MINES AND MINING.

Fair Trading and Good Quotations on the Stock Exchange.

MAMMOTH RECEDES A LITTLE.

The County Surveyor's Report of Conditions in the East—News of the Mines in Idaho.

The mining stock market was quite active today and a fair volume of business was transacted on the exchange. The figures as a whole were good throughout the call, although some of the stocks did not receive such favorable recognition as that which was accorded them on the previous day.

Anchor was stronger in the bidding and was wanted badly at 90 cents, the newest figure at which the stock was offered, however, was $1.25 a share, therefore trading therein was out of the question. Ajax showed increased strength, the bid being 77 cents, holders offered the stock at 80 cents. Bullion-Beck was also firm, together with Daly West and Four Aces. The latter scored the first sale of the call in a transfer of 1,000 shares at 10 cents. Mercur remained stationary while Mammoth fell back to $2.75 in the bidding, with offerings of the stock at $2.80. Ontario stood at $9.75 asked with $9 bid, while Sunshine and Utah scored quotations similar to those received for several weeks back.

South Swansea headed the call of unlisted stocks and showed its popularity and strength by being freely bid for at $1.35. Holders of the stock made a demand for $1.60 and this is why no sales were recorded. Sunbeam arose from its slumpy position of yesterday and asserted its dignity by bringing out numerous bids of 15 cents for the stock. The asking quotation was 17½ cents a share, while a transfer was made at 16 cents. Utah Consolidated stock was on offering at 80 cents, with no bid. Ohio Ben at the same figure with 42 cents bid, while Northern Light was dealt in to the extent of 100 shares at 64 cents a share. Sacramento received a bid of 40 cents, but the demand for the stock was 10 cents above that figure. Swansea showed exceeding strength and would do purchasers well to take the stock at $2.85; the asking figure was $2.75 a share.

The closing figures were as follows:

BACK FROM THE EAST.

County Surveyor Joseph Richards and Talks of His Trip.

Harry S. Joseph, county surveyor, returned yesterday from an extended trip East. In a conversation with a News reporter today Mr. Joseph said:

"Everything in the East seemed to have an air of dullness about it, but the people are imbued with the spirit of confidence, more so, perhaps, than they have been for some time, for the reason that banks have started to loan out money more freely, and are evincing a desire to see prosperity return. The people throughout the West, with little money they have hoarded up, are seeking investments, and their attention is turned to the west as the best place for laying out their money. They have heard of the good returns received from mining investments, and like them want to be in the swim.

"I went East to promulgate the mining interests of Utah and had no difficulty in carrying out my plans. I placed considerable treasury stock in the Lower Mammoth Mining company at a good figure, which will insure work on the property for a long period of time. My success is due to the pursuing of business methods in dealing with eastern people. Eastern time eastern ways have been fighting way of taking any interest in mining investments in the West because they have been victimized by swindlers promiscuously. I found a great inquiry for some of Utah's diversified papers, such as the Centennial Eureka, Bullion-Beck, Mercur, Sacramento and others, much of the stock of which companies is held back there."

Mr. Joseph is highly gratified at the success attending his trip and returns with a greater determination than ever to lend his every effort to the advancement and promotion of Utah's greatest industry—that of mining.

IDAHO MINING NEWS.

What the Miners are Doing in the State to the North.

C. P. Richardson was out from Moose creek last week for the winter says the Idaho Free Press. Recently he has been prospecting for the mine channel and has opened up ground which gives amazing prospects of coarse gold. Among his pocket specimens was one nugget weighing $6.80; and several others nearly as rich. Mr. Richardson says he is ready for work when spring comes, and will need a water ditch, as the water onto the new ground and make a showing that will surprise the big placer miners who think they are the players on placer country. Mr. Richardson left for Moose Monday to spend the holidays with his parents and early in spring he will visit Nevada county, Cal., to gather some points in hydraulic mining.....

Word comes from Elk City that Mr. Silverman is employing a force of twenty-five men on the Rose Dragon mine, consisting of three shifts working eight hours each. The old shaft, such is reported, is nearly free from water and a whim is being erected to keep it dry. Work will commence in the 100-foot level and then drifts will be run on the two fissure veins. Stopes are also being started and the ground around the mine is one of great activity. The Rose Dragon is located on American river, south of the Buffalo Hill. The only complaint were noted on the meadow bottom, but there they show a strong vein of lime supposed to be giving good gold values as soon as the shaft was sunk. The property has had a checkered history, and we hope its troubles are over. It is said that if it develop into a safe extinct Sonora mine, Butte and Jacon in Oro have it beaded and the new work is being done on their behalf. Should the mine's development be satisfactory a 10-stamp mill will be shipped in and the property put on a paying basis early in the spring.

Wardner News: The sale of the Stemwinder mine to the Hunker Hill company, which has been pending for several weeks, was consummated on Wednesday last. Dan Canmore meeting the trustee of receiver in the new Miners' Exchange back of Wardner. The transfer was quite extensively talked of in Spokane and Japan because it gives them a valuable contribution of their mining property—the Stemwinder and Hunker Hill to be being directed, we hear, by the owners of the Miners' Exchange back because this will result in a dividend in a short time. The purchase does not affect Mr. Birk's interest in the Stemwinder, which it stands as April. There are work on the Stemwinder will continue as usual until that time.

Kootenai Herald: The G. H. Pine Management has decided to run a tunnel 400 feet in length and will tap the lead at a depth of 150 feet. The character of the ore in the shaft already sunk more than justified the contemplated development work.....Development work is being pushed on the Electric, the Kootenai and Keokom, the Good Hope and Blue Bell. Patterson office are daily being receive, the properties here, especially in the two mine since the discovery of a vein in the "Jim Hill" by the Dunham Brothers and others for $5,000.....The Keystone changed management today. Mr. James Chambers succeeds Mr. H. J. Joy in charge of the mill, all of which will be eminently satisfactory to the men.

Moscow Mirror: Quite a number of men are engaged in placer mining along the Salmon and Clearwater rivers this winter. They work the gravel on the bars with rockers and are said to be making from $1 to $2.00 a day.

UP AT THE PARK.

The Mines and Their Condition as Seen by the Record.

Though a strong effort has been made within the past two weeks to learn something authentic concerning the machinery for the Peck mill nothing tangible has been developed and the future of that plant is still shrouded in as much mystery as it was two months ago. Mr. St. Jo. Jr. will say is that the mill will be completed as soon as the machinery is ready.

Assessment work for the year 1896 has been done on the Anthonson and Ada Mueson group of mining claims lying north of Deer Valley. A very favorable assay in gold and silver have been obtained from that part of the district during the past year, and the parties owning grounds in that section are well pleased with the developments made. Gold to the value of $9.25 per ton has been obtained from quartz coming from a large fully fifty feet in width, and a tunnel now being driven on the Anthonson will tap the ledge at a depth of 300 feet and prove it up. The tunnel is now in only 150 feet and will have to be driven 200 feet further before the ledge is reached. The property is owned by the Hanson brothers.

Chris Siegle, Joe Siegle and James Toomes have a very promising group of mines claims lying about one and a half miles north and a little west of the Vallejo. They have some very nice croppings and are sinking a shaft to cut the ledge. The shaft is now some twenty-five feet deep, and the indications go to show that the vein (if it is a fissure) at this depth, at least that is the judgment of the owners. Mr. Siegle says every foot of ground in that part of Deer Creek mining district has been taken up and prospecting is quite active at this season of the year. He expects to see some rich developments made early in the season and is satisfied that the ground being worked by himself and partners will prove as valuable as any. They are open for negotiations for a working interest and invite inspection of their ground.

Work at the old Hawkeye has been discontinued owing, as the writer is informed, to some misunderstanding about the lease, and Capt. Hall is now in Salt Lake trying to straighten matters out. The shaft is said to be timbered up clear to the bottom and put in good repair, while the drift leading to the vein has also been cleaned of debris and put in good shape. The last time the water course was out that flooded the property and drove the men from the shaft. Contrary to the statements of many persons, though, the assessing on the claims of W. D. Rogers, who was interested in the mine when the flood came, no ore was thrown out that could be counted for the creation of work. There is a fine vein exposed in the cross-cut, however, and a drift on the main ledge opposite the body of ore which is very low at present. It is to be hoped that arrangements will be made so as to enable the work of developing a property to be continued.

The Vallejo continues to attract much attention and stock is still quoted at $2 and over per share. In fact, during the past week the property has gained rather than lost standing in the community, and bonding is being quoted at $2.25 per share. Work is being pushed on that figure. The writer is informed that James Kervin, one of the best miners in Park City, and whose reputation is a world-wide one, has been in charge of the Vallejo since the property began shipping, recently examined the mine, declares that in his opinion it had the making of a mine that would eclipse rather the Ontario or the Silver King. However that may be, it is certain that no stock in promotion can induce the client owners of stock to part with any number of shares. The indications, so far as can be gathered from the developments made in the lower tunnel and from ores made from the raise, are to the effect that the Vallejo is going to cut a big figure in the immediate prosperity of the camp.

Following are the ore shipments from the Meldrum sampler for the week: Ontario, 120,000; Ulrich, 16,000; Vallejo, 22,000; Verona & Forest extension, 14,000; Uzzle, 20,000. Total pounds, 811,000.

Pipe and Spoke.

H. S. Joseph is the latest applicant for membership in the stock exchange.

The Alice Gold and Silver Mining company of this city has passed a dividend of $25,000 payable December 31st.

A mill is talked of for the Midas, Lucky Boy and other properties in Deer Creek, owned partly by G. A. Dyer.

A 19-ton car of ore from the Utah mine at Fairsprings was sold yesterday, the oil refiling the company the sum of $1,055.54.

The strength of Saucheen on the exchange today is said to be due to the fact that a strike has been made in the mine, which is located near Silver City.

Sam Newhouse of the Highland Boy at Bingham has gone to Denver, presumably to consult with other owners in the mine as to its future development.

When John Dern of the Mercur returned from the mine on Sunday he brought with him a clean-up of operations which amounted to $23,300, which has been consigned to the Deutsche Gold and Silver Ausstalt at Frankfort, Germany.

SUNDAY SCHOOL UNION.

Interesting and Important Instructions at Last Evening's Meeting.

The Fourteenth ward assembly rooms were filled to overflowing last evening, Dec. 21, by a large and appreciative audience, composed of the officers and teachers of Sunday schools in the stakes of this Stake, and all were repaid in listening to a highly instructive and entertaining lecture by Prof. James E. Talmage on rules and methods of teaching in the Sunday school class. The meeting was presided over by Stake Superintendent J. C. Griggs. All the city schools except the Eighth and Twentieth wards were represented, as was the case with following outside schools: Brighton, Big Cottonwood, (both schools) Bingham canyon, East Jordan, East Mill Creek, Farmers, Forest Dale, Grange, Mill Creek, Murray, Sandy, South Cottonwood, Union and Willard.

Opening prayer was offered by Elder John Wells of the Eighteenth ward.

Dr. Talmage began his address by saying that he deemed the work of the Sunday schools a part of the public education, but, he said, the methods of the day and Sunday school work were entirely different, and we Sabbath school teachers must adapt ourselves to the conditions. The speaker compared "method" and "Mormon" in the book of the scriptures, and said that Mormon was to an end. A good mechanic goes accomplish wonders with very poor tools, but the work of a poor mechanic would be but a bungle, however excellent his tools.

The difference between a true teacher and the members of his class consisted greatly in the fact that he was a greater student than his pupils, for when an instructor ceases to study to enlighten his own mind, he should cease to teach.

Individuality in methods should be encouraged in the teacher, so long as the results were satisfactory and in harmony with the work of the school. Cast iron rules intolerably enforced were a great detriment to the progress of the school work.

Life was too short, he said, to waste time in studying and reading everything in the Sunday school class, however valuable such knowledge might be in its place. It is commendable in greatest good much diversities should be used in selecting that which will be the most valuable and best suited to the pupils, and to the great and great latter-day work.

Referring to the work of the theological class, the speaker said that however important it is for people to know the Bible, until they arrived at some degree of mental maturity, they should not become members of the theological class. The speaker said that the time was advanced for immature minds and their presence would be a hindrance to the progress of the class.

No Sunday school teacher should deign to put into his daily duties spurious ideas as the doctrines of the Church, but should aim to teach the truths unbiased, and to tolerate and respect the ideas and opinions of others.

His address throughout was illustrated by a humorous and pathetic, and closed by encouraging the teacher to do his best, in every not in well doing, but to leave the result to God.

Dr. Talmage was followed by Elder G. Marion Cannon who gave a few weighty words of instruction and encouragement. Teaching in the Sunday school, he said, was like chaff being sifted by the winds, for in the other many days, and every faithful teacher would some day see the result of his labors.

The blanks for the annual statistical reports were distributed to representatives of all the wards present. Secretaries are requested to fill up the same and return to Stake secretary not later than January 10th next. Stake Superintendent Griggs also suggested that the meeting work of gathering the schools at the end of the year, care be taken to do the work fairly and equitably, that no ill feeling be engendered, or dissatisfaction put in the way of the children.

The very excellent singing rendered at the opening and closing of the meeting was led from by the Fourteenth ward choir, under the direction of Elder Thomas Butler.

The benediction was offered by Elder T. A. Clawson of the Eighteenth ward.

UTAH CASE AFFIRMED.

Had Been in the Courts for the Past Five Years—Opinion by Justice Sawyer.

Information received here from Washington last evening of the affirmation by the Supreme court of the United States of a case which had its inception in the courts of Utah more than five years ago.

It was an action brought by Eugene W. Lynch against Thomas H. Cottrell, Henry P. Henderson to enforce the collection of $5,000 on a bond guaranteeing the transfer of a certain tract of land. The case was tried before Judge Miner who decided in favor of the defendants. An appeal was then taken to the Supreme court of the Territory which tribunal affirmed the decision of the lower court. Still the plaintiffs were dissatisfied and appealed to the Supreme court of the United States with the result, after a protracted period of waiting, as noted. The opinion was delivered by Justice Shiras and concurred in by all members of the court.

Baby doesn't always find this world an inviting place to come to. It is a world of tongues, and baby's tongue is not nimble enough to make it an honorable world as people talk in the little vernacular. It is her duty and it is mother's duty to do everything in her healthy constitution as possible, by helping her to overcome the inherent weakling at its best during the successive days.

The best promoter of health and cheerfulness during the period of gestation is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It tones up the whole system and gives special strength and vigor to the delicate and important functions of parturition. It makes the mother stronger and brighter in mind and body, and her baby healthier, makes delivery easy and entirely free from pain, shortens the period of confinement, lessens pain and danger, and promotes an abundant supply of nourishment for the child.

"Favorite Prescription" is absolutely certain to impart vitality to the nursing mother, so as to enable her to nourish her child without undue exhaustion, and so to avoid the necessity of resorting to artificial nutrition, as nothing else can. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the only preparation of its kind intended for a regular practitioner, and is not to be confounded with those worthless nostrums which are called of three years' duration.

GUN THIEVES CAPTURED.

Four Fellows Arrested for Burglarizing Walsh's Store.

They Had a Hearing This Afternoon and Two of Them Placed Under Bonds.

It was a clever capture which the Salt Lake officers made when they threw into jail last evening four burglars who a few nights before had been plying their vocation right in the heart of the city. They were the fellows who robbed the M. A. Walsh establishment on Friday night last and cut away with guns, gallery, etc., to the value of $475, all of which they hauled away in the carriage of President George Q. Cannon. Their names and ages are James O'Connor, 21; John Dolan, 18; J. D. Casey, 22, and Ed Jewell, 18.

Ever since the burglary Detectives Sheets and Jensen and Officers Roberts and Shannon have been working on the case. The only clue they had to the perpetrators of the theft was their own suspicions, and on these they worked with the success achieved. Their suspicions rested strongly on young O'Connor, and to capture him at the most opportune time was their desire. Last evening they located him as well as the three others with Faith lodging house and all were promptly arrested.

After being registered at the station, the O'Connor boy was taken into the Paul's room and there questioned so severely that he finally admitted all and told the officers to go to Smith's hall at the corner of Fourth South and Second West street where they would find the stolen goods. Take the officers did with the result that the guns and cutlery stolen from the Walsh store, were recovered. They were located on the second floor of the building, hidden underneath a lot of rubbish and stand—a place which the officers say they would never have dreamt of.

O'Connor took most of the blame for the burglary and said he had taken the Cannon rig and driven to the corner of Second West and Fourth South where he entered Smith's hall and carried the stuff under the outside stairs. O'Connor stated that the Smith house knew nothing about the goods being on their premises and their utter ignorance of the matter was fully confirmed when the owners of the place had no knowledge of the burglaries. They really granted the request to search the place and were dumbfounded when the property was found just where O'Connor had said it would be.

The culprits were arraigned before Justice Weiter this afternoon charged with burglary, to which O'Connor and Dolan pleaded guilty. The others pleaded not guilty and the hearing was commenced with.

Assistant County Attorney Harrington conducted the prosecution and the witnesses were Mrs. Sim, Walsh and her son as to the burglary. Then followed Detective Sheets who detailed the arrest of the defendants at the early night home on the corner of First West and Second South street. The witness stated that young O'Connor admitted his guilt but that the others would not say anything, other than that they were innocent in the matter.

Officer Shannon corroborated the testimony of Detective Sheets and said that young O'Connor, when admitting his guilt, stated that he didn't want to pull the other fellows into the job, therefore he would allow them to speak for themselves.

Officer Roberts gave testimony similar to that of the preceding witnesses.

Young O'Connor took the stand for the defense. He testified that he and Dolan committed the burglary of Friday night. They got in through the back door and after sneaking the goods placed them in a buggy standing in the rear of the Juvenile Instructor office. He was now out on parole from the Reform school, whence he had been committed for petit larceny. The other two defendants were in no way implicated in the matter.

Dolan also took the stand and was being examined at press time.

Stripped the Clothes Line.

About 6:00 o'clock last evening sneak thieves went to the premises of Mr. Josephine Bunting, corner of Fourth East and Seventh South streets, and stripped the clothes line of a quantity of clothing including bed and table linen and other articles, to a considerable value. Just as a member of the household came out to take in the day's washing she observed the two thieves disappearing over the fence but they escaped the pursuit that was instituted.

W. D. Howard Arrested.

W. D. Howard was arrested this afternoon for buying goods without keeping a record of them. The man runs a second hand store on State street between Second and Third South streets and it is said that his mode of procedure assists young thieves in their unlawful business.

AMUSEMENTS.

Grand—Little Lord Fauntleroy was the bill scheduled at the Grand for this week and while the opening night was not greeted by an audience of more than ordinary size, the succeeding nights it was nevertheless an enthusiastic one and the strong success of the play were heartily endorsed. Miss Valesso did the best work that she has done here, as Dearest, and her audience was more than pleased and did not hesitate to show its appreciation in unmistakable emphasis. Miss Isette easily captured the honors of the night in the rendition of the role of Minnie the adventuress! She dressed the part and acted it in a manner which showed that her ability is not yet an unknown quantity and that we may expect other pleasant surprises from her parts were well described. It was hardly in a role suited to his line though he did the part of the Earl of Dollincourt as he does everything, in the easiest and most natural manner for as his efforts. Mr. Wyngate did a very clever character in as and Biggles and was hearty applause. The other parts were well described. Mr. Edson was somewhat ill at ease for some cause, more than likely on account of his extra work as stage manager which takes the time he should spend in his lines. Tony Harrison as the little Cedric" was very clever, and barring a lapse of memory occasionally in her lines, gave a rendition of the part that was very creditable. The balance of the characters were well sustained including Mr. Ross Drake, Mr. Pancoast as the butler, Miss Dupont as the maid and Mr. Lifehouse as the lecturer. This week's bill will not be better during the season and the house should replace the report breeder for attendance. The bookings for the matinee on Christmas show that there will be full standing room to see the first curtain.

Tuesday Test matinee—Friends of Horace S. Ensign Jr. in the number of their number, yesterday, scrambled at Christensen's ball last night to listen to the testimonial concert given to him prior to his leaving the city for a season in Louisiana. A very good program was rendered and one or two surprises were given, particularly by young Mr. Ensign himself. Miss Belle Pearce Whitney, the lady was a very sweet soprano voice that showed improvement with each appearance. Tom Kay, Edward Amelia, Miss Cooper and Mr. Ensign was the signal for an ovation and they were recalled. All of the other numbers were well received, Dreams of the Night by the Harmony club being very well done. The News wishes Mr. Ensign every success in the work he goes to perform in Colorado and a safe return to his family and friends.

The Lyceum—Manager Gates announces the Tendelts for its matinee on Christmas afternoon and night. Other play will follow this during the week. The Orpheum stock company at Denver remains here.

A Railroad Official's Experience.

MR. EDWARD EDMONDS, long connected with railroad construction in Nebraska, writes: "My heart troubled me and I had to lie in bed. Shortness of breath was the most distressing of my symptoms. Intense, excruciating pain, generally followed my severe exertion. Palpitation would be excessive. Fluttering that made me afraid I would die, would come and often stopped me as if I would fall. Were frequent attacks. Again, everything would turn black and I would fall unless I grasped something. Sometimes the pain would be so severe that I could not lie down. Dr. Miles' Nervine and Heart Cure relieved me at once and I could lie down and take a good night's rest. I consulted leading physicians and tried several other remedies. Not a single one did me any good. I can only say that Dr. Miles' Heart Cure saved my life. I shall always recommend my remedy to those who are suffering as I was."
