OGDEN.

OGDEN, UTAH, OCT. 4, 1893.

Money to be Arraigned.

Joseph Mooney, the would-be-slayer of Marcus Sheen, will have a hearing today before Commissioner Bishop with the object of being committed to jail. The complaint, charging him with assault with a deadly weapon and firing three shots into the body of Sheen, with deadly intent, was yesterday filed with the commissioner. Lyman Sheen, brother of the wounded man, is the complaining witness.

The injuries received by Mr. Sheen at the hands of Mooney, while serious, are not as bad as first reported. The ball, which was said to have taken effect in the head, only grazed that part of his anatomy, and left a ragged wound of small proportions. The ball that entered the fleshy part of the left thigh is by far the most painful of the three, and with ordinary good luck the wounded man will be around again in a few weeks. The preliminary examination will not take place for some time yet.

Wangsgaard After Dreadewitz.

James Wangsgaard, the Huntsville member of the board of county commissioners, and who was recently acquitted of the charge of grand larceny preferred against him by one Sam Dreadewitz, yesterday began a damage suit against the latter for the sum of $1500 which the scientific thinks he has sustained by reason of the prosecution that has been waged against him during the past six months.

Board of Education.

A special session of the board of education was held last night, and a number of proposed changes in the higher departments of the public schools were discussed. Professor Page introduced a plan by which the overcrowded departments can be relieved and the labors of the teachers in such departments lessened. The professor was empowered to act in the matter.

The financial question came in for its part of the deliberations, and a system of bookkeeping is to be inaugurated by which an itemized report may be made by the clerk and treasurer when demanded.

The following resolution was adopted and is self-explaining:

Resolved, That the tuition fee for non-resident pupils attending the high school and eighth grade be fixed at $2 per month, and $1 per month for pupils attending other grades, except such pupils as attend from districts immediately adjoining and who live nearer to Ogden schools than their own, where trustees or parents pay the sum of $5 the school year.

A num er of repairs were ordered made on the Grant avenue and Madison avenue buildings, and board adjourned.

County Court Matters.

The board of county commissioners was in session a goodly portion of the day yesterday, and the following business was transacted:

Attention was called to the dangerous condition at the bridge in Devil's gate canyon.

The charges preferred at last meeting against J. B. Alvord, road supervisor of West Weber, were too indefinite, and the matter was referred back to the petitioners.

An appropriation of $300 was made for the repair of the West Weber road.

Moses Hall, county superintendent of district schools, was allowed $5 per month for office rent.

The matter of compensation for Collector Hamer came up as usual and was not disposed of. Swenson wanted to make it $2,000, but could not get a second. Stouffer asked that the compensation be put at $3,000, but it was voted down. The question went over for another week, and in the meantime Mr. Hamer will furnish a statement of the actual expenses of his office.

Wrecked.

A freight train of ten cars was wrecked on the Truckee division of the Southern Pacific late on Monday night, but fortunately the trainmen were not injured. Freight and mail will have been delayed, but the wreckage has now been cleared away, and trains will run as usual.

Serious Charge.

This morning Bruce Hill will probably face a serious charge against one J. D. Heald, a vender of vegetables, who is alleged to have assaulted Mr. Hill's seven-year-old daughter, with criminal intent, a few days ago. Heald yesterday gave himself up to the police, and demands a hearing in the matter as he says he is innocent of such a charge.

Anderson vs Becker.

Today at 1 o'clock the contest for the Territorial championship of Utah in winged shooting will take place at Ogden. Shot Gun club grounds. The contestants are J. W. Anderson, of Salt Lake, and L. L.
