THE COLORADO WAR.

Cripple Creek Miners Confer with the Military Officers.

DENVER SITUATION CRITICAL.

The Governor's Appointees Take Possession.—Two Fire and Police Boards in the City.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Colo., March 18.—It has been quiet here today and it is now thought there is little likelihood of serious trouble. Some of the miners, however, are desperate men and not a few of them went through the battle of the Coeur d'Alene, as they have often admitted.

Today the soldiers have done nothing but lie in the camp. Adjutant General Tarsney and Brigadier General Brooks have their headquarters in the Palace Hotel. A hospital has been opened in the large building in the upper town and it now has five inmates, but none of the cases are of a serious nature.

Justin Alexander, the mayor of Altman, and John Daley, the deputy marshal of the town, were arrested in the city and placed in jail early in the morning. John Calderwood, president of the miners' union, was also arrested. A few hours ago the latter was released on the county jail at Colorado Springs.

There was an incendiary fire in the town last night, which was quickly put out, and a couple shots of giant powder were exploded on Battle mountain, within the stockade of the Independence and Portland mines, but doing no great damage.

FOR PEACE ONLY.

DENVER, Colo., March 18.—Governor Waite issued an order tonight to Adjutant-general Tarsney, in command of the troops at Cripple Creek, that the officers need not be used as a guard to enable the mine owners to resume work on the mine your basis, but only to preserve the peace in the event of a conflict.

As the difference between the military officers and the committee of the miners' Union knights the issue gave rise to rumors that no soldiers would be called to the serving of warrants upon any of the miners. No member of the union, they asserted, has anything to do with the arrest of the deputies in Altman Friday night. If any mistake had been made it was made by the committee of Altman, and the miners are in no manner responsible. The union requested Brigadier-general Tarsney to withdraw the troops, but he replied he could not do so so long as the shooting of men was going.

It is not yet known what caused the explosion of giant powder near the Independence and Portland mines, but some miners believe it was done by some enemy who wanted to stir up a mutiny against them.

Advocates of Governor Waite, asking him to withdraw the troops, is pouring many signatures.

IN DENVER.

DENVER, March 18.—General McCook today withdrew the Federal troops from this city to Fort Logan. The proceedings against Mayor Van Horn and Police Commissioners Begole, Barnes and Mullins for contempt of court in having violated the injunction issued by Judge Graham on behalf of Messrs. Orr and Martin, the commissioners removed by Governor Waite, will come up before Judge Graham tomorrow morning, Judge Graham having gone on a vacation. The hearing will probably be postponed until the hearing in the supreme court of the questions submitted by Governor Waite, for the purpose of ascertaining who are legally entitled to act as police commissioners, are disposed of. It is not for a hearing tomorrow afternoon. The situation is still critical, for Orr and Martin, acting on the advice of their counsel, contend they will not be governed by the opinion of the supreme court, but will insist on holding office until a decision is obtained in a regular manner in the case pending in the district court.

Ballots at the city hall were in a very peaceful state until late yesterday afternoon, when Messrs. Mullins and Barnes, the governor's new appointees to the fire and police board, quietly slipped into the mayor's office and took possession before any one was aware they were in the neighborhood. They had met Mr. Rogers, a member of the old board, as he came in an hour before his arrival.

The first official step was to notify Chief Comee of the fire department and Chief Stone of the police department to report for duty. Chief Comee went to his quietly refused to recognize the authority of the new board. Chief Stone refused to obey the order and the new board adjourned until Monday.

As soon as it became known that the city had two fire and two police boards, Taylor & Tabor, attorneys for the ousted men, Orr and Martin, made application before Judge Gibbs for an injunction restraining a quorum of court for Messrs. Mullins, Barnes and Rogers, who now claim Van Horn, who formerly brought in the new board. The injunction is against Judge Graham's new decision in question.

A BIG BLAZE.

A fire starting in the offices in the second story of the mines opera house Sunday morning spread to the adjoining structure, but the fire department arrived the beast in so soon that part of the city. It looked at first as if the fire would be confined to the west wing, in which were the boiler and engine department, and an explosion occurred and the fire got into another.

The entire structure, extending from Bennett to Bachelor streets, is destroyed. The building was of stone and was owned by the Union Depot company. The loss is about $100,000 fully insured.

Two blocks of the telegraph wires from Denver come through the depot tower and they are now down. The Western Union has other wires and its commercial business will not be seriously delayed.

The building was 215 feet long by 65 wide. It was completed in June, 1891, and was in the neighborhood of $300,000.

The walls were of lava stone and it is thought doubtful if the fire. The fire department are working now from the Western Union office. All the railroad wires are burned off.

The Supreme Court.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 18.—By the appointment of Senator White, of Louisiana, to be associate justice of the supreme court of the United States the bench now has its full quota of Justices, and the court will soon take up and hear arguments in those cases, which it has been desirous of hearing before a full bench. There are upwards of three hundred cases in the aforesaid, of the most of some time a month, and the present appointments will tend to economize in that way.

The court has set the Indian case for hearing before a full bench on the 26th of March, though it is said it is probable that the arguments in the case will be heard whether Justice Jackson is here or not, it being the desire of those interested to save the case disposed of.

Among the important cases assigned by the court for a hearing before a full bench on the 2d of April are the following: Inverting the decision of the Texas railroad case; obscure; carriers cases from Massachusetts; a government suit in the case of Costello et al vs the National Steamship company (limited), which has been pending for a long time; a rehearing in the case of Hilton vs Guyot, involving the question of foreign judgments; Barlow vs the Northern Pacific railroad, and railroad cases from Montana.

The cases assigned for hearing on April 9 include the following: The interstate commerce commission against Brimson, from the Northern district of Illinois; an admiralty appeal in which appears to be one in the special counsel for the commission; the United States vs the Transcontinental Freight association, from the circuit of appeals of the eight district, and the United States, appellant, vs the Western Union Telegraph company, and the Union Pacific Railroad company. There are upwards of twenty miscellaneous cases assigned before a full bench, but up to this time no steps have been taken to assign them for hearing.

Killed Her Mate.

OAKLAND, Cal., March 18.—John Brady, a painter, shot and killed Mary Brady, his wife, and then committed suicide this morning in the chorus of the Immaculate Conception, in this city. Brady and his wife have been separated about two years. He was much intoxicated and appears to have followed her to her place of work. Brady was about forty-five years of age, and his wife the same age. They were well-to-do. Since their domestic trouble Brady has been out of work much of the time. He was probably insanely.

The Pixley Case Settled.

NEW YORK, March 17.—There will be no contest over the will of Annie Pixley. Robert A. Pollock, her manager, has effected a settlement with the mother and sisters of his late wife, which, it is claimed, assures their respectance.

THE BRECKINRIDGE CASE.

It May Wind Up With a Divorce Suit.

NEW YORK, March 17.—A Washington dispatch says: The Rose memoir of the Pollard-Breckinridge trial, recently, will be a feature of it. The secret marriage of Mrs. Wing and Congressman Breckinridge took place in New York on April 28th last, as shown by the certificate only a few days ago. According to the testimony, Colonel Breckinridge withdrew his motion with Miss Pollard three weeks after he was married to Mrs. Wing. This revelation of unfaithfulness and duplicity on the part of Colonel Breckinridge, it is said, has nearly alienated his present wife, and it is now rumored that when the pending trial is concluded a suit for divorce will follow.

Demand for Wool.

BOSTON, March 18.—The Boston Commercial Bulletin says in the Boston market the sales of the week have reached 2,314,000 pounds of domestic and 710,000 foreign, against 2,411,000 domestic and 280,000 pounds foreign last year, and 2,311,500 pounds domestic and 535,000 pounds foreign for the same week last year. The total sales to date show a decrease of 20,000,000 pounds, the total being a decrease of 25,400 bags and 300,000 bales foreign. The demand has been nothing to encourage.

Attack on the Catholics.

NEW YORK, March 18.—The extreme bigotry of Rev. Madison C. Peters at the Metropolitan Baptist church was devoted to an attack on the Roman Catholic church, particularly on its religion on the occasion of Washington's birthday. The preacher had letters stating that units are permitted to go through all the departments on begging missions, and even to stand by when the works are receiving their pay and much contribution, and that the Catholic influence is potent in all the departments of the nation, including navy, pensions and decisions. Numerous instances were cited in which Protestants were discriminated against in favor of Catholics.

A Crisis in France.

LONDON, March 18.—The correspondent at Paris of the Daily Press says: A crisis has arisen here which is complicated since the present ministry. A number of the members objected to not being regarding the establishment of a ministry of the colonies, and agreed that the model must be postponed until the Chamber of Deputies reconvenes after the adjournment. Prime Minister Casimir-Perier will accept the decision, saying he will not govern without a majority. Some of the ministers have decided to resign if Judge Graham's new decision is against them.

The first official step was to notify Chief Comee of the fire department and Chief Stone of the police department to report for duty. Chief Comee went to his quietly refused to recognize the authority of the new board. Chief Stone refused to obey the order and the new board adjourned until Monday.

As soon as it became known that the city had two fire and two police boards, Taylor & Tabor, attorneys for the ousted men, Orr and Martin, made application before Judge Gibbs for an injunction restraining a quorum of court for Messrs. A LONDON MURDER HORROR

Bloodstains Lead to the Discovery of an Awful Crime.

The Mutilated Corpse of an Old Man Found in a French Delicatessen in an Epic Woman.

LONDON, March 18.—The city has for a superstitious long time been afraid from mother, but today a sensation was caused by the discovery of crimes that to the outside superior to those of the notorious Gilda murder that occurred some time ago in Paris. The house is in Leman street, in the Tenfrion street, in the Mile district, which is inhabited with foreigners of the lowest class. It was in the immediate vicinity of the house in which the murder was committed that the police recently raided the anarchists' club.

An Austrian woman, named Marie Hermann, who is well known to the police as a night prowler, recently rented a small room in a house on Leman street. On Tuesday night last she, in company with an elderly man, was seen to enter the room. Subsequently two quarreling voices heard in the room by the other tenants of the house, but no words were uttered or frequent complaints, as usually was said to them.

A woman named Hamilton, who lodged with the Hermann woman, on Friday found blood stains in a sink and spoke to the Hermann woman about them. The latter passed the matter off lightly, but on Saturday she changed her lodgings, taking better apartments in Mayfleuse street. She took with her a heavy trunk, which she was asked should be carefully handled.

In the meantime the suspicions of the Hamilton woman were aroused, owing to the persistent blood in the sink. In addition it became noised about the house that the man who had gone to the Hermann room had not been seen to leave it. The Hamilton woman followed the Hermann female to her new quarters, and after learning her address, informed the police of the suspected foul play and been done.

Officers went to the house in Mayfleuse street, where the Hermann woman has taken up her residence, and a search was made of the apartments of her home. Her trunk was in the room. The police forced it open and found in it the body of the elderly man. The head had been battered, evidently with some sound instrument. The body presented a doubtful appearance and the clothing in which it was attired was drenched in blood. The Hermann woman was taken into custody on a charge of wilful murder.

Tuesday has been recognized as that of a well-to-do cash boiler, named Stevens. He was 70 years old. It is believed the Hermann woman had an accomplice, as she was a muscular man. It may be, however, that he killed the woman while asleep. The prisoner is 37 years of age. She is ugly, stolid to repulsiveness.

BERLIN GITS.

Recession Day in Germany—Wm. Tries Hard Night.

BERLIN, March 17.—As a work of satisfaction at the passage of the Russo-German commercial treaty, Emperor William has conferred upon Chancellor Von Caprivi the order of the Black Eagle, the highest order of the Hohenzollern family order, and has bestowed the order of the Red Eagle upon Von Berchem, secretary of state for foreign affairs. In addition, the emperor decorated Herr Tiedemann, who conducted the negotiations, with a minor order.

Beyond a bill between Herbert Bismarck and Von Caprivi yesterday, in regard to who made the statement attributed to Prince Bismarck, that "the road to Constantinople lies through the Brandenburg gate," the third reading of the Russo-German commercial treaty passed without incident, the agrarian opposition to the treaty utterly collapsed and did not even challenge a division.

Count Bismarck's bonfirers to the emperor on Tuesday was the occasion of a lot made long ago at a dinner given by Von Caprivi, when Bismarck, although he opposed the treaty, made merriment of its chance to the Brandenburg gate. Emperor William thereupon let drop a remarkable toast, "the road would pass, and last week his majesty wrote a numerous note to the baron, remarking like that the prospect of the passage of the treaty had already produced increased activity in the coal and iron industries of Germany.

IMPORTANCE OF THE TREATY.

Professor Barthen, the European authority on geographic questions, has published a series of articles, showing that the treaty, welcome as it is at present, will prove of importance to German industry, in view of the progress made in the building of Russian railways and the rapid opening up of vast portions of Russia to civilization.

The national liberal party has placed a member of the Reichstag, and formerly private secretary to the Deutsche Bank and Prince Bismarck's neighbors, from membership in the party, because he did not vote against the Russo-German commercial treaty, but it is understood the resignation with the ultramontane movement had much to do with his expulsion.

Flack, who was charged with having issued a pamphlet entitled "Parliament paid Hypocrites," the contents of which included a repetition of the charges made by Baron Adlward, which he was sentenced to two years' imprisonment, in a three-hour speech today expressed his determination to submit the matter to Emperor William, even, if he should be obliged to go to Lilliu an answer or a motion.

The lengthy official denials of the rumors circulated regarding Emperor William's health, have by no means reassured the public, as it is considered that if the emperor's health was so serious as it is claimed, it would be no need of official denials that he is ill.

SHOULD BE TREATED AS PIRATES.

BUENOS AYRES, March 18.—Advices received here from Rio state that Admiral De Gama and his officers will be sentenced in this port by the Portuguese consular tribunal. President Peixoto has ordered the Brazilian minister to Buenos Ayres to demand the surrender of the Argentine Republic provided Admiral De Gama and the officers broke out and show them to demonstrate.

In Commemoration of the Commune.

PARIS, March 18.—Starting in commemoration of the proclamation of the Commune of Paris were held today. Tents were set in the Bois. A large number of persons visited the cemetery of Pere Le Chaise. There was no rioting at demonstrations.

$5 A MONTH FOR ALL DISEASES. MEDICINES FREE!

Little Mary Tuke is eleven years of age, has suffered from eczema and was pronounced incurable by the best of physicians. Her mother, Mrs. Tuke, of 1 Ellen street, Salt Lake City, gives the following graphic account of her case:

"After six months had passed the disfigurement began to from feet. Her mother would not let her out, for the other children would be afraid of her. Her mother would drop from the head in the shape of a coarse scab. Her hair was always matted with this crust. She always looked as if she had not been washed for months, and yet she was ALMOST STARVED TO DEATH, and what little she did eat made her sick to the stomach, showing that she was poisoned. Nothing could lay under stomach.

"She was weak and so nervous that sometimes when walking would fall down from exhaustion, she could not go to school, and her condition was so pitiful we thought she would die.

"In this state we took her to Drs. Shores & Shores and after a course of treatment she was cured in two weeks and has remained so ever since. We have shown her to many of our friends, who know of her condition, and they are ready to testify to the truth of this statement."

Drs. Shores & Shores are at 34 Second South street, Salt Lake City, Utah, and are consulted free of charge. Their medicines are prepared for them in their own laboratory and are sent free of charge to patients.
