JOTTINGS FROM BASEBALL FIELDS

Salt Lake-Short Line Game to be Played Tomorrow.

MEN TO BE PAID SALARIES.

Colonels Do Up the Orphans, but the Error Column Does Not Tell All.

The Short Liners will cross bats with the Salt Lakers on the Fort Douglas diamond tomorrow afternoon at 3.30 o'clock, when the line-up will be as follows:

Short Lines.		Salt Lakes.
Taylor and Kidder	p.	Hughey
Knickerbocker	c.	McClelland
Jowman	1st b.	Hayden
Miller	2nd b.	Clements
McFarlane	3rd b.	Reed
Weller	s. s.	Martin
Hayes	l. f.	Grigge
Shannon	center.	Hopkins
Margetts	right.	Dorse

Substitutes Metcalfe, Kimbrough and Suhre.

The two nines will further play a game on the same ground on Sunday afternoon, when the line-up will differ to the extent that Metcalfe will play second base, Kimbrough will twirl the sphere and Suhre will succeed Hayes in right field. Providing Hayes are in sufficiently hindered up to pitch, he will perhaps, at the last minute, stand in the box against the railroaders.

The imported players on the Short Line team want salaries or else they will fill in pastures new, where life in diamonds are held out to them. They have practically issued an ultimatum to that effect with the result that there is every prospect of their wish being gratified. Close upon 100 baseball enthusiasts in this city have agreed conjointly to guarantee the necessary shekels so Ogden won't get McClelland after all.

The Ogden and Short Line teams have finished the olive branch to the breeze, and poured oil on the troubled waters to the extent that an agreement has been reached. (but will it be a go with all swanging on the fold and give the patrons of the game good, clean ball. This agreement is that when any umpire is found to be unsatisfactory, he will be removed on the request of the captain of the dissatisfied team, without any fuss and a new umpire, who will be satisfactory to both sides substituted.

An interesting game of baseball was played on the Capitol Hill grounds between the Fremont school Juniors and the Training school Juniors. The contests was the most interesting inning of all. The Trainings worked hard to make three to beat the Fremont's. It resulted in their making five. At the close of the game the score stood: Training, 12; Fremont, 15.

The Salt Lake Colts propose to try conclusions with an Ogden team on Sunday morning. The line up will be as follows: James, catch; Shoe, pitch; F. Smith, first base; H. Smith, second base; Pearson, third base; Flynn, shortstop; Donovan, left field; H. White, center field; W. White, right field.

In the first the order of standing remains practically the same, St. Louis still tops the list, while the last year's champions have dropped down to sixth place. Boston was from Baltimore under disagreeable weather conditions. At Cleveland, St. Louis, before the opening crowd of the season, defeated the home nine by eight runs to six, despite the fact that Cleveland hit the ball hard but without effect. The game succeeded in Louisville after giving a rank exhibition of the worst kind of rattled plays and every time running generally.

WITH THE WHEELMEN.

Western Ends to Govern as Chairman Lose Consents—Notes.

The vexed question as to whether the California Associated Cycling clubs would varied its influence to Utah was settled last night, by a telegram received by Charley Carter from Charleston Leon, of the cycling board of the coast States that reads as follows:

"Will sanction racer suspension."

A request was sent last night for a sanction and the men who have kicked are the L. A. W. rules will now be able to have a race all to themselves, providing "Pete" Smith attends the meeting. The rules, we have held out are confidently expected to fall into line, and the protest is practically stayed.

The second annual reception tendered by the Social Wheel club to admirers of Salt Lake City takes place tonight in the clubroom in Pete's hall on First South street. About 200 printed invitations have been issued and a banner crowd is expected to be in attendance. The program will consist in music, and refreshments will be served after which dancing may be a feature of the evening's entertainment.

* * *

The Triangle Cycles are to reorganized and a meeting will be called for that purpose by the Y. M. C. A. crowd on Monday night. As there are over 200 wheelmen among the members of that association, including men of the caliber of Lucas, Brazier, et al, it goes without saying that the club will be a representative one.

* * *

The Y. M. C. A. annual road race will come off on July 24th next. The event did not take place last year owing to the fact that the Christians were right in the midst of the sorrows that attend moving.

* * *

Lawyer, Sharman and Gunn have got down to active training. A number of men are "shooting out" at Liberty Park, and altogether the bunch is getting down to first principles.

* * *

Wheelmen are delighted at the prospect of a track down at the Salt Palace. "Cap" Angell, the designer of the old five-lap track on Tenth South, is to be remanded and he will draft the plans that will be placed in the hands of Architect Klettlitz. The great features of the Salt Palace lumber track will be slight curves that will be noticed off under the flicker of the electric arc light.

CONTROLLING THE LIQUOR TRAFFIC.

South Carolina Dispensary System Growing in Favor.

NO ROOM FOR OPPOSITION.

Results Consumption of Liquor Cut Down Two-Thirds and Drunkenness Almost Cured.

Last week the St. Paul Pioneer Press described the method of handling the liquor traffic which appears to be a solution of the problem, and that is already making headway at the South. It is the South Carolina dispensary system, about which sound so much a factional war, but which now seems to have permanently established itself. South Carolina began to move and in a tentative way in 1892, by the establishment of the system in one county. This experiment proved so successful that by the next legislature it was extended to several other counties. Also bants has sifted down into line with a general dispensary law and Georgia is ripe for it.

The dispensary system consists in the prohibition of all liquor selling for private profit. This prohibition, which extreme measures, such as the Maine law, is made effective by authorizing salaried state officers to sell all liquor required, thus securing the support of the temperance but non-social abstaining element—the largest in almost every community. As the State agents have no pecuniary interest in stimulating sales, on the contrary salaries are limited. The most the other evils of saloon drinking it is provided that no liquor sold can be drunk on the premises, this discouraging loafing, a primary source of drunkenness and doing away with the social features of saloon life which is to many men in the beginning the only attraction. No sales can be made after sundown, nor on days when political meetings are held. The sale officer to liquor is prohibited to minors and to those who are in the habit of drinking to excess. With these exceptions there are no restrictions on the sale of liquor to whomever may demand it.

RESULTS OF THE SYSTEM.

Not only does this solution receive the cordial support of a large portion of the prohibitionists, who form a considerable factor in the politics of the states mentioned, but it appeals particularly to the great majority who, though not total abstainers, recognize the evils wrought by the saloon. Furthermore, both in South Carolina and North Carolina, the results of the system have been such that it affords little room for the opposition. Wherever tried it has met the not very cultured but still very potent argument that it would reduce the revenues of the state by absorbing the state's receipts from liquor sales were far greater than those received from licenses. In one district in South Carolina it caused up dozens distilleries that were engaged in illicit business. It has cut down the consumption of liquor in one county from 90,000 a year to 29,000, and the difference, according to local merchants, has gone into legitimate business. It has put a stop to almost all drunkenness and cut down the business of the police. And, finally, it has done away with the saloon as a force in politics.

That any State has some power to establish dispensaries the political schools through which the South Carolina law passed fully proves. If the system shall continue to extend as rapidly in the future as it has in the past it will not be a very long time before Utah will be called upon to decide whether the law is applicable to her conditions. It could scarcely find it in itself establish itself so firmly in South Carolina, where its early career was marked by bitter feuds, and even some bloodshed, when it got mixed with partisan politics and where the liquor interests made a desperate fight against it. It could establish itself almost anywhere. Sections as it does, merely to do away with the evils of treating and excessive drinking in saloons, and interfering in no way with the rights of persons who desire to drink at home. The only classes it antagonizes are the saloon and liquor concerns. All others except the radical prohibitionists, who would rather have such a raw compromise with sin and therefore more to be shunned than a continuance of the present evil, would, in the natural course of things, give such a law their support. There is, however, little chance of this State will be called upon to decide the question immediately.

TO ARUSE A VERY YOUNG CHILD

It is the common experience of all who have had to do with babies of three months old and upward that they are epileptic of type which only can be tamed as and handled, while something in the nature of an occupation, suited exactly to the child's capacity, will hold the attention for an almost indefinite period. Such occupations as pulling and a stopper of an empty bottle and putting it in again, taking pins out of a pincushion and sticking them in nothing and unwrapping a piece of thread, emptying and refilling a dish with sand or water, will give pleasure for half hours at a time and for many hours in the aggregate. The matter for classifying and arranging is very big and endless. Small objects are good to place in rows or in pile; pebbles and shells assorted by size or color; beads and buttons strung upon wires or strings with sewing-silk; empty spools with sewing-silk; embroidery. These toys may be largely designed with in the child's positive advantage and what he really needs is a variety of play material, such as sand, blocks, jubilee, cards, small boxes and bottles, pegs and string—and—Good Housekeeping in the New Woman's Home Companion.

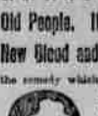
NEVER TOO OLD TO BE CURED.

S. S. S. is a Great Blessing to Old People. It Gives Them New Blood and Life.

Age does not necessarily mean feebleness and ill health, and nearly all of the sickness among older people can be avoided. Most elderly people are very susceptible to illness, but it is wholly unnecessary. By keeping their blood pure they can fortify themselves so as to escape three-fourths of the sickness from which they suffer in generally. S. S. S. is the remedy which will keep their systems young, by purifying the blood, thoroughly removing all waste accumulations, and imparting new strength and life to the whole body. It increases the appetite, builds up the energies, and sends new life-giving blood throughout the entire system.



Mrs. Sarah Pike, 477 Broadway, South Boston, writes: "I am seventy years old, and had not enjoyed good health for twenty years. I was sick in different ways, and in addition, had Eczema terrible on one of my legs. The doctor said that on account of my age, I would never be well again. I took a dozen bottles of S. S. S. and it cured me completely, and I am happy to say that I feel as well as I ever did in my life."

Mr. J. W. Loving, of Colquitt, Ga., says: "For eighteen years I suffered torturous from a fiery eruption on my skin. I tried almost every known remedy, but they failed one by one, and I was left with a disease which at sixty-six, was against me, and that I could never hope to be well again. I finally took S. S. S., and it cleansed my blood thoroughly, and now I am in perfect health."

S. S. S. FOR THE BLOOD

is the only remedy which can build up and strengthen old people, because it is the only one which is guaranteed free from potash, mercury, arsenic and other damaging minerals. It is made from roots and herbs, and has no chemicals whatever in it. S. S. S. cures the worst cases of Scrofula, Cancer, Eczema, Rheumatism, Tetter, Open Sores, Chronic Ulcers, Boils, or any other disease of the blood.

Books on these diseases will be sent free by Swift Specific Co., Atlanta, Ga.
