STATE OF CIVIL WAR IN RUSSIA.

Assassin Kaleff's Plea Taken to Indicate Position Terrorists Will Assume Hereafter.

ORDERS TO IMPERIAL GUARDS.

Forbidden to Read Proclamations Thrust into Their Hands in Streets or in Lodgings.

ONLY MEANS OF QUIETING PEOPLE

Zemstvo Says It is to Inaugurate Immediately the Reforms That Have Been Promised.

St. Petersburg, April 19.—The plea at Moscow yesterday of Kaleff, who was sentenced to death for the assassination of Grand Duke Sergius, that a state of civil war existed in Russia, and that he was a prisoner of war and not an ordinary prisoner accused of a crime, is considered here to indicate the position which the terrorists will assume hereafter.

Naturally such a position is not acknowledged by the government, but the terrorists will persist in the fiction. Kaleff having been tried by a special commission of the senate, against which there is no appeal, will be hanged probably within a fortnight.

ORDERS TO IMPERIAL GUARDS.

St. Petersburg, April 19.—The circulation of revolutionary literature among the troops throughout Russia has now spread to the regiments of the imperial guards and a general order has been issued to the guards forbidding them to read proclamations thrust into their hands in the streets or in their lodgings, or to listen to those of their comrades.

It is understood the extension of the censure system to the guards would be followed by a similar extension to the caucuses and Poland.

M. Stukhovich, formerly chief adjutant to the Russian interior department, and M. Von Plehve, the son of the late interior minister, have been made members of the Goremkin commission appointed to discuss questions relating to peasant tenure of lands.

HOW TO PACIFY THE PEOPLE.

Vladko, European Russia, April 19.—The local zemstvo has passed a resolution which will be forwarded to the government to the effect that the only means of quieting the people is to inaugurate immediately the promised reforms, namely the convocation of a representative assembly and the granting of liberty of the press and of meetings, etc.

Died of Hydrophobia.

New York, April 19.—Hydrophobia from a dog bite received seven months ago has caused the death of Louis Ellingboe, 23 years old, in the Orange county, N. J., hospital. The victim had been bitten by a dog in the summer of 1904, but investigation shows animal ran away and was shot to death the next day in a neighboring town, where it was suffering from rabies.

Ellingboe was nearly a year ago.

Soon afterwards the dog, a small pet, was given him by a friend, and while playing with it he was bitten on cheek. The wound was disinfected, and afterwards cauterized.

Bleeding became ill last Sunday, when he noticed a difficulty in swallowing water. The symptoms gradually became more pronounced until convulsions were announced. Between the attacks he was perfectly rational and had his bride take him to a hospital.

Experts were called but they could do nothing to check the convulsions, and after terrible suffering Ellingboe finally succumbed.

Again Held for Attempting to Kill Rival.

Mrs. Douglass Must Once More go to the District Court on Charge of Trying to Murder The Woman Accused of Wrecking Her Home and Happiness—Compelled To Plead Under Penalty of Contempt.

In Judge Diehl's court this morning, Mrs. M. I. Douglass was again placed upon her defense on the charge of assaulting with a deadly weapon, with intent to murder, Mrs. Lottie Martin, who conducts the Savoy roominghouse on West Temple street.

Mrs. Douglass was before the district court on the same charge, but escaped prosecution then upon motion to quash the information, which motion to quash was granted. Another complaint was issued and the case came up for preliminary hearing this morning with the result that the defendant must again go to the district court for trial on the charge of attempting to kill the woman she declared wrecked her home and happiness.

The alleged offense was committed at the Savoy house on Dec. 12, 1904, when Mrs. Douglass entered the place and fired several shots at Mrs. Martin, wounding the latter in the back. Mrs. Douglass declared that Mrs. Martin had been intimate with her husband, a former well known young railroad man.

The case is being prosecuted by Asst. County Atty. Hansen, with Judge O. W. Powers and Asst. City Atty. Wiley assisting. Judge Powers stated, laughingly, that for once he was with the police and not against them. The defense is in the hands of Attorney James Ingebreten and J. W. Stringfellow. When the case was called and the complaint read, the defense entered a vigorous objection to entering any plea whatever, claiming that the defense was not required to do so. The court took a different view and ordered Mrs. Douglass to stand up and plead.

"The defendant must enter a plea. If she does not plead I shall hold her in contempt," said Judge Diehl. Mrs. Douglass then pleaded not guilty.

J. B. Swenson, in the county surveyor's office, was the first witness. He produced drawings of the Savoy house and testified as to their correctness.

Mrs. Halliday, who lives at the place where the trouble occurred, told of the visit of Mrs. Douglass.

"Mrs. Douglass asked me if Mrs. Martin was in," said the witness. "I told her, yes. Mrs. Martin came out into the hall, and Mrs. Douglass began firing at Mrs. Martin. The defendant said that Mrs. Martin had robbed her of her husband's affections; had ruined her home and she would kill her."

On cross-examination the witness said she was a divorced woman; that she was housemaid at the Savoy, and that she had never seen Mr. Douglass in the house with Mrs. Martin. Witness said that the defendant visited the house once before; seized Mrs. Martin by the hair and dragged her down stairs.

Dr. F. P. Richards testified that he attended to the wound inflicted upon Mrs. Martin, and that it was to all appearances caused by a bullet. Answering counsel for defense, the doctor said the wound was a slight one.

Alexander Lyon, who runs a grocery store near the roominghouse, told about Mrs. Martin screaming and running into his store, followed by the defendant. He said the latter held a gun and declared she would kill Mrs. Martin; that the latter had wronged her.

The testimony of A. Parsons was practically the same as given by the previous witness.

Officer Heath related the story of Mrs. Douglass' first visit at the roominghouse when she pulled the complainant down stairs. Officer Heath said Mrs. Douglass on that occasion, threatened to kill Mrs. Martin if the latter did not keep away from her husband.

Sergeant Eddington testified to the arrest of Mrs. Douglass, and her statement to the effect that she shot Mrs. Martin.

The state then rested its case and the defense demanded that Mrs. Martin be placed on the stand. The request was denied.

The defense did not offer any evidence, and the court ordered the accused held on the charge named in the complaint. The $500 cash bond before was allowed to stand. Meanwhile Mrs. Douglass will continue to have her liberty.

HUNTING PARTY WILL MOVE SOON

And Go to West Divide Where The Game, it is Said, is More Plentiful.

DOCUMENTS FOR PRESIDENT.

Secy. Loeb Will Do the Pony Express Act and Carry Them to Him

Ahorseback.

Glenwood Springs, Colo., April 19.—Secy. Loeb left here at 9:40 a. m. today for Newcastles, where he will get a horse and ride to the president's camp. Elmer Chapman, the courier who brought news of the success of the hunt, is serving as the secretary's guide. Mr. Loeb will remain at the camp over night and return here some time tomorrow. He has taken with him a number of documents that require the signature of the president.

The Charlie Penny ranch, where the hunting party is now encamped, is in the east divide. The party will move to the west divide on Saturday or Monday, as it is reported game is more plentiful there. Before the president moves away too far, it is the desire of the ranchmen and mountaineers that he visit Liberty school, where their children are educated. This school is the present camp, and the children of the ranchers ride for miles around to attend.

P. B. Stewart of Colorado Springs, who came to the Springs last night with Courier Chapman, was to get Mr. Loeb to use his good offices in arranging the visit.

STILL THE SILENCE OF THE SPHINX.

The "News" has now printed for three consecutive days a statement of the circulation of the Herald, Tribune and "News" in 40 leading towns of the west, including Ogden, Murray, Provo and Logan, the totals being as follows: Tribune 1,230, Herald 1,647, "News" 7,281.

Up to this time, though repeatedly asked to point out any instance where these figures do it an injustice, the Tribune has remained absolutely silent, evading the issue by indulging in a tirade of blackguardism and name-calling which has deceived no one, and which has still left the "News" figures absolutely unassailable. The subject may, therefore be allowed to rest with the public as it stands, the "News," however, assuring the Tribune that it will be glad to reopen it, at any time the accuracy of the "News" figures is questioned.

In connection with that will-o'-the-wisp, the Tribune's circulation outside of Salt Lake, comes a timely anecdote from Washington, D. C., whose accuracy is vouched for. The report says that during the last days of his occupancy of the senatorial seat, Senator Kearns called at the postoffice department one day in violent agitation and demanded an immediate investigation into a certain country post-office not many miles from Salt Lake, where he said the Tribune was gloriously discriminated against by the postmaster. The irate senator was assured that full justice would be done to his complaint. A telegram was promptly forwarded to the inspector for this district, who was then at Salt Lake, ordering him to proceed at once to the postoffice in question and to learn what was happening to the Tribune's list of subscribers. Under the pressure of this telegram the inspector dropped his work, took the train for the country point in question, called on the postmaster and peremptorily demanded the production of the Tribune's list of subscribers.

The postmaster immediately handed out a slip containing two names, John Smith and John Brown.

"What's this," demanded the inspector.

"The Tribune's subscription list in this place," was the answer.

Report does not say what the inspector remarked when he came to, or what was the nature of the communication he forwarded to Senator Kearns.

ELEMENTS AS AGENTS ON CURE OF CONSUMPTION

Atlanta, Ga., April 19.—The American Anti-Tuberculosis League decided today to hold its next annual meeting at El Paso, Tex., at a date to be selected later. Dr. R. E. Condit of Sioux City, Ia., was elected president and Dr. Walter N. Voss of El Paso secretary.

The reading of papers was continued today.

Dr. J. A. Riviere of Paris, France, in his address, said:

"The powers of physical agents, air, light, water, heat, electricity, movement, ozone, oxygen, X-rays and anti-rays are not only prophylactic means of the first order, but also judiciously handled, they exert an indubitable curative action in the disease which is cured."

To attain the end in view it is necessary to abandon the idea of the sanatorium, which places the patient in a defective moral surroundings that the benefit he might derive from the air and light is diminished in a very considerable degree.

Divulgence of the rudiments of hygiene in the schools, workshops and all resorts of the people.

"Establishment of a stricter and more regular control of the measures taken in this respect by the municipalities or by the state, with regard to these schools and workshops, and regulations imposed in addition to secure greater breathing space, and a wiser planning of dwellings and buildings in general."

A DOWDIE MISSIONARY.

His Residence Near Shanghai Attacked by Armed Chinese.

Shanghai, April 19.—A Dowdite missionary named Kennedy recently rented for his mission work a native building in the village of Tsungli, about four days journey from Shanghai. At midnight on April 12 109 Chinese, armed with swords and wearing blouses marked "The People's Volunteers," attacked the house, wounding several, and striking Kennedy on the head, leaving him apparently dead, and looting all his goods.

A messenger who left the scene early the next morning reported that Kennedy was still breathing, and later, advised his hopes of his recovery.

Acting United States Consul Davidson promptly dispatched Vice Consul Cloud with 20 native soldiers to Tsungli to prevent any further outrage.

The following cablegram was received at the state department today from the Consul-General Davidson at Shanghai, dated today:

"Kennedy, a Dowdite missionary, was attacked by Chinese at Tsungli village in Hang Chow district. Cloud is en route."

Mr. Cloud is a clerk at the Shanghai consulate-general. There have been vague rumors of disturbances and growth of anti-foreign feeling similar to that which led to the Boxer uprising of 1900, but no official advice has come to the state department to verify these. If Mr. Cloud finds that there is any danger of a general uprising in that quarter, the Chinese government will be immediately called upon to take steps to protect the missionaries.
