Shelley and Basalt Items.

SHELLEY, Idaho, Dec. 3, 1895.

To the Editor:

November went out somewhat fine, although the month for many days has been very cold. December came in very gloomy for the best part of the day, but towards evening was some little finer.

Sunday was fine. Our missionaries were Elders Rybee and Taylor of Grant ward. Although young in the field they felt and spoke well.

The Shelley ward monthly paper, the Advocate, was read by the editor E. J. Farnes to a well filled house. Many of our outside friends were present. The young ladies' paper was read by the editor, Susan Ainge.

On Friday, Nov. 29, old Sister Roberts, who lost her husband some few months ago, was sitting at the table knitting and seeming very much cast down, when about forty of the folks here walked in, with plenty of this world's goods, and spent a pleasant time, which caused Sister Roberts to feel that her friends in the ward had not forgotten her. She was presented with useful articles for the winter.

The young men of the ward have organized an entertainment union, with the following officers: Frank Hubsnid, president, Joseph Pritchard, vice-president, William Pritchard, secretary, William A. Clagerson, assistant secretary and treasurer, Sister Flora Child, wife of Heber T. Child, is prostate on a sick bed, we wish her a speedy recovery. Her family consisted of four children she is a good mother and a saint.

On Thanksgiving Day at Basalt ward there was a fine party. Sisters of the Relief Society were managers of the same. It was one of the old time parties.

Shelley ward kept up the day; there was a dance in the evening and a well filled house. The next day the day school teacher, Miss Emma Mayhew, and her pupils came together in the morning. A good program was arranged, and in the afternoon a dance was given to the young ones. Mr. L. W. Hiatt furnished the music for the same. I have never seen a school where a teacher is so much beloved by her pupils as is Miss Emma Mayhew.

All the boys here are working silica work.

Sister Ellen Pritchard, an intelligent girl about 15 years of age, has been very sick since last week. She is very useful in the Sunday school. We hope for her early recovery.

The boys here are getting in a good supply of wood.

Mr. Pritchard is having a very commodious building erected in Shelley.

Born at Basalt, Oct. 31, to the wife of D. L. Pope, a nine-pound baby girl, mother and baby doing well and father pleased with his new treasure.

At Taylor ward there was married on Nov. 28th, 1895, James P. Christensen, aged 23, to Miss Annie Clara, aged 19. LOOKOUTER.

OBITUARY.

HANS PETERSEN.

Died at Levan, Utah, November 17, 1895, of pneumonia, Hans Petersen. Brother Petersen was born on the island of Lolland, Denmark, April 18, 1819, hence attained the age of 76 years and 7 months. In 1852 he heard for the first time the Gospel proclaimed by an Elder of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, he pondered over it for some time, and in July, 1853, his wife and family was baptized. In December the same year he left with wife and two children his home and native land and reached America in March, 1854. One of the children died and was buried at St. Louis, Mo.; he arrived with the rest of his family at Salt Lake City October 5, 1854. He went to Sanpete county and settled at Fort Ephraim. In the fall of 1859 he moved to Mount Pleasant to help start and build up that place. In 1864 he was called to go to Sevier county to help build up Richfield, but on account of Indian depredations the settlers were compelled to leave, and in September, 1865, he moved back to Ephraim. In 1868 he moved to Levan to help build up the fourth new settlement. Where he lived until his demise recently.

Brother Petersen belonged to the Fifty-ninth quorum of Seventies. He was, as long as his health permitted, a minute man, always on hand whenever called upon, doing his full duty, and can truly be remembered among the pioneers of Utah. He died as he had lived, a humble and faithful Latter-day Saint. A wife and four daughters live to mourn his departure. WM. BOWEN.
