PROGRAM FOR SPECIAL DAYS

Executive Committee of State Fair Outlines Features For the Week.

SCHOOL CHILDREN FRIDAY.

Great Gathering of Youngsters Scheduled—Judges Named—Big Race Meet—Educational Exhibits.

The executive committee of the State Fair association met last evening and transacted an amount of important business in connection with the big exposition to be held at the fair grounds next week. The program for special days was partially completed, and it was decided that Wednesday will be Salt Lake day. Gov. Spry and Mayor Bransford will both issue requests that business be suspended on Wednesday afternoon, in order to give everybody a chance to attend the fair. Appropriate exercises are being arranged for the occasion, and it is expected that this will be the biggest day of the fair. A special racing program will be prepared, and in many other ways will the day be made an important one.

Friday has been decided upon as school day, and in the afternoon all city schools will be closed. An effort is also being made to have all the schools of Davis county, as well as in the lower part of Salt Lake county, close for the afternoon. It is understood that the officials of Granite district are in favor of the proposition, and those of Davis county officials, who have been seen, are also favorable.

JUDGES SELECTED.

The judges of the exhibits in the manufacturers' building were announced last evening by F. J. Hewlett, supervisor of this department. They are, C. N. Strevell, H. M. Dinwoodey and Walter Naylor. A loving cup nearly three feet in height has been offered by the fair officials for the best manufacturers' exhibit. This is the first time such a trophy has been offered for this purpose. The space in the manufacturers' building has all been allotted, and workmen are now busily engaged preparing the exhibits.

LOGAN A. C. EXHIBIT.

The old poultry house has been transformed into an exhibit building and lecture hall, and will be used exclusively by the Agricultural college. The building has been repainted inside and out, and is an ideal place for the big exhibit of the Logan school. A corps of men is now at work arranging the various displays, which will include many new features. A display will be made of all the birds to be found in Utah, and information will be given showing which are beneficial and which are harmful. A similar exhibit will be made of insects. A lecture bureau will be established in connection with the college exhibit, and members of the faculty will give illustrated lectures on subjects that are important to the people of the state. These lectures will begin at 1 o'clock in the afternoon and continue until 8 p. m. Each hour a different lecture will be given by some member of the faculty who is an authority on the particular subject under discussion.

UNIVERSITY BUILDING.

The University of Utah will also have a separate building where a complete display will be made. This building will be finished by Saturday evening, and the display will be ready for the opening day. The increased number of entries in all departments has made necessary the erection of a number of temporary buildings. A small army of men is now at work, and everything is being rushed in order to be ready by Saturday night.

COLIC QUICKLY CURED.

Colic is one of the most severe and painful diseases. It is quite common, too. Almost everyone has an occasional attack. Fortunately there is a remedy that always affords quick relief and that has never been known to fail in any case. It is called Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Mr. Ted Robinson, a prominent merchant of Point Blank, Texas, says: "I have had several attacks of colic and in every instance one dose of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy relieved me, and I never had to take more than two doses to effect a cure." For sale by all druggists.

TESTIMONIAL AT PROVO.

Mrs. Emma Ramsey Morris goes down to Provo tomorrow where she will be the recipient of a big testimonial in the tabernacle prior to her departure for the east. Prof. McClellan will go with her as accompanist, and will render a solo on the tabernacle organ. Next Monday evening Mrs. Morris will give a pupils' recital in the Fourteenth ward assembly hall and all interested in the art divine are invited to attend.

The apples were confiscated and covered with kerosene. The shipment of fruit came from Hooper, Utah, and was owned by J. G. Belnap and James Rans.

A. MILTON MUSSER IS LAID AT REST

President Joseph F. Smith and Other Prominent Church Officials Testify to His Virtues.

The funeral of A. Milton Musser, which was held yesterday afternoon in the Second ward chapel, was attended by a large number of people. The hall was filled to overflowing, the attendance being estimated at fully 600 people. The meetinghouse was decorated with palms and flowers and the picture of deceased was draped at the back of the stand. The floral offerings were numerous and beautiful.

The musical part of the service included the solo, "I know that my Redeemer lives," by Charles R. Pike, and "Abide with me," by Messrs. Pike, Robinson, Siddoway and White. Robert Siddoway also sang "God be with you till we meet again," and Horace S. Ensign sang "Face to face." The speakers were President Joseph F. Smith, Anthon H. Lund, Francis M. Lyman, B. S. Hinckley, Hugh J. Cannon and Bishop Heber C. Iverson.

President Joseph F. Smith delivered an impressive sermon on life, present and hereafter, and the importance of the latter-day work. Reference was also made to the sterling worth of A. Milton Musser. President Anthon H. Lund spoke specially of the cheerfulness and kindness of deceased. F. M. Lyman referred to the work of deceased in the missionary cause. B. S. Hinckley praised the character of the dead man, especially of his desire to encourage young men. After a short talk from President Hugh Cannon of Liberty stake, telling of a conversation he had with deceased a few days before his death, when he expressed himself as being a firm believer in the resurrection. Bishop Iverson, in conclusion, referred to the devotion of Milton Musser to his family, and his ideal home life. His respect for authority, and his desire to encourage young missionaries by always attending the farewells in the ward was also referred to by Bishop Iverson. The fact that he had once traveled round the world without purse or scrip, and that he and his sons had spent 35 years in missionary work was also spoken of. Interment was in the city cemetery.

EMIGRATION ROAD TO EXTEND SOUTH

Practically Decided to Build to Holladay at the Mouth of Big Cottonwood Canyon.

The Emigration Canyon railroad management has practically decided to extend the line south, either on or in the vicinity of Twenty-third street, to Holladay, at the mouth of Big Cottonwood canyon, and thence on to Wasatch, at the mouth of Little Cottonwood, where the road will catch the traffic constantly moving in and out of the canyon between Wasatch and Alta mining camp. It is believed that by making Big Cottonwood thus easy of access the tide of summer travel in that direction will be largely accelerated and be calculated to increase the number of summer cottages in that beautiful and romantic canyon. It will also help materially in building up Holladay, as the advent of a street car line down there would encourage the building there of suburban homes, all along the line. The view from the Holladay mesa is scenic enough to encourage this belief.

DEATH OF DR. NILES.

Salt Lake Medical Society Meets to Adopt Resolutions of Respect.

The death of Dr. Niles, briefly announced last night, is widely regretted in this city, where he was so well and favorably known. His illness was of short duration, only 48 hours, having been taken by the apoplectic stroke Sunday afternoon, while in his office, and he never regained consciousness. All hopes of his recovery were abandoned Monday afternoon, although 12 doctors worked on his case.

Dr. Niles was a native of Pennsylvania, aged 54. He graduated from the University of Pennsylvania, removing afterwards to Kansas City, where he built up a large practise, but came to Salt Lake 24 years ago, where he achieved special prominence. The deceased was a recognized authority on abdominal surgery, in which field he performed hundreds of operations, many of them difficult. He read many papers on the subject before medical bodies, and was regarded as one of the most eminent specialists in the entire west. A son, Frank, arrived from Los Angeles yesterday noon, in time to be present as his father passed away; but the daughter Bessie was unable to arrive from the east in time. These two children and the wife survive him. The Salt Lake Medical society met this morning in the office of Dr. A. C. Behle to adopt resolutions relative to Dr. Niles's death. Arrangements for the funeral are being made.

THREE TYPHOID CASES.

Authorities Believe Epidemic Is Now Under Control.

Three cases of typhoid fever were reported to the city board of health this morning and the state authorities believe that the epidemic is about stamped out. Of the 178 cases reported in the last two weeks, 89 of them can be traced to the milk supply of four dairies operating in Woods Cross. These dairies have been inspected, cleaned up and it is now believed that there is no danger from the milk.

The victims reported this morning are: Leland Holt, 420 east Fifth South street; Clarence Patterson, 116 south Sixth West street, and Sarah C. Ball, 48 Rio Grande avenue.
