. Daveley has headquarters in the Brown hotel, and is distributing all kinds of literature and advertising matter for his state.

MIDSUMMER DAY AT CALDER'S

Scandinavians Have an Enjoyable Outing in the Park.

Crowning of the Queen—Concert, Speeches, a Dramatic Entertainment, etc., the Features.

The Scandinavian midsummer celebration in Calder's park yesterday, June 24th, was decidedly a success, considering the unfavorable weather. All day the steel cars on the Calder's park line were filled with pleasure seekers, while teams from the city were seen in front of the park. It was estimated between evening that somewhat over 4,000 people were on the grounds, quite a few from Utah county helped to swell the numbers, it was an orderly throng. Private cars to and from the park were numerous, and to from the amusements and evening season. The weather was hazy and cool, which added to the day.

One of the features of the program was the crowning of the midsummer queen, the ceremony which was at 4 o'clock was quite lively during the afternoon and good natured, considered quite a novelty. The queen was dethroned and the crowns of the officers of the Scandinavian societies, which had been placed on her head, that Miss Emma Jorgensen had very clocked. She had 1,000 votes. Miss Ellen Hansen had 1,000 votes and Miss Emma Shoeland had 878 votes and Miss Mary Brown 200. A few minutes after the crowning, which was delayed, the event occasioned a circular delayed on account of the newer being of the same number of votes, the queen was dethroned, and the crowns placed immediately that votes for Mrs. Sigfield and Miss Shoeland had been decided, the Miss Jorgensen had 1,000 votes in her favor and the female was 60. The result, however, was allowed to stand as published, and the crowns were placed on the heads of the queen and her attendants, which was not received.

The crowning of the queen was an interesting side affair. The pavilion was decorated in a tasteful manner. When the curtain rose, the maids of honor, Mrs. Sigfield, Miss Hansen and Miss Shoeland, were seated on the throne. Then the queen was escorted to her exalted seat amid the strains of the Swedish national air, the people. Dr. C. F. Kjerlfye placed the crown on her brow in the name of the people, Mr. M. M. Mattson, the crowns placed on the heads of the maids of honor, which was not received.

Dancing was kept in order until 2:30 p. m. At that time a farce entitled "A Soldier's Wife" was produced by Mr. F. S. Ericson, Mrs. E. Camp, Mr. P. Johnson, Mrs. M. Christy, Mr. W. Nielson and Mrs. M. Anderson. The audience parts were well rendered, and liberally applauded. It was presided by a solo by Miss Emma Jorgensen, accompanied by Prof. Ecstro. In the evening a concert on the lake was given by the musical organization Harmonien.

The excursion was in every respect a success. It was planned for the benefit of the Scandinavian meetings in the city, presided over by J. M. Sjodahl, M. Christiphersen and J. R. Jensen. The following was the chairman of the committee of arrangements:

Prof. Johnson, W. F. Winberg, Carl Nilson, F. A. Ericson, P. N. Madsen, C. Mork, Lars Johnson, Mrs. P. W. Madsen, Andrew Jensen, C. M. Nielsen, Mrs. M. Christiphersen, Mrs. A. C. Sorensen, F. S. Ferestrom, C. A. F. Orbin and Emma Shoeland.

Women Were Not Alone.

The Denver Post of Thursday says: Women are not alone in the Mormon. This morning a woman fainted a child died, a old died and an English maid ran away.

From the Mission Field.

Elder Andrew Smith Jr., of the Third ward, this city, called on the "News," reporting his return from the mission field. Elder Smith left Aug. 11, 1896, and arrived home again June 23, 1898, after laboring for upwards of three years in Switzerland and North Germany. During the first six months of his mission Elder Smith labored as a traveling Elder in Switzerland, then he was assigned to preside over the conference, which position he filled for one year, after which he was transferred to the presidency of the New South Wales conference, with headquarters at Bellevue, and on Sept. 21, 1897, he received word that the Australasian mission had been divided and that he had been appointed to preside over the new mission to be known as the New Zealand mission. Elder Smith remained until ordered home, and he says the mission is in good condition and says the way is being opened up for the spread of the gospel, and that people in that land are alarmed. The Elders, says he, are in the enjoyment of good health, despite the entire change of climate, and on the whole the mission is prospering.

Elder J. D. Hagman of the Twenty-second ward, this city, called at the "News" office today and reported his return from the mission to Scandinavia. He left home April 11, 1896, and labored in the southern part of Sweden the whole of the time. He had charge of the work of the Malmo conference, in which there have recently been conversions to the amount of 300. The conference he says, is in a good flourishing condition.

Elder Frank H. Cutler of Oneida, Kane county, has returned to Utah from the mission he left home to go on June 1st, 1896, to Florida, Alabama and Georgia. The work of the Elders has been attended with very satisfactory success. One of his fellow Elders, Elder Daley presided over the Florida conference during the last eighteen months.

Elder John Clayton of Provo, Utah, returned home on the 23d from a mission to Australia, which mission he entered July 1, 1896. The work of Mormon missionaries in the south where he labored, is meeting with marked success.

Palmer Recovering.

Burt Palmer, who was caught in a wheel patrol yesterday morning, is coming out all right again. The accident occurred on Fourth East street, between South Temple and First South streets. It appears that Palmer was taking up the low few alternations, and the wheel got into a ditch, when a twenty-foot embankment fell in upon him, burying the upper part of earth. Men were passing at the time, and they soon had Palmer dragged up. Man at a world and the falling dirt so quick it was and body so to the water, prompted the opposite side. Palmer was rushed the workmen who rushed to the rescue. Palmer was not at all hurt. Then he fainted. No bones were broken, however, and after being carried home he was able to walk home. The effect he repeatly regained strength.

Will it not right. You don't want a baking powder that will raise the overcrust of your loaves. You don't want one either that will leave your biscuits yellow, with a quality of soda bitter, not yet one that will give them a yellow color. What you do want is a baking powder that will do its duty just right, make your crusts light and flaky without overdoing it, make them a wholesome food that is not bitter and make your baking an palatable. U. S. Baking Powder is that kind.

Dandruff is Dangerous

When dandruff appears it is usually regarded as an annoyance. It should be regarded as a disease. Its presence indicates an unhealthy condition of the scalp, which, if neglected, leads to baldness. Dandruff should be cured at once. The most effective means for the cure is found in AYER'S HAIR VIGOR. It promotes the growth of the hair, restores it when gray or faded to its original color, and keeps the scalp clean and healthy.
