MORE RIOTS IN SPAIN

Hatred Against the United States Bursting Out Again.

THE CASE OF THE FILIBUSTERS.

The British Consul Also Intervenes in Behalf of the Captives—The Situation Grave.

MADRID, May 10.—There are evidences of growing popular excitement in Spain over the attitude of the United States government on the question of the filibusters captured on board the Competitor. The riots and outbreaks of popular hatred toward the United States at the time of the passage through Congress of the resolution favoring the recognition of the Cubans as belligerents have not been forgotten, and the sentiments which caused them are smouldering. The Spanish government has on all possible occasions expressed its appreciation of and satisfaction with the efforts made by the United States government to prevent, so far as lay in its power, the giving of unlawful aid to the Cuban insurgents by citizens of the United States. But the widespread sympathy felt for the insurgents in the United States is well recognized by the Spanish people, and the news of expeditions from this country from time to time in Cuba creates intense irritation.

The news of the capture of the men on the Competitor was received with great satisfaction and rejoicing. It was felt to be the first opportunity that has been afforded to make an example of those engaged in feeding the insurrection. The popular clamor for the execution is general and is likely to become vociferous. Little account is taken of the refined questions of treaty interpretation invoked in the protest of the United States against the execution of the sentences. The action of the United States is regarded rather as an expression of sympathy with the insurrection, and there will be a strong popular clamor to disregard it.

The Epoca, which is the ministerial organ, discusses the question in a far less conservative and less embittered manner than other newspapers. It declares America's demand applies exclusively to the form of trial, and not to the penalty. It believes the Spanish government will decide that the matter shall be submitted to the supreme military and naval court.

The Epoca also says the attitude of President Cleveland and Mr. Olney appears to be incredible, and declares the theory ascribed to Mr. Olney by the New York Word deserves no serious reply, because the offense can never be regarded as a question of contraband, according to the principles of international law.

According to the Diario the government sailed yesterday to Havana ordering Weyler to send the case to the supreme military and naval court.

Several papers published the report that beside General Weyler, Generals Ochando and Ahumada, who have important commands in Cuba, have also threatened to resign if the judgment of the court martial is quashed.

A NATIONAL QUESTION.

LONDON, May 11.—The Madrid correspondent of the Standard says: Senor Canovas made a long speech at a meeting of conservative senators and deputies Saturday evening, in which he declared that it was a national question, which must come day by day to the assistance of all parties. He declared it was impossible to introduce reforms in Cuba before the election there should resume its normal condition. He confessed his belief that war alone would fail to terminate the insurrection, but he believed the insurgents would become discouraged, and that recalcitrant would continue largely to cause a cessation of hostilities. If, however, the premier went on, public opinion in Spain would pronounce for a more radical and quicker introduction of colonial home rule, the conservative government and party would willingly resign the direction of affairs to the hands of those consenting to assume such responsibilities.

Guarded language recommends prudence and deprecates demonstrations. It clearly intimates that the government will make another effort to conciliate President Cleveland by asserting Gen. Weyler to send all the papers bearing upon the case here, for the supreme court to pronounce upon. The execution of the sentences would thus virtually be stayed.

The tone of the Madrid press are unanimous in the opinion that America has taken an unpopular and unjustifiable advantage of Spain's difficulties.

NOTHING TO MAKE PUBLIC.

WASHINGTON, May 10.—If any official news has been received by the government in Washington today regarding the American captives aboard the Competitor by the Spaniards and consumed by anxiety that to be what, diligent inquiry fails to disclose its nature. Secretary Olney, to whom a news man addressed a question on the subject, replied that there was nothing to make public. Inquiry in congressional circles and among those directly interested in the case of one of the men (Milton) shows no additional facts have been received by them.

SURRENDER TO SPAIN.

HAVANA, May 10.—The Spanish government has seen ashes to approve the sentence of death passed by a court-martial upon the men captured on the Competitor, on a charge of piracy and rebellion. The men condemned are Alfredo Lalorde, said to be the leader of the party and claiming American citizenship; Ellis Bode, also claiming American citizenship; William Gildea, said to be a British subject; John Milton, a native of Kansas; and Theodore Mais.

This places the fate of the men in the hands of the authorities at Madrid, and leaves that they will not be executed without an order from the Spanish government.

It has become known that the British consul has also intervened in the name of his government in behalf of the competitor's captives condemned to death. He invokes clemency for the prisoners.

The action of the British government in the case has caused a sensation here, and it has been the topic of comment today by all social classes in the community. It would be difficult to say from any admission made in official quarters what effect this new development will have in the case. There is a marked absence of irritation manifested in the comments on the subject, and the action of the British official seems to have been taken in very good part.

LONDON PRESS COMMENT.

LONDON, May 10.—The Standard has an editorial commenting upon the sentence of the men at Havana, which says: "The situation is undoubtedly grave, but the dispute involves a direct issue of fact, or at the utmost a conflicting interpretation of international law, which may furnish a means of escape from a position of extreme difficulty. The opinion seems to prevail that the sentence of the British subject (Gildea) will be commuted in recognition of Great Britain's friendly attitude. But this would be impossible, as the exercise of mercy in one case would render a denial in the other more invidious. The position of the Spanish government must affect general sympathy. It has a choice of evils, but it cannot be doubted which it will choose, provided it is possible to avoid identifying apparently with the Spanish assumption of National dignity, and if the Washington government is in earnest, which is always uncertain on the eve of a Presidential election."

Methodist Bishops.

CLEVELAND, O., May 10.—The delegates to the M. E. general conference are beginning to discuss the coming election of bishops, which will be the business next in importance to the disposition of the woman delegate question. It has been decided that no nominations will be made, the list being open to as many candidates as desire to enter. The delegates will vote for whomsoever they please, those first receiving a majority being elected.

It has not yet been decided how many bishops will be chosen, but the plan recently proposed by Bishop Walden is meeting favor. At present there are eleven bishops. Twelve are needed in this country, two are missionary bishops in Africa and India, and two are occupied in missionary work in various countries.

A GERMAN ANNIVERSARY.

The Signing of the Treaty of Peace with France.

FRANKFURT-ON-THE-MAIN, May 10.—The twenty-fifth anniversary of the signing of the treaty of Frankfort, which concluded the Franco-Prussian war, was celebrated here today in commemoration of the close and celebrations which have been held throughout Germany in commemoration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the events of the war. The treaty was signed in Swan hotel in this city by Prince Bismarck for Germany and Jules Favre on behalf of France.

The celebration of the anniversary of the signing of the treaty today was attended by splendid weather. Emperor William and Empress Augusta arrived in the city at 10 a.m., and received an address from a great multitude of people who had gathered to welcome them. The city was magnificently decorated, gay colored bunting and elaborate designs of flowers and green being everywhere manifest. Crowds of people had gathered in the city from outlying districts, and deputations were also present from all the universities of central and southern Germany.

After the service at the church the Emperor, with great ceremony, unveiled a monument in honor of his father, Wilhelm I. The burgomaster of Frankfort, in a dedatory speech, hailed William I. as the unselfish hero emperor. Emperor William then saluted the statue which represents the monarch on horseback. A review of the troops concluded the ceremony.

WARNING THE GERMANS.

Against Emigrating to the United States.

BERLIN, May 9.—[Copyrighted, 1896, by the Associated Press.]—The Reichsanzeiger today publishes a long article warning Germans against emigrating to the United States, and giving extracts from the annual report of the German society of New York relative to the increase of the number of ignorant immigrants from Italy, Russia, Poland, Ireland and Austria, with whom, the report adds, the educated German mechanics cannot compete because they are used to a higher standard of living.

In addition, German immigrants with capital are cautioned against investing in land, too little to which it is said is other than doubtful or doubtful, or which other conditions make unpalatable.

Clerks, teachers, officers, scientists and female teachers especially, are advised not to go to America, no matter how undesirable the conditions at their homes.

The Reichsanzeiger also says that the new immigrant law, proposed, will not improve affairs.

WANTS BISMARCK BACK.

Some idea of the situation may be formed when it is known that the emperor during the past week said to a confidant: "It would be better for me to fetch the old man back again." By the "old man" his majesty referred to Prince Bismarck.

The emperor is greatly disgusted at the extent of the armed reform law in the Diet, due to Dr. Von Boetticher's want of skill, and at the rejection of the chamber of commerce bill, which was a hard slap at Dr. Von Boetticher and Baron Von Berlepsch.

However, it is probable that the members of the present cabinet will hold their posts until the fall, as the centrists of the Diet and Reichstag are drawing to a close, and the emperor has a well-filled program for the summer which will keep him in Berlin for months. In spite of this, it is borne in mind that his majesty has expressed strongly to his entourage the inability of the cabinet, and there is an impression in court circles that if the ministerial failures continue he may lose his patience and force the resignation of the whole cabinet.

Constitutions Repeated.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 9.—The steamer Mariposa brings news of the wholesale massacre of traders and missionaries by natives of the islands of Manning Straits and the Solomons. Malay savages butchered a whole boat's crew of men from the ship Rio Loge. At Bubiana two French and one American traders were slaughtered. The mission on the island had been attacked and the missionaries escaped with difficulty, going back to Sydney by the first ship. The murders on the islands of Manning Straits were followed by acts of cannibalism. A small trading schooner owned by a French trader was attacked and the owner and his American assistant and eight peace of natives were lured ashore and beaten to death and the trading station was sacked. Two British missionaries are missing, and it is supposed they were also murdered. The mission on Tounan island has been abandoned as the result of the atrocities of the natives.

General Weyler's Plans.

BARCELONA, May 10.—A letter has been received here written by Captain General Weyler in Cuba to a deputy living in this city. Although General Weyler takes a liberal view of the situation in Cuba, he opines that the rebellion can only be quelled by a vigorous measure. He expresses the wish to complete the fortified line from Jaruco on the southern coast of the island, to Morro, on the northern coast, in the western portion of the province of Puerto Principe. He says that when the rebellion has been crushed he intends to apply reforms generously as the insurgents yield and as opportunity is afforded to Spain to prove her chivalrous sentiments.

What Shall Baby Be?

Will His Life be Failure or Success —Happiness or Misery.

His Parents Must Decide for Him. They Are Responsible.

Long before a baby comes into the world, his life problem begins. The laws of heredity are inflexible. "The sins of the fathers," their vices, their virtues, their weaknesses, their strength in all the hygienic questions, find a home in the little helpless tender mortal of flesh we call a baby.

He may draw characteristics from great grand-parents, he may resemble "papa" a very great deal, but the chief influence on his little life is due to his mother. Upon her bodily condition for the year before and following his birth, more depends than upon anything else, or all else put together.

Under ordinarily happy conditions, the advent of a baby means to mind, kind of love in the household. Cupid may take a nap when the baby comes—he wants to watch every detail of the proceedings, lest anything be left undone which cannot be realized from any other medicine extant. Twenty danger to both mother and child is banished, nearly all the pain and suffering are avoided, recovery after confinement is much more speedy, and an abundant secretion of nourishment for the child is insured. The mother-to-be, who uses "Favorite Prescription" imparts health and strength to the whole system and especially to the organs directly feminine. Not only do prospective mothers find it invaluable in easy and safe labor, but feeble women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the greatest earthly boon.

The only medicine now before the public for woman's peculiar ailments, adapted to debilitated invalids by a regularly graduated physician—an experienced and skilled specialist in these maladies—is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It cannot do harm in any condition of the system. Its sales exceed the combined sales of all other medicines for women.

It will cure any derangement of the distinctly feminine organism. It is absolutely certain. There are some who have imagined themselves so long that a complete cure is next to impossible, but even these will find comfort and improved health in the use of the "Favorite Prescription." It has cured hundreds of women who have received no relief whatever from years of treatment with good physicians, good, sound professional advice, that will enable her to care herself at home (if her case be curable), speedily, painlessly, permanently, and this, too, without having to undergo the trying ordeal of "examination" and the disenchanting and detailed treatment by "local applications."

All such correspondence is treated as the utmost confidence by Dr. Pierce, whose records of over a quarter of a million cases treated during his past thirty years' experience, show that there are not three incurable cases in a hundred.

Every woman will be healthier and happier for following the lucidly practical, liberally counsel contained in Dr. Pierce's great universal medical book, "The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser." It is the most comprehensive medical work, in one volume, in the English language, and involves the greatest sale of any book published in this country. In spite of its 1,000 pages, fully illustrated, 680,000 have been sold at one dollar and a half each, bound in cloth. Or, if desired, a paper covered copy will be sent for 21 one-cent stamps to pay cost of mailing only. Address World's Dispensary Medical Association, No. 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

Over ninety pages of this great work are devoted to the consideration of some peculiarities to women. Successful modes of home treatment are thoroughly explained, making it unnecessary in most cases to expose or submit to the "examination," and the shrinking girl is generally spared the "local treatment."

In French cloth-covered, well-sewed covers are desired, you need only send 10 one-cent stamps in all, to cover only the postage and the care and attention more desirable and beneficial style of binding. Send now, before all are given away.
