A DAY OF RECKONING.

Judge Anderson's Order as to Alimony and Other Matters

IN THE HARVEY DIVORCE CASE.

His Honor's Scathing Remarks on the Subject of Medical Experts and Attorneys' "Fancy" Fees.

Having taken the matter under advisement, Judge Anderson this morning made his order in regard to the allowance of alimony to the divorced wife of Barney Harvey, the amount of the fee to each of the three medical expert witnesses at the trial, and the services of the defendant's counsel. When his Honor proceeded to state the conclusions of which he had arrived,

Judge Powers asked that certain expert fees in addition to the $100 previously granted by Judge Zane be allowed. There was $50 of the still in hand, he said, which would pay the fee of one of the expert physicians called to testify. Counsel also asked that an additional $500 be granted as attorney's fees. He said this was a case in which considerable legal work and attention had been involved; it had been a hard case to deal with by reason of both sides. The trial occupied four days.

Judge Anderson said he regarded $50 as an expert physician's fee as entirely unreasonable. In the state from which he came (Iowa) the statute allowed only $3 per day for a witness of that kind, and of course he might be paid something extra by the parties.

Judge Powers—I want to say frankly that whatever order is made by the court I shall see that those doctors are paid the usual $50 fee, even if I have to pay it myself. I may want them again at some future time.

Judge Anderson—The law gives you power to subpoena them as you would any other witness. I do not like the idea of doctors getting together and saying how much they will charge in a case like this, where they are compelled for a couple of hours.

Judge Powers mentioned an instance where he once paid a medical expert witness $500.

Judge Anderson—I think $50 would be outrageous. People who have to earn their living by some sort of industrial employment ought not to be compelled to pay such fancy prices. I think a doctor ought to have a reasonable compensation for his time, and nothing more. The fact is most doctors are generally very willing, and some are even zealous, to be expert witnesses in cases.

Judge Powers—I would not employ that kind of man.

Judge Anderson—It seems to me that a doctor should not have such an exorbitant fee for one day's attendance, and that only for a couple of hours, perhaps.

Judge Powers thought his Honor was doing the physicians an injustice in this case. They not only attended as expert witnesses, but rendered considerable assistance in the preparation of the case. He did not ask for the $50 each simply for their testimony as witnesses.

Judge Anderson—It is something like a good many attorneys' fee in divorce cases. Where the people are poor, the man is the laboring man and he and his wife together have earned and got together a little money, often in debate cases $50, $100 or $200 is charged. I think that is entirely unreasonable. Application has been made to this court a number of times to implead, in divorce suits, men who earn $2 or $3 a day by their labor, and out of this had to support their family. A lawyer wanted a big fee for about half a hour's work.

Judge Powers said he did not desire any further discussion on the matter. He employed these expert witnesses and would see that they were paid. If the Court declined to sanction this request. He asked nothing that was unreasonable.

Judge Anderson—Such fees are not allowed anywhere, that I know of, and I do not think these doctors should have more than $3 a day, at the outside — which is more than half of itself. I will allow that now. I think, however, the attorney's fee should be liberal in this case, because it has lasted nearly a week. I understand that $250 has already been allowed to the defendant's counsel, and I should say that $500 more would not be unreasonable, making it $750. If the parties themselves choose to pay more, that is a matter for themselves. His Honor, in the value of the property, confessed that he had found considerable trouble in arriving at what should be done.

After going into minute details to some length, the Judge ordered that the defendant be allowed the furniture now in the homestead on Main street, together with the sum of $5000, to be paid in installments of $50 per month, the payment of the same to be a lien on the homestead; also that $25 be paid to each of the three expert witnesses, and that the plaintiff pay the defendant's witness fees to be taxed; the costs of the court and $750 for attorney's fees; and $500 alimony. His Honor said he thought that if the wife's allowance were fixed, as stated, at $50 per month until the $5000 was paid, she could not spend her alimony so very rapidly. Her peculiar mental condition was such that it was the duty of the court to fix the allowance in a way that would do her the most good.

Tooele Stake Conference.

The quarterly conference of the Tooele Stake of Zion convened at Grantsville July 23rd and 24th. Present on the stand: Apostles Lyman and Lund, Elder Kate G. Mason, President of the Stake and some of the Bishops.

Conference was called to order by President H. G. Gowans.

Bishops J. L. Walbell, Thomas Atkin, and E. D. M. Goe reported the ward over which they preside to be in good condition.

President Gowans reported the condition of the Stake. He had visited each ward since last conference and found that the faith of the Saints was increasing.

Apostle Lyman occupied the remainder of the morning giving good instructions.

In the afternoon Apostle Lund spoke in regard to the setting of time twenty forty-five years ago, and said that this was the place where God meant to establish His Kingdom in the last days. He referred to the persecutions that the Saints had endured and the blessings in store for those who were faithful.

Brother K. G. Mason occupied the remainder of the time, speaking of the Church schools and the proper education of the children of the Latter-day Saints.

On Sunday morning President G. Q. Cannon and J. F. Smith were present. President Smith occupied the whole of the time. He spoke upon the trials through which the Saints had passed during the last seven or eight years. The Lord was continuing His work and would cease until the final consummation of all things. He spoke upon the subject of education and said one of the most important duties consisted upon the Latter-day Saints was the proper education of their children.

At 1 p. m., after singing and prayer, the Sacrament was administered.

President Gowans presented the general authorities of the Church and Stake, and they were sustained unanimously.

President George Q. Cannon referred to the remarks made by President Joseph F. Smith. He hoped the Saints would carry out in their lives the instructions given, and think who did to whom stands their reward.

Conference adjourned for three months.

THOMAS WILLIAMS, Assistant Clerk.

GRANTSVILLE, Tooele County, U. T., July 25th.

Notes From Millard County.

In Millard, as elsewhere, everybody is busy with the grain harvest, and never, perhaps, has the yield been more abundant or of better quality, so that the farmer is laking forward to a well stocked granary at threshing time.

The lucern crop was a very heavy one.

There was more than the usual fall of snow in our mountains last winter, and as a consequence water was plentiful in August.

The fruit suffered somewhat by the frosts in May, therefore the crop will not be as bountiful as that of last year. Some of the settlements suffered less than others, hence the failure is not general.

During the past two weeks the weather has been intensely hot, but the fruit and grain have profited thereby.

The cheering prospects of an abundant harvest give life and energy to the people, and Pioneer Day was made a day of rejoicing in most of the settlements. Fillmore, Scipio, Kanosh and Holden had excellent programmes. At Holden the principal sports were wrestling, and, unfortunately, one had his leg broken. At Kanosh a few participating encumbrances formed a not unpleasant interlude to the festivities.

At Fillmore yesterday two little boys had their legs broken. One was the young son of Mr. Wm. H. Kelly, postmaster of Fillmore; the other was the son of Mr. Wm. Hollies.

Now that we are through with the social festivities of Pioneer Day, politicians have barking on their ammunition for the coming campaign, which, according to present indications, is likely to be a warmly contested one.

Education has made rapid strides during the past few years. Men and women read the newspapers, if they will, and by their own intelligence decide which party is likely to secure to them the greatest advantages of citizenship, and vote accordingly. In local elections this is important, for the choice of officers lies with the people to whom the men called to individual office are personally known. A careful selection should be made by the electors. This is a duty they owe to those who have not the right of franchise, but who, in many cases, have lost the sense, and that without a voice as to the mode of their applications and expenditure. The time is fast approaching when the "Taxation without Representation" will be a thing of the past, when every citizen will have a vote, and a voice in making the laws by which he is duly bound to obey, not until that good time arrives, have upon whom should devolve the responsibility should be careful in their exercise of the form who are to fill responsible positions. M. A. G. GREENHALGH.

MILLARD, July 2, 1892.

Fine Native Marble.

City Marshal James E. Hall, of Springville, came up to Salt Lake today, toting with him a dozen or more very fine specimens of native marble of different shades and colors. Most of them are susceptible of the high best finish. Mr. Hall, George H. Williams and six other are the owners of one hundred and sixty acres of land in Springville and within two and a half miles of the Rio Grande Western, upon which all these specimens of marble are found. Plays are being taken to develop the claims.

Just Our Luck.

From Spring Glens, Emery Co., under date of July 26th, Wm. Miller writes:

Pioneer day passed of very pleasantly with one exception. A detective from Schofield named McDonald, and a minor from Castle Gate got into a dispute over a log-of-war. The detective struck the other man and pulled his gun on him. The weapon was quickly taken from him by the bystanders. When he found apologies were unavailing he went before the justice and was fined $25 and Returned Missionary.

Elder Brigham Johnson, of Provo, returned to the city today from the Sandwich Islands, to which portal the world he left to fulfill a mission on May 24th, 1888. He labored mostly on Maui, and although among the native of the islands until released, Elder Johnson returns home in good health and spirits. He took the afternoon train for Provo.

Stop on a Mountain.

It is said that good sleep is a great boon; also and a great preservative of the unruly, balking nervous system, which are such a disfigurement and so difficult to get rid of. The real cause of these unpleasant symptoms is, as a rule, a disordered condition of the stomach. Some persons have much more of this than others, and the best remedy, effective and totally free from harmful ingredients, that the world of medicine could never have had a chance of being approved if the sick not thoroughly wearied with a nasty taste, and not nauseated especially on a morning, to use a phrase, to not be afraid to a sick man. The tedious will soon become sweet and hearty appetite.

We will add that the best sleep should be proceed well after the day's working has been gone through it. A good pipe is follow or, at bedtime, much the best with hot water and sweet, or, if preferred, then "work in" by adding cinnamon and finally the grain and cream pudding. You possess the blackbone which are so simply prepared, and the cinnamon and sugar and water will do better service than a stimulant, plaster, etc. Excuse will tough when will be simply and for their health. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters and months is may be useful to persons in the growing. You are undoubtedly a nervous sufferer, and Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is the most nervous sufferer who can use it. The nervous sufferer and who can use it. The nervous most nutritious to a delicate stomach. By constant friction they are rubbed to and subtle in the nerves, and will and there be a black spot. Every dose is an available, but it is much less. Remember taken constant to the skin then through a coil.—Jamison Miller Herbert.

The Modern Way.

In India they drink a good many of the gut lately. It is a very honored custom, but not universally approved from a therapeutic standpoint. In ancient times the gut usually consisted of the girl Indian, which is considerably the same as the modern Bitters, which is a compound of the herbs and roots. Moreover, India but longer under the modern system, and it is especially prized by people who prefer to keep their gut fetter for a few hard years.—Detroit Tribune.

What a Tired Lassie Behind.

The worst feature of a tired is the fact that the tired is apt to have a dozen of the worst kind of ailments. Tired is apt to too fast, and a large extent of land that was formerly fertile. In the flood of 1884 a great many farmers in the American Bottom on going back to their premises after the subsidence of the waters, found their property covered with river sand to look on their land two or three years, stopped before good crops could be raised.
