Difficulty Experienced in Getting a Jury on the Morris Case.

NEWS AND TRIBUNE EDITORIALS

Figure in the Examination of Jurors —Judge Powers Wants to Know if They Were Read.

Judge Holmes sat in the criminal division of the Third district court today on the trinity case against ex-Selectman Morris of this county. Considerable difficulty is being experienced in getting a jury in the case, as most men by this time have somewhat settled opinions as to the truth or falsity of the charges made in this and previous cases tried in the same court.

Counsel for the defense, represented in the examination of jurors by Judge Powers, is also very particular in question the men who have been drawn in this case as to whether or not they have read and been influenced by the editorials on the Hayden case, which appeared in the News and the Tribune. Reference to these articles is made in the examination of each juror and he is made to answer whether or not fear of newspaper indignation would influence his verdict.

The whole of the time this morning was consumed in getting rid of the following jurors who had already come to some conclusion as to the guilt or innocence of the defendant and were consequently excused: F. W. Jennings, J. H. Woolmanee, L. M. Karl, S. H. Auerbach, C. P. Miles, Harry H. Margetts, H. C. Biesdale, R. Knudsen, Cassius Brown Jr., F. Edmonds, Geo. A. Lowe, J. M. Whitaker.

In two drawings eighty names were taken from the box and there remained the following for the attorneys to work on at the afternoon session in an effort to secure the requisite eight men of a proper state of mind to try the case impartially: S. F. Walker, J. E. Edmunds, E. W. Duncan, Geo. Cutley, Geo. H. Brown, Jos. Geoghegan, W. Pickering, L. A. Copeland, W. E. Hain, W. T. Jennison, W. A. Wilcox, Frank H. Hyde, J. J. Stovall, Frank Chandler, W. H. Foster, W. H. Bird, Chas. Robinson, A. S. Peck, Phil. J. Stone, Jos. Farrow, H. J. Schimmings, Frank Webb, J. J. Starbuck, Monty Singer, Paul Shipp, J. Bamberger, F. E. King, R. L. Little, W. T. Vincent, Fred Simon, H. M. Cordell, Chas. Gilmore, J. M. Halwell, J. L. Franklin, J. M. Chamberlain, Wm. Keeting, Ross Arnhurst, Geo. H. Lashbrook, W. G. Timmons, W. S. Clawson, B. T. Marty, Martin Curtis, Wm. Cooper, Jas. T. Lynch, Dan Griffin, J. B. Farlow, Elmer Cox, T. J. Evans, D. B. Allen, J. F. Keith, Wm. Everett, Jas. Gallagher Jr., H. E. Holmes, W. E. Ripple, Geo. H. Golden.

When the last fifty names were drawn Judge Powers insisted upon their being taken from the district in which the offense is said to have been committed and not from Salt Lake county alone. The court instructed the sheriff to bring to him all the desirable possible to bring in the fifty men, and also instructed the jurors who had already been in attendance but had not yet been examined, to refrain from perusing articles in newspapers derogatory to the defendant and by all means refuse to talk upon the subject.

Witnesses to all other cases were excused until Wednesday morning and the court took a recess until 2 o'clock.

This Afternoon.

At the reopening of court at 2 o'clock this afternoon returns had been made on sixteen of the last fifty names drawn. These gentlemen were sworn and the attorneys commenced on their examination, opening Mr. Rob ert J. Keith and Wm. Everett.

Messrs. Walker, Webb, Edmunds, Harbach, Duncan and Singer had so far been allowed to retain their seats in the jury box and it was hoped that Mr. Keith and Everett would be found suitable material to complete the seventy eight "good men and true." Mr. Keith proved master, but Mr. Everett's opinion was so positive in his relation on the jury.

W. H. Foster came next and after an elaborate questioning by that gentleman Judge Powers decided that Mr. Foster would be an ideal juror. The name eight men suitable to the defense and County Attorney Williams opened up a cross-fire on behalf of the prosecution. He was prompted occasionally by Attorney Nye, who is assisting in behalf of the county. Mr. Hancock was the first witness selected by the county attorney but he was allowed to remain and Mr. Edmunds was being dealt with at press time.

It is improbable, unless a fair number of the eight be had, that a jury suitable to both sides will be obtained today. The case is being watched with considerable interest, there being quite a large audience in attendance during the day.

BINGHAM NOTES.

News of the Camp from the Bulletin's Special Editor.

There is a considerable inquiry for gold bricks.

Quite a number of new locations have just been made in Harvey's canyon.

There is talk of the Commercial (gold mill) getting in activity.

The camp Thursday was the liveliest it has been for many a day.

No camp in Utah is more popular at Salt Lake than the "Old Reliable." Everything else is a good second.

Were crews from New York and Boston mining camps there Utah is looked upon as the winning card state.

Editors on the Salt Lake Telegram (twice in fortnight) are depicted to be seeking good money this spring.

We hear of a deal on the tops which if consummated will cross-buy mines properties in Bingham. Not ripe enough to talk about.

Manager Steele of the Crown Point (mines) from Salt Lake Tuesday, pleased with the returns on his last shipment. The copper talk is forging ahead.

Bingham is comparatively little known south of the overlayers and business of Salt Lake City. Opportunities field for the early and profitable investment of millions of capital.

In the Point of the Valley the shaft is down 475 feet and coming into rich rock matter. Indications are that a body of ore will be broken into within eight or ten feet.

Ore is now being hoisted from the Bonneville on the Lead mine, which broke ground at the surface five or six weeks ago.

Prof. C. C. Adams arrives in camp Monday to take charge of the Cora group, owned by Brown, Cushing & Coyle. He will make a staff, and expects to develop the Cora into another producer this summer.

The shrinkage in Old Jordan shipments this month was caused by the mill shutting down for repairs. Bad roads have caused a decrease in the general shipments, compared with last month.

Formerly the Winnemack was noticed with water in its lower workings. Now the management is hoisting to increase the supply for running the mill ligs. No doubt the old mine is being drained by pumps on the Dalton & Lark side.

The Antelope made another shipment this week. As soon as hoisting machinery has replaced the present one which the Antelope will be a bonanza.

H. H. Green and C. H. Saunders of Iron Hill, Wis., who have been looking around the State the past month, have taken an option on the Colorado, in Bingham canyon, which a few weeks ago opened up a body of fine ore. They are letting a contract for sinking.

J. S. Marshall, manager for the Hinsdale Greeley Mining company, arrived from St. Louis a few days ago and is starting work on the Greeley group. The property is to be had shape, and time will be required to retimber and clean up. It has shipped rich ore, and the operations this summer are likely to have important results. Mr. M. was here six years ago, and received severe injuries in an accident at the mine, from which he has not yet fully recovered.

The Phenix has last shipped another lot of several carloads, the result of development work and moved to clear the ore blas. The mine is in shape to make a great output whenever the ore market offers sufficient encouragement, and this is the case of several other properties in the vicinity—notably the York and Peto.

Bingham is said to have an immense copper proposition, the ore being of much better grade than the average of Mercur. If the process used at Mercur does not exactly fit this case, perhaps some of the other same will. A process has just been started at the Dr. Lamar mine, in Idaho, which, while more intricate than the Mercur plan, is more economical and effective, saving a higher per cent of values.

The ore shipments from Bingham for the month ending April 30th aggregate 6,906 tons.

THE STOCK EXCHANGE.

The Bulls and Bears Do Fair Work in the Pit.

Taking into consideration the fact that this was Monday, considerable life was shown among the brokers on "change today and a fair day's business was the result. The honors were so divided to bears and Four Aces of the Outer organized any changes. Bears were Dixie, of the national stock, Centennial-Eureka was offered at $17, but no sales took place upon it. Sacramento Mammoth exhibited bears except Bingham and Alliance so also were negotiated, both reserved good quotations. Ewa Golden Gate rallied a little from the slump of Saturday and it was held on an active speculation at its same. The mining stocks sold with a good amount of recuperation and traders were freely made a good market.

The closing prices were as follows:

Mills and Mines.

The Ontario mill, which has been shut down for repairs, will resume operations in a few days.

The mills around Park City are busy and with new dumps where prospects have been doing their assessment work.

The several jigs that are being operated in the streams from Park City on tailings from the mills are making but small returns to their operators.

Bonner James A. Pollard is now in New York receiving treatment for his health, which at present is not as good as it might be.

The Blue Bird property at Dam and Ice been bonded for one year to Morris, Blue Bird, and W. Hatfield. The consideration is $6,000 and the gentlemen will commence work at once.

Denver people are making inquiries with regard to the Dailey Mining company's property located near the Colorado Midas. The acquirers are seriously investing in the stock and desire some of the actual facts concerning it before investing therein.

It is reported that a new hoisting plant will shortly replace the old one at the Mammoth mine and the shaft will be sunk from the 1,000 to the 1,500 level as quickly as possible. It has been demonstrated that the richest ore bodies of the Mammoth lead to the deep.

The latest news of the Bingham Bulletin is hand is a good one. It is a special edition published solely in the interest of the camp which it represents and contains a substantial amount of valuable information with regard to Bingham's rich and numerous mineral prominents. Truly the Bulletin is keeping pace with the times, and is a loyal and ardent exponent of the vast resources of the "Old Reliable."

At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Consolidation Mining company held at Park City a week ago the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: W. C. Lyman, E. P. Le Compte, W. H. West, Harry Hamilton, C. H. Valentine, H. L. Lyman and E. G. Pallson. The officers are W. C. Lyman, president; W. H. West, vice president and manager and Henry Hulme, secretary, treasurer and superintendent.

Much attention, says the Eureka Democrat, has been directed in a quiet way during the past month to the country lying to the west of Five-Mile Pass, in North Tintic district. Recent developments on the contact with quartzite show a mineralized zone resembling the formation in some of the leading mines in the Camp Floyd district, and assays ranging from a trace to $4 and $7 can be had from this state anywhere on this vein.

Home From the South.

Elder F. E. Smith of the Seventeenth ward of this city returned on Friday last from a mission to the Southern States. He left his home on January 20, 1894, and his field of labor with which has been mainly in the state of North Carolina, although he did some work in the state of Virginia. He reports the Elders of the North Carolina conference as being very energetic in their labors and a good feeling prevails the saints is manifest among the people in that section. Elder Smith has enjoyed his labors immensely and returns home in good health. There are now thirty Elders travelling in North Carolina and all are well and full of faith.
