A Spanish report says that on noon Saturday last an American warship arrived on the Punta Maja, Matanzas province, and that the battery had opened fire. The warship is said to have withdrawn for a time and to have returned with reinforcements of men and ammunition. The two vessels, it appears, fired eight shots at the battery, which were answered by twenty shots from the shore guns, whereupon the ships are alleged to have withdrawn. It is said that only one Spanish artillerymen was wounded.

During the evening of Saturday last only one ship was in sight from Matanzas.

It is announced from the palace that on Sunday morning last the plantation of Precios, province of Matanzas, was attacked by a force of fifteen hundred men, and that a fierce fight ensued, in which the Spanish forces were victorious. It is understood that no mention is made of the American fleet, and it is expected that the answer to be communicated to Rear Admiral Sampson, commander of the American fleet, will be given in the day. Its gunboats, which were carefully examined by the Spanish officials, are reported to be in fine condition. The Spanish officials are anxious that the American fleet should leave Cuban waters.
