DURRANT'S DEFENSE.

Mr. Dickinson's Opening Argument for the Alleged Murderer.

TAKING A WEAK CAUSE STRONGER.

The Reliability of the Roll Call the Pivot on Which the Fate of the Defendant Hinges.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 25.—General Dickinson made the opening argument for the defense in the trial of Theodore Durrant today. Although the air in the crowded courtroom was stifling, he spoke from morning to night, and then announced that he would not conclude his address until the court should meet next Tuesday.

Dickinson's speech was in the nature of a surprise, from the fact that he did not attack the integrity of the prosecution's witnesses or denounce the methods of the police, as Attorney Deuprey intimated would be done in his opening address to the jury. Nevertheless, it is generally conceded that he made the best of what he considered a weak case. He based his whole defense on the reliability of the roll call, which shows that Durrant attended Mr. Lomax's lecture on the afternoon of April 3rd, and contended the prosecution's pivot was that the call was incorrect.

Mrs. Lind and Mrs. Crossit, two elderly witnesses who testified that they saw Durrant and Miss Lamont near the church, were treated gently. Dickinson said that while he believed the witnesses told what they believed to be the truth, he was convinced that their minds had been warped upon by reading newspapers about the case. In proof of this theory he cited the fact that neither witness told what she said she knew of the case soon after the murder, before the crime took place. The testimony of Mrs. Vogel and the three street girls who swore they saw Durrant and Miss Lamont walk down Filbert and Mrs. Lind and Mrs. Crossit, in front of the Normal school, was elicited in the same manner. Yeats and old age, he said, were the two points in his favor, but he had let great injustice in the statements and the mind nearly to be mistaken.

Touching upon the contention of the prosecution that Durrant's motive for the murder was the same unknown passion that compelled Jack the Ripper to commit the White Chapel murders in London, Mr. Dickinson challenged the prosecution to show anything in the testimony submitted which tended to show that Durrant was not a moral man. With regard to the story told by Durrant on the stand to the effect that a stranger tapped him on the shoulder and gave him a clue to the whereabouts of Miss Lemont, General Dickinson said the great number of anonymous letters received from cranks by the attorneys for the defense made it probable that some one might have given Durrant such a clue.

ENGLAND'S POLICY.

No Entirely Agreeable to the People of British Guiana.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—The state department is in possession of the full text of the dispatches sent by Joseph Chamberlain, secretary of state for the colonies to the British cabinet, to Sir Charles Leah, governor general of British Guiana, concerning the strengthening of the frontier, the increase of the police and the purchase of Maxim guns in the British Guiana territory. The department has been furnished also with the detailed action of the high council of British Guiana upon the recommendations of Minister Chamberlain.

These proceedings give the full text of the offer of the governor general for the purchase of a Maxim gun and ammunition, uniform, arms and accoutrements. They also make the surprising disclosure that the high council of British Guiana, after the ministry had severely arraigned Minister Chamberlain for his precipitate and ill-reasoned mounting Maxim guns, defeated the resolutions for their purchase by a vote of 10 to 8, thus rejecting the policy laid down by the British cabinet.

The state department was put in possession of the information on Wednesday last in an official communication from a high member of the diplomatic corps, who regarded the subject as of such importance that Secretary Olney should be in possession of the facts.

Never has or ever will outlive its usefulness—Dr. Price's Baking Powder.

THE WAR SCARE.

The English Papers Think Great Britain Must Interfere in Asia.

LONDON, Oct. 25.—The afternoon papers of this city all publish long articles, agreeing that British intervention in the far east is necessary.

The St. James Gazette says: Even war with Russia would be less disastrous than to allow her to get without a blow to get such a grip upon China. Russia would treat us as the other powers and choke off their commerce. Unless Russia and China give the necessary assurances, it is a case of an ultimatum, and perhaps the most serious step our diplomacy has had since the Crimean war.

The Pall Mall Gazette sums up the startling news from the far east with the statement that "Russia has woo'ed China," and in the course of a long article on the subject adds: "If this treaty is to stand, roll up the map of Asia."

Since this important news was published, the greatest activity has been displayed in the government offices here, particularly at the foreign office and at the admiralty, and the coming and going of messengers was continuous throughout the morning and business hours of the afternoon. At the different clubs the Far Eastern question was the chief topic of conversation. The gravity of affairs in Venezuela seems almost completely dropped out of consideration in the alarm of the moment. Nobody seems to doubt the report that by the recently agreed upon Russo-China treaty Russia has obtained a title to which the most ardent Russian claims is not applicable, which may cause a great war.

The correspondent of the Times at Hong Kong, who usually sees the situation from a Chinese standpoint, is inclined to believe "in these circumstances" that Great Britain must be prepared to see Russia establish a protectorate over Corea, and to see Russia obtain a lease of Port Arthur. It is but moderate to suppose that if Russia attempts such a step, England and Japan will form an effective and determined alliance. If Lord Salisbury will only be able to make up his mind what to do and how to do it, he has a chance to gain high credit for himself.

Secretary Sherman's New Role.

CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—A special to the Chicago News from Washington says: Senator Sherman, despite his years, will in all probability be an active participant in the Republican national convention of 1896. The role will be a new part for the senator. In the conventions of 1880, 1884 and 1888 of his party he was a candidate for President, either active or passive, and if necessary will attend the convention. He was a silent figure in the proceedings of 1892. His announcement now that he is not a candidate, is accepted by the world, that he has at last given up the ambition of his life and is now outspoken for McKinley, is made for a purpose.

The senator has been asked by friends of McKinley to become one of the delegates-at-large at next year's convention, and will, in all probability, be appointed to preside in place of Omaha's favorite son. The information comes from a friend of McKinley.

To Redistrict Wisconsin.

CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—A special from Milwaukee, Wis., says: There will be a special session of the legislature in January. This is considered certain by the fact that the ward boundaries are to be changed in this city, in accordance with the provisions of a law passed at the last session, and if the ward boundaries are thus changed, it will be necessary to reapportion the assembly and senate districts by the new ward lines, a rule laid down by the supreme court in its decision on the gerrymander three two years ago. With a session called in accordance with the provisions of a law making it obligatory, the claim will be set up that the session is a "regular" one in the intent of the law so as to relieve the strangling of election districts. The Republicans, it is said, will then go ahead and redistrict the entire state, with the figures of the recent state census as a basis. The Democrats claim that the law regarding the apportionment of the state is so worded that it can be done only at a regular session, and will appeal to the Supreme Court.

International Chess Games.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—The Brooklyn Chess club received the following message from Sir George Newnes yesterday:

"Message received. We will meet and endeavor to arrange the representative match, but in November it is impossible; would await Williams's returning, say January."

The Brooklyn club thereupon replied as follows:

"We answer our challenge as to date of play, as you propose."

The match between England and America, eight a side, will therefore take place in January.

This afternoon and evening the second game of the match between Lipschutz and J. W. Schmeltzer was played at the Manhattan Chess club. The latter opened with a queen's gambit, which Lipschutz declined to accept. After forty-seven moves Schmeltzer won.

Port Pays 50 Cents on the Dollar.

LONDON, Oct. 25.—Sir Robert Peel has compromised with his creditors at 50 per cent. Mrs. Langtry, who, it was rumored about a month ago, was contemplating marriage with Sir Robert, so as to enable her to obtain a divorce from her husband, was among the persons to whom he was indebted. He owes her about £4,500.

Will Pay for the Convention.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 25.—The Baldwin Men's league, of St. Louis, this afternoon appointed a committee to canvass for a guarantee fund of $25,000 to secure the Republican national convention for St. Louis in 1896. Assurances of support were had from several members of the national committee and the cooperation of some members of the national executive committee was also promised.

A Forger's Escape.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 25.—The case of J. C. Duff, the young forger from Rochester, N. Y., who successfully imposed false drafts upon a number of jewelry firms a few months ago, has been set for trial in the superior court for November 7th.

It is said that the chances now are that Duff will escape punishment for his crimes owing to the suicide of Detective Colly, to whom he made a statement after arrest.

Van Alen Drops Out from Viola.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Oct. 25.—J. J. Van Alen, who figured unpleasantly in the domestic scandal in which his wife's family is involved, was not arraigned today on the charges preferred by Col. Cull. In fact no one seems to know the whereabouts of Mr. Van Alen, though he is reported to have been seen at the Knickerbocker club in New York yesterday. The report that Col. and Mrs. Cull have agreed upon a settlement is worth further publicity in view of the positively denied by Mrs. Cull's attorneys.

Not one failure appears to mar the fame of Price's Cream Baking Powder.

ELOPED WITH THE COACHMAN.

The Daughter of a Chicago Million aire Flies.

CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—Miss Schmidt, daughter of the millionaire brewer, C. R. Schmidt, of this city, has eloped with coachman's coachman. Wednesday morning Miss Schmidt attended to her household duties as usual. On Wednesday afternoon she left home, saying she was going shopping down town. That was the last any member of the Schmidt family saw of her.

The first information the family had that Edna had eloped was when a note was found on Mr. Schmidt's room, which ended as follows:

"When you read this I shall be married."

"I have seen no marriage license published," said Mr. Schmidt, last night, "so I suppose they went to Milwaukee to be married. I have made no effort to stop them, and shall make none. Edna became of age yesterday, and, if she was, could do as she pleased. They must be content with the lot they have chosen."

The groomsman, Ernest Waltz, was discharged by Brewer Schmidt three weeks ago. He is a German 23 years of age.

THE VANDERBILT WEDDING.

Three Lawyers Engaged to Arrange the Settlement.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—In arranging the settlement preparatory to the Vanderbilt-Shepard nuptials, there were three family lawyers engaged. It has been reported that Miss Vanderbilt's marriage portion would be $10,000,000. It has been asserted positively as was Mr. Vanderbilt's settlement to his daughter. It has condition attached to it, namely, that the income from the $10,000,000 shall be for the use of the future duchess during her life time. At her death the principal goes to the issue of her marriage with the Duke of Marlborough.

It is understood that upon his side the prospective bridegroom decided to give Mr. Vanderbilt large estates in England which have been in his family for years. While the intimate value of these estates may not be equal to Mr. Vanderbilt's gift to his daughter, yet they have heretofore always been considered too valuable to be permitted to pass out of the Marlborough family.

Killed by a Blasting Explosion.

CHICAGO, Oct. 26.—The tug boat Mafford, of the Dunham company, while towing the scanner Lake Erie her boiler shortly before 4 o'clock this morning in the river near Seventeenth street. Four men were killed and one seriously injured. The five men were blown in as many directions, and the heavy boiler was lifted into the air and shot through the wall of elevator "E," which is located on the shore, a short distance from the scene of the accident. Fortunately no one was injured by the flying steel.

Steve Brodie's Office.

CHICAGO, Oct. 26.—Steve Brodie is disposed of the Sale Beer, and has determined to see whether Cornell and Fitzsimmons really want to fight. He accordingly offers a purse of $5,000, to be contested for in private with twenty men on a side. He has posted a deposit of $500 with the Herald, and says that he stands ready to pull off the fight at any time.

So one doubts for a moment that Brodie, even without a purse, can make his offer good. He admits that he is not unaware of the advertising that such an action will bring him, but he is willing to pay $5,000 to see who is champion.

People are now subscribing subscribe for Price's Cream Baking Powder.

FOR MR. SAYCHER.

Women's Clubs Refuse to Petition the Queen in Her Behalf.

NEWARK, N. J., Oct. 26.—New Jersey's state institution of Women's clubs ended, at its closing session to take any action in the case of Mrs. Florence Maybrick, serving a life sentence for the murder of her husband, in an English prison. The Rev. Mrs. Haushard brought the subject up at the meeting today and suggested individual effort for hastening the place for Mrs. Maybrick's release. This idea met with approval but the federation could not adopt a petition to Queen Victoria as some of the members desired.

Forgives His Tender Spouse.

OAKLAND, Cal., Oct. 27.—Philip Rogers, whose wife deserted him and went to Warsaw, Wis., because he would not cede to her the full testimony in the Durrant case, has forgiven his truant spouse. A telegram from Warsaw announces that Mrs. Rogers and her sister Mrs. Clark, have disappeared from there also, and Rogers thinks that Mrs. Rogers is coming home, bringing her sister with her. "Now that the testimony in the Durrant case is all in, I guess we can have peace in our family," said Mr. Rogers today.
