There will be three judges of election at each of the voting polling places who will see that the election is properly conducted.

Some unregistered per ns are confident in the idea that their vote can be sworn in on election day, but that is a mistake. An unregistered person who claims the franchise can not swear in his vote.

Notwithstanding the fact that twelve hours time is given in which to cast ballots, it will be well for voters to appear at the polls as early as possible so as to keep the booths complete. In case of a rush at any one particular time confusion might be the result. Get to the polls early so that you will not be enclosed in the casting of your ballot by an impatient crowd awaiting turns.

Southern Utah Musical Festival.

PAROWAN, Utah, Oct. 29, 1896.

To the Editor:

Will you kindly publish the following:

Representatives of different counties in Southern Utah met in Parowan to May last and effected an organization known as the Musical Association of Southern Utah, the object being to develop our musical talent and educate ourselves to a higher standard of music. Officers were elected from the different counties, and work was at once begun to bring the subject more forcibly before the people by preparing for a festival in which members from the different localities might participate and thus arouse an interest in this direction.

Cedar City was decided upon as a central point and Friday and Saturday Nov. 13 and 14 were the days concluded to hold our festival at that place. Washington county will be ably represented with their leading talent, as also Beaver, Garfield and Iron with such men as Pro essors McAllister, Bickley, Dorman, Crawford, Edwards and Owens at the head. There will be no contests, but each locality will furnish selections consisting of anthems, choruses, glees, quartets, duetts, and solos, vocal and instrumental, etc., and the opening and closing pieces will be rendered by the combined forces under the direction of Prof. Costain of Cedar.

We anticipate having a musical treat, and anything calculated to increase an interest in the study and development of this divine art. That it may be a success, we ask all to assist to the utmost possible, and let us labor together to educe about a better condition in these affairs, bearing in mind that "there is no excellence without labor," and trusting that upon the talents which have been so abundantly given to this people. Very respectfully,

ALFRED C. DURHAM,
Cor. Secy.

MORMONS NOT INTERFERING.

Senator Dubois's Reply to Chairman Jones of the Democratic Party.

A Blackfoot, Idaho, special to the Salt Lake Tribune under date of Nov. 1 says: The following telegram was received yesterday by Senator Dubois:

CHICAGO, Oct. 30.—To Hon. Fred T. Dubois, Blackfoot, Ida.:—Is the rumor true that the Mormons are being ordered to go against us on the claim that Mr. Woodruff is national Democratic committeeman? Answer quick. JAMES K. JONES.

Senator Dubois replied as follows:

BLACKFOOT, Ida., Nov. 1.—James K. Jones, Chicago, Ill.: I have investigated fully the statement that Mormons have been instructed by Woodruff and the First Presidency of the Mormon Church to vote against us. There is absolutely no foundation for the rumor. Senators Shoup and Warren and some local Mormon leaders have with much attention and publicity visited Salt Lake and the chief Mormons there, and sought to create the impression that the Church influence was better exerted to aid them and McKinley. The Church authorities have not interfered, except locally, and Mr. Woodruff has penned a highly honorable and manly letter. Utah and Idaho are practically unanimous for Bryan. Eight out of ten Mormons are with us and for silver, and will so vote.

FRED T. DUBOIS.

Drowned While Duck Hunting.

Sidney Baum, the fourteen-year-old son of Chas. L. Baum, whose home is at 88 E street, was drowned at the Hot Springs lake on Saturday afternoon while out duck hunting. The lad had gone out on his expedition in company with Burt Morris, another boy about his own age. Baum, towards evening, got into a boat they had been using, and started over the lake for the last round of the day while Morris remained on the shore. For a time Baum continued firing his gun and then ceased. Soon afterwards Morris saw the boat floating about in an empty condition.

Near it was a coat, subject to the water which on being examined was found to be the frame body of young Baum. The presumption is that he had been seized with dizziness and fell into the water. The concussion is arrived at on the ground that he had during the day complained of a severe headache.

The boy's mother is overwhelmed with grief by reason of the sudden bereavement. Her husband is in Washington and has been notified by wire of the sad bereavement.

SCHOOL LAND TITLE.

Occupants Should Apply Immediately to the State Land Board

FOR TRACTS WHICH THEY OCCUPY

Otherwise Their "Preference Rights" Will Be Forfeited and They Must Bid in Open Market.

Inquiry at the office of the State board of land commissioners develops the fact that applications for school lands in this State, under what is termed the "preference right," are not being filed as rapidly as they should when the magnitude of the holdings is considered.

This is doubtless due to the lack of information with the provisions of the law on the part of the persons who possess this valuable right. The Enabling act designated as school lands sections 2, 16, 32 and 36, in every township in the State, and the last Legislature, recognizing the injustice which would result in not protecting actual and bonafide settlers on those sections who had settled upon, occupied or cultivated small tracts, ignorant of the fact that they were school lands, and they could not obtain title thereto until they became the property of the state, passed a law which will be found in the laws of Utah, 1896, and designated as chapter 80. Section 19 of the act grants what has been termed a "preference right" to settlers or occupants, who have improved their lands and were on January 1, 1896, actual settlers or occupants thereon, whereby those settlers could apply for their exact holdings and thus be enabled to publish them from the State at the appraised price or private sale without being demurrer to compete with any other persons who might desire to obtain these improved lands. The actual settler on school land, prior to January 1, 1896, has only to apply to the State board of land commissioners and the land be for portions every, describing the same, and he will be granted the opportunity of purchasing it at the appraised price and on his present holdings, by paying one-tenth down and the balance in nine annual payments at 5 per cent per annum. This is a very simple matter, and especially as in every county treasurer throughout the state has on hand, ready for distribution, a large number of printed blanks designed for the sale use of these "preference right" applicants and which they can readily obtain by writing for or applying in person.

The provision of the law not generally understood is the limit of time fixed in the act for the filing of these applications. Six months time from the date of the filing of school land plats, with the various county treasurers was allowed wherein all "preference right" claimants were to file their applications and as these plats were filed with the county treasurers on or about June 15th of this year, the time in all the counties will expire about December 25, 1896. The serious part of the matter is that if an applicant does not apply for his land, with the state board of land commissioners, on or before Christmas day, he will lose his right to purchase his home at private sale and be compelled to enter the market at the public sale and bid on the same at public auction. This will prove a hardship, as the price of his land may be run up over the appraised price and and in no event can land be sold either at public or private sale for less than the appraised price per acre. So it will readily be seen that failure to file his application in time may cost much more money to retain his home than if he had the right granted him by the Legislature and filed a written claim at the proper office inside the time limit.

This statement of facts is designed to warn the occupants of school land throughout the State of the great danger to them of delaying this matter and in the hope that it may result in the saving of money to those who possess this right but who are not cognizant of the restrictions and limits coupled with it.

FARMINGTON.

FARMINGTON, UTAH, Nov. 2, 1896.

Company H in Morgan.

The middle boys have returned from their travelings most with the soldiers of the guard in Morgan, and are singing "Home the conquering heroes come."

As previously stated in the News, Company H, with several other companies of Company B state of the great danger to them of delaying this matter and in the hope that it may result in the saving of money to those who possess this right but who are not cognizant of the restrictions and limits coupled with it.

Saturday, 10 a. m., the companies met for target practice, and although the day was cloudy and windy good scores were made. The following are the scores as made by Lieut. Abbott, acting company officer:

Company H, a total of 290 points; company G a total of 255 points. The best individual score were made by Capt. Criddle, Company G, with 19 points, a very fine score. Owing to the bad weather the score were anything but satisfactory. It is expected that at an late date, Company G will be the guests of Company H at Farmington.

Eczema ON BABY

Grew Worse under Treatment of Best Physicians. Tried

CUTICURA REMEDIES

Great Change in Five Days and Tender is Entirely Cured.

My little boy Freddie is the worst type of a healthy, robust child imaginable, but at the age of two months he commenced to show symptoms of eczema on his face, which in spite of the best medical treatment, grew worse and worse, until at the age of five months it covered his face and body, and he was a sight to behold. Fearing he would be disfigured for life, we had his photograph taken, and we present it herewith. We had tried many of the best physicians, and had given him much medicine, but it only grew worse. We had lost all hope, when we tried the CUTICURA REMEDIES. The eczema commenced to show signs of improvement in five days, and in two weeks was healed, and Freddie's face was as smooth as ever. He is now a healthy boy, and we have no hesitation in saying that we owe his life to the CUTICURA REMEDIES. We shall always keep them in our house, and recommend them to all our friends. We will cheerfully answer any letter relating to this remarkable cure. Mrs. ALICE HAYES, 1 Ashland Place, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Political Pickings.

The Democratic party held their last rally of the season in the Opera House this evening.

At the Republican rally on Saturday last, the speakers were Haley Hooper and wife of Ogden, J. H. Smith of Layton, and Jacob Miller of Farmington. The opera house was not filled to standing room.

The campaign has been a very quiet one in Davis county generally and particularly in Farmington. Neither party has been idle; but both all their forces in good shape for tomorrow's contest. There are several in the anxious seat, so to speak on each occasion, and the result of the battle of the ballots will be most interesting awaited.

The county court met today and transacted the usual routine business.

Mrs. Hattie White, of Spanishville has proceeded a suit for divorce against H. G. White on the grounds of desertion and failure to provide.

Owen and Bert Stone, sons of Hon. A. O. Stone are sick with typhoid fever.

Elder Moses of the Lamoni church goes to Beaver on business.

LOGAN.

LOGAN, UTAH, Nov. 2, 1896.

Cache County Politics.

Two more days and the troubles of the politicians will be over. In Cache county, since the early days of the campaign, but little has been heard in politics in a political sense. Nearly all mention of both parties are silent on the silver question, and the county will doubtless poll nearly per cent of its total vote in favor of the Bryan electors. As has already been explained, it is not so of the county Democracy would have a ballot this year with other tickets on it than were held, when the last campaign that there was classification at the moment in which it had been conditioned, it being claimed by the Democrats that it would not be determined by a ring within the party before the convention was held, and that the result was a little that. On the other hand there were a number of Republicans who were dissatisfied with the result of one of their conventions and some time previously, at which silver resolutions were denied. The Republican convention for the nomination of a Legislative and county ticket was still more divisive away, and in the meantime these two wings are joined together and on October 12, held a mass convention to which all classes were invited. Resolutions favoring the free and unlimited coinage of silver to the ratio of 16 to 1 without awaiting the consent of any other country were passed, and the Legislative candidates pledged to vote for our sons, and one candidate for the L. D. Senate is would pledge himself to work on this at home. On the following day the Republican convention met and repeated that so far as the party members had identified themselves with the silver movement, and the party had always been in the minority, it would be useless to run a ticket in the field. Thus not the Republicans as a party unpledged and at liberty to vote as they pleased. The Democratic party, divided free to act with equal partial conditions, has been voting for both, and has generally carried the county. The contest now and hearty time is organized and quite expanded chiefly on the County, a little in weekly street, on the determination of their votes. Two months promises to be a close one.

Buckingham's Eye for the Whiskers is the best, cheapest, safest, surest, quickest, most economical and satisfactory hair dye ever produced. It is the quintessence of perfection.

A cough which persists for other day should not be neglected any longer. It means something more than a mere local irritation, and the sooner it is relieved the better. Take Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It is prompt to act and sure to cure.

The only permanent cure for chronic catarrh is to thoroughly expel the poison from the system by the brilliant and persistent use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This wonderful remedy never moves to where all other medicines are idle to relieve the suffering.

Mr. J. R. Power, secretary and treasurer of the Cottage Mill, Canal and Stock Co., of Chatham, Ont., is speaking of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, says: "I contract a cold the last fall and I have used many bottles but Chamberlain's the most effectual remedy I ever tried. It gives relief and I know no other in my house." When troubled with a cough or cold give it a trial and we feel sure you will be more than pleased with the result. For sale by druggists.

There is one remedy which every family should be provided with. We refer to Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup. When it is but a hard throat cough or a tickle or cold may be prompt relieved and the use needed in small doses. Since this wise medicine has to be sold for 25 cents it may be promptly tested. Have it Remember this, while imitors rule in most cures of the other 25 cent medicines. This and trusses should receive immediate attention, before the pain becomes troublesome, and when Chamberlain's Pain Balm is applied it will heal them without matter being injured, and without making a sore. A cold may be cured in one night. A piece of flannel saturated with the medicine and bound on over the seat of pain, will give long lasting relief. In the sale of chief in twenty-five years, it is the most valuable remedy for rheumatism. Persons afflicted with this disease will be delighted with the relief from pain which it affords, and it can be depended upon to effect a complete cure. For sale by all druggists.

Hyphen down in the northwestern part of the state cotton tales, says Mr. W. Chalmers, editor of the Chron (Cal.) Enterprise, "I had an attack of dysentery. Having heard of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy I bought a bottle. A couple of doses of it completely cured me. Now I am a champion of that remedy for all diseases and pain in the abdomen." For sale by druggists.
