DESERET EVENING NEWS.

Saturday, - May 14, 1892.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

REV. J. W. MARTIN, of Manti, is in the city visiting friends.

MEETINGS at Farmers ward, until further notice, will commence at 7 p. m.

THE notice of illustrated lecture, as given in the special column of this paper.

TICKETS are now being sold at the Theatre box office for the living statuary exhibition to be made on Monday night.

FRANK SWEET, a young alleged Illinois pugilist, left for with Desk Sergeant McCurdy this afternoon to answer to the charge of assaulting a few named [illegible].

CHAS. JACKSON, a tailor, and William Murphy, a plasterer, plead guilty today to stealing a valise from the Wasatch restaurant this morning. Sentence was deferred.

MRS. CLARA FOLLARD, the original lessee of the White House, was expected to arrive in this city from California this morning but did not do so. It is believed, however, that she will reach here tonight.

THE Union Pacific has just issued a very handsome [illegible] page guide entitled "Western Resorts." It gives an illustrated and word description of all the health and pleasure resorts on the Union Pacific system.

PETER JOSEPH, ex-police captain of New Orleans and now captain of custom house inspectors at the same place, is visiting friends in this city. Mr. Joseph is a typical Southerner and is the guest of Detective Brown Johnson.

DRUNKENNESS among women in this city seems to be increasing at an alarming rate. Mary Cummings was the last unfortunate female to appear before Justice Kesler for that offense, which she did today and plead guilty. Sentence was suspended.

THE entries for the June meeting of races to be given under the supervision of the Utah Driving Park Association will close on Monday next. The last big entries were made by the [illegible] stable of San Francisco, which sends six fine animals to the front in the "free-for-all."

THE Deseret Bakery, of which Webb and Feveryear are the proprietors, will be found at 46 west First South after today, as the building which they have been occupying for the last four years on Main street will shortly be torn down to make room for a new structure. Their advertisement appears in another column.

A WOMAN described female, described as being "pretty and young, with chestnut curls, attired in figured dark India silk, an elegant broadcloth sack, [illegible] hat, kid gloves and silk purse and who said she loved music, men and wine," was found [illegible] alone in the club rooms of the University boys last night. She was assisted into a hack, which apparently was awaiting her in the street in front of the building, and sent home.

LAST evening, at the residence of the bride's parents in the Ninth ward, Mr. Herbert H. Urry and Miss Jennie Maxwell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Maxwell, were united in the bonds of matrimony by Bishop Samuel A. Woolley. The relatives and a few invited friends only were present. The whole affair was quiet and unostentatious. The young couple start out in married life with promising prospects. They will make their home in the Twenty-second ward.

OGDEN BAR ASSOCIATION.

The Question of Formulating a Schedule of Fees Discussed by the Members and Referred.

The Ogden Bar Association met last evening at 8 o'clock in the Federal court room, with President Heywood in the chair.

The secretary read the following list of committees:

Executive—W. L. Maginnis, A. R. Patton, H. W. Smith, B. H. Jones, F. S. Schoonover.

Membership—J. D. Murphy, W. L. P. Peyton, H. H. Henderson, M. D. Loesinger, G. F. Boreman.

Grievance—W. R. White, L. R. Rogers, J. H. Macmillen, Jesse B. Barton, E. T. Hulaniski.

Law Reform—V. Gunnell, James N. Kimball, J. S. Painter, W. H. Snelling, A. C. Bishop.

Legal Education—M. A. Breeden, O. R. Leonard, C. R. Pack.

Legal Biography—L. R. Rhodes, J. J. S. Painter, Howard Carpenter.

On motion of Judge Bishop the secretary was instructed to obtain the signatures of all members of the bar to the constitution and by-laws and thus do away with the necessity of calling a meeting for the purpose.

W. R. White said one of the chief objects of a bar association was to formulate a schedule of fees to govern the charges of the members, and in order to test the sense of the meeting moved that the matter be referred to a committee of five to be appointed by the president.

L. R. Rogers was of the opinion that the question of fees came within the province of the grievance committee, as it was always a matter of grievance between the attorney and his client.

Several members objected, and wanted the special committee appointed. Considerable discussion was indulged in, but the motion to refer to a special committee went through. The president named as said committee Messrs. Allison, Tanner, Ransford Smith, Roy H. Jones and Val Gideon.

Probate Court.

The following business was transacted before Judge Bartch today:

In the matter of the death and funeral expenses of Raymond Jeffs, a pauper, Wm. Russell sworn and examined. Evidence showed that said Jeffs was an old soldier, and that he died at the poor house June 25th, 1891, a single man without property. He had a pension from the United States. He had the most of the last quarter's pension, amounting to about $36 at time of his death, which according to statement of Eliza Hill, made to said Russell was paid to her by Mr. Cummings, superintendent of the County [illegible].

Estate of Hannah Lewis, deceased, hearing on petition of [illegible] of administrator came on per continuance. On motion of attorney case dismissed.

Estate of B. T. Young, deceased; continued to May 28.

Estate and guardianship of Fleming C. Berman, et al., minors; hearing on petition for letters of guardianship came on regularly. A. S. Bowman and E. G. Adams sworn and examined. Proof granted. Order made appointing O. S. Bowman guardian.

DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.

A Great Gathering Takes Place in the Junction City Today.

OGDEN, May 14.

[Special Dispatch to the NEWS.]

It is safe to say that the voting strength of this city is increased by fully one thousand today, for in addition to 300 delegates and 300 or more alternates, there is quite a sprinkling of visitors not connected with political matters who have taken advantage of the reduced rates to take a breathing spell in the Junction.

Both the railways connecting Ogden with Salt Lake were heavily patronized this morning, the specials bearing the delegates and alternates from Salt Lake and Utah counties being filled to the overflow point. Besides these, of course, there were the delegates and some alternates and visitors from farther south and all the other points of the compass, each being unladen from one or another of the numerous trains, and all full of good feeling and old-fashioned Democratic enthusiasm. Many of the delegates have beautiful badges, but nearly all are distinguishable with or without that feature. The convention will consist, as stated, of 300 members, and the number of those chosen for such positions who will not respond to their names on the first roll call is apt to be very limited indeed, while, through the liberal attendance of alternates, the vote will be complete, or nearly so, at all stages.

This will be the first Democratic Territorial Convention ever held in Utah at which all the counties and nearly every part thereof are represented, and naturally enough there is more than ordinary interest in the proceedings.

At this time no names have been prominently suggested for any of the places to be filled. The Territorial committee have a meeting in the Reed Hotel at 11 o'clock, when the temporary organization will doubtless be considered and perhaps arranged.

The city wears a lively appearance and music from different bands fill the air at intervals and assists greatly in promoting the enthusiasm of the occasion.

The delegates on arrival, were met at the depot by a number of citizens with brass bands. A procession was formed, half a mile long, which marched up Washington avenue, going thence north one block, then counter marching and proceeding to the Grand Opera House. People lined the streets and considerable enthusiasm was manifested. Some ladies took places in the procession and were loudly cheered.

The convention was called to order shortly after 12 o'clock by Chairman Merritt of the Territorial committee. The house was completely filled from top to bottom. The stage was beautifully arranged, floral decorations being numerous and tasteful. Merritt's speech congratulated the delegates and the convention on the brilliant auspices, and predicted a great triumph in November. He was loudly applauded throughout. He selected A. G. Norrell temporary chairman, who spoke briefly and was well received.

E. A. Smith is temporary secretary.

Committees on credentials, permanent organization and resolutions were appointed, and at 12:30, the convention took a recess until 2:30.

Before the recess was announced the Ogden delegation tendered the visitors the freedom of the city and were requested to apply for information on accommodations at any time.

The canvassing was going on actively for delegates to Chicago. The names most prominently mentioned are Judge Henderson, J. L. Rawlins, Judge Maginnis, John T. Caine and C. W. West, and it looks now as if there might be a stubborn, if not bitter, contest, as others are determined and yet to hear from.

ANOTHER POLITICAL DANCE.

The "Liberal" Democrats Convene, Make Speeches, Appoint Committees, Resolve and Organize.

Following in the wake of their history-making Republican (?) associates, the deep, dyed in the wool, Tuscarora and other "Liberal" Democrats, gathered on the smoothly-waxed floors of Clift's dancing hall on Market street at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon. At that time Hank Barnes and Phil. Corcoran ascended the board platform and the seance commenced by Mr. Barnes naming William Newton as chairman. That gentleman promptly stepped up and responded in the usual stereotyped style that the honor was entirely unexpected but nevertheless he was glad he had been chosen. His experience in the ranks of Democracy had been a most singular one. The Tuscaroras were going to Chicago and receive recognition. They could tell the Great Father that they had fought the good fight and kept the faith. Already the handwriting was on the wall indicating the destruction of the straight out Democrats.

Charles Wilkes was appointed secretary, after which the following committee was named to select sixty delegates to attend the county pow-wow that will convene in the Theatre on the 21st inst.: D. B. Tarpey, Ogden Hiles, S. H. Lewis, Martin Lannan and H. N. Baskin.

Committee on Resolutions—O. W. Powers, C. W. Hall, C. S. Wilkes, John Q. Packard and Harry T. Duke.

Permanent Organization — W. S. Denney, C. S. Wilkes, W. A. Stanton and Phil Corcoran.

After a recess the committee on resolutions offered a resolution recognizing the Territorial committee of which William M. Ferry is chairman. They viewed with regret the action of the Democrats who had bolted the "regular Democratic party." That class held out a false, dangerous and destructive fight. They also recognized the Tuscarora society as being Democratic and gold and silver as being on equal footing.

The committee on permanent organization reported the appointment of O. W. Powers as chairman and Marris Sommer as secretary.

The names of the sixty delegates to the county convention with O. W. Powers at the head was read and received.

The convention was in progress when we went to press.

DEPUTY CLERK [illegible] issued marriage licenses this forenoon to Jonathan Motley, aged 21, and Elizabeth A. Lobson, aged 22; Julius [illegible], aged 26, of Salt Lake, and Carrie [illegible], of [illegible], aged 22.

WITHOUT FOUNDATION.

The Charge Preferred Against O. G. Snow Proves Groundless.

As was confidently expected by his friends would be the case, the charge of adultery preferred by C. L. Blaine against O. G. Snow, the well known banker of Brigham City, was dismissed yesterday.

Mr. Snow, his attorney, H. W. Smith, Commissioner Bishop, the reporters, and several others were on hand when the case was called. An hour passed away and the prosecution failed to appear, and Judge Bishop announced that inasmuch as the evidence of guilt was not forthcoming the defendant would be dismissed and his bondsmen exonerated.

From the moment of its inception the general public regarded the scheme to blacken the character of Mr. Snow as purely spite work and the charges without foundation.

Inquiries as to Utah's Resources.

S. E. Hostetler, a capitalist of Sioux City, Iowa, has written for information as to the opportunities for investment in Utah. Secretary Sears of the Board of Trade forwarded in reply a letter stating that for loaning money, investing in real estate, or in manufacturing, Utah offered the best facilities of any place in the United States. There is already eight to ten millions of capital invested in banks, loan and trust companies, in Salt Lake, but five times that amount could be profitably invested in developing the vast resources of the place.

Conrad Wright & Co., gas regulators of Anderson, Ind., have written to Secretary Sears of the Board of Trade for information relating to natural gas. A representative of the firm contemplates a visit to Salt Lake in connection with their business.

Two Runaways.

There were two exciting runaways on Main street at noon today. The first one caused pedestrians to scatter in all directions. The outfit consisted of a bridleless horse attached to an ordinary road cart. It was brought to a standstill by Mr. Parley Kimball, of Grantsville, seizing the animal by one of its ears and nose and shutting off its breathing capacity. The second runaway was by Henry Cohn's double-team delivery outfit. The driver was thrown out in front of Teasdel's store and dragged for a short distance, but fortunately was not seriously hurt. The wagon collided with a buggy near the sidewalk and damaged it badly.

Latest Court News.

Suit has been entered in the Third District Court today by Moses Hailey and George W. Clayton against the Saltair Railway Company, to recover the sum of $1500 and costs for damage to certain property of plaintiffs, and praying for an injunction to restrain the defendants from further entering upon or interfering with their land. Marshall and Royle are the plaintiffs' attorneys.

THE regular monthly meeting of the Salt Lake County Woman's Suffrage Association will be held in the Thirteenth ward assembly room, on Tuesday, the 17th, at 2 p.m. All members are particularly requested to be present, and the public are cordially invited. C. C. R. Wells, Secretary.

F. B. Gilmore of Omaha is on a visit to this city.

James E. Polk of New York is at the Knutsford.
