SILVER AND LEAD ORE

Conditions are Somewhat Changed Now in Regard to It.

FOUND DEAD AT HIS POST.

Fatal Hotel Fire in Pennsylvania.—Snow and Rain Falling all Over the Country.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—It is understood that one of the items of the metal schedule to receive an overhauling by the ways and means committee is that which under the McKinley law places a duty of 1½ cents per pound on lead ore. The extent has been a point of contention ever since the present law went into effect. The tariff rate as at present fixed was intensely fought during the last Congress and it was for a long time doubtful whether the advocates of the tariff would succeed in getting it put in the bill. There was a much stronger lobby in Washington in behalf of such rates than there has been during this session. The silver mine-owners of Nevada, Idaho, Utah and Colorado make no especial effort in behalf of the tariff at that time because of the fact that most of the silver ore mined in those states and territories contained a large percentage of lead. It was in their interest especially the provision as it now stands was inserted.

Many owners of smelters, located on the Mexican border and outside of the states and territories mentioned opposed it, as did also the lead manufacturers. But the conditions are now reversed. The miners are now seeking to prevent any changes and manufacturers to promote legislation. It would seem the advocates of repeal of the present duty feel quite well assured that the action of Congress will be favorable to their cause.

Buffalo Bill.

Special Dispatch to the NEWS.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Nov. 12.—Wm. Cody, "Buffalo Bill," cleared $80,000 out of his Wild West show at the World's Fair this season. The show cleared $90,000 above expenses, half of which went to Salisbury, Cody's partner. Mr. Cody has paid off a $25,000 mortgage on his ranch near North Platte, and has the contracts for a $15,000 house and a $6000 barn. As usual he is spending a great deal of money in sending the needy.

Yesterday Fagan paid his bill and left the hotel, but returned in the evening, considerably under the influence of liquor. Soon after he went to his room the smell of gas was noticed, and the gas burner was found to be open, and he lying on the bed unconscious. Physicians are unable to bring him to. They say that he has taken poison of some kind. Circumstances show that he intended to suicide.

Fatal Hotel Fire.

BEAVER, Pa., Nov. 12.—At Merrill station, on the Cleveland and Pittsburg road at 4:30 this morning, Bradley and Meeker's three-story hotel, in which twenty men were employed on the new gas tunnel, was burned to the ground. Many jumped from the windows and sustained serious injuries and many others, strangers and men totally ruined, burned and buried. A coroner of the county, after the fire was out, secured the following names:

Jerry Welch, three men, and one Dan.

John Kelly, miner.

Robert Stanley, engineer.

James Hughes, engineer.

Harvey Wilkes, stone mason.

Five bodies were taken from the ruins so badly charred that they cannot be identified.

The bodies of James Hughes and James F. Miller, laborers, have been recovered from the ruins. Both were burned to a crisp. The bodies were so far removed.

SENATOR DOLPH

Would Like to See the Instructions to Minister Willis.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Senator Dolph, member of the Senate committee on foreign relations, who has had with considerable care the report of Blount, says the report tends very much as if it was prepared by a man sent to the island for a certain purpose, and that purpose to show that what had been done was wrong. He did not think the administration had been strengthened by the present action in Blount's report, but the more carefully it was considered the more apparent it would be that Blount was sent to the island to report against Minister Stevens and the provisional government.

Dolph says it is perhaps true that our minister acted somewhat hastily, but it is not shown that the revolution would not have occurred at the time it did, nor had it been proven that there having been an established government recognized by this government, that this government had any right to overthrow it and re-establish either the old or a new government. The minister acted in accordance with his instructions. Blount's report, but the most important document and what all would like to see, is that containing the instructions to Minister Willis.

To Take the Place of Strikers.

GALESBURG, Nov. 12.—Twenty Burlington Quincy engineers left here last night to take the place of strikers on the Lehigh Valley road.

There are several persons here hiring men for the Lehigh valley. There is a large surplus of men on the Burlington, and it is believed that many will go to Burlington furnished with transportation and thirty days' work at Scranton. Some of those going came here six years ago to take the places of strikers on the Burlington. The feeling is that the men going in very hard to work cinders.

MAN FURNISH'D WITH DEAD HEAD

A Local Republican Paper—Interest Increased.

VICKSBURG, Miss., Nov. 12.—Kickapoo Jerry, Democratic Jeremiah Rusk, defeated Chas. Clark this morning.

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 12.—Colonel Jeremiah Rusk, ex-governor of Wisconsin, died here at his home in Viroqua at 3 o'clock this morning. He was not expected to live more than a few hours. He died of his already previous disease in the period that the nation knows a thousand years.

The news of his death was received in this city with deep sorrow, but it was not unexpected. He has been in poor health and desperately, but up to a day or two ago it was thought he would recover which will cause the thousands, since yesterday, he existed filling out with his friends to nominate his successor. "Give Jerry," as he was affectionately known, was a familiar figure to every member of this city. No wonder that we were brought out here to attend the wake in every house, political and nonpolitical, in the Wisconsin capital city, during the time before the election. Flags are at half staff on all the public buildings, and a public meeting is being held in Governor's office to arrange for a special train to Viroqua to attend the funeral.
