THE LEGAL CHAPTER.

Arraignments in Judge Bartch's Division This Morning.

SHOWELL AND RYAN HEARD OF.

Election Case Findings—A Divorce and Other Matters Before Judge Merritt.

Both branches of the Third district court have been in session today. Judge Bartch had a short morning, however. He simply disposed of some arraignments on the criminal calendar, and at 10:30 adjourned till 2 p. m.

Chief Justice Merritt was occupied with motions, etc., the entire forenoon.

Before Judge Bartch.

The name of John Hogan, who is under an indictment charging him with adultery, was called, but the defendant did not answer and his bond of $500 was declared forfeited. His sureties are P. W. McCaffrey and Jas. O'Reilly.

On motion of the prosecuting attorney the charge of adultery against the co-defendant, Josephine Dotson, was dismissed.

ALLEGED CONSPIRACY.

There are four indictments against Wm. Showell et al, charging the defendants with conspiracy. This is an old case. Showell was formerly auxiliary [illegible] in the employ of the city, and the alleged offense was in connection with the certification of certain pay rolls during his tenure of office.

Judge Powers, on behalf of the defendants, waived the reading of the indictments and entered pleas of not guilty.

INTRODUCING W. H. RYAN.

W. H. Ryan was arraigned and plead not guilty to a charge of embezzlement. The offense is alleged to have been committed while the defendant held the post of superintendent of waterworks under the Salt Lake City Council. This, too, is a case of long standing.

J. M. Denny is his attorney.

BLACK AND WHITE.

Robert Houston, a man of color, for whom Attorney Ogden Hiles appears, was given until next Saturday to plead to a charge of adultery, said to have been committed with a white girl named Mary Goodman, on November 4, 1893.

ALLEGED BURGLARY.

Joseph Hewlett Jr., charged with burglarizing the barber shop of Chas. H. Cushing, on November 22, 1894, plead not guilty.

SOME HARNESS WAS TAKEN.

Joseph Hunter entered a plea of not guilty to an indictment charging him with having been concerned with others in stealing a double set of harness valued at $75, the property of W. J. Crowther, on November 6th, 1894. Hunter's co-defendants were not presented. They are B. F. Marsh, J. L. Walker and J. Brebo.

ANOTHER BOND FORFEITED.

J. C. Williams, on bail, indicted for a burglary at the store of M. R. Evans, did not answer when called and his bond of $500 was declared forfeited. The sureties are Wm. Bates and Sarah Bates.

THE ELECTION CASE FINDINGS.

Just before leaving the bench Judge Bartch stated that the findings in the election cases could be settled in chambers this morning.

Judge Powers asked, however, that the matter might go over until this afternoon, inasmuch as Mr. Williams and himself had not yet had an opportunity of looking over them, and they would like to consider whether they should do anything further in the cases before the findings were submitted. In this way time could undoubtedly be saved.

The court directed that counsel be in attendance at 2:15 this afternoon.

Before Judge Merritt.

John Hauswirth appeared to show cause why he should not be committed for contempt, he having failed to pay certain money as temporary alimony to his wife Lena, who has instituted divorce proceedings against him on the ground of cruelty.

It was on December 8th of last year that the court directed defendant to pay his wife, as alimony, $20 per month and $50 attorney's fee; but it seems that he has failed to comply with that order.

When asked what excuse he had to offer, Hauswirth now said that he was employed in the Union Pacific car shops, and received only $37 for his last month's services. Though he had been unable to pay the attorney's fee, he had given his wife for the support of herself and children $23 since the order of the court was made. He said he owned a house and lot on Ninth West and Sixth South streets. This property was valued at $800, but he was not able to realize upon it unless he mortgaged it, and in doing this his wife had refused to join him.

Judge Merritt, in view of this explanation, did not commit the defendant, but told him to do the best he could in future in the way of complying with the former order of court.

DIVORCED.

Rosa Wallis obtained a decree of divorce from her husband, C. G. Wallis, the grounds being cruelty and desertion. It appeared from the plaintiff's statement on the witness stand that she and Wallis intermarried in the year 1888, in this city. They lived together, until October, 1891, when, she alleged, her husband deserted her. It seemed that he had failed to provide for her while they did reside together, and she mentioned one particular occasion when he abused her by striking her with his fist.

Corroborative testimony having been given, the court did not hesitate to grant the decree.

GENERAL ORDERS.

The John S. Brittain Dry Goods Co. vs. J. C. Merriney. Judgment in favor of plaintiffs, by consent.

Zion's Savings Bank & Trust Co. vs J. P. Sorensen et al. Judgment in favor of plaintiff by consent was also entered in this case.

The accounts of U. S. District Attorney Judd and Commissioner Pratt were approved.

H. P. Mason, trustee, vs Mark McKimmins. Judge S. McDowell was appointed referee, and leave given to amend complaint.

Peter Wilson vs Frank E. McGurrin et al. Dismissed.

Margaret Wilson vs M. E. McKenny et al. Same order.

Frank E. McGurrin vs Julia S. Maltese et al. Application of the National Bank of the Republic for surplus from sale submitted and taken under advisement.

Samuel E. Vance vs L. D. Kinney et al. Motion to set aside default and judgment continued for one week.

B. M. Ellerbeck vs Jno. O. Midgley et al. Arguments were made in this case on the demurrer of the defendant John R. Winder. The plaintiff was represented by Richards and Richards, with Judge Bowman associated; Dey & Street and Attorney J. H. Moyle appeared for the defendants.

CAPT. MURDOCK'S WIDOW.

She Makes an Appeal to the Residents of Salt Lake.

Her Husband Was the Officer From Fort Douglas Who Was Drowned at Moab Ferry, Grand County.

Editor Deseret News:

Sir—The writer is the widow of the late Captain Daniel H. Murdock, Sixth U. S. Infantry, who was drowned at Moab Ferry, Grand River, Utah, June 5th, 1893.

For two years I have been ill, part of the time nearly unto death. A weakness of the lungs has developed and physicians give me very little hope of recovery. Two months ago my brother and daughter arrived in this city. As we have nothing but my pension to depend upon, they have both to work. My mother has nursed two children at nights, until she is utterly in need of rest. My daughter has taken a position as house maid. We are in great need of clothing.

If these facts were generally known in Salt Lake City, among the tradespeople with whom Captain Murdock dealt so long, I cannot help believing that they would help us now, that I am stricken down, unable to help myself. Half worn clothing would be of great help to us.

Very truly yours,
EMILY MURDOCK.

Mrs. D. H. Murdock, 143 west Jefferson street, Los Angeles, California.

Utah Woman's Silk Association.

The first semi-annual meeting of the Utah Woman's Silk association will be held in the old Federal court room, Wasatch block, corner of East Temple and Second South, on Tuesday, January 22, 1895, at 2 p. m. In order to awaken a greater interest in this very important industry, a cordial invitation is extended to the public. Reports will be made of the work already accomplished and plans for the future discussed.

Signed,
MARGARET R. SALISBURY,
EMMELINE B. WELLS,
ISABELLA E. BENNETT,
ZINA D. H. YOUNG,

AMELIA F. YOUNG,
MARGARET A. CAINE,

Held for Fornication.

Charles Adams, colored, and Lillie Chatterton, a white girl, had a preliminary hearing before Commissioner Greenman yesterday afternoon on the charge of fornication. The pair were found by the police at Coleman's lodging house on Second South street and placed under arrest. They were held to await the action of the grand jury in the sum of $100. Failing to find securities they were taken to the penitentiary.

Spelling Book Author in Town.

J. N. Hunt, one of the authors of the Modern Speller, now in successful use in this city and county, is in the city today. Mr. Hunt is the general agent of Sheldon & Co., publishers, Chicago.

Old People Honored.

A very pleasant surprise party assembled at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. James S. Richards, at No. [illegible] East, Third South street, Tuesday evening last, the occasion being the fifty-third anniversary of the marriage of the aged couple. Mr. and Mrs. Richards were the recipients of many useful and appropriate gifts, and the evening was spent in the enjoyment of music and refreshments, headed by the Caledonian club and their doughty chief, Mr. John Alexander, and had "a glorious time in memory of auld Scotland."

"O. P." WAS VERY HOT.

How a Mounted Policeman Was Imposed Upon By a Mountain Lion Story.

This afternoon Patrolman DeYoung, the representative of the colored colony on the police force, dropped from his patrol-worn beat, into the old city hall and reported that a citizen had approached him a short time before, saying that an immense mountain lion had taken refuge in the brush and woods of a vacant lot in the eastern part of the city and that the residents of that locality were terrified.

As the story was told in a strain of earnestness, Mounted Patrolman Pratt, generally called "O. P." by his brother officers, those letters being initials to his family patronymic, began to assume an air of intense interest and almost before De Young had finished his statement, he slipped on his gloves, buttoned his coat and bolted for the door saying, "That lion and his hide is my meat." In two or three bounds he reached his [illegible] equine that stood at the hitching post in front of the hall, mounted its back, plunged his spurs into its flanks and was gone. He rode like the wind, and the officers say he saw, in fancy, fame, glory, reputation, celebrity, in the rest he hoped to accomplish.

Pretty soon he came back. His was crestfallen, silent, moody, mad. The lion story had been proven a canard and he the victim. Nothing larger or more dangerous than a yellow house cat had been seen in the neighborhood in question. The boys on the force expect to smoke cigars at "O. P.'s" expense for the rest of the month.

Geo. W. Jackman, editor of the Santa Maria Times, Cal., in speaking of the various ailments of children said: "When my children have croup there is only one patent medicine that I ever use, and that is Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It possesses some medical properties that relieve the little sufferers immediately. It is, in my opinion, the best cough medicine in the market." If the remedy is freely given as soon as the croupy cough appears it will prevent the attack. It is also an ideal remedy for whooping cough. There is no danger in giving it to children, as it contains nothing injurious.
