"THE KING'S TOUCH."

In England, two centuries ago, popular superstition credited the "Royal Touch" with curing scrofula. These superstitious practices have now become obsolete, and in their place we have a scientific remedy in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which eliminates the impurities from the blood by the natural channels, thereby invigorating the system from all taints and impurities from whatever cause arising. It is truly a royal remedy, world-famed and the only liver, lung and blood remedy guaranteed to benefit or cure in every case, or money paid for it will be refunded. As a regulator of the Stomach, Liver and Bowels, Golden Medical Discovery cures all bilious attacks, Indigestion and Dyspepsia, Chronic Diarrhœa and kindred ailments. As an alterative, or blood purifier, it manifests its marvelous properties in the cure of the worst Skin and Scalp Diseases, Salt-rheum, Tetter, Eczema, and Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, as well as Long-scrofula, commonly known as Pulmonary Consumption, if taken in time and given a fair trial.

$500 REWARD is offered by the manufacturers of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, for a case of Catarrh in the Head which they cannot cure. By its mild, soothing, and healing properties, Dr. Sage's Remedy cures the worst cases, no matter how bad, or of how long standing. Fifty cents, by druggists.

THE SENATE.

Bills and Resolutions Before The Legislators at Yesterday's Session.

WORLD'S FAIR BILL IN THE HOUSE.

A Professor Accidentally Poisoned.—Great Fires In Japan.—Railroad Accident.

By Telegraph to the News.

SENATE.

The Fur Seal Interests of Alaska.—Bills Introduced.—House Proceedings.

WASHINGTON, March 25.—The Senate proceeded to consider the Senate bill to enable the Secretary of the Treasury to gather full and authentic information as to the present condition of the fur seal interests of the government in Alaska, as compared with 1879, also, full information as to the reported extinction of the sea otter industry and kindred lines of inquiry.

A bill providing for the employment of a special agent at $10 a day was read in full; also, a communication from the treasury department, endorsing and recommending its passage. After considerable discussion the bill passed.

Vest offered a resolution, agreed to, calling on the President for copies of further correspondence in regard to the award made to the Lake Silver Mining Company and the distribution of the same.

Dawes offered a resolution, agreed to, calling on the Secretary of the Interior for information as to land patents issued to Indians under the severalty act.

Among the bills introduced and referred was one by Morrill, to establish an educational fund from the proceeds of public land sales; by Faulkner, to give a pension of $2000 a year to the widow of General Crook; also by George to amend the Constitution, so as to empower Congress to make all laws necessary to suppress combinations in restraint of trade or production and to prevent transactions that create monopolies or increase or depress prices of commodities.

Hoar gave notice that he would not call up the Montana election case till Monday. The anti-trust bill was then taken up and George addressed the Senate.

At the close of George's speech, a motion by him to refer the bill and amendments to the Judiciary Committee created quite a lengthy discussion, in the course of which Vest said that the country knew that that committee was the receptacle in which the Senate deposited its dead, and there was no longer any hope of concealing it. The country now knew that when the Senators desired the death of a bill and were not anxious to place themselves on record as having struck the blow, they referred it to the Judicial Committee, where it slept the last sleep.

George's motion was rejected.

The question was then taken on Reagan's amendment, adding to the bill his anti-trust bill, as to sections 3, 4 and 7, and

IT WAS AGREED TO.

Sherman moved to amend the first section by adding to it the proviso suggested by George: "This act shall not be construed to apply to any arrangement, agreement or combination between laborers made for the purpose of lessening the number of hours of labor or increasing wages; nor among persons engaged in horticulture or agriculture, with a view to enhancing the price of their products." Agreed to.

Hoar's motion to strike out of the first section the words "of different States or between two or more citizens or corporations thereof," was agreed to.

Ingall's amendment, aiming at dealings in futures and options, was agreed to.

Cole then offered an amendment consisting of eight new sections, moving to strike out all of the bill except Ingall's amendment and substitute his own. The substitute was laid on the table.

Stewart moved to insert in the first section the words, "or of the value of money, by which such cost may be advanced or reduced," and Hoar to insert after "money" the words "or of gold or silver," and pending action the Senate adjourned.

House.

WASHINGTON, March 25.—Immediately after the approval of the journal, Cutcher (Miss.) called up the World's Fair bill, and the following amendments were adopted: That the commission shall appoint a board of lady managers, and the board may appoint one or more members on all committees authorized to award prizes for exhibits produced wholly or in part by female labor; and members of the board to be charged with the selection of the government exhibits shall be chosen by the commission.

Cutcher opened debate in advocacy of the bill, strongly commending the board's competitation and the commendable energy displayed by Chicago in the matter. Chicago knew more than any other city in raising five millions and agreeing to double it. Cutcher then moved as an amendment that the fair building be dedicated October 12, 1892, and the exposition open not later than May 1, 1893, and closing not later that October 30, 1893. This postponement, he said, was not asked by Chicago, but was for the benefit of exhibitors. The amendment was adopted.

ON MOTION OF CARLISLE, an amendment was adopted providing that the government building be built of such material as can be taken out and sold after the exposition.

Cummings (N. Y.) said he appealed to the House for fair play towards Chicago. New York had lost the fight through treachery in her own ranks.

"We were," said he, "handsomely whipped. What are we going to do about it? I, at least, am going to act the manly part. I stand by the committee because I believe it is manly and politic. The action of the Senate may yet be unfavorable to Chicago. If so, New York can again enter the list with honor. If that time does not come, I consider I honor myself, my State and my country by standing by Chicago."

Hatch (Mo.) expressed himself satisfied with the clause providing that the President, before issuing a proclamation, shall satisfy himself as to the genuineness of the subscriptions. There was nothing left for Congress to do but to extend to Chicago every legitimate facility for making the fair a great national success.

Fowler (N.Y.) said he would vote to recommit the bill and make Chicago show her subscription lists.

Flatiron (N.Y.) addressing Spinola said: "Does not the gentleman think it was a fortunate thing that we were beaten, because if things had gone on as they are now going we should have

of the Tammany management, because they would have been inside Ludlow Street jail?" [Laughter.]

Mason expressed a belief that New York did not want to make the fair a success. The way to help Chicago was not to throw discredit upon her.

Several others who favored Washington, New York and St. Louis expressed an earnest hope for the success of Chicago.

Belden's motion to recommit with instructions was defeated without division.

The bill was then passed—yeas 202, nays 49. The negative votes were cast by those members who had been from the first opposed to holding any World's Fair.

After a call of the House, roll call on adjournment and roll call on going into committee of the whole for the Wyoming admission bill, which was productive of no good result, the House adjourned.

Killed by a Train.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 25. A wagon, in which were a teamster named John Brown and three small children of a neighbor, while attempting to cross a railroad track at University Avenue, West Berkeley, this morning, was struck by a passenger train. Brown was killed and two of the children were probably fatally injured and the other slightly hurt.

A Professor Poisoned.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., March 25.—Professor Richard Owen, a well-known scientist, was fatally and A. H. Freiburgt seriously poisoned last night by taking a drink from a bottle supposed to contain mineral water, but which really was an exhilarating fluid.

Professor Owen was one of the foursons of the Scotch philanthropist, Robert Owen, known all over the world for his learning and benevolence. Professor Owen's brothers, David Dale, an eminent geologist, and Robert Dale, a statesman and scholar, were also of world-wide reputation. Professor Richard Owen was celebrated as a scholar, scientist and soldier. He was born in Scotland and educated abroad, afterwards coming to this country. After serving in the United States geological survey he became a captain in the Mexican war. He was afterwards State geologist for Indiana and professor in Bloomington University. In the civil war he served with gallantry as a lieutenant-colonel of the Fifteenth Indiana and afterwards raised and commanded the Sixtieth Indiana until 1863, when ill-health compelled his resignation. He was also an author of some note.

Great Fire.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 25.—Advices by the steamer City of Pekin are to the effect that on February 27th about 1500 houses were destroyed by fire in Tokio, Japan, and a number of people injured. Another fire on March 5th destroyed 900 buildings.

The Pulpit and the Stage.

Rev. F. M. Shrout, Pastor United Brethren Church, Blue Mound, Kan., says: "I feel it my duty to tell what wonders Dr. King's New Discovery has done for me. My Lungs were badly diseased, and my parishioners thought I could live only a few weeks. I took five bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery and am sound and well, gaining 26 lbs in weight."

Arthur Love, Manager Love's Funny Folks' Combination, writes: "After a thorough trial and convincing evidence, I am confident Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption heals 'em all, and cures when everything else fails. The greatest kindness I can do my many thousand friends is to urge them to try it." Free trial bottles at A. C. Smith & Co.'s Drug Store. Regular Sizes 50c. and $1.00.

A Great Transition
