DESERET EVENING NEWS.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 19, 1893.

FRAGMENTS.

JUDGE POWERS is reported better.

WORK in the Pioneer court has been lights for the last week or more.

BUSINESS in the courts today has been fast on par as during the two previous days.

ANOTHER week is fast going away, and still there are no things of the two railway scandals from the penitentiary.

ENGINEER JAY CLARK, of steamer No. 1, is in the hospital coming up after a severe and painful operation.

IF Marshal Brigham has made any more appointments lately, nobody seems to know anything about it.

DURING the last ten days the city has issued between $60,000 and $70,000 in warrants, the reason in each instance being "for cash."

TAKING advantage of the quiet times in the courts, quite a number of local attorneys are having a short holiday in the country and other nearby resorts.

THE hearing of the case in which Dr. Charles Unger is charged with procuring an abortion upon the unfortunate woman who died in the supervision of sanitary Inspector Stowell.

A BUCKBOARD, whose wheel is of the hump-backed pattern, tied a sad tune of it on East Temple street opposite the Commercial Hotel yesterday afternoon. It was a comical sight to see a couple of inside on the sidewalk the street railway tracks. He was forced off the sidewalk into the road between the rails and bottom bagged up in his machine in a manner that damaged it considerably.

"WHEN I commandeered hobbled streets with long strings of dirty dishes out in the center," said a business man this morning, "we have them in the sprinkling district of this city and I tell you that they are bewildering. Since use a thoroughfare that is sprinkled on or near the street car tracks or curbs as good for by the property owners and I will buy every driver on the street a railroad ticket to the World's Fair."

CONSTABLE BOGG has been voted the funny man of the police force. At the meeting of the city fathers a statement was made by one of the solons that cured a peal of laughter to resound throughout the chamber. Wantland adjusted to "any laughing business," when the committee from the Fourth arose and poured over his gold eye glasses and said with characteristic earnestness: "I have, Mr. President, that the laugh be stricken out." It was fully three minutes before order was restored.

A STRANGE municipal blunders is the little pester clerk which has just been hung up in the council chamber and shows the ridiculousness of the present "commanding" area. In size and appearance it bears a strong resemblance to a $3 Centennial Waverley watch, and a caustic constituent of the First precinct contributing last evening as he looked at it: "It is small and inexpensive and therefore useful and can easily be used as negotiable property in paying some fireman a day's salary if necessary."

WITH CITY SOLONS.

Estimates Asked for by Both the Paving Companies.

SMOKE ORDINANCE TO ENFORCE.

The Committee on Municipal Laws Recommends the Adoption of the Warrant Resolution.

It was 8:30 o'clock last night when President Leatbourow's gavel fell in the council chamber and the transaction of business commenced. The members present were: Heiss, Beardsley, Kelly, Simondi, Horn, Bell, Wantland, Hardy, Folland, Evans, Rich.

THE PROCEEDINGS.

The J. L. Lawrence estate asked that sidewalks be accepted in lieu of taxes assessed. Board of public works.

Margaret Valentine asked that she be given an official grade for her sidewalk. City engineer.

George W. Carter asked for the transfer of the unexpired portion of his Valley House liquor license to William West. Committee on license.

Mary S. F. Roscoll and other property owners asked for an extension of waterworks from a point midway between Fifth and Sixth East streets on east Sixth South street to the middle of the block on Sixth South street between Sixth and Seventh East streets, also connections of Sixth East street. Committee of waterworks.

CULBER-JENNINGS' ESTIMATE.

The Culver-Jennings Paving company represented since their estimate of July 1st they had completed another entire block of pavement, for which they would be pleased to receive the estimate of the engineer and board of public works. The engineer, however, continued to give such estimate on account of it being the middle of the month.

President Leatbourow and Councilman Bell of the finance committee both spoke against granting this petition.

Rich, Maras and Wantland favored granting it.

On motion of Rich the matter was referred to the city engineer with instruction to give the estimate and refer the same to the board of public works, and that the petition be granted providing the company's bondsmen join in the request.

PACIFIC COMPANY'S ESTIMATE.

The Pacific Paving Company of Utah sent in a communication requesting the city engineer be authorized to give them a partial estimate on another block of paving completed on West Temple street, between South Temple and Second South streets, as they were in need of their money. The council asked: "We think that with city warrants will be able to get it." Same as above.

WATER PURIFICATION PROPOSED.

G. M. Forbes asked that a committee be appointed to investigate a water purifier discovered by W. G. Atkins of London. Board of health.

PAVING BLOCKS.

The Rapid Transit company offered to purchase 600 yards of paving blocks belonging to the city.

A BAP AT REALTY COMMITTEE.

George Tyler and others sent in a protest against the sprinkling of Fifth South street as follows:

Gentlemen—I beg to submit to your honorable body the following protest, in regard to the sprinkling of Fifth South street between Edmonds and Thirteenth East streets, on the ground that it would be downright robbery to make the property owners between and streets on Fifth South street for a tax from which they would derive no benefit. The soil on it, as it is, is almost impassable, boulders and rocks sticking up, holes, hollows and ruts innumerable, making travel of any kind very difficult, and in the center of and street the Salt Lake City Railway company's track, nearly three or four feet above the grade of and street. Had work been done in proportion on the part of Fifth South street, the same as Second South and Sixth South and its approaches, I do not hesitate to say that the tax would have been unreasonable. And in addition, would also had we a city engineer in the Council, building on Fifth South and throughout in real estate additions we would no doubt have so good a graded street as the east, south and west of us. Would respectfully request that a committee be appointed to investigate the truth of these assertions before any action is taken.

Sprinkling committee.

EXTENSION OF TIME WANTED.

O. R. Meredith, George E. Blair and eighteen others asked for an extension of time on the first payment of laying the sidewalks west on Second South street from Sixth West to the Jordan river, that said sidewalks be not laid until after August 24th, 1893, instead of August 24th, 1893, but many of the property owners are Rio Grande Western employes and are out of work and do not know how they are going to meet the payment. City attorney.

Frank B. Stephens called attention to the necessity for the grading of Thirteenth East street, and suggested that workmen be employed who would be willing to take warrants and wait for the money until the city has funds, if the report of the retrenchment committee should be adopted, as the street is impassable. Laid over to come up with the report of the retrenchment committee.

A SORRYER PETITION.

A petition by R. M. Jones, asking that his original electrical franchise be granted, was read and laid on the table to come up under the head of miscellaneous business. The petition also bore the signature of 125 prominent business men and firms.

TRIED TO BE FUNNY.

A. T. Pillard sent in a communication of appalling length. It was written in a cathedral strain and was of so personal a character that it was ordered referred to the committee on sprinkling before the reader could finish reading it. The petition asked that Fifth South from Ninth East to Mt. Olivet cemetery be graded before being sprinkled.

The petition was a unique one in innumerable ways and concluded with a "cussed" language quotation.

SPRINKLING AND SEWER INVESTIGATION.

The city recorder reported that the notice of intention for sprinkling certain streets in the third district had been published and only two protests had been received, and recommended that the matter be referred to the sprinkling committee and city attorney for a report, and that no action be taken until their report is received. Adopted.

The city recorder reported that sewer intention No. 21 for the extension of sewer on Sixth East street from South Temple to First South street had been published and only two protests had been filed, which was not sufficient to defeat the action. Referred to the city attorney to draft an ordinance.

THE HIGHER SEWER EXTENSION.

The city engineer reported, recommending that the petition of Mr. Hughes to connect his building with the sewer on Second West street be granted. Adopted.

HEALTH REPORT.

The report of the health department for the quarter ending June 30th, was referred to the sanitary committee.

SEWER PIPE FOR WEST HIGH.

The Rapid Transit company sent in a proposition to furnish electric power with which to operate the sewer pump at the Jordan river, regular card rates to control.

The Salt Lake City Railway company also sent in a communication on the same subject. They proposed to furnish the necessary power, not to exceed eighteen hours per day, for $2.50 per horse power per month, and to put in a Watt meter for the purpose of ascertaining the exact amount of power used in running said motor. Committee on sewerage.

HE WANTS A HORSE.

Seaton Ollenbach asked that he be given an extra horse for his department. Committee on cemetery.

SURVEYS AND PROFILES.

The committee on streets recommended that the surveys and profiles be appointed to the city engineer for South Temple street, First South street and Second South street and Eighth East street to the reservation. Adopted.

SMOKE ORDINANCE.

The committee on municipal laws recommended the repeal of the resolution which held in abeyance the enforcement of the smoke ordinance. Adopted. The recommendation was amended so as to prevent prosecution for sixty days.

WILL GIVE GRADE.

The committee on streets recommended that the petition of H. Barton and others for a grade on East Capitol street north of northeast corner of Capitol grounds, be granted. Adopted.

LOUTBOUROW'S WARRANT RESOLUTION.

The finance committee recommended the adoption of Leatbourow's warrant resolution published in this paper a few days ago. It precipitated a discussion which lasted until midnight, after which an adjournment was taken for one week.
