AT THE SEAT OF WAR

John Wilde, an American, in Trouble at Wei Hai Wei.

CHINESE COMMANDERS SUICIDE.

Li Hung Chang Goes to Port Arthur to Arrange Terms of Peace With the Invaders.

CHEFOO, Feb. 16.—All foreigners serving with the Chinese force at Wei Hai Wei, except an American, John Wilde, alias Howie or Harvie, have been set free. Wilde was arrested by the Japanese at Kouale, aboard the French steamer Sydney, with Chang Lee Moore, formerly interpreter to the Chinese legation at Washington, and an Englishman named Cheneron, on the charge of being engaged in a plot to destroy the Japanese warships with torpedoes. He and two companions were released on taking an oath to do nothing to assist the Chinese during the war.

It is reported that Li Hung Chang and one new Chinese envoy, is en route to Port Arthur, where he is to meet the envoys appointed by Japan and arrange the terms for the cessation of the war. It is said Russia and England will offer to mediate between China and Japan.

A report is also in circulation that the foreign representatives at Pekin are again apprehensive of trouble and have ordered that the guards be brought up from their respective war ships at Tien Tsin for the protection of the legations.

TOOK THEIR OWN LIVES.

LONDON, Feb. 16.—This afternoon the Pall Mall Gazette prints a dispatch from Chee Foo reporting the statement that Admiral Ting, the Chinese naval commander at Wei Hai Wei, has committed suicide on account of the reverses to the Chinese forces, and that Admirals Lee and General Chang have also taken their lives for the same reason.

NATIONAL LEAD COMPANY.

The Annual Report Shows a Deficit of $275,184.4.

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—The report of the National Lead company for the year to December 31, 1894, shows net earnings of $1,212,258; dividends paid $1,489,442; deficit $276,184. There was a surplus of $669,555 for 1893 so there still remains a surplus of $392,172. The report ascribes the decrease to the net earnings to the general depression of business and says the company has been unable to reopen its smelters and refining plant by reason of the silver legislation and the imposition of high tariff duties on silver lead ores, which resulted in building up great smelting plants in Mexico. The mortgage indebtedness has been reduced to $12,000.

Refused to Speak on the Subject.

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—The officials of the district attorney's office were mute today when asked as to the truth of the story that ex-Mayor Gilroy, Inspectors Williams, McAvoy and McLaughlin had been indicted by the extraordinary grand jury which yesterday adjourned to March 4th. It is considered likely that the indictments will not be handed up before the grand jury reassembles on March 4th, when it is expected fifty to seventy-five indictments will be returned, some high authority will be presented.

LONDON, Feb. 16.—A dispatch from St. Petersburg says the Carewitch, Grand Duke George, who is wintering in Crimea on account of pulmonary trouble, is expectorating blood. His condition is alarming.

The Brooklyn Strike.

BROOKLYN, Feb. 16.—The Legislative committee appointed to investigate the cause of the trolley railway strike began its labors today. M. J. Connolly, the manager of the strike, stated the case for the operatives.

Mr. Connolly said he did not consider that the employes had struck, but that the situation had been forced upon them by the action of the companies in the locking out of between 200 and 300 of the electrical workmen upon their lines upon their refusal to take the places of the motormen and conductors.

Another cause was that the companies wished to increase the number of "trippers," paying by the trip, whereas the men would be obliged to serve attendance from fourteen to fifteen hours a day, and would be unable to earn more than $2 to $3 a day. The reason the committee had given to issue formal orders to comply with their demands was that they could not affords.

Race War in Texas.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Feb. 16.—A race war that is attracting much attention in southwest Texas is in progress in Uvalde, the county seat of Uvalde county, West of here, between the white and Mexican patrons of the public schools. The white citizens are very indignant because the school trustees permit the Mexican children to attend the same schools with white children, and many of the latter have been taken out of school on that account. A mass meeting of the white citizens was held yesterday and a united protest made against the action of the two races. The school trustees refuse to recede from their position in the matter and the trouble will be carried to higher authority.

Epidemic of the Grip.

ADDISON, Mass., Feb. 16.—An epidemic of grip is now prevalent here. Over 200 cases have been reported, one physician alone having forty patients.

Sliding Toward the Valley.

OAKLAND, Cal., Feb. 16.—Portions of the Berryman Hills south of Berkeley are sliding toward the valley. About five acres have shifted their position. The foundations of the hills seem to be solid enough. It is the entire surface stratum about thirty feet in depth that is gradually descending.

NOT THROUGH MEXICAN COINS.

No Help to the Free Silver Men in the United States.

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 16.—The general opinion in this capital is that the attempt of the free silver men of the United States to trade free coinage by the channel of Mexican coins is not worthy of serious consideration. It is assumed it could be successfully operated under any circumstances, but aside from this is the fact, of which the free silver government is to be informed, that the Mexican mints are no longer coining silver coins of the denominations named. The dies have been destroyed and the quarter, eighth and sixteenth of a dollar have been withdrawn from circulation. To such an extent that now the only piece of the old issue at all common is the peseta, or 25-cent piece.

INDICTMENTS FOUND

Against Officials Who Are Famous by the Lexow Committee.

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—A morning paper published a statement to the effect that the special grand jury which has been in session for the past few days has prepared 1 indictments against some of the officials in connection with the municipal administration. The indictments were expected last night but were not quite ready when Judge Ingraham adjourned his court.

The result of the special grand jury work was known to 2 only except the prosecuting attorney until last night when a report was circulated to the effect that indictments had been returned and that the papers were being prepared for transmission to court.

CAPTURED SCHOONER.

Crew Freed at San Francisco Find a Revolver Used.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 16.—The crew of the Dolphin, whose arrival from Pagos Bay on the 2nd ult. was previously reported, passed a rapid clearance off the Cliff House. The identity of the vessel found not to be made out was only a general description of the crew as given to the officers of the steamer. It was exactly sixty days from the time that the vessel was signed, and the first officer and a couple of sailors located a boat and made a close inspection of the overturned vessel. Off the wreck Point Reyes bore northeast by three-quarters east and distant about twenty-two and a half miles. Bodega head was northeast by half north and about seven miles off.

As soon as the Umatilla reported the Gwelet the men Vigilant, Fearless and Fox King were sent to search. The Vigilant took a course outside the spot designated by the officers of the Umatilla, while the Fearless went inside of it. The Fox King steamed along between the two tugs of the Spreckels company and straight for the spot marked in the report of the captain of the coast steamer. The Fox King sighted it first and was soon alongside. By the time she reached the derelict the sail was awash and little of it showed above the water. The captain of the Red Stack tug took possession of it and was preparing to tow the deserted vessel into port when the two tugs of the rival companies headed for the Golden Gate. It will be a hard tow and it is likely that the Fox King will get into port with the schooner before dark afternoon. There is no reason to hope the crew of the unknown wrecked schooner were saved. A vessel of her size would carry about six men, and they all most likely found death beneath the waves.

ILLINOIS'S LOSS.

Fourteen Thousand Dollars on Account of Salter-Ramsay Failure.

CHICAGO, Feb. 16.—A special to the Record from Mattoonian, Ill., says:

In spite of the fact that Chicago bondsmen paid $900,000 to cover the shortage of the late state treasurer, it appears that the state will still lose heavily through the $14,000 on account of the Salter-Ramsay failure. When James Bater was appointed warden of the Southern Illinois penitentiary Messrs. Salter and Ramsay went on Baker's bond. In return, it is alleged, Baker deposited $14,000 state funds in Salter's Lebanon bank. The bank has failed and so has Salter.

Killed the Prisoners.

ATHUATON, Puebla, Feb. 16.—Four of the prisoners implicated in the Nochi camp shooting affair were shot this morning by order of Captain Pregoso. He had charge of them and with an escort was conducting them to Huejotzingo, the seat of the district. They made a break for liberty and he gave orders to fire. With the result indicated. Their bodies were taken up by the local judge and carried to the village of Guadalupe for the inquest. Nearly all those connected with the Nochi shooting affair have been captured or killed.

A Princess in San Francisco.

Rights of Students to Vote.

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—A decision has been handed down by the supreme court in general terms denying the right of colleges or seminaries to vote, and affirming the order made by Justice Barrett to strike the names from the list of voters of students in the theological seminaries in this city.

The decision states, "The constitution says that no person shall be deemed to have gained or lost a residence while a student in a seminary of learning."

Justice Barrett discussed saying:

"A person has an absolute legal right to change his residence or domicile and the mere fact that he is a student does not prevent him from acquiring a new domicile. None of these students had a home elsewhere. If any of them had died here his will would be proven and admitted to probate here. Each student was liable to assess on his property and also liable to military duty under the law of the state."

The case will be taken to the court of appeals.

AGAINST McKANE.

Decision That He Must Account for His Stewardship.

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—By a decision rendered today by Referee Chester John Y. McKane, ex-chairman of Gravesend, who is serving a long term of imprisonment in Sing Sing for juggling with the registration lists of Coney Island, must restore an estate variously estimated at $150,000 to $250,000 to Mrs. Catherine Bear and daughter Katie, the widow and daughter of the late Paul Baur, the Coney Island hotel keeper, who died at Bloomingdale insane asylum January 2, 1890. In addition is relinquishing the property, McKane has within sixty days now file an accounting, showing what he has done with the money collected.

THE NEW BOND SALE

Severe Denunciation of the Government in Congress.

WOLCOTT'S SENSATIONAL SPEECH.

Senator Teller Characterizes the Bond Transaction as a Monstrous Fraud.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 16.—In the Senate today Dubois (Idaho) presented a telegram from Prescott, Arizona, which recited that at a meeting of Republicans in Arizona, it was unanimously resolved that the Republican sentiment of the territory was "unanimously in favor of the admission of Arizona to statehood the present session of Congress."

Allen (Neb.) presented a resolution which was agreed to, calling on the secretary of the treasury for a list of national banks which had been depositaries of public funds during the last ten years, interest, terms of contract, etc.

Hill's resolution which announces the policy of the government as to circulation and on the payments of gold obligations in the best money available, then came up.

Morrison offered a substitute, declaring the policy of the government should be toward maintaining parity between the two metals, so every silver dollar should be equal to every other dollar. Should there be any disturbance in the parity, then the bonds would be paid in standard gold dollars.

Wolcott moved to lay the resolution and substitute on the table.

Hill declared himself as entirely for metallism and hoped to see the restoration of silver assumed. He was rejoiced to read the Associated Press dispatch just received from Berlin announcing that action has been taken looking toward the rehabilitation of silver. "This declaration of the policy of the government should receive the support of every senator," said he, "unless there is a desire to put us on a monometallist or silver mono-metallist. It is a wise resolution for the present emergency." Hill said the declaration first announced as the true policy of the government, our efforts should be turned to the accomplishment of bimetalism. "I need hardly remind both political parties that this is what they profess," he pronounced.

Stewart in a speech bristling with constitutionism and denunciation of the President for the recent bond sale, declared he was informed by a president of a New York bank that the bond syndicate would never be compelled to pay more than ten per cent of its investment; the bonds it had purchased at 104.01 was simply being taken at 1.12 in New York, and there was great demand for the conduct that figure. The bond resolution, he declared, had attained the government credit. The President's message to Congress contained the lying statement that he desired to maintain the parity of our currency, when he had already negotiated contracts which discredited silver.

In a speech to the Senate this afternoon Teller arraigned the President in severe terms. He characterized the recent bond transaction as a most monstrous fraud. During the four years he had been a student of the affairs of this country there never before had been a time when an opportunity was offered for a public charge of dishonesty in the financial transactions of the government. It was idle for the senators to say that this was the best the President could do. With bonds less convertible selling on the market at 1.10 it was fatuous to say a better price than 1.09 could not be obtained. It was impossible to characterize too strongly a transaction which placed the credit of the best government in the world at 4 per cent below that of Egypt.

FOR SILVER.

Germans Talk of Another Monetary Conference.

BERLIN, Feb. 16.—The Reichstag today adopted the resolution submitted yesterday by Count Von Mirebach, instructing the federal government to issue invitations for an international monetary conference to take action for the rehabilitation of silver as a circulating medium. Count Von Paseldewsky Wagner, secretary of state for the imperial treasury, on behalf of the government, declared their sympathy with the object aimed at.

White Ribbon Convention.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 16.—The greater portion of the morning session of the convention of White Ribboners today was consumed in the discussion of the special needs of the W. C. T. U. in the official capital, and how they may be met. The discussion was followed by devotional service conducted by Mrs. J. Fawler Willing, the national evangelist.

THE HAYWARD DEFENSE.

Progress of the Exciting Minneapolis Murder Case.

MINNEAPOLIS, Feb. 16.—The defense in the Hayward murder trial today placed on the stand Mrs. Maggie Wachter, the stenographer of Blatt's attorney. On the day before Christmas the attorney took her into Blatt's office for the purpose of taking down a statement from the prisoner. No one else was present and she took down such words as the attorney directed. Irwin then read from the statement inquired to Blatt, saying to him and Atty Hayward planned the murder and was now on his way to Lake Calhoun to arrange the details a week before. He asked Miss Wachter if Blatt made the statement he had read to the attorney. Before she could answer the state interposed an objection on the ground that whatever statement had been made by Blatt to his attorney was invisible under the state statute. The court finally ruled that under the circumstances the evidence was inadmissible, but gave the defense until Monday to produce authorities which may change his opinion. Ex Miss Wachter was dismissed and the shell on which the wounds on Miss Ging are illustrated was sent for. Three physicians were asked hypothetical questions bearing on the question of a fractured skull. Dr. H. C. Morris thought it highly improbable that the double fracture had been caused by a fall from a buggy as explained by Blatt. Dr. H. D. Hanks thought it next to impossible. Dr. C. D. Stevens said he had a long story experience but he never knew of a case where a fall of three feet, like the one described, had produced such fracture of the skull. Court then adjourned until Monday.

To Investigate the Seal Fisheries.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 16.—An important action on the seal fisheries in Bering sea was taken today by the House ways and means committee. It was agreed to authorize the President to invite the governments of Great Britain, Russia and Japan to meet with the United States in sending a joint commission to investigate the seal fisheries of the north Pacific and Bering sea. The President would be authorized to arrange the agreement with these powers for the protection of the seals, until the report of the commission has been made and acted upon.

The secretary of the treasury will be empowered to take steps to collect under the terms of the Dingley bill, in case these nations refuse to join the United States in the investigation.

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 16.—John McBride today by unanimous report of the committee of fifteen was found not guilty of corruption in connection with the Hocking valley strike. The report said Mark Wild, who preferred the charges, is a blackmailer and has confessed extortion. Pelan, of Indiana, president; Cornelius Miller, of Ohio, vice-president, and re-elected Patrick McBride, secretary and treasurer.

LITTLE USE FOR SNOW PLOWS.

A Very Open Winter for Utah and Wyoming Railroads.

"This has been the most open winter for railroads within the recollection of the oldest officials," said a Union Pacific official today. "Not one blockade has occurred on our roads or on any branch thereof in Utah or Wyoming and not a snowplow has yet been taken out of the shads."

This is something almost phenomenal in this region and is the pleasant experience of the Rio Grande Western, Union Pacific and all other Utah roads. There has been no delays whatever in mail, passenger or freight transportation caused by deep snows. Trains being able to arrive and depart on schedule time during the whole of the winter. The fact that there is less snow along the mountain routes then usual is not alone responsible for this state of affairs. There has also been less wind and consequently less drifting.

After the rendering of other songs and recitations the entertainment closed with an operetta entitled Market Day.

SHAKING WITH SHEEP AGUE

Another Abnormal Fear of a Great Flock "Invasion."

Not Much of Consulting Colorado Ovidiane, but Scotty Wonderful in Counting Utah Nations.

Western Colorado stockmen have been seized with another attack of Utah sheep ague, and the shaking has been heard with great distinctness even in the capital of the state, as declared by a brief article in the Denver Republican of Friday, which says:

"A communication was yesterday received by Governor McIntire from Delta, saying Utah sheepmen are preparing to invade Colorado again. The statement was made that there are 100,000 sheep on the border ready to move across the line as soon as the snow is off the ground. Inasmuch as the governor had just three days before renewed the sheep quarantine, State Veterinary Surgeon Greenwell says the quarantine will be carried out to the strictest letter, and no sheep be allowed to cross the border until the requirements of the quarantine are carried out. These entail the cost of inspection and dipping."

A News representative has made it his business to assume these pain to consult Utah sheep men concerning this alleged invasion and the unanimous verdict has been that it is almost wholly imaginary. There is not now and never has been, they say, 100,000 Utah sheep in that vicinity and only a few flocks have ever crossed the border into Colorado. Last year when it was claimed 100,000 sheep from this Territory had invaded Colorado at state giving grounds careful inquiry was made and Mr. John A. Sharp, one of this county's best known sheep men and a gentleman of unquestionable integrity, after a personal investigation, found that the trouble was caused by less than 10,000 sheep had not crossed into Colorado at all but whose owners were anxious to take them over the line for a few months, giving that state the full benefit of the tax revenue. It is said there are very few if any more sheep on the same range now. At the same time it was ascertained that large and numerous herds of Colorado cattle were on the Utah side of the line, something to which little or no objection was offered.

It is believed in certain quarters and is very strongly hinted that Dave Day, of Utah, initiate deportation issue, is assisting materially in the interests of the Utah sheep state and to the vexation of Colorado sentiment in its favor. As no mathematical calculations were made as far since in the counties of Colorado Indians in this Territory, it is not surprising that no or any other gentleman of the cause of it should again wander so far from the facts in the case.

The Demurrer to the Writ of Prohibition Against Commissioner McNally Sustained.—Other Business.

Mr. Singer brings an injunction suit against the defendants, McCornick, Hanauer et al, to stop the sale of the Copper plant.

This afternoon the case was called up, and by unanimous consent it was ordered that a continuance be had until May 10th, the temporary restraining order to remain in force. There are prospects of the case being settled out of court before that time.

DIVORCE GRANTED.

J. N. Aldrich was granted a divorce from Fannie M. Aldrich on the ground of desertion. It appears that the parties were married at Bridgeville, Delta, on August 18, 1887, and that she deserted him in 1891 and has since then refused and still refuses to live with him.

In the case of the People vs Myrtle Doe and Minnie Hicks, defendants submitted upon demurrer to writ of prohibition, the demurrer was sustained, Commissioner McNally is therefore decided to have jurisdiction in the case and they will go down to trial on Monday next.

Fred Simon et al vs John C. Duncan et al. Default. Judgment as prayed and $20 attorney's fee.

The case of Salt Lake City vs Morris et al was dismissed.

With the City's Police.

This has been an exceedingly quiet day in police circles. No court was held this afternoon as is the constant custom, and there was no occasion for one as there were no offenders today. Only one arrest was made and that was effected on an suspected charge. The alleged culprit gave his name as John Midgley, and occupation as miner. In this connection it should be understood that he is neither Kilkenny kin to the well known family of that name.

The fire and police commissioners will hold a regular meeting on Monday night next. Should markets only are slates for consideration. There is a unanimous cry in the department and on the board against the sentiment of securing get a month policemen. If such peace officers were employed they declare that there would not be they have such powerful days in the police force as this has proved for they argue that men must live even if they are obliged to extend an open itching palm behind them. As Chief Minister Noble said today: "Salt Lake can better afford to pay ten policemen fair salaries and get good men and good service than give them miserable wages and get poor protection and a police force that will be a signal for bunkmakers and criminals to flock under."

Sixth Ward Entertainment.
