Stealing into the Offices—Checkmated and Locked Out.

TOOELE CITY, Sept. 12, 1874.

Editor Deseret News:

At 8.40 a. m., of Sept 11th, Deputy U. S. Marshals Kingsley and Smith, accompanied by Mr. J. Chamberlain, appointee of L. A. Brown to the office of County Clerk of Tooele County, hired a team at one of the many livery stables in your city and were soon wending their way over Jordan. On inquiry I learned that there had been some papers issued by the mandamus gentleman. What they were no one knew, as there was nothing to show that any had been issued in the District Clerk's office.

This worthy trio reached Tooele city at two o'clock p. m., 11th inst., and Smith, without brushing the dust from his coat, rushed down to the Deputy Recorder and told him that he, Smith, wanted to examine some records. The Deputy Recorder, suspecting no fraud, opened the office and admitted the worthy marshals. They then informed the deputy Recorder that they, the marshals, had papers from McKean to take charge of all the County property. The marshals placed a man in the office and the deputy Sheriff placed three men to keep them company.

Everything having moved along satisfactorily, Smith and Chamberlain wended their way back to the city on the other side of Jordan, consoling themselves that they had stolen a march on the "Mormons" this time. While they were thus priding themselves on their victory, we will take a peep at the other worthy left here to superintend the confiscated property. A grand ball was given at Eaves Hall, and Kingsley, feeling inclined to trip the light fantastic toe, left his man, Barrow, as guard at the office, Barrow thinking himself master of the situation. But lo, a change in the programme. The night was cold and Barrow did not have any fire. Towards morning the boys stepped out doors on the porch, and Barrow, wanting to stretch his wearied limbs, also stepped out, and on turning around found that he had walked out and was locked out.

Soon Kingsley came down to see how matters stood, and on trying to open the door found it locked. He said, "Who locked the door?" Barrow told him, when Kingsley said, "Did they turn you out?" "No" "Did they use force?" "No." Kingsley found that he was checkmated—no force, no fraud, but Barrow was out. This morning another little game commenced, but did not succeed. All day B. and the reverend S. have been at or near the Court House, waiting for some one to come and let them in, but up to 8 o'clock p. m., they have been like the Jews, looking in vain for their redeemer.

I presume the papers served belong to the late sensation class called MANDAMUS.

The Protestant Clergy.—J. B. Lippincott & Co., Philadelphia, advertise that ministers can obtain "True Christian Religion" for 40 cents, and "Heaven and Hell" for 26 cents. As the showman said, "You pays your money and you takes your choice." Or you can enjoy both, if your purse holds out.

BORN.

To the wife of Mr. Phillip Margetts, Sept. 14th, a daughter.
