JAPAN AND CHINA.

The Former Country Will Undoubtedly Be Victorious,

SAYS AN ORIENTAL TRAVELER.

The Chinese a Nation of Superstition and Laziness—Poorly Prepared for War.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 1.—James M. Hollins, a newspaper man of this city who recently returned from a three years stay in Japan, during which time he was associated with Japanese soldiers and traveled considerably throughout that country and on the Corean coast, said to an Associated Press reporter: "Japan will without doubt come off victorious over China in the present struggle. If numbers amounted to much Japan would not be a morsel for China, as there are 400,000,000 Chinese and only 40,000,000 Japanese.

"Because of the vast expanse of water over there the most of the fighting must necessarily be done at sea. The Japanese navy is new and thoroughly equipped. Their soldiers are brave and disciplined. Japan has culled from every nation the cream of modern warfare and has the sympathy of the civilized world.

"On the other hand, China is a country of superstition and laziness. It has some large war vessels, but they have not been well kept and are dirty and poorly prepared for an engagement. Chinese soldiers are patriotic, but are not disciplined. The two engagements already reported prove this statement. The largest man of war in the Chinese navy has already been sunk, and thousands of Chinese lost their lives, while hardly a scratch was got by the Japanese. The fact that China has a land inlet to Corea will not amount to much in the present struggle, as any number of Chinese soldiers would not avail on Corean soil before an open fire of the Japanese fleet. The Japanese could route the Chinese army from nearly any Corean city by means of their fleet, as the sea touches on all sides of that country. My theory is that if a prolonged war should follow China might whip Japan by sheer force of numbers, as China could swarm the Japanese islands like locusts, and it would not matter much if even a half million Chinese lost their lives in the attempt. But in this event Russia or even America or England would interfere, as I have said before, the sympathy of the civilized world is with Japan and will not stand off and see her crushed."

Unrest in Southern Countries.

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—The Herald's Panama special says:

The correspondent in Maracaibo, Venezuela, sends word that a bloody conflict has taken place in Tachira, between customs house officials and Venezuelan smugglers, who were endeavoring to smuggle arms into Colombia.

The Herald's Lima special says: The steamer Chalco set off with a force of 800 cavalry and infantry for Pacas Mayo today. That town, together with Salaverry, is still in the hands of the revolutionists.

The Herald's Valparaiso special says: Private letters received here from Rio de Janeiro say the restrictions there are worse now than during the revolution. Passenger travel is not allowed to land, while a departure by ship calls for the utmost scrutiny on the part of the authorities.

Brennan Arrested.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Aug. 1.—The arrest of J. R. Brennan on a train from Danville last night may prove important. Brennan is known to have mixed up with the strikers at that place. He quarreled with Engineer Byrnes, who was mysteriously murdered last Saturday, and the engineer slapped him. Brennan is said to have declared he would kill Byrnes. The conductor of the train from Danville was puzzled at the conflicting accounts Brennan gave of himself. Although known to have lived in Danville, he denied he ever heard of Byrnes's murder. He was locked in a coach of the car and turned over to the authorities here.

Boy Bandits Captured.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Aug. 1.—Bob Roy and Frank Egan, two of the Morrilton band of boy bandits, have been captured, eight miles below the city heading for New Orleans in a houseboat loaded with plunder. They admitted that they were suspected of connection with the gang. They lie in jail awaiting the arrival of Conway county officers. It turns out that the boat had been built for the purpose of trading at New Orleans, the plunder they had obtained.

A BANK ROBBERY.

Members of the Notorious Cook Gang the Perpetrators.

GUTHRIE, O. T., July 31.—Another bank robbery with all the trimmings of a Dalton raid was enacted near here today. As a result one citizen, J. M. Mitchell, a barber, is dead, and one of the outlaws, who gives his name as Elmer Lucas, is dying. Lucas is 21 years of age, and says his comrades were members of the notorious Cook gang that has recently given territory officers many troubles.

[illegible] after 10 o'clock this morning [illegible] armed men rode into Chandler [illegible] the east, dismounted back of the Lincoln County Bank, and three [illegible] inside while two stood guard [illegible] with Winchesters. Two [illegible] covered the president, Harvey [illegible], and his brother, the cashier, while [illegible] that they help clean the [illegible] "quietly rather quick," while the [illegible] Hoyt was seriously sick, and [illegible] to walk to the safe and open it.

[illegible] a Winchester was pointed [illegible] he would not stand long [illegible] the first and the [illegible] looked him and went at him, [illegible] guard called out that it [illegible] to go, and the three men [illegible] between $200 and $300 lying [illegible] counter and ran out to the [illegible]. Meantime the guard at the [illegible] and killed J. M. Mitchell, [illegible] to give the alarm. The [illegible] had scarcely passed out of the city when a posse was mounted and started in pursuit. Twice were their horses shot from under the fleeing men, but they compelled the farmers coming to town to give up their mounts and went on. Finally a battle was fought for nearly fifteen minutes, when one of the robbers was shot through the hip and the others scattered and disappeared in the hills of the Creek country.

The names of the escaped bandits are given as Bill and Tom Cook, leaders of the gang; Jack Starr and Tulsa Jack, who number among the most desperate in the territory.

BUTLER AND TILLMAN.

The Senator and the Governor Have a Set-to on a Train.

CHARLESTON, S. C., July 31.—After the campaign meeting at Union today, Governor Tillman and Senator Butler met on the train going to Spartanburg, and a wordy altercation followed concerning the premature publication of an article on the dispensary question, to which reference had been made by the governor in his speech; so that when Senator Butler followed, an attempt was made by Tillman's supporters to howl him down. The senator sought out the governor in the Pullman car and upbraided him for bad faith.

The governor showed no inclination to adjust the matter, whereupon Senator Butler exclaimed:

"I want to say that you perpetrated a deliberate fraud today. I have come to tell you that these matters must be settled personally, and I'll meet you anywhere. You know where to find me."

"I know," said Governor Tillman. "You know you put those hoodlums up to howling me down, and you know you perpetrated a — lie when you did so," continued Senator Butler.

Colonel Cangman interjecting: "Yes, he is a liar, — — him," and with this he made a move towards his hip pocket. He was crowded to one side in the commotion.

Governor Tillman at this juncture arose and said: "Now, General Butler, you are old and one-legged."

"And you are one-eyed," retorted Senator Butler.

"That doesn't hurt my physical power. You know I'm not afraid of you," said the governor.

"I don't suppose you are, but you can find me at any time," was the reply.

General Butler made some reference to blackguards howling at him.

The quarrel continued some time until Deputy Constable Hawkins appealed to them to be quiet, as he would lose his job if he permitted such things in his car. Thereupon the altercation ceased.

The Minneapolis.

WASHINGTON, July 31.—The report of the trial board on the recent trial trip of the Minneapolis was completed and submitted today to Secretary Herbert by Commodore Belknap. According to the report the preliminary run from Philadelphia to Boston was made by the Minneapolis in 17 hours. In starting on her trial trip the vessel's displacement was 7,475 tons. The speed attained, after making tidal corrections, was 23.073 knots per hour. The performance of the machinery was highly satisfactory. The boilers performed well under forced draught and showed no evidence of priming.

The ship is believed to be staunch, sea-worthy and handy in an eminent degree.

Japs Reported Defeated.

SHANGHAI, July 31.—It is reported today that the Japanese forces attacked the Chinese position at Yashan on Friday and Saturday last. The Japanese, it is said, were repulsed with heavy loss. The Chinese loss was trivial.

Lack of Official News.

WASHINGTON, July 31.—The state department is seriously concerned at the lack of official news at this critical juncture from China and Japan, nothing having been received from representatives in those countries since the brief dispatch of Sunday from Mr. Denby, charge d'affairs at Pekin, stating that hostilities had broken out and that war was inevitable.

It appears that the British government has had trouble in communicating with its diplomatic representatives in China and Japan, and there is ground for suspicion that obstacles are purposely being interposed. Should this be the case the government responsible is likely to receive a severe remonstrance.

Could Not Stand the Climate.

PHILADELPHIA, July 31.—A pitiable sight was witnessed today upon the arrival of the Red Star Line steamer Illinois, Captain Ferguson, from Antwerp, when twelve Indians, comprising part of Pawnee Bill's Wild West show, stepped ashore.

They bore but little resemblance to the Indians which sailed from this port on April 21st for the World's Fair at Antwerp. Gaunt looking, hollow-eyed, they excited the pity of the crowds of spectators that usually witness the arrival of an emigrant steamer. Their show at Antwerp had been a failure and the climate had soon wrecked the constitutions of the Indians. They left immediately for the reservation in South Dakota. They are all members of the Sioux tribe.

FIGHTING THE FLAMES.

Forest Fire Raging Near Lick Observatory.

SAN JOSE, Cal., July 31.—A forest fire, which has been burning since Sunday, has devastated 1,000 acres in the vicinity of Mount Hamilton, and is now raging on the north side of the Lick Observatory.

All the professors and the residents of the neighborhood are fighting the flames in the endeavor to save the cottages on the hill. The observatory is not believed to be in danger.

As Gilroy Sees It.

NEW YORK, July 31.—Mayor Gilroy returned from Saratoga today and had something to say about the coming election:

"Tammany," said the mayor, "is not bound to select a man for mayor from within the ranks of the organization this fall. We may nominate a man who is not a member of Tammany Hall, if it is thought to be to the interests of the Democratic party. The fight this year is the preliminary skirmish to the real battle in 1896. If the Republicans win this city and state next fall, there is not the slightest doubt that they will carry the country in 1896. They will also elect the next Congress and leave the President without the support of either branch of the legislature during the last two years of his term. My view of the condition is that it behooves every Democrat to make sacrifices in the interest of his party."

THE STOLEN GOLD CASK.

Probably One of the Most Remarkable Robberies on Record.

The Police of the United States Will be Asked to Aid in the Investigation.

PARIS, July 31.—The police of France are investigating what is probably one of the most remarkable robberies on record, and it is believed the police of the United States will be asked if they have not already been requested to take a hand in the investigation. In some unaccountable manner a cask of gold from New York, valued at $50,000, has been stolen while in transit from Havre to Paris.

The French line steamer La Touraine, Captain Santelli, left New York on July 21st for Havre with forty casks of American gold on board, valued at $2,000,000, and consigned to various concerns. She arrived here July 29th. The forty casks of gold are believed to have been safely landed at Havre, and they are also said to have been placed complete on board the train running between Havre and this city.

But when the precious casks were counted upon arrival here, there were only thirty-nine of them, one cask, containing $50,000 in American gold, having by some means disappeared. The disappearance of the cask of gold has given rise to a number of police theories, the strongest being that the gold was followed from New York by expert thieves, who patiently awaited their chance to abstract one of the casks.

The police, pending the termination of their investigation, will not give any particulars concerning the robbery, but it is believed that several persons were concerned in the theft, for the cask would have weighed nearly 200 pounds, and even a very strong man could not have carried such a load for any great distance.

Among the theories being investigated is one which may turn out to be correct. It is that the thieves hid themselves in the car in which the gold was subsequently placed and that while on their way to Paris, one cask of gold was thrown out of the train and the robbers jumped after it.

An Associated Press reporter, who inquired into the facts connected with the missing treasure, learned that the casks were transferred from the steamer "La Touraine" at Havre to the railway for shipment for Paris. The officers of the railway company gave the steamship company a receipt for the gold and placed it in a locked and sealed van in charge of a special clerk. On the arrival of the train at Paris, the wagon containing the gold was taken to the ... department of the railroad and the consignees were advised of its whereabouts.

M. Lazard said: "When our clerks applied for the delivery of the forty casks consigned to us there was no sign that the van or seal had been tampered with, but only thirty-nine casks were found. We telephoned to Havre and received replies that everything had been properly verified and receipts given."

Successful Rainmaking.

YANKTON, S. D., July 31.—Ten days ago rain making experiments were begun in this vicinity under the direction of two citizens who visited a Kansas rain-maker, obtained his chemical formula and received instructions in its use. One ton of chemicals were consumed and last night one of the heaviest rainstorms of the summer was ushered in. It extended over an area twenty miles square in all directions from the experiment station near this city, and in some localities as much as two and a half inches of water fell. The rain saves late corn and insures a fall crop of rye.

Wilson Says He Is Innocent.

KANSAS CITY, July 31.—Joseph K. Wilson, who is held here awaiting requisition papers on which he is to be taken to Colorado to answer the charge of leading the mob that tarred and feathered Adjutant General Tarsney, had a preliminary hearing this morning. Wilson solidly maintains his innocence. Wilson claims that on the night in question he remained at the home of a friend named Billy Hancock, playing cards until 2 o'clock in the morning.

THE LIVER.

This organ plays a very important role in the drama of Digestion, making the performance either comedy or tragedy, according to whether it (the liver) is bright and active, or sluggish or torpid. The liver's duty is to secrete bile, help prepare the food for assimilation, and to purify the blood. If it fails in these employments or performs them imperfectly, the entire system is soon at strife and severe. When the liver is not overworked, no organ in the entire body is more compassionate. But just give it a trifle too much to do, or present with improper food for manipulation, and it will soon enter a protest. If the strain is too speedily relieved, the organ becomes inflamed and swollen, and digestion disorganized, and the blood impure. Symptoms of disordered liver are dull headache, bad taste in the mouth, coated tongue, sick stomach, pain under the right shoulder blade, irregular sour risings in the throat, dizziness, black spots before the eyes and shooting pains in the back. These symptoms do not all exist at the same time, of course, but enough of them will be present to prove that the sufferer needs the advice and treatment of some experienced and successful specialists. Drs. Shores & Shores are the most successful in Salt Lake, and their many cures of cases similar to the above is proof that you need not suffer, but go to them and be restored to health.
