FOR DELEGATE TO CONGRESS.

Brief Biographical Sketches of the Candidates Who Ask for Your Votes.

The Democratic Nominee.

JOS. L. RAWLINS.

The Democratic nominee for Delegate to Congress from Utah, was born at Mill Creek, Salt Lake county, Utah, March 29, 1855. His parents, Joseph S. and Mary Rawlins, who now reside at Smith Cottonwood, were among the earliest and best settlers of this Territory. Honesty, industry and perseverance have ever been prevailing characteristics of the family, and the nominee's father has for many years been one of the leading and most practical men of Salt Lake county.

The subject of this sketch was raised on a farm, and when but a small boy he attracted the attention of observing people by his industrious and moral habits and wonderful love for books. As is well known, the advantages for obtaining a good education in Utah in those days were not, by any means, what they are today. He worked hard upon his father's farm during the spring, summer and fall and attended school a few months each winter. In the course of time he entered the now famous school taught by Dr. Park at Draper. Here he made rapid strides, and when Dr. Park was called to take charge of the University of Deseret to this city, young Rawlins came also. Later he prepared himself for and entered the leading educational institution in Bloomington, Indiana, where he graduated with high honors and returned to this city. He was soon after engaged as professor of mathematics, history and classics in the Deseret University and while there he prepared himself for the bar. He passed the examination without difficulty and immediately entered upon the practice of his profession. His first case of distinction and the one that placed him in the front rank among his fellows was the defense of one Reidy, charged with killing a man named Van Valkenburg, a case in which the new attorney was appointed by the court. The trial took place in the Utah Territorial District Court room at that time was located, and his masterly plea on this day manifested as a most brilliant and eloquent effort. From that time his reputation as an attorney has been recognized. He is above all medium with thoroughness and subtle as a good lawyer, logical and strong as a reasoner and eloquent and powerful as a pleader.

Mr. Rawlins has always been a staunch Democrat. Some of his speeches and papers on Home Rule, which advocated college rule in Utah, were favorably commented upon by national politicians. He was identified with the movement in the Twenty-eight years ago known as the "Liberal Democracy" agitation, which took some considerable compass in a Democratic sense. He knew the hardships, been peculiarly happy, and he is both widely and professionally highly esteemed. His wife, who was Miss Julia Dyer, is an accomplished woman, daughter of the late John R. Dyer, and one of the well known Salt Lakers. Five children are the result of the marriage.

Mr. Rawlins was nominated for Delegate to Congress by the Democratic Territorial Convention at Provo, October 5th, 1892.

The Republican Nominee.

FRANK J. CANNON.

The selection of Hon. Frank J. Cannon as Congressional delegate candidate to Congress was a happy hit of the Republican party in Utah. The person could be more specially fitted to satisfy all the demands of the peculiarly arranged conditions now surrounding the Grand Old Party in this Territory.

A Territorial product in the literal sense of the word, Mr. Cannon has found the position that his early predilections his authority suited him to fill, he has grown into it as one grows into a business that the heart loves and to which one's inclinations run, spurring one on to achieve lasting success.

On the 25th of January, 1859, he was born in Salt Lake City. Leaving school at the age of 15, he went to Ogden to serve as deputy clerk and recorder of Weber County. The mechanic, care, order, exactness and tasks that is a characteristic of all his literary labors, and which have manifested themselves in his public career, were achieved in his careful training there. He graduated from the University of Utah, and in 1878 was employed as reporter on the Deseret News which was soon to begin issuing of the newspaper career. Leaving the News he again went to Ogden to fill the position of city editor on the Morning Junction. A year later, 1879, he went to Logan to edit the Leader, which was established by the Junction company. The following year found him in California where he received the graduating touches of his newspaper education on the San Francisco Examiner, upon which he served first as reporter and then as news editor.

Returning to Utah he spent his time in literary pursuits, and in 1884 went to Washington as private secretary of Hon. John T. Caine, Delegate to Congress. In 1885 he became secretary of Weber county. When his term expired two years later, he returned to his editorial vocation, as editor of the Ogden Herald. His return was an era in the history of Ogden, for from that time the city commenced to feel the genius of action within, to the inspiring years, gave that city the business impetus that has gradually developed into its present prosperity. On the 1st day of January, 1890, appeared the Daily Standard, the morning effort of journalism in Ogden, for the first time with its readers the present and to lead the Republican ranks.

In 1891 he was chief clerk in the Utah Legislative Council, and was elected and was president of the Territorial League of Republican clubs in 1892. He is at present a member of the Ogden City Council, and was sent this year to the National Republican convention at Minneapolis, as one of the party delegates. He is also one of the regents of the Utah University.

Mr. Cannon is an eloquent and political as well as interesting speaker, bright, witty and entertaining; his language is smooth, and his diction graceful. He has a pleasant way of making friends and winning the confidence of the people, as well as their lasting friendship. He is a ready writer and with his quick, sizing resources rarely leaves the reader in doubt about the enjoyable meaning of clear cut phrase. He is a friend of progress, education, and liberty, and is a stanch advocate of the principles of Republicanism. When elected to represent Utah in Congress, it can be said safely that in none of these points will the best interests of the Territory be permitted to suffer.

The Liberal Nominee.

C. E. ALLEN.

Clarence E. Allen, the candidate for Congress on the Liberal ticket, is one of the self-made men of this country. His life is an illustration of the possibilities of brain and brawn in this land, and his sketch should fill with renewed ambition the heart of every lad in this Territory who will have to carve out for himself a career and a reputation. Born in the state of Pennsylvania, where so many distinguished and loyal Americans have had their origin, he early imbibed the lessons which adversity teaches. It was at the town of Girard on the eighth day of September, 1852, that he first saw the light of day. His parents sent him to the District schools where he struggled with all classes of boys and his physical training was so carefully nurtured and guarded as his mental. He left the public school at the age of sixteen and prepared himself for college at Austinburg, Ohio, graduating in 1872. He taught there for one year. Anxious for higher honors he resolved to work his way through the Western Reserve College. He, however, was short of funds, but he had the amount of pluck and courage. Obtaining employment at manual labor he worked assiduously and saved up some money. He taught school and did whatever he could to earn sufficient to realize his aspirations. Finally his end was attained and in 1877 he was graduated with honors from the Western Reserve College. While there he was a member of the leading fraternity D. K. E. and was also third honor man. After his course at college he taught school at Austinburg. He was called to the Western Reserve College in 1878 as principal of the fitting school. Poor health compelled him to resign his position there and in 1881 he came to Salt Lake City to seek his physical betterment. For five years he taught school at the Salt Lake Academy, and the students who attended that institution during his tutorship, all testify to the ability, patience and marked kindness that characterized his course there. Subsequently he took a position with the Old Jordan and Galena Mining company and resided there until elected clerk of the County court of Salt Lake county in 1885. While engaged with the mining company he served two terms in the Utah Territorial Legislature and in that body he made a gallant fight for the public school law, which finally culminated in the splendid system we now have.

In November, 1887, Mr. Allen married the daughter of Professor J. Tuckerman, of Austinburg, Ohio, and six children, five girls and a baby boy, have been the result of that happy union. Mr. Allen is a man of domestic habits, and his home life has been an exemplary one. He is possessed of magnificent mental attainments, is an eloquent and entertaining speaker, and a man of positive and firm convictions on all questions. He has been identified with the Liberal party ever since his advent into the Territory, and in national politics is an ardent Republican.

OUR LOGAN LETTER.

Stake Conference—Incidents.—Political, Social and General News.

Special Correspondence of the News.

LOGAN, Nov. 3.—The quarterly conference of the Cache Stake, held here on Sunday and Monday last, was well attended. The instructions given were of a varied character, and were of such a nature as to meet the spiritual requirements of the attending Saints. Those were present: President Joseph F. Smith and Apostles Lorenzo Snow, Moses Thatcher, John Henry Smith and M. W. Merrill. Three meetings were held on Sunday, and two on Monday. A wide range of matters pertaining both to our spiritual and temporal interests were discussed, and the people generally felt that they had received much benefit.

We have one of the finest little theatres in the country, and it is usually well filled when the company has a good reputation.

As usual in the fall of the year, numbers of young people are arriving from all parts of the Territory to be united in marriage at the Logan Temple.

Mr. A. V. Robinson has leased the People's hotel, and will hereafter appear in the role of "mine host."

More than eight men are at work excavating for the new city waterworks. The system will be completed as far as the Agricultural College this year, and will be continued as soon as the weather will permit in the spring.

President Woodruff visited Smithfield on Saturday last, returning to Salt Lake on Monday. His visit was caused by the illness of his daughter Mrs. Moser.

A dog broke into a room at the back of Rosenbaum's clothing store, that is being used by Davidson & Hoxsie as a dormitory for meat. Mr. Rosenbaum thought it was a burglar for some time, and was preparing to go gunning when he discovered his mistake.

Miss Retta Bowen has been badly bitten by a dog, her arm near the elbow joint being badly lacerated. The dog which attended her caused the wound is thought to prevent any symptoms of hydrophobia from preventing itself. The dog was set on the Bowen by some boys who ought to be sent to jail to learn to distinguish between fun and malice.

The smoke, one now of disappearance of the power and use of battery form the terror of the judge court in the past week.

The sudden advent of cold weather has caused much sickness lately. Typhoid fever and pneumonia are becoming prevalent, and in grippe is increasing.

Children are giving way to many kinds of diseases on the afternoon and evenings. This would be all right if the parties in charge would always be honest, but the opportunity frequently occurs that those with whom they are during the prime are made mothers in all that the period term implies.

LEGAL HAPPENINGS.

The Supreme Court Studies Land Grants.—Action Against the City Tax Collector, Etc.

When Chief Justice Zane took his seat on the bench in the United states court at 10 o'clock this morning he at once called upon Bailiff "Dan" Sheehan to formally declare "the Supreme Court for the Territory of Utah now in session." Tout Ensemble responded to roll-call times, and then without further ado the Chief Justice adjourned the session until next Saturday morning. Neither Judge Blackburn nor Judge Minor was present, but it is confidently anticipated that when the court assembles a week hence the "three judges"—whoever he may be—will form one of the quartette then sitting.

IT SHORTED THE WAY.

This is the usual weekly motion day in Judge Zane's court, but there was no motion that should have come on in regular order being had to be shelved until next Monday owing to the damage suit, Thompson vs. the Rapid Transit Railroad Co., standing in the way. This case had already occupied the court nearly two days, and at noon it looked as though by the time it was given to the jury this day, also, would be far spent. An earnest legal battle is being waged by Attorneys Richards & Moyle for the plaintiff and Attorney F. L. Williams for the company. The jury appear to be getting weary of it. This morning testimony for the defendants was being taken, among the witnesses being a number of the defendants' employes.

SHORT ORDERS.

In the case of Eliza Anderson vs. Peter O. Anderson, the motion for fees and costs to plaintiff's attorneys was refused by the court.

Mary A. Brown vs. Sarah Hays et al., Decree of partition granted.

In the case of the Dinwoodey Furniture Co. vs. Francis Fritsch et al., the motion to open default was set for the 9th inst.

Eric Hermes, a Russian, now a resident of Salt Lake, was admitted to citizenship.

In the matter of Wm. Whitehill vs. Geo. A. Meats et al., the order to show cause was continued until the 12th inst.

Wm. E. Smedley et al. vs. M. Sanangeney. The demurrer to complaint was submitted by Judge Sutherland, for the plaintiffs.

AGAINST THE CITY TAX COLLECTOR.

The Zion's Savings Bank and Trust company this morning filed a suit in the Third district court against F. J. Toronard, collector of taxes for Salt Lake City, in regard to the city tax assessment on their property.

The complaint sets forth that in the assessed city tax roll the plaintiffs are assessed upon the sum of $241,000, as the full cash value of their capital, together with the accumulated surplus thereon, held and owned on the 1st Monday in March, 1892. Plaintiffs say that their only property at that time was the real estate, taxed at $50,000, and improvements assessed at $70,000, $30,000 in cash then on hand in the bank, $2000 in furniture and fixtures and notes outstanding for money loaned, etc., which incumbered property was at the time taxable. Plaintiffs had tendered the amount of taxes legally due from them, namely $1120, which was declined, the defendant claiming $3391.50, the collection of which he threatened to enforce by levy on the property. An injunction of the court is therefore asked, restraining the defendant from collecting the amount of taxes claimed, and applying also for costs of suit.

John M. Cannon and Barlow Ferguson are the plaintiff's attorneys.

Attorney Ferguson went before Judge Zane and applied for an injunction forthwith. This his honor refused to grant, but made an order requiring the defendant to appear on Saturday next to show cause.

FOR DAMAGE SUITS.

The Joseph Schlitz Brewing Co., of Wisconsin, this morning brought suit against Conrad J. Schmidt to recover, for merchandise, the sum of $596.04, with legal interest from October 1st, 1890.

The court decided that the former order of allowance for the family be modified so as to read $150 per month. AGONIZING ECZEMA

Awful Suffering. Doctors Almost Insane by Doctors. Tried Cuticura. Relief Immediate. Entirely Cured in 4 Months.

I suffered with the dreadful eczema for over six months, during which time I had consulted three doctors, and the scratching was driving me frantic. My head was one mass of sores, my face was almost one sore, my arms were sore from my wrists to my shoulders, my breast was sore, and my back was sore from my neck to my waist. I could literally tear my skin off. When I was at my worst I was afraid to go out lest, as I met people, they would run for fear my trouble was catching. Having tried in vain all the skill of the best doctors in the country, I had no hope but that I was condemned to carry this disease to the grave. At the time I read about the Cuticura Remedies, I was so low that I could not walk across the room. After applying Cuticura, I had the best night's rest for several weeks. Using the Cuticura, Cuticura Soap, and Cuticura Resolvent as directed, my improvement was so rapid, my condition improved so fast, my sleep so refreshing, my appetite so good, my flesh so firm, my skin so free from disease, that I felt like a new creature. Mrs. Z. G. Pounds, Le Mars, Iowa, said she was sure I suffered as much as any woman, and she was sure I should die before I would live through such misery. I am now in good health, and will do all I can to make the cure of my case known. E. H. STEINBRECHT, Mandan, North Dakota.
