OQUIRRH SHCOOL PLANS.

The Board of Education Asks for Better Insurance Rates.

ANOTHER CAR OF FURNITURE.

Architect's Bill for the Plans and Specifications of the Wasatch School Building.

The Board of Education held their regular weekly meeting last night. Vice President Nelson occupied the chair. The members in attendance were: Young, Alff, Newman, Doty, Baldwin, Pratt and Raybould.

OQUIRRH SCHOOL PLANS.

The committee on sites and buildings recommended that the plans and specifications submitted by William Carroll for the Oquirrh school be accepted, and asked authority to contract for the excavations and different classes of work separately as may be necessary. They advised this course for the reason that there is not sufficient funds available at present to pay the estimated cost, and that the building can be constructed more economically in this manner and more satisfactorily than to enter into a contract at this season of the year for the whole building.

Pratt moved as an amendment to adopt the plans of Wm. Carroll, provided the building will not cost over $35,000 including heating and ventilating, and that Mr. Carroll will accept the sum of $1,000 in payment in full for said plans, details and specifications, or any alterations in the same that may be ordered by the board.

Adopted as amended.

FURNITURE ORDERED.

The committee on furniture and supplies reported that in accordance with a resolution of the board they had placed an order for the second car of furniture for the Lowell school at a cost of $2,190.40. Adopted.

ANOTHER JANITOR.

The committee on furniture and supplies also recommended the appointment of James Lee as janitor of the high school at $60 a month, to date from the opening of the said school building. Adopted.

BETTER INSURANCE RATES.

The committee on sites and buildings reported that many of the new buildings are approaching completion, and the superior manner in which they are heated and their distance from other buildings would entitle the board to a lower rate of insurance than is usually accorded ordinary buildings. The committee therefore recommend that the Pacific Insurance Union be asked to make a survey of the buildings and rate them according to their merits, and that the committee be authorized to insure the buildings at from thirty-five per cent. to fifty per cent. of the cost, and that they be allowed to insure the furniture at fifty per cent. to seventy-five per cent. of its cost. Adopted.

SHE WANTS HALF.

Maude Webster, the principal of the Twentieth ward school, sent in a communication stating that at the end of last school year she was employed as principal of said school, but until the present time she had been unable to assume active duties, but she had done considerable work. Her physician had advised her not to take up the duties until after Christmas. She asked to be allowed half pay until the Lowell school is completed. Committee on teachers.

THE BALANCE DUE.

W. H. Joy asked the board to pay $411.50 to W. S. Simkins, the balance due on the contract for brick furnished the Eleventh school—the sum to be withheld from Lee Klamteck & Parsons account. Committee on sites and buildings.

ROOMS RENTED.

The committee on sites and buildings submitted a report recommending that the offer of George R. Emery of two down stair rooms of the church building on Fifth West street for the sum of $60 per month be accepted, and that the selection of a janitor be left with Mr. Emery. Adopted.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The same committee presented the plans, specifications and contracts of P. J. Moran for heating and ventilating the Washington school and recommended that the board sign the contract. Adopted.

The contract of S. C. Sherrill for the erection of the Wasatch school building was also presented with the recommendation that the board accept and sign it. Mr. Sherrill's bond is signed by A. S. Gibson and George C. Kohler which the committee recommended be approved. Adopted.

The committee also recommended that the contract with the Handy & Meyers Engineering company for heating and ventilating the Jackson school be approved and signed by the officers of the board. Adopted.

The committee on sites and buildings asked for authority to contract for moving the soil from the Washington school site and the Wasatch school site to such school sites where the earth may be needed. Granted.

Monheim, Bird & Proudfoot sent in a bill for $108.25 for plans and specifications of the Wasatch school building, being 1½ per cent. on the contract price of $7,218. Committee on sites and buildings.

Mr. Alff moved that the committee on furniture and supplies be given authority to purchase a carload of furniture to arrive about January 1st. This resolution to take the place of the one passed previously during the evening on the furniture question. Adopted.

OGDEN ITEMS.

A Natural Gas Revival.—In Court and Baskoff Circles.—Notes.

(Ogden Standard.)

AFTER THE GAS.

Work at the gas fields of the Utah & Utah Natural Gas company which are located seven miles due west of Ogden will commence in about two weeks if as soon as the machinery, which was ordered immediately after the franchise was granted by the city council, arrives from Findlay, Ohio. On Wednesday Messrs. Stephens and Mayne, the agents of eastern capitalists and promoters of the enterprise, escorted a large party of prominent business men, among whom were Messrs. Rossel, Sidney Stevens, J. M. Armstrong, H. W. Shurtliff, Matt Browning, Patton, Hoyle and Fitzgerald, out to the proposed location of the first well to be sunk. The surface indications are splendid, and to those who have been on the ground no doubt remains as to the close proximity of gas in unlimited quantities. For several years the farmers in the vicinity have been using gas obtained from wells, in some cases not over 150 feet deep, and one well when lighted threw a flame six feet high. The water of numerous springs in the vicinity are highly charged with gas and a flame several feet high results when a match is applied to the streams.

COURT PROCEEDINGS.

Anna Christena Skanchy brought suit yesterday in the Fourth district court for divorce against her husband, Andrew A. Skanchy, on the grounds of desertion and failure to provide. The interested parties were married in 1878 in Norway and about twenty years ago removed to Cache county, where they still live.

The Spanish Fork Grazing company, which has [illegible] a big canal in Idaho, as and W. [illegible] Corey and Theodore R. [illegible] a close whole, the Cache Valley Construction company, for $3,807.14, alleged to be due on the contract. The complaint alleges that on April 12, 1892, the plaintiff entered into a contract with the defendants whereby it agreed to construct a canal from Soda Springs, Idaho, fifteen miles in a westerly direction, to be known as the Cache Valley canal, the contract price to be, according to the footings, $18,982.12. Of this amount it is claimed only $12,125.13 had been paid, and judgment for the balance is asked.

A verdict of $50 was rendered by the jury in the damage case of Rose Durfee et al. vs. Union Pacific railway. This was an action commenced to recover $752 damages, alleged to have been caused to the plaintiffs by their being put off the train near Willard city.

The talk of forming a baseball league with the Ogden, Salt Lake, Idaho and Montana teams still continues, and arrangements may be perfected within a few weeks.

Uncle John Chambers, whose death occurred at 12:05 o'clock yesterday morning, will be hardly laid away on Sunday. The funeral services will be held in the Fourth ward meeting house, commencing at 12 o'clock noon. The members of Ogden Typographical union, of which the deceased was an honored member, will attend in a body.

Sergeant Smith yesterday arrested Louis Tolleson, a Swedish laborer, who is accused of stealing a watch, suit of clothes and sundry articles from Peter Pierson, at whose house he was boarding.

Sheriff Belnap last evening arrested a young man who it is alleged was one of the participants in the robbery of Joseph Alvey's store at Hooper, late Wednesday night. He refused to give his name, but the officers are confident they have the right man. The sheriff has a full description of the other robber and may get his man at any time. Some money and a large amount of goods were taken by the thieves.

Harry Coy, the 8-year-old son of Harry Coy, residing at 334 Twenty-seventh street, while leading a horse down Washington avenue yesterday afternoon, met with a painful, but not serious accident. The boy was leading the animal by the bridle when suddenly the horse made a quick move, stepping upon the boy's left ankle. Upon examination, strange to relate, it was found the lad's ankle had only received a severe sprain.

County Court.

At a meeting of the county court yesterday afternoon Judge Boreh occupied the chair, and Selectmen Cahoon, Hardy and Butler were present.

Minutes of the meeting of October 24th read and approved.

W. J. McCarthy, a pauper, was sent to the infirmary.

In the matter of the application of W. A. Carter for a tax release, it was shown that the taxes had been paid, and it was ordered that the attorney draw up a resolution granting the release.

The claim of W. A. Bridges for $25 on pauper account was allowed.

Selectman Hardy was appointed a committee to confer with the railroads in the matter of purchasing pauper tickets.

The matter of equity between the Twenty-ninth and Sixty-sixth school districts, which was made special order for the day, came up. Le Grand Young appeared as attorney for the Sixty-sixth school district. The question is one of equity, to be decided by the court. Some months ago the Sixty-sixth district was formed from the Twenty-ninth, and at that time each owned a share in certain school property, and the court is to divide it. Almost all of the Sixty-sixth district was brought into the city by the recent election held there.

In the matter of aid from the county to Sarah C. Wickson, the clerk was instructed to draw up a voucher for $25 to cover her expenses in Denver.

The court will meet again on Monday next.

"TELL DONOVAN I'M BEAR."

So Exclaimed a Salt Lake Jailbird Killed in Ogden.

(Ogden Standard.)

George Conley, an escaped jail bird from Salt Lake, was run over by cars near the Rio Grande Western gas house at 12:25 this morning, dying two hours later from the effects of his injuries.

He and two of his pals were discovered shortly after 1 o'clock alongside the track, one of them having placed his coat under Conley's head. One of them said, as soon as the yard men approached, "I'll have to go. We are switching in the C. P." They at once departed, after giving the injured man's name, and stated that he had escaped from the Salt Lake jail and that his home was in Danville, Illinois.

From Conley's broken utterances and from the circumstances under which he was found it was evident that he had ridden the brakebeams from Salt Lake to Ogden on passenger No. 8, due here at 1 a.m. Stopping for coupings near the gas house the three got off, but some way Conley got under the wheels. They crushed both of his legs across the thighs and also below the knee, leaving wood, bone splinters and parts of clothing along the track.

As the police patrol arrived with Sergeant Tyree and Officer Fisher, Conley, who had been wrapped up in a blanket, asked for the doctor and shortly afterward said, "Tell Captain Donovan I'm dead." He was gathered up, placed in a hack and taken to town. On the way he died and was delivered over to Bishop Ross, the undertaker, while a physician and the coroner were sent for.

Amusement Notes.

"Two Venoms" is the attraction at the Theater tonight and tomorrow matinee and evening. The play has had a remarkably successful run, a circumstance which may be owing to the fact that Mr. Hoey, the author and principal actor, is thoroughly conversant with the subject he has undertaken to present to the public. Certainly enough Mr. Hoey is of German extraction, although he has chosen a Swedish character as the hero of his drama. He certainly has typical Swedish features and by his skillful playing he attracts and holds the sympathy of his audience.

"A MAN OF THEBES"

will be presented at the Theater on Tuesday, and "For Revenue Only" on Wednesday.

WONDERLAND.

A museum of physical strength will like to see Mr. Sampson, the Russian, who tests iron links as easily as if they were thin cords. There are also numerous other attractions.

A Free Man.

E. S. Ford was released from the penitentiary this morning, upon the expiration of his sentence of one year, for grand larceny. He was convicted in the Third district court.
