It has already been shown that in the matter of a pretext for drawing ducats out of the pockets of among thoughtful, deservant people. benevalently disposed simpletons, The Journal says: Itah has placed Boor-a-Bool-a-gha and its benighted inhabitants 'n the background. But in addition to all this it has been one of the bugaboo book-makers' most prolific themes. The "stamping out" of the "Mormons" and consequently of the question of which they form the head-centre would be a sad blow to that class of literary scavengers who paint hideous imaginary pictures of 'Mormon" ignorance and depravity. They would have to seek pastures new for purulent pabulum for their ing which there would be so general an inclination to gulp with astonishing vogacity the most malicious Munchausenisms as if they were Gospel truths. Then there is the itineraut showman species, with his habitual truth-telling predilection. He could no longer interlard his panoramic exhibits with "orrible tales" of "Mormon" ferocity. But perhaps this class would not be so disadvantageously placed as the others enumerated, as he could, after the occurrence of the anti-"Mormon" annihilation, regale his listeners through eyes and cars, with what had been but was now no more

But there is one class those belong to which are, in connection with the profits it affords, feeding on whatever fatness anticipations of future developments give. These are the leeches that have worked with zeal worthy of a better cause to fasten themselves upon the local body-politic. Their strong point is, under the firmsy plea of operating in the interest of freedom, to crush human liberty into the dust. The other classes enumerated have profitable employment derived from the "Mormon" question, the political cormorants are seeking it. Under the shallow pretense of establishing liberty they want to land element still preponderates, the wipe it out. They gaze with longing eyes upon the coffers of the commonwealth, and in eager anticipation look to a time when they can thrust their hands in and help themselves. Many attempts have been made to reach the desired goal, but thus far failure has attended their efforts. Governor Murray made the most sweeping one when he made appointments to nearly all elective offices throughout Utah, but the usurper was, in this instance, foiled. Now the main point is to induce Congress, when it shall meet, to become a party to a similar theft, by the process of disfranchisement and autocracy.

A LEADING PLEA.

THE Republicans will probably not say a great deal more about the necessity of keeping men of their party in Federal offices here on the ground of their being better able to carry on the anti-'Mormon' crusade than would their Democratic successors. The "cheek" and intent of that plea are likely to be pretty well seen through.

The reason that bids fair to take the lead, judging from present croppings. is that the "Mermons" would attribute any change in Tthe official roll that might take place to the interference of God in their behalf. However, much the "Mormons" may be disposed to "acknowledge the hand of God in all things." shoy would in all probability be inclined to walt and see how an incoming incumbent would act before any great extent. The present officials appalling." are rather a bad and unscrupulous set, but if they should be retained instead of being deposed, even in that retention the Saints would acknowledge the haud of God. The providence of the Almighty is acknowledged in tribulation as well as in deliverance from oppression. So far as the ingredient of faith goes, it is about as broad as it is long whether the present officers are kept in or hurled from office.

The perception of the doings of God under all conditions is doubtless a heinous offense, and the anti-"Mormon", fraternity should consider as to the advisability of applying to Congress to have a law passed making it puulshable by fine and imprisonment. It would be no more inconsistent or constitutional than some of their other demands. It looks as if the enemies of the Saints were bound to bring the Almighty into this controversy. So may it be. He is always on the side that wins in the long run.

"The Albany Journal, in a recent number, furnishes some items of a similar character, gleaned from the census of that city. The Journal takes census of that city.
