OGDEN, UTAH, - - JULY 4, 1903.

THREE BOYS IN COLLISION

William O'Conner Has a Very marrow Escape.

Efforts to Save Methodist Church Property-S. P. Pay Car Dispensed With-Social Functions.

A bad accident occurred last evening about 6 o'clock when the east bound street car at the intersection of Twentysecond street and Madison avenue rashed into a wagon containing hree boys. The wagon was demolished and the three boys thrown out all suffering painful injuries. The boys and several other parties who saw the accident insist that the car was running at a very rapid rate, and that no warnings were given of its approach. The worst injured boy is Roy Griffin whose ankle is sprained. His companions were Vivian Taylor and John Schat.

A NARROW ESCAPE.

William O'Connor had a narrow egcape from death yesterday afternoon from being struck by a street car at the intersection of Twenty-fifth street and Grant avenue. Kennedy and a companion were walking along engaged in conversation. They claim the bell was not rung but the motorman insists that it was. At any rate O'Connor did not see the car and it struck him, dragging him about 40 feet and inflicting many painful cuts and bruises though no bones were broken. It is little short miracle that no bones were br and that the man was able to keep from being dragged under the wheels,

THE PAY CAR NO MORE.

The recent trip of the Southern Pa-cific paycar to Ogden is the last visit which that time-honored institution will make to Ogden. The company is adopting the plan of paying by checks instead of with coln and the checks are sent direct to the employees. Another sent direct to the employes. Another change is that the company will pay on or about the 15th instead of on or about the 1st of each month.

THE METHODISTS MAKE TENDER. A number of members of the Methodist congregation met last evening to consider and adopt some plan whereby the church organization may retain the church property. It was decided to make a formal offer to the Methodist board of church extension of $10,000-$5,000 of the amount to be paid down or within a few months and $1,000 to be paid each year for five years. The title of the property is now in the national board and would remain so until the last $1,000 is paid. The offer is to be made. Attorney Maloney, who will transmit it to his clients-the Meth-odist board of church extension. The consider and adopt some plan whereby Prof. Trueblood concluded his work last night in readings from Hamlet, which were rendered in a manner that revealed in him a great character de-lineator and a true artist. At the conclusion of the recital, Prof. Hickman, in a happy speech present-ed the famous elocutionist with a num-ber of testimonials from teachers who have been attending his lectures. Prof. Truebload responded feelingly.

Prof. Trueblood responded feelingly expressing his appreciation, and the pleasure with which he had enjoyed his week's labors in college hall. He also thanked the people for their kind ness to his wife, daughter and self. FOURTH DISTRICT COURT.

Provo, July 4.-Prof. Trueblood yes-terday closed his series of lectures on elecution at the B. Y. academy summer Idea grouping and pauses received consideration. The words of one idea should be uttered with a single impulse and separated from other groups by a pause. A pause may not mean a break of sound may be a slight attenuation or holding of sound.

There are two necessities for pauses grouping, first a physical necessity that the vocal organs may recover from one action and prepare for another, and give an opportunity for replenishing the lungs at the end of the group; second, a mental necessity, to prevent the jumbling of ideas

These groups may consist of a single rord or many words. Pauses are made in accordance with laws of structure.

They are made before certain phrases introduced by relative pronouns, adjac-tives and adverbs following the words they modify, infinitive and prepositional phrases; between clauses, words of a series, and words where elipses occur. after emphatic words and nominative phrases; before and after transposed words and phrases, appositional words and phrases, parenthetical expressions, and direct quotations.

Theodore Sims of Lehl was in Prove last evening looking for his 11-year-old daughter, Mamie, who was placed on the Rio Grande Sanpete train at Lehi yesterday morning to come to From here she was to go on the Heber train to visit her grandparents in Heber. Mr. Sims states that the conduc tor promised to see that the child got off at Provo. This afternoon, when the conductor returned, Mr. Sims says he (the conductor) said he did not know anything about the girl. A telephone message was received from Heber by Mr. Sims from the people who expected the child, saying that she had not arrived, and Conductor Starr of the He-ber branch, says she did not go up with him. Mr. Sims has enlisted the aid of the officers and is sparing no efforts to locate the missing girl.

BIG DAMAGE SUIT.

H. J. Powers, physician of Ogden, has alled suit in the First district court against Zeph Thomas of Logan for $10,-000 damages. The complainant alleges that on April 15 last he walked through that on April 19 last he walked through a door in the Eagle hotel of this city, owned by plaintiff, and fell down an elevator shaft, receiving personal in-juries to his damage in the sum named. He alleges that the hall was too for him to make out the door of his room; that the doors were alike and similarly situated, and that the leaving of the elevator door unlocked was gross carelessness. Evidence in the case of Wm. Worley vs Wm. Weir, suit for a balance of $40, was heard by Judge Hart Thursday, and the matter then taken under advisement. OLD FOLKS REUNION.
