SALE OF "SUCKER" LISTS.

A Practise That Has Been Indulged In in This State.

The Engineering Journal recently called attention to the fact that the sellers of fake mining stock make use of lists of names similar to the "sucker lists" used in the patent medicine business. A law suit tried in New York recently brought out the fact that the collection of these names of the gullible has grown to be a well defined industry.

The method of the collection of names is to buy a small block of stock in a mining company, legitimate or otherwise, and then, being a shareholder, to demand the right to examine the stock books and obtain extracts under section 53 of the New York corporation law. This section provides that the books of all foreign stock corporations doing business in the state shall be open to the inspection of stockholders. The law also provides a penalty of $250 against the corporation and another against the officer making the denial, in case the right to examine the books is denied.

The right to make extracts gives an opportunity to copy the list of names. The law sets the limit of three hours for the examination of the books, but in that time it is possible to copy a list of names that, it is said, will bring $100 or more in the market.

CONDITIONS AT MANSFIELD.

This Arizona Camp is Coming to Front At Rapid Pace.

Mansfield, Ariz., June 20.—A report just issued to the stockholders of the Mansfield Mining & Smelting company calls attention to the highly satisfactory condition of the camp, presenting as it does, an appearance of order, neatness and prosperity. The residence of the general manager, which includes the company's offices, is well constructed and well furnished. The assay office has been built with the idea not only of serving the present needs of the camp, but having in view the stage of future production when the requirements in this line are likely to be double or treble those at present. A close watch is being kept up on the character of the ores now being mined in various parts of the property. The offices of the civil engineer is thoroughly equipped in every detail. The surveys made ore brought down to date, and accurate maps and drawings showing the progress of the work from day to day are at all times available for reference. The system and organization prevailing both among the engineers, the foremen, and the miners themselves, are like clock-work. The company's main shaft is now down 265 feet, and high grade ore is being obtained.

READY FOR PRODUCTION.

Goldfield Editor Sees Nothing But Prosperity Ahead for Gold Camp.

Goldfield is fast coming into her own. The long months and years of preparation are now the days of realization and fruition. Thousands upon thousands of dollars spent in digging and delving, is rewarded by millions in the way of production. The prospects of last year, are mines today, and the era of productiveness is just beginning. Goldfield's time of greatest prosperity is just ahead.

Production is what counts. For years the camp has been looking forward to the time when there would be a large and steady output from mines, for until that time there could be no assurance of permanency, and the confidence of investors could not be invited. Many a time, during the past year, have we heard from the east the slurring reference to Goldfield as a one mine camp. They said the Mohawk was all there was to it, and apparently there was some foundation for such talk. Not but what there were many excellent prospects making into mines; not but what we knew there was a tremendous amount of dead work that meant thousands of tons of ore blocked out in time. The casual visitor, or the foreign investor, didn't take this into consideration. All he knew was that there was but one good shipper in the whole bunch—the Mohawk.

But there are plenty of shippers now. The Mohawk is still the great mine it was, but there are others, and others even greater—so much so that the Mohawk is only casually mentioned in the enumeration of our great producers. And there are more coming in. Within six months the present output will be more than doubled, and a tremendously increased milling capacity will be necessary. Already new mills are being planned. The Florence is building; the Combination is increasing its capacity, the Goldfield Consolidated will have an enormous plant of its own, while the Nevada Goldfield Reduction mill, which has been so useful during the past year as practically the only commercial plant in the camp, well keep up with the demand and make such increase as may be necessary. With these mills working the dumps that have been waiting treatment facilities, and with a reduction of the thousands—yes, millions of mill grade ore that has been left standing in the mines, and with a constantly increasing amount of high grade, there is every reason to believe that Goldfield mines nad mills will be turning out the yellow metal at the rate of fifty millions per year, by 1909. Only the high grade is being marketed these days. The greatest strength of any camp is in its milling grade ores, and no camp in the country has such an enormous amount of such ore, ready for the mill, as Goldfield. And of course, there never was such high grade heard of before. Goldfield would be famous, cutting out either the high grade or the mill grade. But we have the happy combination of both.

U. S. DIVIDEND POSTED.

The United States Smelting, Refining & Smelting company has posted a dividend for payment on July 15 to all shareholders of record on the 30th inst. The amount is equal to 7 per cent on the common and preferred stock.

QUEEN OF THE HILLS.

The Queen of the Hills Mining company filed suit in the district court today against the San Pedro, Los Angeles & Salt Lake Railroad company to recover damages in the sum of $1,500 for the loss of a boardinghouse belonging to plaintiff at Slag Town, Tooele county, on Nov. 18, 1905, which was destroyed by fire caused by sparks from one of defendant's engines.

COPPER ALONG THE CONTACT

Important Developments Are Being Made in Nevada Douglas Mine at Yerington.

REPORT OF SUPT. SMITH.

Remarkable Assays From Porphyry Ridge—Southern Pacific Surveyors Complete Work.

In discussing conditions at the Nevada Douglas mine at Yerington, Nev., today, Manager Walter C. Orem expressed much satisfaction over the developments being made along the porphyry and lime contact. The disclosures made there during the past few weeks, he declared, has settled some important questions regarding the permanency, or continuity of the ore bodies of the mine.

Not long ago a well known engineer, after looking over the Nevada Douglas ground, said to Manager Orem that he considered the surface showing on the property one of the finest that he had ever seen and while there was little doubt in his mind about the continuance of the ore to great depth, he thought the fact could be thoroughly established by some work on the porphyry and lime contact where, he believed, the ore bearing solutions had their origin. This was just what Mr. Orem had planned to do and had already directed Supt. Smith to put a force of men to work there. In a report received from Supt. Smith today he speaks of the progress being made with this development and adds: "The porphyry ridge contact continues in good ore and it is remarkable how it assays; it is so poor looking and with little to indicate that it is ore at the surface. There is at least 10 feet of ore and lead matter—mostly ore, exposed now and appears to be getting better with depth."

Mr. Smith says in another part of his report that things are moving along at a very satisfactory pace all along the line at the Nevada Douglas. Work is being pushed on the pipe line from Cuyuga springs as rapidly as possible and the system will probably be installed within the next 10 days. The Outside shaft continues about the same. On the 10th inst., a sampling along four feet on the west side, 61 feet below the cross-cut, gave returns of 8.25 per cent copper. A general sampling on the 11th inst., gave returns of 5.38 per cent copper; a select sample on the 12th inst., returned 18.20 per cent copper; a general sampling on the 13th gave 5.40 per cent copper while on the same date a select lot assayed 20.70 per cent copper and a lot of sulphide ore ran as high as 27.02 per cent copper. The average of the porphyry ridge gave better than 5 per cent and selected samples assayed better than 18 per cent copper.

Work is being pushed on the excavations for the new mine boarding house and other buildings and the compressor and other machinery, recently installed, is ready to be started.

The Southern Pacific engineering corps which has been selecting a route for the branch railroad, which is to run from Wabuska to Wellington, has completed its work and the citizens of Yerington are looking to see the dirt fly on the grade in the very near future.

NEW OIL FIELD.

Region Near Kemmerer, Wyo., Begins to Attract Attention.

Telegrams received from Kemmerer and Fossil along the Oregon Short Line road state that an excellent flow of oil has been obtained from a well located in Uintah county, seven miles southeast of Fossil. Several other wells are showing unmistakable signs of oil. Drilling has been going on quietly in this district for some time, the promoters being confident that sooner or later a rich field would be opened up. Several sales made recently in the immediate vicinity of the oil strike have netted the owners an average of $250 per acre. R. T. Dennis and W. J. Lawver, both residents of this city, own a large acreage immediately north of the oil strike. It is probable that they will form a company and begin operations on their property at once.

POLLOCK'S COPPER LETTER.

Outside of a few specialties, trading in Boston market continues dull. Balaklala and Trinity were the features among the copper shares, the former being particularly active and gaining a point, while Trinity sold up to 23. Strong bull tips in both these issues continue to be heard. While the rest of the list held steady with no pressure in evidence, the market closed quiet and firm.

A DULL DAY IN STOCK MARKET

Reading Chief Feature, Advancing Good Fraction But Soon Slipping Back.

DEALINGS ON A SMALL SCALE.

Profit-Taking Indulged on Decrease in Prices—Market Grew Heavy and Closed Stagnant.

New York, June 20.—Quotations in less than a score of stocks were recorded in the first five minutes of trading and these showed no decisive tone in the market. A rise of ¾ in Erie first preferred was the most conspicuous change. Reading opened at an advance of ⅜ and then sagged ⅝.

Reading slipped back to 99¾ before the general demand arose which gave a strong tone to the dealings. Union Pacific and Reading advanced 1½. Some of the other well known railroads and specialties were quoted from ½ to ¾ above yesterday's closing.

Dealings were small and prices drifted slightly lower. Gains were recorded, however, of 1½ in Illinois Central and 1 in Norfolk and Western and Republic Steel.

Profit-taking was the principal feature of the decrease in prices which after noon ran to a point in Reading and about half as much in other stocks. The market grew heavier during the afternoon. Rock Island was weak, falling a point.

The market closed stagnant. Prices gave way under yer ylight offerings, declines below last night's close reaching 1¼ for New York Central and 1 for Missouri Pacific, Union Pacific preferred and Anaconda. United States Express rose 10¾. There was no recovery in the general list.

PRODUCE.

CHICAGO.

Chicago, June 20.—The wheat market opened strong today and with an active trade because of higher prices at Liverpool. Shorts were active bidders and there was a fair demand from commission houses. The strength of the market, however, was brief and prices declined on realizing sales to the level of yesterday's close. September opened ⅜@½ to ⅝@⅞ higher at 95½ to 95¾ and sold at 95.

The corn market opened active and with firm prices which were based upon higher cables and the strength of wheat. Later the market eased off on selling by commission houses. September corn opened ½ to ¾ higher at 54 to 54⅛ and sold at 53⅞.

The oats market opened strong on a good general demand, but the advance failed to hold because of selling by cash houses. September oats opened a shade to ⅝@¾ higher at 38 to 38⅛, sold at 38¼ and declined to 38¼.

The provisions market was quiet and steady. September pork opened 7½@10 higher at 15.92½ and sold at 15.90. Lard was unchanged at 8.82½ and ribs were unchanged at 8.70.

MRS. WELLS IMPROVING.

Her Remarkable Physique Brings Hope for Speedy Recovery.

At the L. D. S. hospital this afternoon it is given out that Mrs. Heber M. Wells is improving steadily, and has rested well today and last night. At the time of the automobile accident, Mrs. Wells was in the pink of health, and she is naturally very healthful and robust. This fact is much in her favor, and her recuperation has been a surprise to the physicians in charge of her case. No amputation has yet been attempted, and every effort is being made to avoid such a necessity. While the main veins of the thigh are severed, there is some circulation in the lower limb, and the physicians hope that the blood will find its way back through other veins and develop them to partially replace those that are torn. The general good health of the patient is a matter of much favorable comment, and it makes it possible that her recovery will be more speedy than is anticipated.

NEALON WINS SUBURBAN.

New York, June 20.—Suburban handicap was won by Nealon; Montgomery second; Beacon Light third.

LOCAL MARKET REPORT.

The local produce markets are plentifully supplied with all kinds of produce this week. The principal feature is watermelons from Texas, the first consignment of the season, and which will be welcomed with joy by the entire local colored population and the general youth of the town—that is, such as are able to pay at the rate of 75 cents to $1 per melon. The fruit is arriving in fine condition, and looks appetizing. In a short time the watermelon will be more plentiful and cost less. Oranges are in greater demand than ever before, and the supply is equal to the demand. This fruit is of excellent quality, and full of rich liquor, and prices are reasonable.

The receipts for the day include car load lots of oranges, cantaloupes and melons from southern California, tomatoes from Texas, new potatoes from both California and Texas, tomatoes from the gulf states, Winningstead cabbages, bananas, etc. Crystal wax onions are being received from southern California, an unusually fine article, but onions generally are scarce. Creole onions bringing $3 at New Orleans, and $4 here. Bananas were slow early in the week, but are now arriving and being disposed of in large quantities. Strawberries this season are not of very good flavor, owing to the superabundance of rain up to date. Very fine tomotaes are being received from Texas, and are finding a ready market. There is an effort reported to force the retail price of butter up to 30 cents by the Elgin butter trust. But the Farmers' union in this city proposes to sell for 25 cents, whether the trust likes it or not, while opposition dealers predict the union will "fall into line" before long
