THE Democrats of the Third precinct are considering the advisability of erecting a building in which to hold their meetings. The proposed building is to be structure in which there will be a stage with the necessary scenery for entertainments, with movable seats so that the room may be held on the floor. REV. SAM SMALL

Is Re-Selected by the Methodists of Atlanta, Georgia.

The following self-explanatory dispatch was received last night:

ATLANTA, Ga., June 10.—The report of the ending of the Oglethorpe Methodist conference, in which it finds the Rev. Sam W. Small word in few words and leaves him to be dealt with by the Georgia conference, occasions surprise among Methodists. Dr. Sam Jones, Dr. L. G. Hardman and Mr. Small quit our communion long before he went to Utah and was under appointment for others in the Episcopal church, of which he had become a member, when he disguised them by making speeches commended him to Southern Methodist church. The Georgia conference has no responsibility whatever for him."

Plenty of Fish.

Beaver river has been nearly depopulated in a peculiar way for some time, but the inhabitants are that there will soon be plenty. We learn from the Cheyenne Daily Star that Edwards of Greenville rejoiced in the possession of a fine carp pond which was well stocked with carp. Saturday night a freshet came down the creek and, owing to the lamplights being in the newly dug ditch above, reached the pond by breaking of a big rush of water, causing a serious breakage and the loss of the greater portion of the stock of fine carp which were flushed into the river. The freshet river must contain necessarily become stocked with carp, for hardly a season passes but what a load of the fish get washed into the river from the several artificial fish ponds along the banks of the stream.

The various commercial bodies, agricultural and mechanical associations, together with each municipal corporation in the arid lands of the Western territories west of the Missouri river are also requested to send delegates to this convention.

"I have the honor to remain respectfully,

ARTHUR L. THOMAS,
"Governor of Utah."

Announcements.

"The Limited Mail" was given last night at the Salt Lake theatre to a very good house. It is built entirely on incidents relating to railroad life. In many respects it leaves or less realistic, while in many others it is overdone. One thing may be said in favor of it, that it has a very fine moral attached, and one that railroad men would do well to observe. The poor old station agent who by reason of his drunkenness gave information which led to the wrecking of a passenger train, is sublime in his remorse and grief. This is a lesson so telling and so true that cannot fail to have its effect.

On the whole the play deserves its popularity. It is free from coarse jests and smutty humor, and sparkles occasionally with bright dialogue.

Tonight the Unitarian choir will give its grand concert at the Salt Lake theatre. Tomorrow the same solemn of great excellence present.

At the Salt Lake Theatre Friday and Saturday with a special matinee Saturday "Siosan dosh" will be begiven. Notwithstanding the report that Mr. Albert Pulitzer is to be associated with Sir John Pender in laying down a new ocean cable for carrying messages by a new system of short-hand telegraphy, his newspaper, the New York Morning Journal finds time to say of "Siosandosh," that it will rank with the "Banker's Daughter" and "The Hunchback" as one of Mr. Howard's sterling and lasting successes. The play was received with enthusiasm. There is no question whatever of its popular triumph. Its laughs are as spontaneous as its tears.

Another Veteran Gone.

Brother Thomas H. Leavitt, formerly of Wellsville, passed peacefully away, May 21st, at half past 8 p. m.

While not enjoying his accustomed health for some weeks past his illness, that seemed anyway severe, was short. While surrounded by his faithful family and possessed of all his faculties, he had just said a pleasant "how do you do" to an old friend when asked to be raised up, taking a swallow of water, he said: "Let me go." He breathed a few times and was gone. The immediate cause of his death was the grip.

He was born in the town of Compton, eastern Canada, June 8th, 1818, and emigrated to Utah in 1850, having received the Gospel when but a boy. He was one of the bravest, most humble and faithful of Latter-day Saints. In 1856 he filled a most difficult and hazardous mission to the Moquis Indians, enduring untold privations, and almost starvation. He built the first house in Wellsville and was a natural pioneer.

He resided there from the fall of 1856 till the same circumstances that have forced so many to break up the sacrifices of years, the tender ties of kindred and friends, caused him to move to a place of safety. So, in company with a few faithful ones he journeyed northward arriving in Alberta, Canada, the 25th of May, 1887. Here he has built up a comfortable home, bending to establish firmly the feet of a persecuted people.

He was chosen as counselor to Bishop J. A. Wolf, and in which capacity he won the confidence, love and cooperation of the saints here.

Without possession of earthly wealth his was a nature to attract and attach his associates to him with bands of steel, and the love, confidence and devotion of his family as well as friends. The noble deeds done here will give him that wealth that mortality cannot take with it beyond this world of disappointment and sorrow.

He has had a family of three wives and twenty-six children. One wife and four children are dead. Fourteen of his children live here, and all his family are faithful Latter-day Saints. Logan Journal.

A GRAVE CHALGE.

Smith, Slayer of Carter, Indicted by the Grand Jury for Murder in the First Degree.

Quietly and unknown to the public or even representatives the case of William Smith, the soldier who is charged with taking the life of William Carter, a comrade, at Fort Douglas, a week ago today, was taken before the grand jury yesterday afternoon.

The defendant waived a preliminary hearing, and the jury, after listening to the testimony of the witnesses in the case, found an indictment charging the defendant with murder in the first degree.

Judge Powers, who is the defendant's attorney, stated to a News reporter today, that Smith would in all probability appear before the court on Saturday next and enter a plea to the indictment.

THEY ARE TWAIN AGAIN.

A Couple Who Have Lived Apart For Nineteen Years, Are Separated Forever by Judge Zane.

A diverse case of more than ordinary interest occupied the attention of his honor, Judge Zane, for some time, beginning at a late hour yesterday afternoon.

The action was brought by William Wooley of this city, against Mary A. Wooley, of Bristol, Pa., a short time ago, and the defendant, accompanied by her daughter, came on from Pennsylvania recently to fight the case.

In his complaint the plaintiff alleged that he came here from Bristol in 1872, and since that time he had frequently requested his wife to join him, but she refused to do so. He therefore asked for a decree of divorce on the ground of desertion. The defendant denied that she deserted her husband and alleged that he never provided her with the means to enable her to join him. She also put in a cross complaint, charging the plaintiff with having abandoned her in 1872, and she asked for a decree of divorce upon that ground with alimony.

Mr. Wooley was represented by J. H. Hoyle, while Messrs. Patton, Winters and Kinney appeared for the defendant. Mr. Wooley took the stand and testified that he married the defendant in England many years ago, and about 1867 he came to America and located at Bristol, Pa. He sent for his wife and she joined him. In 1872 he came out to Utah, and wrote to his wife to follow him and sent her money to defray her expenses. When questioned as to whether he had contributed to the support of his wife and six children since his separation from them, the defendant testified that he had probably sent $300 to them in nineteen years, and that thirty-five or forty dollars was the most he had ever forwarded at any one time. When interrogated as to whether he had ever struck his wife, the defendant gave an evasive answer.

At this point Judge Zane stated that he had heard enough from that quarter to satisfy him that the plaintiff was not entitled to a divorce. Then the other side of the story was told.

Mrs. Wooley was sworn and she testified: I am 51 years old and the plaintiff is 56 years of age. He deserted me in 1872, when my youngest child was three weeks old. He used to talk about going out west, but he left without saying a word to me. My two oldest girls worked in the factory. During the nineteen years since my husband left, he has sent me altogether $250. The largest sum he ever sent me was $50. With the assistance of my children I have been able to bring up my family. Some four years ago he sent me a paper which he asked me to sign, stating that if I would do so, he would send me $250. I signed the deed but never got the money. He deserted me three times in England, and came to this country. After that he wrote me to join him and he sent me $7. I came on to this country bringing my two children with me.

Miss Wooley, a daughter of the litigants, corroborated her mother's story, and added that after her father left Bristol, a letter was written to President Young, calling attention to the facts. In reply a letter was received from President Young in which he denounced her father in strong language and promised to do what he could to right matters.

As a result of the intercession of President Young Hamon that Wooley began to contribute to the support of his family, but after a time forgot his obligations to them.

Depositions were read from residents of Bristol, who were familiar with the facts and they all corroborated the defendant's story.

Wooley was then called to the stand and he testified that he owned a piece of land near the Rio Grande Western depot, upon which there were two houses. He did not think it was worth more than $600, but other witnesses stated that it was worth about $2000.

The court granted Mrs. Wooley a divorce. She was also awarded a yearly interest of the real estate besides being allowed $450 in money.

Police Pickings.

F. Oswald was arrested by the police last night on a charge of using boisterous and abusive language. At the City Hall he left $10 to secure his attendance in court today at 4 p. m.

George Ringworm, George Brown and John Olsen, a trio of alleged disturbers of the public peace, were taken before Magistrate Lamy today. They each entered a plea of not guilty and made a deposit of $15 to warrant their attendance in court tomorrow when their actions will be investigated.

Bruce Johnson, an ex-saloon keeper, was adjudged guilty of disturbing the peace of one Harris, a colored man, with a record well known to the police. As there were mitigating circumstances connected with the case sentence was suspended. The defendant is an ex-detective and came to this city highly recommended by Chief of Police Hennessey, of New Orleans, who was so finally removed by Italians. William McDonald, Pat Murphy and James Green were fined $10 each for drunkenness and will be tried later on.

George Armstrong and Pat Ryan were adjudged guilty of vagrancy and assessed $5 each.

John C. Evans is registered on a charge of fighting and will have a hearing tomorrow.

An Irrigation Journal.

Wm. E. Smythe of Denver has been in the Territory for the past few days, arranging for the publication of an "intermountain edition" of the Irrigation Age, with offices in Salt Lake and Ogden. The Age is the only journal in the world devoted to the great interest of irrigation, and has met with almost instantaneous success. It contains the news of irrigation developments in states and territories, is full of illustrated articles, and has departments for engineers, contractors and investors. It also devotes much space to irrigated farms and orchards. The Salt Lake edition will include the mining interests of the intermountain region, as well as its irrigation development. It will be under the business management of Mr. Charles S. King.

THE BALL AND BANQUET

Of the Alumni of the Deseret University Last Evening.

The Deseret University Alumni gave their regular ball and banquet last evening. A great number of people were in attendance, and at 9:30 the procession to the banquet hall took place. The banquet began at about a quarter to 10.

Prof. J. H. Paul was nominated as master of ceremonies by Prof. Stewart, and then the proceedings began. Bishop O. F. Whitney responded to the toast, "Our Alma Mater," and he stated he married the first student in England many years ago, and about 1862 he came to America and located at Bristol, Pa. He sent for his wife and she joined him. In 1872 he came out to Utah, and wrote to his wife to follow him and sent her money to defray her expenses.

OUR NEAR NEIGHBORS.

The People of Logan Will Celebrate the Fourth of July.

Logan Journal.—In commemoration of President Brigham Young, the people of Preston celebrate his birthday. Holding on the 8th of June, the grand reception of the Primary children, carrying banners and headed by the Preston brass band, which made sweet music to order for them. After this, all assembled in the meeting house and commenced the forenoon exercises by singing "Hail to the Prophet." Prayer by Bro. Wm. C. Parkinson. Singing, "In our Lovely Deseret." The time was then spent by the children rendering recitations, songs, speeches, instrumental music, and being the appointed time for the articles of faith, for which they deserve great praise and credit, the bishop of the children and the president of the Primary associations of Preston.

Last Saturday a couple of transients were caught flagrante de delo in a wagon in the fields, and were promptly arrested. All manner of excuses were made, the man claiming to be a doctor and that the maiden was sick and he was administering to her. The judge would not work, however, and they were both held in the bills of the law. Finding that nothing availed, they prepared marriage and secured a license. The ceremony was promptly performed and both were discharged by paying costs.

The firemen drew out a big meeting last night to discuss the coming Fourth of July celebration. The idea was out and later the boys of the brigade came out with torches and paraded the street. The result was a full meeting.

Marshal Parr called the meeting to order. R. Wilson was elected chairman with C. D. W. Fullmer secretary.

Bro. Mr. Green was called on for a speech and responding, stated that he was in favor of a celebration on the Fourth. He was not prepared to make a speech now, but thought action should be taken looking to the welfare of a celebration.

It was moved by C. R. Robbins that we celebrate the Fourth of July and that the county be invited to join with us in the celebration. The motion unanimously prevailed.

Provo Enquirer.—The Republicans and the people of Sanpete County met in the Court House last Tuesday night. The hall was filled to overflowing when Mr. Hon. R. Eldredge called the meeting to order and asked for nominations for chairman. Mr. Jonathan Snell was unanimously elected chairman. Mr. Joseph A. Rees was elected secretary. Mr. John M. Zane then rose and the Hon. Eldredge introduced the People of Utah, which has been published in the Enquirer. During the reading he was frequently interrupted by hearty applause. Mr. John Henry Smith was received with hearty applause, when presented by the chair. He briefly referred to the call and said he had no excuse to make because appearing before the good people as a Republican. "I appear," said Mr. Smith, "not so much as an orator as to show the people that a man can be a Mormon and also be a Republican which some have claimed he cannot be."—(Applause.)

Logan Nation.—Mr. Thyteng who was injured recently with Seven Ramm in the attempted rape case in Hyrum, who escaped, was captured last evening at Smithfield by Officer Cracroft, brought to Logan and lodged in jail. He gave tender for his appearance on the trial last at Commissioner Goodwin's court.

Shoshone Register.—A week ago Monday at Rock Springs, but Saturday in which engine No. 101 was thrown on her side and three of the cars of the fast mail train derailed. Engineer Kesler and Fireman Miller both escaped through a narrow channel, Kesler hanging to his reverse lever and Miller hanging on to Mr. Kesler. The cause of the wreck is attributed to a "short rail," or perhaps more properly speaking, no open switch. We learned that the engineer was in the act of leaving the main line onto a siding when the northbound accident and when noticing his danger reversed his lever and put on his air, but it was too late to stop the train, being on a grade. For this they receive twenty cents a day. Only serving to the worth forfeited of Engineer Kesler and Fireman the chemicals and intensive heat. The engineer sometimes sate their jaws in the most pointed and disgusting way. The wages average $1.50 a week.—New York Recorder.

For a long time spans of round or Brooklyn poles were allowed to fall down. Back Nath put them down. One night at Abinadi he lost one from a thirteen and flung it under foot, though it had cost 100 guineas, declaring that it was a badge of servitude, and it only for name gets when away from home.

Milk prepared as follows is very nutritious. Put two quarts of fresh milk in a stone crock and place it in a kettle of water that down with a strong, let it stand in a cool oven for from six to eight hours. Skim off the cream and put into thick cream, and is much relished by delicate people.

London now has a number of women of aristocratic lineage who are in trade as milliners or dressmakers. The pioneer of them all is Lady Granville Gordon, who opened a little shop in Park street. Her capital at the time was only fifty but she has been remarkably successful.

Money 1 per cent. Sterling exchange weak with actual business in bankers' bills at 4 86@4 86½ for sixty days and 4 88@4 88½ for demand. Government bonds weak. State bonds dull. Railroad bonds irregular.

An Explanation.

Mr. Wm. West, Sen., of the Twelfth Ward Meat Market, wishes to state for the information of his patrons, that he has no connection in any way with the firm of Wm. West & Son, Grocers, owned by Mr. F. Wood; neither has he ever handled any hogs from that place. He therefore nothing but first-class meats of all kinds. The suggestion seems to be in order that a meat inspector be appointed to see that the meat brought in the market is in a marketable condition. 61
