PROVO VOTES FOR DEPOT FRANCHISE

West Siders Win In Hotly Contested Election for Union Depot Site.

PROVO, July 28.—Yes, 1,307; No, 1,161; total, 2,468; majority in favor of granting the D. & R. G. and S. L. & L. A. Railway companies a franchise to build a union depot on Sixth South street at the foot of Third West street, 146.

The depot election is now over and the people can again devote themselves to less exciting affairs. The campaign has been most vigorously conducted on both sides and during the day of election yesterday the voters were given no excuse for not voting. Only a few escaped being taken to the polls. One man was carried from a sick bed to the carriage and taken to the polls, and carried in and after he had voted was carried back to the carriage and taken home. A few, however, were persistent in their refusal and did not vote, the registered voters in Provo are 3,332; but of those some have died since the last registration and some are out of town visiting. The total vote was 2,468, and so far as can be determined without a vote, and all that are entitled to vote, and who are here now.

The vote by districts is as follows:
Districts: Yes, No
No. 1..... 35 223
No. 2..... 280 86
No. 3..... 341 17
No. 4..... 291 14
No. 5..... 241 102
No. 6..... 45 269
No. 7..... 35 205
No. 8..... 38 235
Total..... 1,307 1,161
Majority, Yes, 146.

Considerable discussion on the streets followed the election, but most of it was of a good natured character. Unless some new complication takes place the building of the union depot can commence at any time.

MORONI CELEBRATES ITS SEMI CENTENNIAL

(Special Correspondence.)
MORONI, Sanpete Co., July 25.—Moroni has just celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of its settlement in 1859, when about 20 families, from Nephi, Mant and Ephraim, under the lead of Joseph H. Bradley, came to the site of the town on the bank of Sanpich river, where for a time they lived in dugouts and other crude dwellings, while they cleared the land, planted crops and dug the irrigating canals.

The celebration lasted during the 23rd and 24th inst. There was a fine parade through the principal streets each morning, followed by crowded meetings in the ward tabernacle. The parade vividly portrayed conditions which existed in pioneer days by the presence of Indians, road builders, the crude implements of the pioneers, the spinning wheel and hand loom, and other such things. A fine band of builders, the crude implements of display of modern agricultural machinery, and modern conveniences, Utah and her "best crop" showed up in great shape. The proceedings were in great part a review of the past.

At Friday's meeting the assemblage was addressed and welcomed by Mayor John Bailey, other speakers being pioneers, George H. Bradley, Jens C. Nielsen and Patriarch Charles Sperry of Nephi. Each of whom related many interesting incidents in connection with the settling of the town and the labors of the first settlers.

The proceedings were varied with music, songs and recitations, and the reading of an original poem, composed by Pioneer Joe H. Child. The afternoon was spent in renewing old acquaintances and at Amusement park, witnessing horse and foot races, and a game of baseball between Moroni and Spring City teams, Moroni team being victors.

On the 24th the parade was repeated for the benefit of many later visitors, after which the people assembled in the tabernacle where after opening exercises an oration was delivered by Joseph H. Jolley, who paid a just tribute to the labors of Utah's pioneers and to the founders of Moroni. The exercises were enlivened by music by the several bands, songs and recitations and the rendering of an original song by Langley A. Bailey of Nephi, and an address by Bishop Orlando Bradley. In the afternoon there were horse and

PROMISING SEASON FOR MAGRATH, CANADA

(Special Correspondence.)
MAGRATH, Alberta, Canada, July 9.—The weather here is certainly beautiful. The rain was plentiful in the spring, but now the almost perpetual sunshine promises a bounteous crop. The grain is now headed and stands waist high. There are three elevators here, and another is under construction. The Elfron Milling company contemplates building another elevator to its mill.

There are now in the Magrath district 16 steam plowing outfits, turning over the sod for next year's crop. They will soon turn their time to threshing. Settlers are still flocking to the garden city, the farms of such settlers can be seen dotted with huge barns in every direction.

Burglars entered the drug store some time ago and took about $20 and some checks. The city marshal was informed of the affair and soon landed the thieves.

The Twenty-fourth will be celebrated under the ward officers and the town council, as it is the day this village was incorporated.

There is considerable building going on of up-to-date dwellings and barns.

The celebration was declared by all an unqualified success reflecting great credit upon all who worked for its success.
