DESERET EVENING NEWS.

TRUTH AND LIBERTY.

VOL. VIII. SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH TERRITORY, TUESDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 22, 1874. NO. 26.

ANOTHER "OPEN LETTER."

Dear Public:

We have often observed how naturally, when you wish to purchase any article of comfort or necessity, you endeavor to procure it at the lowest possible price, cheapness generally constituting the most important point in favor of buying. This frequently proves mistaken economy, because low-priced goods must be made of inferior materials, consequently such goods invariably fail to give satisfaction; in perhaps no branch of trade is this fact more apparent than in Boots and Shoes. We are not advocating high prices, however, but take great pleasure in stating that the policy we have adopted of using only the best materials, and making none but good, "honest" warranted Boots and Shoes, has gained us hosts of customers, who, as evidence they are satisfied that our goods are well made and truly cheap, always come again and send their friends. Any defect in workmanship is repaired free of charge. Old Boots and Shoes are made "amaist as guid as new."

In addition to the goods of our own make, we keep a choice assortment of the best qualities of imported Boots and Shoes, including Rubbers, etc., suitable for the season.

Your obedient, faithful servants,

CONGRESSIONAL.

SENATE.

A Shipbuilding Project, &c.

WASHINGTON, 21.—Hager presented a memorial of the citizens of California, asking the privilege of buying a tract of timber land in the Territory of Alaska, and to establish ship yards there, for the construction of ships; referred to the committee on public lands. On presenting the memorial, he said the people of California had suffered for want of ships to carry their produce, and they now desired to engage in shipbuilding to meet the wants of that section.

Logan called up a resolution submitted by him last week, to suspend so much of the act of June 23rd, '74, for reorganizing the several staff corps of the army as applies to contract surgeons till February, '75; agreed to.

The motion of Foreman, that the vote by which the senate, in May last, rejected the bill to establish the Territory of Pembina, and to provide a temporary government therefor, should be re-considered and the bill be recommitted to the committee on Territories, was agreed to.

The house legislative, judicial and executive appropriation bill was read by its title and referred to the committee on appropriations.

The house bill for the further security of navigation on the Mississippi river was reported with amendments and placed on the calendar.

At the expiration of the morning hour the senate resumed the consideration of the bill to provide a better government for the district of Columbia.

Merriman obtained the floor to address the senate on the District bill, but yielded for an executive session, after which the senate adjourned.

HOUSE.

Irwin's Case—Christmas Holidays.

Dawes, chairman of the ways and means committee, reported the refusal of R B. Irwin to answer certain questions asked him by the committee respecting the distribution of the $750,000 received from the Pacific Mail Co., to aid in procuring an additional subsidy for the China mail service. The report of Irwin's examination was then read, and Dawes moved its adoption in order that the Speaker might [illegible] Irwin for contempt, and supported his motion in a speech, asserting that the testimony of Irwin, that he brought this money to the very doors of Congress, though he declared that he did not pay any of it to any congressman, left the plain inference that the subsidy was procured by the expenditure of this sum of money, and a charge was laid at the door of every member who voted for or omitted to vote against the bill and it was the duty of the House to repel this inference, and it could not escape from this duty. A long discussion ensued as to the power of the House to punish for contempt. Stephens and General Butler argued that as the law provides for the punishment of a recusant witness by sending him for trial before a court and jury of the District of Columbia the House has no other power in the matter; they denied that there was in this country any such thing as a parliamentary common law, and claimed the constitutional right of a citizen to be tried by a court and jury. Dawes, Kasson, Beck, and Lawrence argued in favor of the right and power of Congress to punish a recusant witness by fine and imprisonment. While Lawrence was speaking Beck announced that he had just been informed that Irwin was no longer in the custody of the sergeant-at-arms, and was preparing to leave Washington. The announcement created some excitement, but the discussion continued and at its close Dawes' motion was agreed to without division.

Dawes then called up the resolution for a holiday adjournment from Wednesday 23rd to January 5th, which, after an unsuccessful attempt to table, and to modify by making the adjournment to Tuesday next, was adopted, 121 to 98. Adjourned.

EASTERN.

The Albert Mine Case.

WASHINGTON, 21.—The case of Gaest and Dickerson against Jemison, from the California circuit, brought here by the plaintiffs, to recover some three thousand dollars on promissory notes given as part payment on the purchase of the Albert mining claim, was today submitted to the supreme court for review, on a printed brief. The defence was that the mine did not turn out as rich as represented by the outsiders, and the court excluded the evidence offered to show that the Tehama mine, some four or five hundred feet away, was not worth working as irrelevant; this was the chief error assigned, and the question is whether the production of an adjacent mine is admissible in such a case as evidence.

Bill to Repeal Stamp Tax, &c.—Explanation.

A bill was introduced in the House by Eames to-day, which proposes to repeal all the stamp and tax duties imposed by the internal revenue laws except such as relate to distilled spirits, fermented liquors, tobacco, snuff and cigars, to increase the tax on distilled spirits ten cents a gallon, and the repeal of the second clause of the act of the 6th, '72, which reduced ten per cent. the duties on manufacturers of cotton, wool, iron, etc.

The following explanation is made of Irwin's discharge from custody: A resolution passed last Monday authorized and procured Irwin's arrest in New York, and his detention here as a witness who had failed to appear before the committee in obedience to its subpoena, but having appeared and testified up to a certain point, and then refused to answer a question, the House was applied to for its warrant to order him to show cause why he should not be punished as a contumacious witness. This presupposed his having appeared before the committee and consequently involved his discharge from the former arrest.

Senatorial Caucus.

The republican senators held a caucus this afternoon at the solicitation of the southern republican senators and representatives, at which the condition of the South was considered. The senators from the South advocated the sending of troops to the several States, as they feared that the republican party was hopelessly dead unless decisive steps were taken during the present session to put down turbulent whites; they confessed their inability to poll white votes. The northern senators did not endorse the proposition. Some openly expressed themselves against further interference with the affairs of the South, saying that they had lost many votes in the North by it. Senator Lewis, of Va., declared that the republican party had lost power in the South because of the bad character of many of its would-be leaders, and the advocacy of the civil rights bill, which he considered a most iniquitous measure. The South could only be carried by the republican party, as at present organized, by sending soldiers enough there to prevent the people from voting. The majority evidently agreed with these remarks, as before the vote was taken many senators left the room, and Senator Morton, who was relied upon by the extreme republicans, did not come to their relief.

Supreme Court Holiday—Axtell Confirmed—Irwin's Testimony.

The Supreme Court will adjourn on Wednesday next until January 7th.

The Senate has confirmed S. B. Axtell governor of Utah Territory.

The full testimony of Irwin is made public, and makes about eight columns. The main points have been anticipated by previous dispatches. The following letters are embraced in the testimony. The first is from the office of the company, in New York, and is dated February 13th, 1872, from Stockwell to Irwin:

"I enclose you an order for $250,000,—$100,000, $100,000, $10,000 and $40,000, which is placed in your hands to be used in payment for your services in case of the passage, and approval by the President, of a bill or amendment providing for an increase of our China mail service to semi-monthly trips, with a subsidy of half a million a year for ten years, said compensation to be reduced pro rata in the event of a reduction in the amount appropriated as above. None of these checks are to be used by you, but all are to be returned to me, in the event of failure, excepting only the last named $40,000, all or any portion of which you may apply, if actually required, for your necessary expenses, and for counsel fees."

In reply to this Irwin testified—"I stated to Stockwell that my understanding was $500,000 instead of $250,000 and that I should, at the proper time, call upon him for his checks for the additional amount. On the fifth of May I received the following communication from Stockwell—'Yours of the third is to hand. We are much encouraged by the result of yesterday, were it not for the demands of to-day. When we were defeated in the house you said to me that there was some good to come of it, and that if we did not our bill it would cost less. I don't think it wise for the company to give their checks in this matter, notwithstanding I now enclose the four checks for $100,000 each, as you desire, but if they must be used I would prefer that my checks should be substituted for these, but as I say above, I send them because I want to do everything to insure success. Of course you will return me my checks for the $250,000 previously sent you.'"

Irwin said he did not return the first checks sent. He was engaged in this special business during each of the sessions of congress of '69, '70, '71 and '72.

FOREIGN.

GREAT BRITAIN.

Barbarity by Carlists.

LONDON, 21.—The Cologne Gazette says that on the 11th instant the German brig Gustav, from New York, entered the harbor of Guetaria, ten miles west of San Sebastian, and on nearing the shore was fired upon by the Carlists, notwithstanding she hoisted the German flag, and put out signals of distress. The next day the brig was stranded off Searanz; her crew were saved by republican volunteers, who took them to San Sebastian. The Carlists on shore fired on the boats during the rescue of the crew, and afterwards seized the cargo and abandoned the vessel. An envoy has been sent to negotiate with the Carlists for its return.

TURKEY.

A Shocking Disaster.

CONSTANTINOPLE, 21.—During a furious storm to-day, the lightning struck a powder magazine in Scutari, and caused a terrible explosion; a portion of the city wall was overthrown, many houses demolished, and 200 persons killed and wounded.

INSANITY.—A Dr. Frederick R. Marvin lectured in New York, Dec. 5, before the Liberal Club, on insanity, which, he said, had a physical basis for cause, inasmuch as every phenomenon occurring in the system, whether intellectual or mechanical, had a physical basis for its antecedent. Among other statements, he said that marriages of consanguinity, though under certain circumstances injurious, need not necessarily be so, and that the fact of relationship existing between families had nothing to do with the deterioration of children. That, he said, was owing to defects in the constitutions of parents, which might quite as well exist whether related to each other or not. He also said that insanity occurred more generally in northern climates than in those of the south, inasmuch as business activity and, consequently, mental activity were much greater in the former. It is more frequent likewise in the families of northern farmers, who are more confined to their monotonous duties than those of the south; whose existence is more easily earned, and where more time is given to social enjoyment. The lecturer asserted also that while more women became insane than men, more men died from insanity than women. He gave no hypothesis, however, as a basis for his assertion.—Ex.
