LEFT THE MOTHER AND CHILD.

Is Now in the Wind, or Is Out a Story From a Foot Bridge in Trouble.

Reading an item in the News of Tuesday evening last to the effect that Lewis Lamoreaux, aged 21, and Emma Lamoreaux, aged 18, both of Lake View, had drawn a marriage license, Mrs. Amanda McDaniel called upon the county attorney the morning in order to her very awkward and uncomfortable position.

To the News man Mrs. McDaniel said she lived at 607 south Ninth East street, and that she was greatly troubled ever having read in this paper a notice to the effect that one who should be her husband was about to wed another. Continuing her story the lady said:

"I am not married to Mr. Lamoreaux, but he says he may because, but he ought to as, as you can see—here is his boy, just two months old yesterday. I can prove my relationship by reference to parties from whom we rented houses. We lived for some time at Mrs. Lobert's, on Main East, near First North; then we moved to a house belonging to Mr. Mills in the Tenth ward; from there we moved to a house in Wallington street in the First ward, and from there to my present home. On the 27th of last April Lewis went away, as he said, to get some money with which to pay my indebtedness, that he would be back by the last part of the same week. I never saw him until July, when I learned he was in Beaver City and went to see him. He promised to make things right with me if I would keep quiet and he came home. Then he went away one day and has never come back again, although he has written to me on several occasions. And yet a lawyer told me there was no justice for me; no justice for a poor woman. But I will find out. Yes, you are the person he wrote to me," and she took some letters from a pocket in her dress, between which was a photograph of a young man, which the reporter saw at least another time, when with all eagerness he exclaimed, "Mr. Lewis Lamoreaux!" or "Mr. Amanda Lamoreaux!"

"He has sent for his clothes," continued Mrs. McDaniel, with an effort to keep back the tears, "but I would rather turn them than send them to him now."

The lady appears to suffer from want, being very plainly dressed, and the baby, an unconscious of its mother's great woe, lay peacefully in her arms, covered with poor clothing. The poor woman's pinched and troubled face made her appear positively old, but she really is, by her thirty years would most likely be a correct statement of her age.

At any rate, Mrs. McDaniel is in sore distress and has come to a place where the reading of the News drove referred to has determined one to pursue a course which Saturday afternoon might be expected to do her justice as the father of her innocent child.

Republican Primaries.

The primaries to select delegates to the Republican county convention will be held on Friday evening, Oct. 2, from 6 to 8 p. m. in the various election precincts. The voters in that party who want to have a voice in the selection of candidates to be voted for at an election day should attend the primaries—the most important of the primary work—and there select delegates who will fairly represent their views in making nominations. As the candidates to be named at the convention are for county officers and members of the next Legislature, the question of importance at the next election in the party being present is really tangled. In the city election precincts, the primaries are held at the following places:

Precinct 1—Corner Ninth East and Tenth South streets.

Precinct 2—500 east Ninth South.

Precinct 3—111 east Ninth South.

BURTON SURPRISES HARVEY.

Secures the Nomination of Justice in a Contest—Jam a William Fr[illegible] Also.

The Republican second congressional convention was one of surprises last night. Willard C. Burton was nominated justice of the peace over W. J. Harvey, the present incumbent on a vote of 64 to 56. Harvey, it was expected, would have a clear walk away and when the point came to his opponent Schulkins's name was announced.

For the constable nomination Calvin Goddard, William Anderson, James Williams, Howard A. King and E. A. Franke were named. Jim Williams carried off the prize. A well contested election was chosen as follows:

Twelfth precinct—S. E. Jackson.

Thirteenth precinct—Charles Dahlquist.

Fourteenth precinct—James Cowell or H. Pendleton.

Sixteenth precinct—W. H. Hyde.

Seventeenth precinct—A. S. Lake.

Eighteenth precinct—E. J. Carley.

Nineteenth precinct—W. F. Apgley.

Twentieth precinct—James W. Campbell.

Twenty-first precinct—Geo. H. Inger.

Twenty-second precinct—Geo. J. Taylor.

Twenty-third precinct—Jose W. Fox, Jr.

Twenty-fourth precinct—L. C. Johnson.

Twenty-fifth precinct—E. S. Perry.

Twenty-sixth precinct—T. A. Romney.

After adjournment of the convention the committee met and organized with Thomas Hodgson, chairman; H. Romer, secretary, George R. Ingram, assistant secretary, E. E. Jennings, treasurer, Jesse W. Fox, Jr.

Political Pointers.

Harrison County at the Fourth ward, this city, is prominently spoken of as a candidate for a city commissioner on the Republican ticket.

Mrs. E. B. Wells has reported from Provo, it is currently reported that she will be tendered a State membership commission on the Republican ticket.

It is claimed that W. H. Farnsworth will have the Second Methodist church vote to solicit a ticket for the county convention as a mission to the Republican convention.

A prominent candidate for county surveyor on the Republican ticket now comes forward in the person of F. M. Lyman Jr., whose friends take issue with him to make the race.

Deputy H. H. McKaig has exhibited extraordinary activity the last week in behalf of his chief, Scott Cowan. He is anxious for the primaries on the right kind of work tomorrow night. McKaig is also anxious to hold his very place as long as possible.

Prey Esquisen! The ballots are so very few outside of Salt Lake at the writing owing that we see no honesty for their organization taking part in the campaign. In fact, if they insist in forcing their nominees on the party, there will be trouble. We feel that there has been enough of strange deals in the ballots.

Wasatch Ward Hum—for the Democratic senatorial convention for this district met in Salt Lake last Tuesday to begin to rain early and raining harder until the convention adjourned, when it cleared. A Republican remarked, "It is a wet day for Democracy," to which a bystander replied, "It will be a cold day for Republicans in about six weeks."

The Utah State Journal: The Republicans of Utah county have placed two tickets on their ticket—Mr. F. E. Stewart for the Legislature and Mr. Ron Morse for recorder. The ladies should have a fair representation on the Republican ticket by nominating the entire ticket of Weber county, but the convention should go to women who are qualified for the office. The men or women should be placed on either ticket who are qualified and competent to perform the duties of the office to which one of the two may be elected.

Up to the present Alma C. Sailer has been counted upon as a candidate for the county recorder on the Republican ticket. It now transpires that he retired from the field and for such retirement well it is said, he gives a creditable under Scott Cowan or in the event that gentleman should be his own successor. If this is true it means that one of the three deputies now in the office will shortly have to hunt a new job. The candidates are H. H. McKaig, Henry Mack and Jim Gibson. The latter, it is claimed, will be the unlucky man.

Richfield Advocate: Sevier County not some cheese at the Republican State convention held recently at Mount Pleasant and Ogden. At the former A. M. Allen was chairman of the commissioners, Henry McKinney secretary, Green the convention's permanent chairman, Fred Willes and his aid in the raising of the McKinley and Hobart platform and Meeser was made one of the permanent officers. At Ogden Mrs. Hobbs was a member of the committee on credentials, J. M. Peterson on permanent organization and Meeser passed on the resolutions committee and was elected secretary of the convention. No Hoss on Sevier, if we are a few county.

AMUSEMENTS.

The Grand—Lost Paradise, while not crowding the seating capacity of the Grand, is nevertheless filling it with good-natured audiences who seem to appreciate the performances very much. The enchantment of the seaside opening is not felt so much by the players as a better presentation of the play is being given. Tonight is money night, and a full house is expected, while for the matinee Saturday the seating capacity of the house will no doubt be thoroughly taxed.

The Romeigh concert tonight—At the Congregational church tonight Edmund Romeigh, the great solo violinist, will give one of his famous concerts, assisted by some local and capable artists. This concert will be a rare treat for the lovers of music and it will no doubt be liberally patronized.

Bristol's Horse Show—The Lyceum will throw open its doors Monday night, Oct. 5th, with Bristol's celebrated horse show as the attraction. A number of picturesque equipages are sent to exercise marvellous feats of training and education, showing the great capacity of the horse and his susceptibility to education. The performance will continue throughout the week.

Police Court.

In the police court today Lottie Pomeroy as inmate of Em. Dr. Mar's house of ill-fame was found guilty of petit larceny in the theft of several articles of clothing from Ada Wilson. Lottie promptly gave notice of appeal and her bond was fixed at $50.

A number of gentlemen from the rural districts narrowly escaped a beating for disturbing the peace at prime time, with Attorney F. H. Stephens as their counsel. The men got mixed up in a regular free-for-all fight in Young Morris's saloon on Second South street Wednesday evening and were arrested by Officer Hennig.

J. D. Pagan, L. C. Jones fined $25 each for keeping gambling houses.

John F. Shull was given 40 days in jail for vagrancy while Jim Gibson for drunkenness and disturbing the peace was mulcted $20.

Jesse Johnson, a colored man who is charged with burglary, pleaded not guilty and his hearing was set for Friday at 2 o'clock. His bond was fixed at $500.

Miss Eldredge's Recital.

The first annual elocutionary recital by the pupils under the direction of Miss Ruth Eldredge, occurred at Christensen's dancing academy last evening, quite a large audience being present. This is Miss Eldredge's first effort to bring her students before the public, and the manner in which each number was rendered amply repaid the audience for the evening spent.

The pupils showed marked improvement, and brought out in a favorable light the excellence of the instruction given.

MINOR MENTION.

Z. C. M. I.'s regular dividend will be paid the 15th of this month.

The weather prospects are all that can be desired for the next few days.

The Mutual Improvement associations will start up again this month.

Two days more, and then conference. Visitors are beginning to arrive in large numbers.

This year potatoes have reached the lowest market price ever known here on October 1.

The Relief Society conference will be held on Saturday. An interesting time is anticipated at the meetings.

Fast meetings throughout the city were generally well attended today. There were a few exceptions to this rule.

The M. I. Leagues come are becoming a prominent autumn and winter attraction for those intellectually inclined.

Now is the time to give another thought to keeping money at home for circulation by patronizing home products instead of importations.

Notwithstanding the dull times, Z. C. M. I. Society has started out on its other prosperous year. The value of the society as a savings institution is recognized by all who have concerted transactions with it.

Duck hunters were out early this morning, as it is the law prohibiting the sale of game, while it is perfect sunrise should be heard and aimed the city from Big Springs lake on the north to the Willow lake on the west.

Fred Pfuff, the bartender whom Jesse T. Alexander charged with having stolen his watch was discharged Wednesday afternoon. It developed that before Alexander left the saloon, it had been left by Alexander with a stag owner as security for 35 cents' worth of beer.

A SECRET SESSION.

Mr. Kenyon Could Not Talk on Bonds With Reporters Present.

THE SCRIBES ARE INVITED OUT.

Two Hundred Taxpayers in the Office at Once—A Friend of Invalid—Court Notes.

At a meeting of the county commissioners convened at 2:30 today the following bond proposition was received bearing date received from W. H. McCrosky, under date of September 30, 1896:

"I desire to submit to you the following proposition, that to purchase 300 Salt Lake county bonds that are now being offered for sale. I will take and pay par and accrued interest for principle of said bonds, as soon as you are prepared to deliver them, upon condition that I may have the privilege of purchasing the remainder of said issue, at the same price, in such amounts as I may elect, up to and including December 1st, 1896."

Mrs. E. C. Ritz and George Brown petitioned for free lessons and their petitions were granted.

Mr. Roberts moved that the commissioners now and be in their advertisement, but County Attorney Whitelhouse stated that Mr. McCulloch had authorized him to change the amount of the first bonds offered to $50,000 instead of $35,000 as stated in the communication. It was also authorized that the remainder of the issue would soon be taken up, in fact, before December 1.

Mr. Sam J. Kenyon appeared before the board and was invited to make a statement as to his views in regard to the pool which will take up the bonds and in which he is interested in conjunction with Mr. McCulloch and others.

"Well, I would like to talk to you gentlemen," said Mr. Kenyon, "but I don't like to talk to the newspapers on this matter."

Mr. Glassman: "Don't let the reporters will not say anything on the subject if we ask to report them. They are usually courteous."

There was a partial pause and the county attorney requested the scribes to vacate for a few moments, and the request was complied with.

Then a vote of regret seemed to pass over the meeting and the reporters were invited to remain if they so desired, and the newspaper men remained out and the verse scribe was in progress at prime time.

However, the bonds are likely to be sold very soon now.

A SICK ITALIAN

Who Had a Very Healthy Supply of Shock and Persistency.

This morning Harry Norberg, an Italian laborer, called upon Mr. Commissioner Geddes saying he was sick and wanted to be sent to the hospital. Questioning his applicant Mr. Geddes learned that the poor man was on route from Omaha to Los Angeles, where he had relatives, and that he stopped off in Ogden for relief from his malady. He was given a small bottle of medicine at the Junction city and started off on his way—not to Los Angeles, of course, in Salt Lake. Mr. Geddes announced to his would-be charge that Salt Lake county was weary of taking care the outgoing place of paupers and invalids from our neighbors in the north, but in view of the sickness of the Italian he would send him to a physician and furnish him with a ticket back to Ogden. He refused, however, to issue him a charge of the county.

At this Norberg became sorry and said up such a persistent appeal that the commissioner became impelled and secured Clerk Emery to follow the instructions given. And then Mr. Geddes flew.

ANOTHER OFFICE SHAKE-UP.

Two Plumbing Inspectors Now in Sight—Neither Will Last Long.

Now the plumbing inspector's office is in a shake-up. A short time ago the City Council passed an ordinance creating the office of plumbing inspector and transferring the work to be performed by such an officer from the engineering to the health department. Since more for some time past the work of plumbing inspector has been done by Mr. Wm. Higham under the supervision of the city engineer. Hearing last heard of health informed Mr. Higham that after December 30 his services would no longer be needed in the plumbing inspector's office. In the meantime Alderman Miles was appointed by Health Commissioner Daly, with instructions to take possession of the office on the first day of October.

Accordingly Mr. Miles this morning reported for duty, as did Mr. Higham, who claims that he has not been notified of his dismissal by virtue of his previous appointment and the fact that he has not been removed by the mayor.

Mr. Miles takes possession on the grounds of his appointment by the health department. He says that practice in the passage of the present ordinance there was no mention of the plumbing inspector and consequently Mr. Higham's claim is without foundation. The ordinance, says Mr. Miles, was transferred the duties of the office, and not the incumbent, from one engineering department to the health department, a transfer of the incumbent of Mr. Higham's name.

There is also a wing fight on hand in this matter in which Commissioner Stewart and Mayor Glassmann are principal figures.

THE GREEN BAG.

The case of the Territory vs Andrew Bartlemus was argued in the Supreme court this morning and taken under advisement.

Ten days additional time was granted by Judge Bilson to which the defendant in the case of Hawkes vs Conroy at any answer.

Isaiah Sutherland, 19, of Big Cottonwood, and Eva J. Bass, 18, of Parley's park, are parties to a marriage license given today.

All of this morning was consumed in an effort to get a jury to try the case of Edwin E. Ross vs Hy Grange Wooten, which was continued yesterday. Ross, and the effort was continued this afternoon in Judge Street's court.

In the Supreme court today Attorney James A. Williams presented a petition for a writ of mandamus in the case of Jane T. Gordon, relator, vs the Third district court of the State of Utah, sitting in chambers, Hon. Morris L. Hinson, judge presiding, respondent. The petition was taken under advisement.

Mary F. Hobe was today granted a divorce from Henry Hobe on the husband, Henry F. Hobe, who defaulted in appearance. The decree was asked on the grounds of failure to provide and of habitual and habitual drunkenness. The boy was also allowed to resume her maiden name of Mary F. Schwartz.

Charles Clarence this morning pleaded not guilty in Judge Hilton's court to a charge of grand larceny and the case was set for trial on Saturday morning. The trial comes under an information which charges that on Sept. 21st, Clarence stole from William H. Fair, a tourist, $20 gold pieces. Fair was "fastened up pretty" of his money by means of the "napoleon" and "chestnuts" card tricks.

Entertainment Postponed.

The play for the benefit of the Utah Kindergarten in the Sixteenth ward meeting house advertised for Friday evening, October 2, will be postponed for one week, on account of the serious illness of the lady manager of the play, Mrs. Jones.

A Chance For Typewriters.

"Why more typewriters do not become proficient in medical terminology," says a manager of an office, "is a question that often comes to me. Such work is good pay, is in great demand, but it is difficult to get competent talents. One day, not long ago, at the meeting of a medical society, one of the members came in late and offered $25 for the hour' work if I could detail a capable speaker. I sent up most intelligent writer, who was sure she could take any proceedings. Before she had worked 15 minutes she gave up in despair. The medical terms were entirely unknown to the same tack, and the result was, with her usual pluck, got a medical dictionary. Today she could take a rapid letter, but she is the only one I know who can."—New York Times.

Miss Hotel Recordkip.

Miss Hotel Beardsley, the niece of Antony Beardsley, who has recently been an actress, is that described by The Sketch: "She a child she used to recite at various entertainments. Later on she became a high school teacher, having obtained first class honors in the Kidder Cambridge Board and was among the first five of those who passed it take the degree. The success of this success she was offered a scholarship at Newnham college by Miss Clarkson. Going to Girton instead she was first and played Mrs. Winterbun in "Long-a-Dreamy," Lucy Bardon in "An Ideal Husband" and has been understudying at the Haymarket and Criterion. She made her debut in London as Edith in "Recent Measures" with great success at a matinee not long ago.

Wealthy and Generous.

Mrs. Rabinbin is a New York woman who gives lavishly of her wealth. She is a patroness of "the little church around the corner," and this spring bears testimony of her generosity. The marble tissue, as well as the parish house, are her gifts. Her two aggregating a cost of $75,000. She has recently built a memorial church to her mother at Newport—the Zabriski Memorial church—at an expenditure of $100,000.

TRADING ON 'CHANGE

The First Day in the Pit Under the New Order.

THE STOCKS NOT AUCTIONED NOW.

Gulons and Four Aces Rest With Value Today—Tips and Spurs.

This was the first day on 'change under the new order of things—the task of a collection—the room was very gratifying to say the least. The stocks are not auctioned now as they have been accustomed, but each broker simply presents his quotations on the respective stocks as they are announced by the market. If the quotations are congenial to either the buyer or seller, then he makes it known and a transfer is recorded.

Two sales were made today, the stocks dealt in being Gulons and Four Aces, both belonging to the mined class. The former was taken up at $1.30 while the latter changed hands at 16 cents. Bullion Beck was strongly bid for at $2.60, but holders kept the stock at $3. Boston Consolidated dropped a little, being offered for sale at 65 cents for shares, a figure 1½ cents below its normal position.

Swansea and South Swansea were again in the market of silver stocks, the unlisted stocks, but neither of them succeeded in doing business. The bids for the respective stocks were $2 and 75 cents, while they were asked at $2.10 and 85 cents. Northern Light was on offering at 50 cents with no bids, and Sunset could have been bought at 19 cents.

The closing figures were as follows:

AYER'S PILLS

"I cannot like to add my testimony to that of others who have used Ayer's Pills, and to say that I have taken them for many years, and always derived the best results from their use. For stomach and liver troubles, and for the cure of headaches caused by these derangements, Ayer's Pills cannot be equaled.

When my friends ask me what is the best remedy for disorders of the stomach, liver, or bowels, my invariable answer is, Ayer's Pills. Taken in season, they will break up a cold, prevent la grippe, check fever, and regulate the digestive organs. They are easy to take, and act gently but yet effectually and thoroughly. They are the best family medicine I have ever known."—Mrs. May Jennings, 501 Rider Avenue, New York City.
