TRUTH AND LIBERTY.

NO. 221 TUESDAY, AUGUST 14, 1894. SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH. VOL. XXVII.

THE TARIFF BILL

Cannot Be Sent to the White House Till Tomorrow.

CONGRESSMEN TAKING A RENT.

Strenuous Efforts Made to Induce President Cleveland to Sign the Measure.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—As the House of Representatives adjourned until Wednesday the tariff bill cannot be sent to the White House until tomorrow. It will be enrolled and carefully compared today and tomorrow will receive the signatures of Speaker Crisp and Vice President Stevenson. A great deal of pressure will be brought to bear on the President to induce him to sign the bill, but the statement made by the Associated Press yesterday that it is his intention to let the bill become law without his signature can be reiterated today.

A member of the cabinet said today that if the President should conclude to affix his signature to the bill it would be accompanied by a statement of his reasons.

NO OFFICIAL ACTION YET.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—Neither the Democratic steering committee of the Senate nor the finance committee has met, consequently there has been no official action in regard to the supplemental tariff bills. A majority of the Republican steering committee favor postponement of the consideration of these bills, especially the free sugar bill. It should be forced to an issue, the Republicans will divide on it and there would be a possibility of it becoming a law. The Republican steering committee has decided against the voting of the question as to whether the House legislation and the Senate tariff bill in its possession and in favor of the referring the supplemental House bills to the finance committee. It is believed a motion will disappear before they could be reported from the committee.

It is not thought possible to pass the free coal, iron ore or barbed wire bills in the Senate. There is little doubt in case a direct vote could be had that the free sugar bill would be passed. It is stated that of being referred to the finance committee, the Republicans would offer a county amendment, which would carry if Stewart's vote could be had; otherwise it would be defeated by a tie vote. It is said the bill would be detained at such length that it would go over until the next session.

THE TWO BILLS

Comparison Between the McKinley and Senate Tariffs.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—The following is a statement of the average ad valorem rates of the duties of the McKinley law and the Senate bill on a number of political items, as compiled by the treasury department. Wherever the duties are specific in either bill they were reduced to ad valorem rates for purposes of comparison.

A Big Blaze.

PITTSBURG, Aug. 14.—A fire in the general warehouse here today caused a loss of $1,000,000.

Found Dead in the Woods.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Aug. 14.—Edwin Holmes, residing in Plymouth township, this county, was found dead in the woods, shot through the body. The matter rested until James Hatcher was arrested last night charged with the murder. It is stated that both men had been in love with Miss Lucie Harper and last week James was married in secrecy with her. Statements and admissions have been made since which set the authorities to take the prisoner stand.

Condition of Corn.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Aug. 14.—Reports received at the Illinois department of agriculture to August 10 indicate that the condition of corn at that time was encouraging, precisely 75 per cent average plant per acre. The southern report is for northern Illinois, where it is but 69 averaging and 14 points below 1893.

In central Illinois the condition is favorable for 84 per cent on average plant per acre, or three points better than 1893.

Southern Illinois, 74 per cent average, two points below 1893. The damage done by which bugs is considerable, though it is reported from the counties of Carroll, Lake, Ogle, Christian, Cumberland, Clark, Morgan, Effingham, Randolph, Richland and Wayne.

Area devoted to corn is 6,716,175 acres, 288,650 acres larger than 1893 and the largest area reported since 1889.

The Suicide Identified.

PACIFIC, Mo., Aug. 14.—The mystery surrounding the unknown suicide whose body was found in the river near the place of August 4th is about cleared, so far as his identity is concerned. It is believed that his name is Edward Hall and that he lived in Jefferson county about ten miles south of Cadwood. On July 29 he left home on horseback. The next day the same horse, saddled, with the saddle thrown across the saddle and the bridle thrown back behind the saddle. A note was attached to the saddle, to which he said he had borrowed $50 from a friend and that he intended leaving the country and his creditors, without them ever seeing him again.

A Horrible Death.

CRAWFORDSVILLE, Ind., Aug. 14.—Miss Ory Harlan, a widowed belle of Wayanna, was found dead last night in her room. She had swallowed a wineglass full of carbolic acid and died a horrible death. She was in high spirits until late evening when she heard that her intended husband, Jim Pickett, had taken another girl to an entertainment. On hearing this she fled crying to her room and was seen no more alive.

Wholesale Arrests.

BRUNSWICK, Aug. 14.—The police today arrested forty-seven persons charged as dynamiters.

In the Salt Creek Oil District.

Special Dispatch to the NEWS.

CASPER, Wyo., Aug. 14.—There is considerable of a boom in the Salt Creek oil district. Numerous eastern parties are coming in and taking up claims. Nine hundred and thirty-five certificates were filed in the office of the county clerk yesterday.

Drowned in the Boise River.

BOISE, Ida., Aug. 14.—Ed Bonnell, 23 years old, was drowned in the Boise river, two miles above the city, yesterday. He attempted to swim the stream.

IN CONGRESS.

The Senate Receives the Message of Yesterday's House Proceedings.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—There was but a scattering of senators present today when the Vice President called the Senate to order. At 12:15 the reading of the journal was suspended.

A message from the House informed the Senate that the House has passed bills placing coal, iron ore, barbed wire and sugar on the free list, in which it asked the concurrence of the Senate.

Manderson objected to the second reading of the free coal bill.

Hill gave notice of an amendment repealing all income taxes.

The bills will come up tomorrow.

Hale introduced a resolution for the printing of 5,000 copies of the House bill No. 4864, known as the sugar tariff bill.

Vest protested against this bill, Hale simply referred to it by the name by which it would be known hereafter. Vest questioned Hale's right to say what would be the popular designation of the bill, and declared it an outrage upon the Senate. The resolution went over.

Bills were passed granting ex-Commodore Louis C. Sarrat, retired, reinstatement on the retired list, and authorizing the soldiers' home managers to extend outdoor relief to veterans.

At 2:00 the Senate adjourned.

New York Stock Market.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—Stock market opened strong but soon became irregular. Sugar sold up 1 to 102, broke to 100½ rallied to 101. Rutting the decline 1 and reacted 1.

The market continued heavy until after 11 o'clock. Then selling was concentrated on the prices of sugar, to which trading was most active, broke to 100½, but rallied to 101. Canadian Pacific sold up 1½ to 54½.

Corn and Wheat Advance.

CHICAGO, Aug. 14.—The selfish Iowa crowd again gave corn decided strength, wiping out December at 50½, showed an advance for the day of ¼ cents, May corn it advanced to 51½, September wheat advanced to 65½.

The Emperor of China Afloat.

LONDON, Aug. 14.—The Canadian Pacific steamer Empress of China, Captain Archibald, from Vancouver, via Yokohama, reported adrift at Shanghai August 9, has been floated.

LIVELY ON CHANGE.

Blocks of Shares Change Hands Amid Much Excitement.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—The operators on the stock exchange enjoyed the liveliest day they have had for a long time. Blocks of thousands of shares changed hands rapidly amid much excitement. Prices moved up and down so quickly that the brokers had difficulty in executing the orders given "at limit."

All this was the result of the passage of the tariff bill. To foreigners who have already taken hold with a will and to their purchases is largely attributable the weakness in the Sterling exchange. The chief attack in this sector was distilling, the stocks in hands of which were on a scale of unusual magnitude. Sugar opened at 101 (c), against 100 yesterday. Declined to 100, rallied to 101½, reacted to 101 and recovered 1-16.

The consolidated exchange crowd was so great that it was almost impossible to get through.

At the opening the prices began to go up and they kept going. The sugar people, it is said, are greatly elated over the passage of the bill.

CUBAN CUT OFF.

No Telegraphic Communication Possible.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—The Western Union Telegraph company has received the following, dated Shanghai, August 14: "The Chinese land lines to Corea are totally interrupted. There is no prospect of restoration. The cable from via Nagasaki beyond Fusan is also interrupted with the single exception of Fusan. Corea is completely cut off from all telegraphic communication."

REVIVAL OF BUSINESS.

Ascribed to the Passage of the Tariff Measure.

PITTSBURG, Aug. 14.—The passage of the tariff bill has already made itself felt here by a marked revival of business. Works in all lines of manufacture have been resumed to a considerable, especially iron, steel and glass. Today large orders were received by local manufacturers and in all are expected. It is asserted that a slight reduction will be necessary in the case of glass workers, tin plate men and workmen in some branches of the iron and steel trade, but the majority generally allowed for a reduction to 60 the hard changes.

John Quincy Adams Dead.

QUINCY, Mass., Aug. 14.—John Quincy Adams died at Mount Wollaston this morning.

The Volunta Was.

RYDE, Isle of Wight, Aug. 14.—The Atalanta won the race today for the vice commodore's cup under the auspices of the Royal Victoria Yacht club. The Vigilant did not start.

The following from Dr. Gould was received: "The Vigilant is unable to start today as all her rigging has been taken off and has not been stretched properly."

The Atalanta's lead over the Britannia never fell below two minutes which was increased to four at the finish. The course of fifty miles was covered in the remarkable time of over twelve miles an hour.

OGDEN.

OGDEN, UTAH, AUG. 14, 1894.

County Teachers' Institute.

The Weber County Teachers' Institute opened Monday, August 13, 1894, at 9:30 a.m., with nearly all the county teachers present and officers as follows: Superintendent Moriah Hall, conductor; Prof. Charles Wright, vice chairman; O. P. Rowe, secretary; H. N. Ames and Miss Ella Wangrove, reporting secretaries.

Superintendent Hall addressed the institute on the "Development of the child's mind." Extracts from the little Weismans—to draw out, to develop. The child is a central energy. The germ only is in the child. Its growth is seen as the growth of the tree. The teacher can only supply the natural conditions of development. Within the child is energy which reaches out to the energies of nature. All thought come to the child by contact with the outside world—by the functions of matter entering the brain. The child can receive no precept at first except through the special senses, because of the great sympathy between the child and the outside world. The child is entirely a creature of environments so far as the teacher is concerned. The teacher should supply the natural conditions for its growth. Every child loves rhythm—is, perhaps, a born musician. He loves myth also—has a desire for things wonderful. It is since human history that he has the expression on the parent's face. He also studies flowers, minerals, etc., and has a tendency to destroy many things which please his fancy. He is not mischievous; he is only investigating. He has been studying science—but his plan of investigation he continued when he goes to school. Whatever the natural child likes is good for him. True teaching is adapting the information to be given to the condition of the child. No large child ever was born. It is naturally active, and much curtailing of his energies is necessary before he becomes lazy. Form and number are the modes of judgment. Education is always good and is the realization of all the possibilities of the divine nature.

Prof. Charles Wright gave an interesting talk on the practical way to develop the idea of numbers.

In the afternoon Prof. Samuel Dyer gave a class drill in penmanship.

Mr. Foster gave a splendid lecture on the history lesson, during the course of which many new things were learned concerning the busy little workers.

The institute adjourned to meet at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday.

R. S. AMES, Secretary.

Notes.

Judge Miner left for Michigan where he will spend a couple of weeks, and when he returns will engage in law practice, undoubtedly in Salt Lake City.

Judge King has not as yet arrived in this city.

There were about 500 people from the north at Garfield today.

The trouble between Grant and Harris was settled yesterday out of court between themselves.

The city council met in regular session last night and went through with their regular routine of business.

A piece of gas pipe about eighteen inches long, plugged at one end with wood and in the other a fuse tightly secured by rag, was found lost in a car in the depot close to the ticket office yesterday. It is supposed to contain dynamite. The fuse had been ignited. An investigation of the pipe will be made today.

STEAMERS COLLIDE.

Some Damage Caused to Boat and Passengers Injured.

EXCITING EXPERIENCE AT SEA.

The Details of the Accident Kept from the Public Until Told by Fred Dangel Jr.

CHICAGO, Ill., Aug. 14.—At 12:30 o'clock on the evening of June 29 last, when about 700 miles out from New York the steamship New York collided with the big iron ship Delaware, bound from Hamburg to Baltimore. About thirty yards of the side of New York was carried away, while the American liner took so trophies nearly thirty tons of plate, the bowsprit, the figure-head and various other accessories of the Delaware.

Both steamers sailed on that way, the New York keeping at her position going all the way to Southampton. Every effort was made to keep the incident of the collision secret and with signal success, for it has remained for Alfred Fred Dangerfield, of the Chicago opera house, who has just returned from his European trip, to give the details of the affair.

"We sailed on the New York for Southampton June 29 last," said he last night. "On board we had the members of the Cinderella company bound for London, and one of them was an old friend of mine—Fred Eastman.

"I had here across many times and I never go to bed early. That night were after midnight Eastman and I were enjoying a game on the steerage. Eastman complained of being chilly, and I suggested going to the cabin. We went and were making our across water. It was a clear starlight night. Suddenly I saw a great steel beak up before us, apparently coming out of our darkness.

"'What is that fellow trying to do?' I cried, and then added: 'She'll run into us.'

"I shouted to Eastman and we both started for safety. Just then there came the crash. I was thrown against the rails and had to hold fast to keep from falling. Eastman was not so quick and he is even now laid up in London. He has an awful leg.

"The life boats were swung outward to lower and the people crowded up to steal affairs, dodging the rush the sailors. No one knew how badly we were damaged. The captain commanded the ship's carpenter to sound the well. He made careful examination and said it was the same as it had been in the harbor the day before. This reassured us. Meantime we could see the big black hole of the other ship near by.

"'Shall we need any assistance?'

"'No,' shouted our captain.

"'What ship is that?' came from the other steamer.

"'The New York, for Southampton.'

Do you need any help?' and there was a faint reply.

"We arrived at Southampton safely, but the pumps were working all the time. My friend Eastman was badly hurt and was ordered by the ship's doctor to keep his berth. Both of his legs were badly bruised."

Martin Brown, of the London Press wrote a full and graphic account of the affair for publication. But it never appeared. The steamship people seem to have a way of keeping these little incidents under cover. I made a drawing of the affair for our side and I learned hearing that the collision had not been mentioned here. I sent it to one of the illustrated weeklies. It was never used which is another evidence of the tolerance of the American free people."

A Residence Robbed.

Unknown thieves effected an entrance into the residence of Oscar Lundgreen, at No. 252 Second East street, some time yesterday, while the family was away. They made themselves pretty familiar with the premises as evidenced by the manner in which they had ransacked the trunks, drawers, etc. An inventory taken after they had gone disclosed the fact that several articles of clothing and $60 in cash had disappeared with them. The matter was reported to the police.

Money Lost.

Between the Union Pacific depot and East Temple street a big dollar bill wrapped in a letter was lost on Saturday night, August 11. The honest finder will be rewarded if he returns the property to James W. Pyper at the General Mining office, says that gentleman.

Not Much Done Yet.

The jury before whom in Commissioner Norrell's court yesterday afternoon was tried the "sensational" assault case of Westerfeld vs Kaye failed to agree and so the commissioner will leave tonight for the East he has transferred the pleading to Commissioner Greenman's court. There is some talk, however, of an effort being made in the direction of a private settlement.

When the testimony was all in yesterday the case against Kaye was discontinued on motion of the prosecution.

The case in which Colonel Page is the complainant has not yet been touched.

AT THE BEACH RESORTS.

Logan Tabernacle Choir at Garfield Today—Y. M. C. A. Goes to Saltair.

The Logan Tabernacle choir and friends to the number of 500 came down from their home in the north this morning and went out to Garfield, where they spent the day. They were joined at the beach by a good many members of the Salt Lake Tabernacle choir and the occasion will be long remembered as a very pleasant outing. Tonight the Logan people will attend the complimentary concert in the Tabernacle and tomorrow they will pay a visit to Saltair.

The Y. M. C. A. ran another well attended excursion to Saltair today. The chief feature of attraction was the Rice work of the society's athletes, consisting of sixteen juniors and eighteen seniors. Tomorrow the Tenth Ward Sunday school will also go to Saltair.

The annual outing and excursion of the Deseret News employees of this city will take place at Garfield tomorrow and large delegations are expected from Tooele, Provo, Park City, Ogden and other outlying points. There will be speeches, sports, games, prizes, music, dancing and innumerable other attractions.

HIS FOOT CRUSHED.

Another Rio Grande Railway Man Receives Serious Injuries.

Special to the NEWS per Deseret Telegraph.

SANDY, Utah, Aug. 14.—Fred Stevens, an engineer on the Wasatch branch of the Rio Grande railway, had his left foot badly crushed by being run over by his engine at the Bingo smelter yards this morning shortly after 11 o'clock. He was lying under the engine making some repairs when the train was bumped by the Union Pacific switch engine with the result above stated. No doubt was at hand and he was immediately conveyed to Salt Lake City on the Union Pacific train.

Stevens was taken to St. Mary's hospital at noon to have the injured member amputated.

AMUSEMENTS.

BLIND TOM, that strangest and most wonderful of human phenomena, entertained a large audience at the Theater last evening. The eighteen years which have elapsed since he last appeared in Salt Lake have visibly aged him, but make no alteration in his marvelous gifts; his wonderful head is still jet black, but his face looks much older, and his walk has materially increased. In intellect he is still the same child as ever. It is almost impossible to see him invariably stop his music over his own performances, and equally so to see him slowly repeat the music that have been taught him in making his accompaniments to the audience. One circumstance, a very memorable one, illustrated last evening the weakness of his intellect, and though it makes a laugh on Mr. Jenkins, the enterprising piano agent, is no good not to relate. One of Blind Tom's numbers on the program was to play a selection in imitation of a banjo and guitar, this by means of a patent attachment applied to the strings of the piano. Mr. Jenkins, while the curtain was down, impressed it on Tom to announce to the audience that the banjo and guitar attachment was only found on the Everett piano; Tom, in his stammering, precise way announced, "Ladies and gentlemen, Tom will now give an imitation of a guitar and banjo, by means of an attachment found on every piano." Mr. Jenkins' consternation may be imagined, but Tom went on and played his selection in serene unconsciousness that he had not told the full truth.

As usual, his main achievement consisted in playing, after one hearing, a selection rendered by some one from the audience. Prof. Kinsee dashed off one of his own compositions, a sparkling sentence full of tone, but Tom seized himself at the instrument and dashed it off in the same way, almost note for note. Such instances of retentiveness are past human finding out.

The other performance consisted of various imitations, all exceedingly natural, and the playing of two airs at the same time and having a third. His rendition of such selections as Liszt's Hungarian rhapsody were chiefly remarkable for the fact that they between acquired merely by hearing them to play them; they were not executed without many faults, but that they could be executed at all from memory is the remarkable thing.

Tom is under the charge of the courtesy of wind in chargers. The lady who acts as his guardian set by the contempt last evening. It is said he has acquired a large sum of money which is profitably invested for him.

THE TABERNACLE tonight will be the scene of a notable concert—of union of the Salt Lake and Logan tabernacle choirs, with solos by Miss Pratt, Miss Stevenson, Mrs. Plummer, Mrs. Hamilton and poetry Mr. Easton. Miss Royle is unfortunately too ill to appear.

MISS POTTER AND KYRLE BELLEW play at the Theater FRIDAY and SATURDAY evenings.

JOHN DREW AND MAUDE ADAMS play Butterflies on The Rock Ball at the Theater next Monday and Tuesday evenings. Manager Charles Frohman has definitely settled the question of prices by wiring today that under no circumstances could Mr. Drew's company play for less than the Black company, which means from $1 down.

IMPEACHMENT DENIED.

Good Citizenship Sentiment Did Not Spring From the "Inner Circle."

of the Y. M. C. A.

Secretary Anton, of the Y. M. C. A., met a representative of this paper today and said: "You will do me and our association a favor if through the columns of the NEWS you will announce to the public that the statement that the Civil League or rather the Good Citizenship movement was evolved from the "inner circle" of the Y. M. C. A. is untrue. The people who are identified with it and who hope to succeed in their work come from without our ranks. I do not mean by that that we are antagonistic to the propositions. We favor the objects all right, but personally I cannot agree with the originators that the Second is the best. Neither the Y. M. C. A. simply granted the use of a room to the gentlemen who expect to use the name therein and are to do my respondents for their work.

Veteran Firemen.

The Veteran Firemen's association and Hold's band will give a joint excursion to Garfield on Tuesday, the 28th inst. On the Saturday evening immediately preceding that date the Veteran Firemen will parade the streets of the city in torchlight procession. An advertising effort that scheme is a very good one and will attract lots of attention.

Indians for the Wild West.

The announcement of the realistic Wild West show that is to open at Calder's Park on Friday next received a letter from the Fort Hall Indian agency at Blue Fort, Idaho, today. Mr. C. H. Parsons writes that he has procured "Seven braves and one squaw" for the occasion and states that they will be here on Thursday.

There can be no question as to the success of the show as a list of attractions such as Dr. Faust are taking them at it with an extra attraction as in such they were competitors of Buffalo Bill, Barnum et al.

TO THE SUNDAY SCHOOLS.

Circular Issued by the General Superintendency.

Instructions Given Relative to the First Sunday of September, "Sunday School Sunday."

To all Stake and Ward Sunday School Superintendents:

The Deseret Sunday School Union had arranged for 100,000 small envelopes, accompanied by the circular printed below, to be distributed among the various Sunday schools of the Church, according to the last census returns, with the object therein stated and amount contributed by each donor, to wit:

Contribution of ... cents to Deseret Sunday School Union Board and Sunday School expenses, on the first Sunday in September, 1894. "Sunday School." ... cents. Please hand to your teacher next Sunday, without fail.

We designed to have them reach each school one week preceding "Sunday"—the first Sunday in September.

These envelopes are in transit to Utah, but we fear will not reach here in time to use this year. This renders it necessary to thus call your special attention to this matter, that on the first Sunday in September every Sunday school officer, teacher and pupil will be prepared to respond readily and promptly to this worthy fund. Superintendents should thoroughly explain the matter to the children in their schools that all may properly understand its object. The amounts received by the various schools should at once be forwarded to the Stake superintendents, who will in turn forward the tithing, 10 per cent retained for Stake S. S. purposes from their respective Stakes, to the general treasurer.

We trust this matter will receive your hearty co-operation, and that all officers and workers in the cause of truth respond promptly and liberally. Following is the circular referred to:

SALT LAKE CITY, July 31, 1894.

Superintendent of ... Sunday School:

Dear Brethren—Herewith we forward to you a small envelope, which is in excess of the local enrollment of your school as per your report for the year 1893. These envelopes are for your use in connection with the observance of Sunday School Union Nickel Fund Donation on the first Sunday in September of this year.

We request Sunday previous to the time appointed for the collection, furnish one envelope to each enrolled officer, teacher and scholar of your school, explain to them the object and purpose of the donation, and a dime for the use of your Stake Sunday school officers in providing the Sunday school interests of your Stake, and the remainder for the general Sunday School Union for their use in advancing the general Sunday school interests of the Church in all the fields, by preparing for publication tracts, leaflets, pamphlets, periodicals, yearly circulars, and aid for personal, traveling and other expenses. To all members who may be absent at the time appointed, we trust you will, if possible, give them an envelope, and to all others of your school who may be absent, place the name of each scholar's name as he leaves in the envelope containing his donation. The date, the number will greatly encourage the secretary of the school, and we trust, upon report, nearly showing the number of scholars enrolled in their classes and the number contributing. Officers and teachers will also place their names on their envelopes, and to all such as are not members of the Church, place the scholars' name.

We also request, that the collection, placed on the Sunday appointed, is not postponed due, as may be expected from the accidental, give additional time, and will it is understood be the exception to the appointment. The envelopes forward the latter amount to your Stake Sunday school treasurer or superintendent, who will in turn send them to Elder Joseph Bennett, the general treasurer, Salt Lake City, Utah. Make similar school officers and teachers will please pay the Stake superintendent in the necessary of the Sunday school of the ward in which they reside.

It should be the pride of every subordinate to have this business thoroughly accomplished, for the success of Sunday depends much this and to belief in our improvement work and a spirit of liberality should be cultivated in officers and teachers as an example to the children and that may we go forward, laying up treasure in the affection of God's children.

Desiring prosperity be attend all the Sunday schools, we are,

Your brethren,

GEORGE Q. CANNON,
GEORGE CANNON,
JOHN HENRY SMITH,
General Superintendency Sunday schools.

JOHN M. WHITAKER,
General Secretary.

AFFAIRS OF THE CITY

Quite Certain That the Gravity Sewer Will Not be Completed This year.

DALBY'S CHANCES NOT THE BEST.

The Appointment of Judge Hogg Still Stowed Away in a Committee Pigeon-hole—Miscellaneous.

Plenty of money, an abundance of material, animated zeal, with but few if any obstacles now go to make up a condition most favorable to work on the gravity outlet sewer.

With such a state of affairs facing the contractor construction has progressed ahead at a very rapid rate. Whether it will be though there seems to be some doubt. At present there are about 250 men employed in various capacities on the sewer, divided ostensibly as follows: Drivers, 50; concrete men, 75; bricklayers, 50; plasterers, 25; miscellaneous, 50.

It is estimated that there would be at least from 150 more men engaged on the work to complete the sewer on time. It is about seven miles long and something over 10,000 feet more remains to be laid under the terms of the contract in about 100 days, which would require an average advancement of two feet a day, much more than is being done, it is said.

It will be interesting to know that up to date $103,000 has been paid out on the contract and that $29,000, or 15 per cent, has been retained. The total estimated cost is $153,000. The contractors are having some difficulty, and that is in procuring men with teams. It appears that there are a great many men in this city who want work but not gravity sewer work, as they complain that it is useless to bank for cash. Under the contract the builders of the system are prohibited from employing outside labor, which can be had in abundance.

Dr. Dalby's Chances.

It is highly probable that the question of confirming the Mayor's appointment of Dr. Dalby as health commissioner will come before the Council this evening. The matter was referred to the committee on sanitary rules and quarantine regulations, but there has been no meeting as yet to consider the proposition. Should immediate action be taken it is reasonably certain that Dr. Dalby would be stood up and placed on the sheet of rejection to keep company with Dr. McAdam. This conclusion is based on what a member of the Council said today. His claim is that "the same crowd" was turned. Dr. McAdam down are opposed to Dalby in a bloc and would treat him similarly. Later on, when Councilmen Clawson and Hardy return home, there might be a pretty good chance for Dalby. In fact, with them here his confirmation would be almost a foregone conclusion. But action now would mean defeat.

Judge Hogg's Appointment.

The committee on municipal laws are late in their movements concerning Judge Hogg's appointment to succeed himself as city attorney, as the Council itself has been to grapple with and overcome the reluctancy of opposition. It is stated that the precious moment is slowed away with many others in the committee pigeon hole and how long it will remain there not even the most vociferous chirp dare guess.

As to the Tannery Nuisance.

The committee on sanitary rules and quarantine regulations are in a quandary as to how to proceed to shape their report to the matter of the alleged tannery nuisance in the Nineteenth ward. The committee, it seems, are very loth to recommend the removal of a plant that is constantly employing from 15 hands to twenty men and which cost $15,000. The greatest trouble is that the offending party is backed and then the stench in the neighborhood is extremely bad. It is further complained that the water when runs from out the tannery building is so strongly impregnated as to be injurious to crops and to the people residing in the vicinity. But this it is thought might be overcome by piping it to one of the canals in the western part of the city.

Brought Here For Burial.

Yesterday, August 13, Josephine, the four months old daughter of Hyrum C. and Hartlet Starr McEwan, died at Ogden, of cholera infantum. As the parents had three children buried in the Salt Lake City cemetery, the deceased was brought here on the 10:30 a.m. Union Pacific train today, and called at the funeral service was held at the grave. The opening prayer was offered by Elder Daniel H. Wells. A few remarks were made by Elder Jos. T. Sparks of Ogden. The closing prayer was by Elder Robert T. McEwan, of this city, also a grandfather of the child dead, and the remains of the little one were laid to rest. Brother and Sister McEwan have a deal of friends in this city and Ogden, who sympathize with them in their sad bereavement.

Police and Court Record.

Ed Robinson, the factory crook, was held by Justice Smith today on a charge of housebreaking. Being unable to furnish bonds in the sum of $500 he was remanded to jail to await the action of the grand jury.

William McAllister pleaded guilty to running a gambling house and was fined $25. Five alleged supporters of the institution were discharged, and four others had their cases continued.

Robert Fury, a suspicious acting man who answers the description of one of the fellows connected with the Fort Douglas robbery recently, and who is on the docket as being guilty of committing several other offenses of a similar character, is out on $500 bonds with a case set for November. The police will not be surprised if he fails to show up when the case is called.
