

GOES TO TESTIFY IN MURDER TRIAL

Lucian Smyth, Deputy U. S. Marshal, Will Tell of Ciddio's Confession.

HEARD MAN TELL STORY HERE

Will Pick Up Mother of Girl Who Was Killed in Canada in Dynamiting of Inn.

Capt. Lucian H. Smyth, chief deputy United States marshal for Utah, has been summoned by the Canadian government to become a witness in an important murder trial to be held May 26, at Greenwood, British Columbia.

An international subpoena such as this is not one that Marshal Smyth is forced to obey as in the case of a United States subpoena, but nevertheless he will go by his own consent. An offer is made in the letter calling for him to the effect that if he will agree to come, a check covering the cost of the trip will be forwarded to him in advance.

The case on which Capt. Smyth's testimony is desired is that of Francisco Ciddio, which is of long standing in the British dominion. He dynamited a public inn from which he had been ejected, and killed several members of the owner's family. Following the event, Canadian officers tracked him for years until he was finally located in Salt Lake City.

Here Marshal Smyth located him as a laborer, and under the name of a job was waiting for him on West Second South street. He succeeded in marching him into the county jail before making known to him that he was under arrest.

With a member of the Canadian secret police, who had trailed Ciddio to Salt Lake, Marshal Smyth heard his confession of the crime charged against him, and it is this confession which is the cause of the subpoena.

In the letter accompanying the document it is requested that Capt. Smyth go north via Peery, Oregon, where Mrs. King, mother of the young girl who was killed in the dynamiting, lives, and that he bring her north with him to Greenwood.

U. S. Marshal Spry stated this afternoon that his chief deputy would be relieved from duty to make the trip, and that he would leave about May 28.

ELECTION AT U. OF U.

Considerable Enthusiasm Over Selecting Officers for Student Body.

Presidents Joseph F. Smith, Anthony H. Lund and Francis M. Lyman were at the University of Utah this morning, as guests of President Joseph T. Kingsbury and President Richard R. Lyman. The hosts conducted the visitors through various departments of the school.

There is considerable enthusiasm and excitement manifested by the young men and women of the university over the election that is to take place tomorrow for officers of the student body.

A voting machine, procured from the city and county building, will be installed, and the business of the polls will be conducted in the latest approved style of casting the ballot. Candidates for the various offices are as follows:

For president, Joseph Barlow, J. M. Carlson, and William Nuttall; for vice president, Clifford Ashby, Glen A. Kepp, Dennis Grant, and James Allen; for treasurer, Ben Argye, Stewart Taylor and Henry Moyle; secretary, Addie Cannon and Emma Coates; editor of Chronicle, Arthur Parsons and Dull Judd; members of debating, Ed Watson, Ralph Bortley and Frank Johnson, athletic council (two to be elected), Henry Richardson, Mark Brown, George Roberts, Fred Monahan, Harry Alley, Joe Johnson and Fred Snow.

MAY TRANSFER EXHIBITS.

Secy. Ensign of the State Fair association received word this morning from Postmaster Glasman of Ogden stating that any or all of the exhibits in the Intermountain fair to be held just before the state fair in this city, will be available for removal to Salt Lake immediately before the opening of the state exhibition for display here. Mr. Ensign or any other representative of the state fair may go to Ogden and conduct the transfer. Weber, Morgan, Boreholder and Davis counties are included in the Intermountain Fair association.

POLICEMAN STOPS KILLING.

Yeager Reaches Saloon in Time to Knock Gun From Runk's Hands.

There would have been a murder last night if Patrolman Yeager had not entered a saloon just in time to knock a gun from Dominick Runk's hands. The gun was leveled at another man and Runk was undoubtedly about to fire when the patrolman stepped in and ended in changing Runk's mind. Runk had very little to say about the affair, and the man at whom he aimed was not brought over to the station with Yeager's testimony it was not thought necessary.

Essary to get the man who would have been the winner's victim. The two men had been quarreling and words led up to the gun play. The gun was a short two-barreled affair. It was loaded. Dominick was sober so the police know he meant business. He has been charged with assault with a deadly weapon.

ROBBED BY WOMEN.

Two Ladies of Color Work Strong Arm Game on Russian.

Two negro women, giving the names of Mary Taylor and Jennie Oakley, were arrested on Commercial street last night by Officer Carlson, at the instance of one Luis Papeos, a Russian. The latter accused the women of having robbed him of $5 near O. S. L. depot. According to Papeos' statement, he was approached by one of the two, who tried to engage him in conversation. The other approached from behind and held her arms around him while the first extracted a purse from Papeos' pocket. Papeos followed the women up town and pointed them out to the officer.

CHICKEN THIEVES BUSY.

Chicken thieves were busy last night. A flock of 15 head, including 14 "layers" and one "crowing," was reported to the police. This raid was made at the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Rear, situated between Ninth and Tenth South.

SUSPECT "TIP" BELCHER.

Seattle and Local Officers Believe He "Turned Up" Joe Garcia.

Did "Tip" Belcher "tip" off Joe Garcia? Police of Seattle and the sheriff's force here are reported to believe this, although neither will discuss the matter. The story is now told that Saddle Belcher, "Tip's" wife, is at Boise, and has wired a query regarding Garcia. It is believed the half-breed and Mrs. Belcher were too friendly to suit Belcher, and to have the half-breed put out of the way. Belcher is still in Seattle, refuses to reveal the identity of the man who betrayed Garcia. The half-breed condition is far from certain. He is delirious and talks unintelligibly. There is a chance for life, yet he may die at any moment, say the physicians in charge, who say they never saw such an exhibition of nerve as that being displayed by the Mexican.

WILL EXHIBIT AT CLUB.

Mahonri M. Young is at work finishing a large model of the proposed Seagull monument to be placed on exhibition at the Commercial club pending the completion of plans to erect it at some suitable place in Salt Lake. The model will be complete with the panels at the base as well as the alighting gulls which surmount the Corinthian column comprising the shaft.

LATE LOCALS.

Bank Clearings—Today's local bank clearings amounted to $629,129.46, as against $1,015,486.72 for the same day last year.

Recorder Moreton Recovering—City Recorder J. B. Moreton, who has been suffering with severe attack of erysipelas since Friday last, is now recovering and hopes to return to his office within a day or two. Meanwhile, Ben Reeves is in charge of the recorder's office.

Homebound Bound—E. U. Beecher, formerly president of the East Kentucky conference, passed through Salt Lake today for his home at Elba, Cassia county, Ida. Elder Beecher accompanied the body of Elder LeRoy Hall, who died in Kentucky April 20, of typhoid, to Rockville, Washington county, Utah, where the funeral was held.

State Land Board En Tour—The members of the state land board will leave tomorrow on a tour of inspection of the proposed Pitkin reservoir irrigation project. Several canal locations will be examined by the board, preparatory to recommendations in regard to the same to be made at the regular meeting of the board to be held in this city May 26.

TOO MANY VISITS WRECK HIS PEACE

John G. Willis Charges His Wife With Cruelty in Divorce Suit.

ANNOUNCES LIBERAL OFFER.

He Will Provide for the Welfare of His Spouse and Children if the Decree Be Granted.

John G. Willis, a local attorney, has sued his wife for divorce and the root of the trouble between them appears to be divers and sundry members of his wife's family taken together with his sensitive disposition and desire to have quiet and tranquility prevail in his home. The suit was filed today in the Third district court against May Willis. In his complaint he says that he and Mrs. Willis became husband and wife at Idaho Falls, June 23, 1899. Since Nov. 11, 1906, they have not lived together, though they have visited several times, he going to her home with a reconciliation in view but without result.

He further declares that it is his wife's pleasure to annoy members of her family come to their home to visit, much against his will. He says that this is so because after a hard day's work as an attorney handling cases in which vast interests are involved, he feels in a mood to seek the solace of domestic quietude. With a diversified aggregation of visitors, from his complaint, it appears that this has been impossible.

In his complaint, Mr. Willis professes his willingness to provide for the future welfare of Mrs. Willis at the rate of $75 per month and to provide for their two children at the same rate, making $150 per month in all. He desires that the children may be given into her control and that the majority and in the event that their needs are in excess of the amount to be paid for their education and maintenance, he will be willing to make further concessions. The specific charges against the wife is cruelty, consisting in the persistent desire on her part to entertain the guests as set out.

MATRIMONIAL MISFEITS.

Elizabeth Boughan and Lillie Coleby Deserted by Husbands.

Elizabeth Boughan has filed suit in the district court for decree of divorce from her husband, Joseph A. Boughan, charging desertion and failure to provide as ground for action. The couple were married at Bingham Jan. 23, 1905, and the complaint alleges that Boughan deserted her on the 15th of February, 1907, and has since that time refused to desert and abandon her and that he has failed to provide for her and their children.

Before marrying Boughan, plaintiff was a widow possessed of considerable property at Bingham, and conducted a boardinghouse with the assistance of six children by a former husband, by the name of West. Plaintiff asks that she be adjudged separate owner of this property in addition to receiving a decree of divorce, and the restoration of her former name of Elizabeth West.

Lillie Coleby wants a divorce from William Coleby, and in her complaint filed in the district court yesterday, alleges that Coleby without cause or provocation deserted her and failed to provide for her since the 16th day of August, 1907. The suit was filed on June 10, 1908, at Salt Lake City, and plaintiff alleges that although her husband is able to earn $8 per day at his trade of brick mason, she has been compelled to live from the kindness of her friends, being in poor health. Plaintiff asks for decree of divorce, a reasonable amount of permanent alimony, and for a division of the furniture and attorney's fees and costs.

RAY ENTERS SUIT.

Turns About on Man Who Had Him Arrested—Asks $10,000.

W. C. Ray has brought suit against Charles E. Brinton for $10,000 damages alleged to have been sustained by Ray for false arrest and malicious prosecution. Ray is suing Brinton because he was brought back to Salt Lake from Green River on a warrant issued by Justice F. M. Bishop in which Ray was charged with obtaining $85.50 from Brinton. Ray claims that Brinton came up for trial yesterday and Brinton failing to appear to prosecute, the action was dismissed, and Ray immediately filed the suit for damages.

In his complaint Ray says that the fact of his arrest was published in the Salt Lake papers, and that he has been injured thereby to the extent named. Several weeks ago, Ray was injured in an elevator accident in the Dooley block, and it is understood Brinton advanced him $65.50 with the understanding the money should be refunded to him when settlement should be effected with the owners of the building and the company which had insured the elevator. Brinton claimed that Ray settled with the company without settling his claim as agreed.

ERICKSON WAS CARELESS.

The Utah Consolidated Mining company will not have to pay a bit of damages for $25,000 for which Swen Erickson sued it in the federal court. The case went to the jury yesterday afternoon and a verdict for the defendant was arrived at. Erickson claimed he had been compelled to step on a wet board highly charged with electricity, while the company alleged contributory carelessness.

CHIEF PITTS'S LITTLE JOKE.

The police last night arrested George Raiser, Nick Tedesco's bartender, on a charge of selling liquor on Sunday. The complaint was sworn to by John Peterson, Chief Pitts's clerk, and the offense was alleged to have been committed on Sunday last. Another case, against Tedesco himself, is pending.

SUPREME COURT OPENS.

The May term of the supreme court began yesterday, argument being heard in several cases. Among the most interesting was that of the state of Utah ex rel. J. R. Davis against the state board of examiners, an application for a writ of mandamus to compel the examiners to approve claims for mileage. The case involves the rights of court stenographers to be paid mileage. Other cases heard were those of Utah against Arthur Jensen, appellant, and the state of Utah against J. E. Bayer, et al., appellants.

YANKEE SAW NO COPPER.

In the criminal division of the city court yesterday afternoon, a chauffeur named Elgin Yankee was fined $5 for speeding his machine too fast down South Temple street. The candor of the young man doubtless saved him from a heavier penalty. He declared in all sobriety that he didn't see the policeman or he would readily have slowed down within the limit, a car

MONTO MUST PAY ALIMONY.

Carrie Montro of Bingham Junction was awarded a decree of divorce from Manuel V. Montro by Judge Morse in the Third district court, on the ground of failure to provide for addition to the decree she was awarded the custody of the children, $30 per month alimony and $50 attorney's fees.

ALL OVER A PIPE.

James Wood went into a cigar store and bought a 10 cent pipe in order that he might steal one worth 15 cents, according to statements of R. Morro, of 567 West Second South street. Wood was called upon to answer yesterday afternoon before Judge Diehl. He said he didn't steal the pipe nor intend to, but had in mind all the while to pay for it. The case went over until this afternoon.

JUDGMENT ON NOTE.

Judgment was entered in Judge Ritchie's division of the Third district court this morning in favor of the plaintiff in the case of Joseph Oberdorfer against E. C. Coffin. The action was brought to recover the sum of $2,068.54, on a promissory note executed by the defendant to plaintiff Jan. 3, 1903, and secured by certain mining stock.

SUPREME COURT SITTING.

At the supreme court sitting this morning the case of Elizabeth Land, appellant vs. F. W. Wilcox, respondent, coming up from the Second district, was submitted on brief.

The appeal of J. O'Neill from the judgment of the Third district court by Judge Ritchie, in his suit against the Rio Grande Western Railway company was dismissed.

DECREE FOR MRS. RYDVAAL.

Ethyl Rydvaal was today granted a decree of divorce from her husband, Oscar A. Rydvaal by Judge Morse of the Third district court, on the ground of non-support. The couple were married Feb. 28, 1904, and their two children are the result of the union. The custody of the children was given to the plaintiff, together with an order for $80 per month alimony. $50 attorney's fees and the household furniture, together with the ownership of the south half of a lot in the city cemetery.

JUDGE DIEHL INDISPOSED.

Owing to the indisposition of Judge Diehl no session of the police court was held this morning. The day's grind began at 2 o'clock this afternoon, however. Among the cases to be tried are a number of "drunkies" that of Charles Nuthart charged with violating the liquor ordinance; that of Mary Taylor and Jennie Oakley, charged with robbing a white man; that of James Ham, charged with petit larceny, and that of Dominick Runk, charged with assault with a deadly weapon.

DISTRICT COURT NOTES.

The Las Vegas Mercantile company yesterday filed suit against E. T. Maxwell for $5,000, alleging that while he was secretary of the company he collected that amount of money and failed to account for it to the corporation.

Lena Meyers, whose husband, G. M. Meyers, was killed in a collision at Beryl, Utah, on the Salt Lake Road, Feb. 1908, is suing the railroad company for $30,000. The case was placed on trial before a jury in Judge Lewis' court yesterday.

M. AND M. ELECTION.

G. S. McAllister Chosen President to Succeed J. R. Valentine.

Geo. S. McAllister was chosen president at last night's meeting of the directors of the Manufacturers and Merchants' association at the Chamber of Commerce, succeeding J. R. Valentine, resigned. The board discussed the early closing of the stores, and the election of officers for the coming year. The board also decided to continue giving five ribbon awards to the store that has the most employees at the annual fair. The election of Murray to attend the dedicatory exercises at the new hall Thursday afternoon was accepted.

INSPECTING CONDUITS.

A party of Western Union officials has arrived from the east to inspect the underground conduit connections of the company in this city. They are Assistant General Superintendent L. McKelvie and Superintendent of Construction, R. P. Davis of Chicago, and General Foreman C. L. McKean of Denver. They are to be here two days before returning east. They do not intend to visit the underground cables, but hope to see them coming along within the next 30 days.

MAY DEPORT CHINAMAN.

Case of Han Son, Listed as a Merchant, Comes Up Saturday.

Han Son, Chinaman, will know Saturday whether he is to remain in America or be deported to China. He came into America some years ago representing himself to be a merchant, and was arrested in Ogden while engaged in the business of truck gardening. The law declares that a Chinaman entering as a merchant is subject to deportation as soon as he takes up other lines of employment, and a hearing before United States commissioner Saturday will determine whether the plan to deport Han Son is legal. The prosecution is under the supervision of U. S. Immigration Inspector Longley.

MOVE TO ENGLISH AGE TEACHERS

Supt. Christensen Issues Call for Meeting to Select Retirement Commission.

ALL PEDAGOGUES INTERESTED

Three Members to be Chosen to Serve Three, Two and One Year Respectively.

For the purpose of selecting a public school teachers' retirement commission, according to the provisions of an act of the legislature providing for the same, a meeting of the school teachers of Salt Lake City will be held on Thursday, May 14, at the free public library, at 4:30 o'clock p. m. Supt. Christensen has issued a call to the teachers to that effect, and judging from the interest manifested in the matter, the meeting will be largely attended.

The object of the commission is to establish a fund for the pensioning of aged teachers, physically or mentally incapacitated for performing their duties according to the provisions of the act, and in accordance therewith three members will be selected, one to serve for three years, one for two years and the third one for one year.

The teachers themselves supply the nucleus for the fund by deducting 1 cent from their salary each month, and other means of income are designated as money received from donations, legacies, gifts, bequests or otherwise on account of such fund. Any member of the retirement association who has taught 20 years, or has reached the age of 60 years, may be placed upon the retired list, and shall receive an annual salary equal to one-half of the average annual salary earned by the teacher in the five years preceding retirement. All superintendents, supervisors and principals are eligible to membership and benefits as well as teachers.

AMUSEMENTS.

Theater—The most perfect Shakespearean production which Salt Lake has known since the days of the lamented Booth and Barrett, was given last night in the presentation of "King Lear," by Robert Mantell. This play is the one of the master's tragedies most rarely seen on the stage, and only a few times has it been played in Salt Lake. Its great length in its original form, and the tremendous work it entails on the principal character, makes it one that the average actor is inclined to shun. Edwin Booth had an abbreviated arrangement of the play, and the famous critic, William Winter, said it was this version which Mr. Mantell presented last night. His delineation was most masterful and it left a deep impression on the lovers of the drama. The play was well attended, the wonderful make-up, the magnetic delivery, and the reading of the play, which has been our stage for a decade, perhaps a generation. It is encouraging to know that Mr. Mantell and his enterprising manager, Mr. Booth, are going to give the play, and the determination to rescue from oblivion the round of characters which will be presented at the theater this week.

Mr. Mantell is not alone a superb actor, but he is a generous producer, a fact well illustrated by the fine play with which he surrounds himself. In the production of "King Lear," there are a number of roles which must be in the hands of artists of taste, care and ability. With such people as Mr. Booth, who played Kent, and Mr. Edgar, Mr. Lindsay, the Fool, Miss Russell, the Regan, and Miss Frost, the beauty of the production is disclosed, and the determination to rescue from oblivion the round of characters which will be presented at the theater this week.

Orpheum—The Orpheum this week brought to its lighted stage a better than for many weeks. The bill opened with an act that is seldom surpassed and closes with one that is better by far than any other of its kind that has before appeared. In between the first and last act is included an entertainment of high rank—one that pleases all the way through.

Mantell's "King Lear" is a production of high rank, one that pleases all the way through. standpoint, as well as artistically, as was the opening number. "Convict No. 999" was the bill of last evening, and the same will run until Saturday night. It is of the extremely melodramatic order, and greatly pleased the audience. The smell of powder was strongly in evidence in every act, and enough shots were heard to make one believe he was on the firing line of a battle. The play contains many of the elements of improbability, but is nevertheless interesting in the love scenes depicted and in the opportunity offered for the introduction of a vast amount of humor and some specialty work. Harry Bewley occasions most of the laughter, and the songs he sings are interesting more as being funny than for any ability displayed in their rendition. Horace V. Noble, as "Convict 999," took the part very well. Dorothy Marks in the role of the leading lady seemed much at a disadvantage, and other members of the cast could not be considered as more than fair. Saturday night a lucky will be given to the holder of a lucky coupon.

Mrs. Russell Comes and Goes—Ada Dwyer Russell, who, as detailed in last Saturday's News, has been performing the flying squadron act since her engagement with Eleanor Robeson closed, leaves Salt Lake tonight to join her company, "The Wiggins," at the "Cabbage Patch," in Seattle. She plays in that city a week, and then sails with the company for Australia, joining Margaret Anglin, who also goes to fill an engagement in that distant land. Mrs. Russell will play Mrs. Wiggins' role almost entirely different lines from those mapped out by the original of the part, Midge Carr Cook. She expects to remain in Australia at least three months.

The reunion at the Dwyer household of North Temple street, has been a happy one, although of only three days' duration. Another sister, Mrs. Kate Critchlow, arrives with her baby from the east this afternoon to spend some weeks, though she will barely have time to greet Mrs. Russell before she leaves for the antipodes. James Dwyer, father of the household, is also here to join the reunion.
