Salt Lake Temple.

The Salt Lake Temple will close on Friday evening, March 22nd, and be open for work on Monday, April 8, 1895.

LORENZO SNOW,
President.

NATURAL GAS DISPLAY.

Large Crowds Gathered Last Night to Witness It.

Large numbers of people assembled at the intersection of East and South Temple streets last night to witness the burning of natural gas. Before dark only a pressure of about two pounds was maintained in the escape pipe, but when darkness appeared a greater pressure was turned on and a considerable display was the result, the flame leaping high into the air and lighting up the city for a considerable distance.

Last night's exhibition, however, was a very small affair in comparison with the one being arranged for Conference week under the direction of the Chamber of Commerce. Instead of a single flame it is anticipated that the whole block of the Temple will be lined with a sheet of flame. While the flow of only one vent was used last night, that of the entire five will be used in the coming celebration. Those who have been in Pittsburg, Pa., express the belief that the gas here is richer than that of Pittsburg, and from its strength and quality they are confident that the wells will last for a long time.

Contracts will be made in the near future with the mains in the northwest portion of the city, and houses having gas pipes in them will have the use of it.

Late last night most of the pressure was turned off, though a small flame continues to burn today. The crowds will be interested tonight for the benefit of people who desire to witness it.

Want a Division.

Remington, Johnson & Co. and a number of other creditors of the firm of Tucker & Wallace, doing business at Alta and Eureka, have brought suit against the firm, together with Joseph Barnett, trustee, in the Third district court, asking that the latter be ordered to divide the sum of $10,000 now in his hands among the plaintiffs. It is alleged in the complaint that Tucker & Wallace were indebted to the plaintiffs in the sum of $20,591.25 in June, 1893, at which time they executed notes and mortgages to Hannah made Barnett trustee. The latter realized between $10,000 and $12,000 on the assets, but so far has not made any offer to pay over the money to the plaintiffs' names. Hence they pray that he be ordered to do so by the court. H. S. McMillan and Day & Hayes are attorneys for the plaintiffs.

In the Nineteenth Ward.

The Dorcas Dramatic club, which has steadily been making a name for itself in the northwestern portion of the city, will give a selection from its extensive repertoire in the Nineteenth ward meeting house next Tuesday evening, under the auspices of the M. I. A., when in all probability it will present "Better than Gold" as the evening's entertainment.

Having tried all the baking powders in the market the late chef of Delmonico's, New York, endorses Dr. Price's Baking Powder as superior to all.

MICROSCOPICAL SOCIETY.

Interesting Papers Read at Last Night's Meeting.

The monthly meeting of the Microscopical society was held in the chemistry room of the University of Utah last night. A very interesting program was rendered, among the papers read being one by Dr. Pearse upon the subject of diphtheria and the antitoxine treatment.

The speaker showed the method of making cultures and in cultures upon agar, broth and blood serum, as the actual investigations, after microscopic slides were shown of pure cultures of the diphtheria bacillus, cultivated in the guinea pig, and also one from a child, which was interesting on account of its being a pure culture taken directly from the throat.

Among other papers was one by Mr. Brotherton upon the general use of the microscope. Several very fine natural crystals were shown, which were made by the speaker from ammonia molybdate.

Another paper was by Dr. William Ellis on the use of the microscope in the geological grades. In this paper the use of the microscope was emphasized as a means of recognition of some 70 native ores, by certain notes or outline observations of them by the naked eye, the author's perspective powers to prevail.

As a lengthening future of the society was the survey of microscopes from the leading makers. The discussion which followed upon the papers read were, the many interesting programs of meetings were made.

Singer Appeals.

Harry Singer, who was so coal for exhibiting a lewd picture before Police Justice Smith yesterday morning, was fined $25. He then appealed to the district court, giving a bond in the sum of $50.

For Officials—Low Salaries.

OGDEN, UTAH,
February 27, 1894.

Editor Deseret News:

I notice in the News that lawyers seem to be doing so things to call themselves. One said he thought a judge ought to earn $5,000, if they do not so many judges and all sorts high salaries it may be. I thought, as I read, that I would like to see some lawyers work for $1 per year for the office, and I think if we can get the lawyers now and in future, that, that we will get rid of some of the expensive company and make us some money besides, why wont the lawyers or judges work for $1 for the Supreme judge as they do now? I am in favor of woman suffrage and I am in favor of one dollar being worked so much as any other dollar, whether it goes to either of them. I am in favor of all officers, economy and all others, being guided by the popular voice of the people. I believe in sustaining home industries and making everything we need so much as we can. I would like to see the people lay aside so much party business and be one to the effect of putting the best men in the offices that are needed, to wit: I do not see so many officers nor be many laws either. I don't believe in these high salaries. A man may work hard or a fortnight if he makes from $100 to $200 a year he does well. Then why should there be such a difference—one man to do not 15 to and get $5,000 a year while another, poor woman has and gets $300. Since we have been seeing or statehood so long, I wind up the news as lost in Dorcas's dyspepsia, which we are little or no II they ever the relative to Utah. I guess this is enough.

C. V. EYEWARE.

A Jackson County Survivor.

WOODSTOCK, Apache Co., Arizona.

Editor Deseret News:

I was born the 23rd of June in the year 1820. About the first thing I can remember is that I saw the hand of the Lord—I cannot call it anything else—I was watching the lightning flashes when I saw the hand clearly spread out in the heavens.

When I was about eight years old Sidney Rigdon used to preach in our neighborhood as a Campbellite preacher. This was in Portage county, Ohio. Early in 1831 Lyman Wight and John Whitmer came to our settlement preaching, and I believed and was baptized. Hyrum Hunt says it was on the 2nd day of March, 1831. Early in the spring Joseph came to our settlement from the state of New York. He did not be tarried there very long but moved over to Father Johnson's, six miles west of where we lived, and we went from there and located the center stake of Zion. In the spring the Whitmer family came from the state of New York and stopped in our settlement. On the 2nd day of May, 1831, we started for Zion in Jackson county, Mo., and eventually settled in Independence.

We were living there when the mob gathered under Col. Pitcher, and they met our brethren under Lyman Wight, our brethren gave up their arms and agreed to leave the county. I saw L. W. Boggs with his gun on his shoulder in the ranks of the mob; he was instructed or ordered at the time.

Your brother in the Gospel,

HORACE H. OWENS.

Kindergarten.

The long delayed Froebel class for mothers and all others interested in children will begin the coming week, on Wednesday, March 13th, at 2 o'clock at Mrs. Pearse's, 341 east, Second South street. Plans of the course will be announced, kindergarten games played, etc. All are invited.

Complimentary Entertainment.

The complimentary entertainment to be tendered Prof. W. C. Clive will be given on Monday evening, March 25th, in the Fourteenth ward assembly hall.

The following well known artists and the Thessler orchestra, conducted by Prof. George Cutlerson, will appear: Prof. M. S. Cross, Mrs. D. Pyper, John Hoffman, Adalbert Bender, Prof. W. C. Clive, and the popular soprano, Mrs. Laura Thomas-Lewis.

In the opinion of all the fashionable people, Dr. Price's Baking Powder is preferred to any other.

Was Not a Beggar.

Edward Morris, a typical native of the Emerald Isle, appeared before Police Justice Smith today, on the charge of drunk, and stepped to said of Sergeant Hendricks a witness.

"Officer, I'm no beggar—honest, I was sick I was, and you carry a couple of bottles of whiskey to cure me, sir," said he, in answer to a question by the court.

"Did you ever before this court, officer?" asked the justice.

"Yes, sir, he gave me a dirty dime the last time, twenty days the time before, Honor says the trouble was, you gave before that, on Friday night let my feet freeze," replied Morris.

You are in the habit of begging on the streets, are you not?" asked the court.

"No intent, yer honor, then Honor knows the officer. He use for a dime and a quarter, when they say the name of the Hundred, with a toothpick in the mouth." (Loud laughter.)

"I will give you thirty days," said the court.

"Thirty yer Honor, God bless yer," was Morris's reply.

It is just as good as it looks, Dr. Price's Baking Powder, the most perfect made.

To Taxpayers of Salt Lake County.

In order that you may rule understandingly upon the question of bonding the county, we desire to submit the subject matter of the proposition for your careful consideration.

According to the latest decision of the district court of the United States, there is a valid indebtedness existing against the county, in the form of outstanding warrants, to the amount of $[illegible]. The warrants bear interest at the rate of [illegible] per annum, and the interest thereon is now in default. We are informed by the holders of said warrants that unless the interest on the above indebtedness is made to run from Salt Lake county to the various school districts to said county, and the school districts of Salt Lake City, the sum of $[illegible], on account of property sold in Salt Lake City for delinquent taxes for 1891. At most equitable of the amount has already been paid into the county treasury, and the balance will be paid as rapidly as collections can be made, and the interest will eventually be paid to school districts from those sale taxes, or from other unpaid taxes at the rate of 1% per cent per month.

We have been informed that the district schools throughout the county are now in session, and that the amount due them, and they will be compelled to close the schools unless these amounts are paid.

We trust that the taxpayers will take this consideration into question of carrying the proposed bond issue, and we believe that we can by due and timely care bring these taxes paid, and that they will not be in the aggregate proportion of less among by voting against the issuance of bonds.

The pay the warrants that have been declared void, amount to about [illegible] and the interest thereon, and the interest on the outstanding school warrants, $[illegible] will be necessary, at the rate of $[illegible] in excess of the amount of the school bonds will be issued. It is to be expected, however, that the bonds will sell at a premium sufficient to cover this expense. Any surplus received as premium on the sale of bonds can be used in making needed improvements and in reducing the interest on the city and county can to some extent be believed.

That it will be impossible to ever pay this indebtedness from the annual income and revenue of the county is evident from the following figures. The total assessed value of the county for the year 1894, as shown by the assessor's statement, amounted to $[illegible], of this amount $[illegible] was contested on court hence and accounts $[illegible] leaving a balance of $[illegible] available for taxation. The county levies and grants already having been exhausted, the distribution for the year will be for the necessary and most urgent expenses for maintaining the county government and the expenses of the district courts, which expenses are estimated at the lowest. The cost of paupers and insane $[illegible]. The expenses in 1894 were $[illegible]. Roads and bridges, $[illegible]; interest on bonds in 1894 was $[illegible]. Interest, $[illegible]. Total, $[illegible]. The expenses in 1894 were $[illegible]. Compensation of county officers, $[illegible]; the expense in 1894 was $[illegible]. Expenses of the district courts, $[illegible]. Expenses of the district attorney, $[illegible]. Contingent expenses required by law, $[illegible]. Commissioner's bounty, $[illegible]. Contingent expenses, $[illegible]. Total, $[illegible]. The expenses in 1894 were $[illegible]. Contingent expenses, $[illegible] which includes expenses for the making up of and the issuance of the bonds, including the cost of a building. The expenses in 1894 were $[illegible].

The general expenses of the county for the year 1894 were $[illegible], including the cost of the county building, and ground was $[illegible] which we feel that we can call a non-recurring item.

From the above statement it is shown that with strict economy and by making a rigid retrenchment in the levies to 15 per cent in all county expenses, it will not be possible to save more than $[illegible] of the interest on the outstanding warrants for the year 1895, which is little more than one third of the interest that will accrue on the bonds issued to pay the outstanding warrants. At this rate the indebtedness, as we stand now, can never be paid. Out of the revenues of the county we can never pay more than $[illegible] of the interest on the bonds, or the interest upon $[illegible] to $[illegible] by accruing interest.

The question on the subject of outstanding warrants at the rate of 8 per cent per annum for the years amounts to $[illegible]. Now for the school bonds, it leads to the rate of 1 per cent per annum to the same school districts of Salt Lake City, and to the school districts in the years of $[illegible], or a difference of more than $[illegible] a year.

The question of the bonding of the legislature of those bonds provides for a sinking fund, which fund is to be invested in the bonds of the Territory of Utah, or in the bonds of the United States securities. In this way a fund accumulates each year, as the law directs, which fund is to be used with which bonds are to be paid as they mature, and which fund invested as an aide will be sufficient to pay at least one-half of the total interest that will be paid on the bonds.

The low rate at which these bonds are to be issued (realize that no other or further issue of bonds shall ever be made until the first issue and accrued interest shall be paid in full). Under the existing laws of the Territory no further indebtedness of any kind can be incurred by the county, which have been paid, so that in the future the county expenses will of necessity be kept within the county's income and revenue.

If the taxpayers of this county wished this bond issue we might reasonably pay all outstanding valid warrants and all outstanding school bonds, and leave in the city and county, and the money due to the treasury and city of Salt Lake, and to pay a reasonable amount of money for a sinking fund, and to make a premium on the sale of these bonds, and in doing so give employment to the labor class, and to all that they and family, who are now without work and suffering for the necessaries of life.

While it might be possible under the law for the county court to issue these bonds without submitting the question to a vote of the people, we have no design or [illegible] to assume any such authority, [illegible] and will take no steps in that direction unless the proposition is approved by the voters. We have fully explained the text of the proposed bonds, and we urge the taxpayers will utilize time to [illegible]. We therefore cordially submit our proposition to the taxpayers, and we believe that the majority are and will voting in our favor.

Very respectfully,

A. H. PARDEE,
Judge of the Probate Court.

CHARLES H. HOGENSEN,
Commissioner.

M. CHRISTENSEN,
Commissioner.

A. S. GROSS,

DON'T PAY CASH.

The necessity of a spring medicine is universally admitted. This is the time of the year to which to purify the blood, to restore the lost appetite, and to build up the entire system, so the body is now peculiarly susceptible to benefit by an alterative. The great probability attained by Hood's Sarsaparilla, owing to the real merit and remarkable success, has established it as the very best medicine to take in the spring. It expels all humors, and cleanses, and all blotches, pimples, carbuncles, and all other blood troubles, and gives a fine complexion of the system of impure blood. Don't put it off, but take Hood's Sarsaparilla now. It will do you good.
