MORE ELECTION JUDGES.

Salt Lake City and County Officers Appointed by the Commission.

The Utah Commission has made appointments of judges of election to be held in Salt Lake City at the ensuing state and municipal election on November 5th.

A. S. Cherry was appointed to fill the position from which Mr. Charles Stolz has resigned and that gentleman will therefore be the officer by whom will be delivered the oath of office. It was also decided that all those persons who were to officiate at the polls on election day should be notified of the time and place of the meeting of their sons.

Clerks Bear and Pace of the Commission were instructed to keep open office at the Commission headquarters from 9 a. m. to 12 m. and from 1 p. m. to 4 p. m., so that any complaint we know that it was difficult to find anyone there with whom to do business.

The following is the list of appointees, the first two named being Democrats and the last one a Republican in all cases.

The good housewife is now so pestered with the drivers by cold weather to get her rooms thrown every available opening, that she longs for a sunny frost to quick the insects or their whereabouts sleep.

The Chamber of Commerce expects to secure the meeting of the World's Congress of Meteorological Climatology for Salt Lake City in November, and has guaranteed a bonus of $500 for expenses. The committee of arrangements are Dr. W. T. Dray, T. G. Beatty, P. H. Jones, F. S. Bascom and G. V. Parmelee.

Mormon gardens near the city complain that there is much vacant land held by real estate men which is allowed to go into weeds, and in one quarter there are heavy crops of weeds, the seed from which is carried by lightness in cultivated fields, and time was not so far back, I would be better for owners of such land to let it out for cultivation free of rent than to let the nuisance of injuring neighboring lands and incidentally the real estate business itself.

Believe in fruit state that there has been a market improvement in the consumption of fruit. It is very, owing to greater freedom from worms. This freedom is not indicated by any section of country, as one thing orchards show a great deficiency, the fruit from one being comparatively free of pests, while that from the other is fairly riddled. The improved condition is accounted for to the superior care of the orchardist, by spraying and other methods.

OBITUARY NOTES.

MARY E. NICHOLS.

WEST JORDAN, Oct. 20, 1895. On the morning of the 19th, at 10:30 o'clock, Mary E. Nichols, the beloved wife of Harry Nichols, died at her home in Murray, Salt Lake county, surrounded by many members of the family. She was well known throughout the county and her many friends and acquaintances will be pained to learn of her demise. She leaves two little girls, 1 and 3 years and a babe a week old. It seems hard to see a young life torn away from their loved ones, but God has seen fit to call her home where pain and sorrow are no more. She was a kind mother, a loving daughter and a devoted wife, and God knows.

Sister Mary E. Nichols was born October 14, 1874, at West Jordan, Salt Lake county, on the 8th of November, 1892, she was married to Harry Nichols, and a union which has resided in Murray, the Lake county. Funeral services were held at West Jordan ward house, the meeting and a sermon being large enough to accommodate the people. The speakers were Bishops R. W. Smith, of Salt Lake City, and John Ward, from Pleasant Grove. They spoke words very comforting and encouraging to the bereaved husband and family and all present. Bishop Egbert said he hoped to be ready to the good shepherd of the 23 Psalms, as he has no person need to attend to patients after. The casket was nicely decorated with bouquets and floral tributes of respect. After the services were closed the relatives and friends viewed the remains. The body was then carried to the cemetery by the pallbearers of the occasion, where it will rest in peace until the morning of the resurrection. She died as she had lived in faith. Lay the dear saint, she was buried on her twenty-third birthday.

M. G.

MARGARET BUCHANAN LEE.

Died in Ogden, Utah, at 1:10 o'clock a.m., on Saturday, October 19, 1895, of typhoid fever and general debility, relict of Wm. Lee and daughter of Wm. and Mary Ann Buchanan, aged 11 years, 7 months and 2 days.

Deceased was born March 17, 1884, in Moneymore, County Down, Ireland; was baptized a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints May 25, 1895, in the town of Ayr, Ayrshire, Scotland, by Elder Jesse Lyon, the first person baptized by the Latter-day Saints in Ayr, and was confirmed March 7, 1891, in Manchester, England, by Wm. Lee, to whom she was married. She came to Utah November 5th, 1895, and has resided here four years. The family settled in Wellsville, Cache county. In 1891 she was bereft of her husband. Three years after she came to Ogden city, where she lived in Ogden city as her sons were employed in the foundry, the youngest of whom is an engineer on the Utah & Northern railroad, and the other is now working in Scotland. Sister Margaret was a sister in the Sunday school and a member of the Sunday school choir. Bishop McPhersin presiding. The singing was very superb and appropriate. The speakers were their correspondent, who spoke of his forty-five years acquaintance with the family of the family, and from whom for three years he heard the text in the text of the only sermon of the church after the ancient order of Apostles and Prophets, and the other is now the Elders Charles Welch and Joseph Hall, who offered words of consolation to the bereft and referred to the noble traits of the deceased and of her fidelity to the cause which brought her to Utah. Bishop Egbert then made a few closing remarks after which the remains were placed in the large sunflower. The pall bearers bended the mortuge, followed by the most beautiful bouquet of Under sher L. upset. The two sons with their families and the family of the sick-out son, with numerous friends, followed in carriages to the Ogden city cemetery, where the remains were laid in peaceful rest to await their sure reward.

F. L.

SHELLEY, Idaho, Oct. 17, 1895.

Now he's gone we'll not recall him
From a paradise of pain,
Where no sorrow can come to him,
In a sweeping waste like this.

His heart is as well never perish,
Nor is memory come to rest,
For the sense of sorrow and joy remain
The remembrance of the past.

On October 16th, at Taylor ward, Idaho, died Elder Nathan H. Child. Brother Child was born October 28, 1865, at Ogden, Utah. His first wife died August, 1890, leaving a little child, having lost one child by the first wife and losing one child by the second wife, leaving his widow with two children, and they are all with a fond, kind mother and Sister Brenner Child died of intestine affections. On the sunday before he died he was at the Priesthood meeting and led the singing so cheerful as a Latter-day Saint could be. On the Sunday he spoke at the meeting, and it was said by all at the meeting they never heard Brother Child speak better. On Monday he partook of some fruit and took sick; he was administered to by good brethren, but it was of no avail. His sufferings for about thirty hours were of a painful character, but he bore with it like a martyr and a Latter-day Saint would near midday on the 14th his spirit took its flight. He has left this earth leaving a host of relations and a numerous host of friends. A short time ago Brother Child was called to the office of the High Priesthood, which he filled to the last. He was a sunny disposition, at a call, a simple hearty he never were to trouble the brethren and Lord's cause were his troubles. He's gone where his pain will be lessened, a kind father and husband and a Latter-day Saint, and it will be a long time before a man can take his place regarding the cause and friends. His widow and home will never go into a state of oblivion to all ways to grace in the manner of those who know him. This has been a very sad time for his wife and for all of her relations. His death was not looked for.

The funeral services took place at the school house in Taylor ward, Oct. 19, 1895, the house being filled to overflowing.

ALFRED AMES.

Died at Mess, Wayne county, Utah, October 11, 1895, at 7 o'clock p. m., of typhoid pneumonia and liver complaint, Alfred, son of Ira and Mary E. Ames. Brother Ames was born at American Fork January 2, 1860, the following spring the family moved to Wellsville, Cache county, where they resided for several years; they then moved to Clover Creek, Idaho, where they remained about six years. About one year ago Brother Ames with his father and several members of the family came to this place. Brother Ames was the first person to plant an orchard and prepared to build on our township that was located and dedicated by the Young Men's Mutual Improvement Association in the fall of 1894. He was the first person to be laid away in our newly located grave yard.

Brother Ames leaves a wife and four children and a host of relatives to mourn his departure. He was to fill a honorable position as a Latter-day Saint and died in hopes of a glorious resurrection.

UNTOLD MISERY FROM RHEUMATISM

C. H. King, Water Valley, Miss., cured by

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"For five years I suffered untold misery from muscular rheumatism. I tried every known remedy, even tried the best physicians, visited hot springs, etc., from time to time, spending some money, neither mitigating pain nor permanent relief. My feet and ankles were so sore that I hobbled only upon two crutches, my left eye and leg were drawn out of shape, the muscles were twisted up in knots. I was unable to sleep nearly every night with soreness, and could only hobble about by using a cane. I had no appetite, and was emaciated to the skeleton. But I could not die. The pains in feet, ankles and knees, I could stand. But I could endure no more when my left eye and leg were drawn out of shape. The muscles
