"Blue Clothes and Brass Buttons Not Authority."—A Footpad Sentenced. —Other Business.

George Raymond, a recent arrival in this city from Montana, and a crook by occupation, accosted a gentleman last evening at the intersection of East Temple and First South streets, and asked him for half a dollar. The request being denied, Raymond became insolent and abusive.

Police Officer Birkner was near by at the time and quietly informed him that he would be arrested if he did not cease his insolence.

Raymond replied, "You are a dirty [illegible]; just because you wear blue clothes and brass buttons you need not think that it gives you any authority to interfere with me or my business."

Without further ado, the fellow was arrested and taken to police headquarters, where he strenuously objected to being searched, and poured out volley after volley of abuse upon the officers. He was locked in the city jail last night and was arraigned before Justice Laney this morning. He was adjudged guilty and fined $25, in default of which he was sent back to the jail, and will be compelled to satisfy his fine by working in the city gravel beds.

Nothing New in the Italian Situation.

WASHINGTON, April 2.—Secretary Blaine is transacting routine business. There is nothing new in the Italian situation. [illegible] Among the first callers on the Secretary were the British Minister and Sir Charles Tupper of Canada, who talked with the Secretary an hour, presumably about the seal fisheries, reciprocity and other matters foremost in the minds of the Canadians.

MORE PEACEFUL FEELINGS.

ROME, April 2.—It is learned from reliable sources that United States Minister Porter has done much to pacify the Italian government and win over to his way of thinking the other ministers, several of whom have tried to induce the Italian Premier Marquis di Rudini to be less hasty. The idea of war is scouted in diplomatic and government circles. Even Fava's final withdrawal is not definitely decided upon. It is said, even if Fava withdraws, it will be done only as the most forcible protest known to diplomacy, and not as a forerunner of a conflict between the United States and Italy.

The Italian Cabinet Ministers are in receipt of a large number of cablegrams and letters from prominent Italians at New York, urging moderation.
