IT CAME TO A STOP

Debate on the Federal Laws Reports Given a Quietus.

APPARENTLY UNINTENTIONAL.

But it "Went" and Those Who Were Tired of Discussion Were Much Rejoiced.

CANADA AND VENEZUELA GREETINGS.

Representatives from These Countries Cordially Received—An Anglo-Saxon "Shake" Comes from Kanucks.

At the opening of the International Mining Congress this morning the gavel of President Prince fell upon a continuation of the debate in consideration of the majority and minority reports of the committee on Federal mining laws.

AN UNEXPECTED STOP.

After the introduction to the Congress of Mr. Thomas W. Gibson, secretary of the bureau of mines of Toronto, Canada, Hon. C. E. Allen stated that in view of the apparent fact that neither the majority nor the minority report was likely to be adopted, he presented an amendment to an amendment offered yesterday, which was to have the effect of substituting the minority for the majority report. The gist of Mr. Allen's amendment was the abolishment of lateral rights, and the gentleman made an able and short address in favor of its adoption.

HAS GOT THE APEX.

Mr. Montgomery of Colorado, having reference to the placing of his name under a photograph of Gov. Adams of his state in a morning paper, said: "I have been called Gov. Adams, but I am not Gov. Adams; I want it understood that it is not Gov. Adams who is making this speech. I have also been [illegible] with the presidency of this Congress—I have the apex, but by the [illegible] of this body I have not been permitted to follow the lead." After this humorous reference to the newspaper errors, Mr. Montgomery proceeded to say that the amendment of Mr. Allen, while going in the right direction, was not comprehensive enough for all purposes. Mr. Montgomery was in favor of having the National Congress take action in this matter, but it should be done only after the most careful consideration and based upon equitable principles. Let us recommend to Congress the passage of laws which will wipe from our statutes a law which has cost the miners of this country almost untold millions and [illegible] the lawyers, "one of whom [illegible]."

Mr. Graves of Colorado called for the previous question, which would have the effect of cutting off all debate and [illegible] to vote, first upon the adoption of Mr. Allen's amendment; second, upon the adoption of the minority report [illegible]

deem advisable; the committee to be appointed by the delegations to this Congress."

The resolution was tabled by an overwhelming vote.

MORE PROGRAM.

Chairman Allen of the committee on order of business presented the following:

"Your committee on order of business have the honor to report that the paper on "Uses of Compressed Air," by Mr. Fred Harris, of Montana, cannot be given.

"The committee would recommend that a paper upon "The Development of the Cyanide Process," by Mr. William Orr, of Utah, be read in its stead at 11:30 a.m., July 8th, or as soon thereafter as possible."

VENEZUELA'S GREETINGS.

Hon. Francisco J. Yanes, delegate from Venezuela, delivered a splendid address, which was much appreciated, as indicated by the liberal applause with which it was greeted.

ANGLO-SAXON "SHAKE."

Mr. Gibson of Toronto, Canada, delivered an excellent address, which was full of reference to the relationship of his country to the United States, and each of his friendly sayings was greeted with hearty applause. It was a neat speech and was taken as an Anglo-Saxon "shake" from across the international boundary line.

Mr. William Orr, of Utah, read a fine paper on The Development of the Cyanide Process, and it was listened to very attentively by those interested in the subject.

LOS ANGELES WANTS IT.

The Congress Invited to Meet There Next Year.

Upon the reassembling of the Congress at 2 o'clock this afternoon, Mr. Moore, of California, invited the Congress to hold its next session at Los Angeles. No action was taken in the matter, however.

J. Albert Hall was reported as the accredited delegate from Australia.

Prof. Lakes, of Montana, read an interesting paper on the Relation of Geological Survey to the Mining Industry." [illegible]

SHIPS CONCENTRATES.

The Washington Mine Near Frisco Sends in a Two-Car Trial Run.

ORE TREATED AT THE HORN SILVER.

Today's Business on the Exchange—Getting Ready to Ship—Placer Mining at Gibbonsville.

Having demonstrated its paying qualities as a producer of high-grade shipping ore, the Washington mine near Frisco is now being experimented with as to its merits in the milling line, and this morning sent in two cars of concentrates, the ore having been reduced to that state through treatment at the Horn Silver mill.

Although Washington ore is not of the same character as that produced by the Horn Silver, it is Manager Farnsworth's opinion that it will concentrate well, and this proving to be the case, more of the ore will doubtless follow in the same direction. Meanwhile the mine is being systematically developed and presents a splendid showing and one which bespeaks for it a brilliant future.

BROKERS DIDN'T CARE.

That Tired Feeling in Evidence in the Pit This Morning.

The stock brokers apparently didn't care whether school kept or not today, judging from the amount of business transacted while they rallied in the pit. [illegible]
