Letters have been received giving the testimony at an inquest made in Vienna on the death of the nineteen that carried if the jailers too pale, a prize from Gonzalez. The report says that the visitation was genuine Asiatic cholera, as most of the local physicians pronounced it.

Colonel Miller received nothing by the last mail from the friends of the late Kate Fields concerning the final disposition of her body and effects. A letter from Gonzalez Mallet says that Mr. Robinson of the Chicago Times-Herald will pay all debts of the estate and would prefer a monument for the grave.

The military of Captain John Good has been conducted and the court has not reached a verdict. It is generally apprehended that he will be cleared from the government service as the testimony proved that he is guilty of grossest misconduct in office.

During the 1894 cases against H. H. Rhodes, an employe of the government, testified that he stolen the letter containing the government, and received a night from a field post and then sent it through the mail to Providence, Ala. Rhodes came to Ponce 200 miles the last of eight while a county was on guard. The story, though generally discredited, may result in a investigation of the military force.

Liberal Contributions at a Sunday Meeting.

OLD ORCHARD, Maine, Aug. 10.—At the Christian Alliance meeting here Sunday, the contributions to cash and checks and jewelry handed up to the pulpit reached the amazing total of $16,000.

When Dr. D. W. Lockard stepped forward to make the announcement he said, "with a contribution in the form of Jesus Christ has never before been known."

Last year the contributions at the same place reached the total of $1,000 and that was said to be high water mark. The Christian Alliance meeting began two weeks ago and the attendance has been unprecedented. The entire single contribution was one of $5,000 made by an estate, the name of whom was not made known. Even this splendid gift the assembly sanged all the way down to a few cents. The alliance of Denver gave $75.

SURPRISED BY DETECTIVES.

Sensational Capture of a Famous Gold Bar Robbery.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Aug. 10.—Specials to the Union give a sensational sequel to the famous gold bar robbery which occurred at Escondido nearly a year and a half ago and which caused the disappearance of James K. Garrett and Tom Pratt for eleven months. After the release from Chula Vista in 1894 and on the fifth instant left here for Escondido.

The Mexicans, warned by detectives, were on the watch and this morning when Garrett, accompanied by three men, opened the door of the store they were captured by a party of guards with whom was Governor Sanginos. The gold seekers found themselves surrounded and covered by rifles, their coat collapsed with fear. At Governor Sanginos' demand he disclosed the spot where the bar was hidden.
