NEWS OF THE WEST.

Sevier County's Population is Suffering from a Big Water Famine.

MARVELOUS ESCAPE FROM DEATH.

Water Storage Reservoirs.—Excitement at Cozy, Colo.—Brutal Murder of a Farm Laborer.

Large shipments of cattle, both by the big stockmen and grangers, are now being made from Sheridan county, Wyoming.

The people of the Willamette valley (Oregon) are entertaining one hundred and fifty San Francisco merchants and manufacturers of all classes.

John Sessions, a farmhand on the ranch of Rufus Clarke, near Overland park, Denver, was called to his death and terribly mangled by two high-waymen about 11 o'clock Tuesday night.

The water commissioner of Sheridan county, Wyo., and a number of residents are now in the mountains selecting sites for water storage reservoirs to be used in conjunction with the great Powder ditch. This is said to be one of the largest irrigation enterprises ever undertaken in that county. When completed the canal will irrigate thousands of acres of fine agricultural land.

A man, wife and child, while coming from Warren, Idaho, met with a nearly fatal accident while crossing Fisher creek. The woman was riding a mule and had the baby tucked in the animal. When crossing the creek the mule stumbled and threw the woman off, and she went floating below. The mule came out with the baby and the man rescued his wife, but it was a very narrow escape.

A special from Cozy, Colorado, says that town is undergoing great excitement, and what may possibly terminate in a more serious affair than that which occurred in Denver in 1891 is now in full blast. For some time past Chinese miners over in Terrell gulch have been working for much smaller wages than ever before, causing white miners to be thrown out of employment. It is not whether this has anything to do with the Chinese headquarters catching fire a few moments ago will probably never be known. At any rate Chinatown has gone up in smoke and ashes. At first it was supposed several of the Chinese had perished in the flames, but this cannot be verified at this hour, as the missing men may be in hiding.

On Tuesday evening persons in their business places on Second street, Sacramento, were startled by a thud made by some object falling on the cement stone walk, but no one imagined the real cause—the fall of a child from a window some twenty-two feet above the sidewalk. The little five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. James Day, who live in the second story, was playing in an open window, and losing his balance fell to the stone walk below. When the child was picked up it was supposed that every bone in its body was crushed, and that it could not live twenty minutes, but a surgical examination revealed the fact that not a bone was broken. The little chap was not even stunned, and the only pain he complained of was in the region of the abdomen. He was placed under the influence of a mild opiate and was resting easily an hour afterward. It is possible some internal injury was sustained, but the fact that the child was not killed outright was regarded as little short of a miracle.

The people of Sevier county are having a water famine of no small proportions, says the Richfield Advocate, and unless we have rain very soon, hundreds of acres of grain will be entirely ruined for want of water. One farmer living north of here remarked last Saturday that he would lose at least five hundred bushels of wheat, and that many of his neighbors were in a similar condition. Those who venture to put in grain below the Richfield lower canal on University land have been cut off from water without any notice, and they feel very sore about it. The land south of Richfield under the upper canal, is also in a bad condition, and people living in north Richfield can get but very little water, scarcely enough to keep their trees alive; if these water supplies could be piped to the city the seepage and evaporation would be greatly arrested. It seems that the farmers on the university lands, who have trouble about water enough to put in fall wheat almost entirely, then they would be very certain of raising much better crops, but there are many disadvantages to be encountered in the growing of fall wheat where the fields are open to stock for six months, but in the main it would be a great advantage. A farmer reported that he had lost on an average one-third of his crop every year from lack of water, but was much worse this year than before. A less acreage must be put in if sovereignty cannot be taken of the high waters in June to finish their crops. Wheat and rye put in the last of September and October will be out of danger by the last of June following. If the little showers we are having the last few days do not rust the wheat, they may be of considerable benefit to the late grain which has been suffering for water.

The Result of Merit.

When anything stands a test of fifty years among a discriminating people like the Americans, it is pretty good evidence that there is much merit somewhere. The value of a medicine is best proved by its continued use from year to year by the same persons and families, as well as by a steady increasing sale. Few, if any, medicines have met with such continued success and popularity as has marked the introduction and progress of BRANDRETH'S PILLS, which, after a trial of over fifty years, are conceded to be the safest and most effective purgative and blood purifier introduced to the public.

This fact is the result of merit, and that BRANDRETH'S PILLS actually perform all that is claimed for them, is conclusively proved by the fact that those who regard them with the greatest favor are those who have used them the longest.

BRANDRETH'S PILLS are sold in every drug and medicine store, either plain or sugar coated.
