Oleomargarine.

WASHINGTON, 28.—The commissioner of internal revenue has prepared a set of regulations concerning the manufacture of oleomargarine under the internal revenue laws, which will be sent to all collectors for their guidance.

The commissioner of internal revenue has decided to place a fine engraving of the Treasury building upon the special $50 oleomargarine stamp. The designs for the smaller denominations have not yet been selected.

Retired.

Rear-Admiral Russell has been placed on the retired list. This makes a vacancy for the promotion of Commodore Queen.

Donovan Arraigned.

August 28.—Donovan was arraigned at the bar of the Toombs Police Court this afternoon. The court room was filled with friends of the jumper.

Judge Duffy said: "This fellow wanted to kill Brodie and thinks he is going to be a hero and pose in some dime museum." He then questioned the bridge policeman and a train conductor, but neither could say that Donovan had jumped from the bridge. The policeman's attention was attracted by a number of vehicles stopping and the drivers looking down into the water. "Then what is there," said Justice Duffy, "to show that this man is not a fraud? He may have got a few men to get in the boat and row out under the bridge, and had his friends make a great ado and say the man had jumped from the bridge."

Donovan then said he did make the jump, and an affidavit was then made out accordingly, based on Donovan's admission "that he jumped from the bridge into East River and thereby caused obstruction to vehicles on the bridge."

His case was again brought up, and Justice Duffy reiterated his former opinion, "But," said he, "this thing of jumping off high places, going over cataracts at Niagara, etc., by loons, must be stopped. We read of them doing the things in tights, in barrels and wanting to jump from balloons. There is no heroism in this jumping. I've a notion," said the Justice, severely, "to send you to the Island for six months as a vagrant, so that you would be where you could'nt harm yourself or anybody else. As it is, I'll fine you $10 for having interrupted travel on the bridge."

The fine was paid and Donovan walked out of court considerably crestfallen.

Hoyt's Will.

NEW YORK, 28.—Surrogate Rollins handed down his decision to-day in the Jesse Hoyt will contest. The will is sustained. The Surrogate says the will of Jesse Hoyt is in all things sufficiently probated and the probate thereof must be confirmed. "If in the judgement and conscience of Jesse Hoyt," says the Surrogate, "the bequests he made to his wife and daughter were adequate to their needs and to his conjugal and parental obligations, it was natural and proper he should look to his father's children and children's children as persons justly entitled by ties of blood and affection to the remainder of his large posessions."

Failure.

SAN FRANCISCO, 28.—Kane Brothers, dry goods dealers, Kearney Street, assigned to Daniel Meyer this morning. Liabilities, $230,000; assets nominally the same as liabilities.

The assets consist of stock valued at $190,000; outstanding fixtures and cash, $46,000.

The firm consists of Thomas Kane and Patrick Boland. Among the principal creditors are Daniel Meyer, to whom the firm is indebted $89,000. Among the other creditors are Levi Strauss & Co.; Murphy, Grant & Co., the Bank of California, M. Sachs & Co., and Kahn Bros., Bine & Co. There are in all about 130 creditors including several New York firms. A meeting of the creditors was held this afternoon and E. Newhall and Mr. Reis, of Neuberger, Reis & Co., were appointed to assist the assignee.

The only reason assigned for the failure is that although the business of the firm has steadily increased the profits have not kept pace with the increased expenses. The house was established 20 years ago and enjoyed the confidence of the entire business community. It is believed an arrangement will be effected with the creditors whereby the firm will resume business.

Peruvian Railway.

LIMA, 23.—The Government has concluded a contract with Juan L. Morndike, subject to the approval of Congress, for the extension by private capital of the railway lines from Santa Rosa to Cuzco, to be completed in four years, and from Puno to Desaguadero, which, in connection with the proposed Bolivian lines, will give direct railway communication between LaPaz and Orurs on the Pacific and Motiendo to Islay, the latter, only in case of the establishment of the Bolivian line. The contractor acquires a fifty years' right to the property, at the end of which time it reverts to the State.

Seven Yaquis Killed.

NOGALES, A. T., 28.—The Mexican troops under General Hernandez, who left Guaymas yesterday morning in pursuit of the Yaquis who committed the depredations in Maytorena and Batanotal, overtook them yesterday near the former place. A short, decisive engagement followed, which resulted in the killing of seven Yaquis and the taking of several prisoners. The Mexican loss is unknown. The troops are still in pursuit.

Bogus Bills.

BAKERSFIELD, Cal., 28.—Three well dressed strangers, who arrived here yesterday, were detected passing bills on the Consolidated Bank of Montreal, Canada, which did not bear the signatures of the officers of the bank. The bills were of the denomination of ten dollars. A police officer, while attempting to arrest them, was shot through the arm and the three managed to escape. A party of citizens started in pursuit.

Schooner Seized.

HALIFAX, 28.—The schooner Crittenden, Captain Graham, from North Bay for Gloucester, with 430 barrels of mackerel, was seized last night at Port Mulgrave by Collector Bourinort, who, after being on board all night, took her to Port Hawkesbury this morning, where she is held awaiting instructions from Ottawa. She was seized for violating the custom house laws. This is the captain's second full fare from North Bay.

Arrested.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., 28.—Thomas C. Evans, a prominent Welshman of Nanticoke, who was a delegate to the political convention held here last week, was arrested this afternoon at the instance of Assistant District Attorney Lenahan. He was brought here and taken before Alderman Parsons, where he was charged with a misdemeanor in proposing to support candidates for money. It is said that Evans was the spokesman for a committee of seventy delegates and demanded of the candidate $10 for each delegate, which was refused. Evans was held in $500 bail for appearance at the criminal court. It is said 40 other arrests will be made next.

SUNDAY'S DISPATCHES.

DEADLY EXPLOSION IN CHICAGO.

A Powder Magazine Struck by Lightning.

CHICAGO, 29.—At 9:15 o'clock this morning, in the midst of a heavy thunder storm, the powder magazine belonging to the Laflin & Rand Powder Co., was struck by lightning. An explosion followed which destroyed property valued at $75,000, besides killing one person almost instantly, fatally injuring and contributing painful injuries to nearly 25 others. Particulars later.

The combined effects of a hard fought battle, a cyclone and the withering influences of lightning could not have presented a picture of more abject desolation and destruction than did the country for half a mile in all directions from the exploded magazine. The day had opened gloomily. At 8 o'clock rain began falling furiously, and from an immense bank of clouds flashes of lightning were soon chasing each other across the whole firmament until the heavens seemed ablaze. The thunder was deafening.

About 9:15 a flash, which all agree was much brighter than those preceding was followed by a report that

SHOOK THE GREATER PART OF COOK COUNTY.

It was a sharp report, but strange to say, by most of those who lived in the vicinity of the explosion, it was hardly distinguishable from the series of thunder claps, which had been the order of the morning. There was a tremendous shaking of the earth. Articles of furniture not stationary were thrown about the rooms as if they were playthings in a giant's power. Men, women and children were tossed around at will by the terrible, resistless, force released by the explosion. The scene of the catastrophe is about two miles from the extreme southwestern edge of the city, near where Archer Avenue settles down into the conventional country highway. On one side wave great fields of ripening corn, on the other a broad stretch of prairie runs for nearly a mile in all directions. On this were a dozen plain but strongly built houses, with walls of yellow brick, roofs of slate and strong iron doors. These houses were magazines in which the bulk of the powder supply for Chicago and the territory dependent upon it was stored. Right in the midst of the magazines rose the home of M. A. Tierney, police magistrate of the town of Lake, in the limits of which the corporation warehouses stood. His house was until to-day an attractive looking home. It was two stories high, with spacious veranda in front and surrounded by a number of substantial outhouses. It overlooked the Archer road, about forty feet away. Three hundred feet northeast of the Tierney residence was a little cottage, rudely built and surrounded by ruder sheds stables and hog pens. The magazine of the Laflin and Rand Powder Co., was one of the largest of the dozen structures in the neighborhood. It was a substantial brick house, 70 by 30 feet in dimensions, with a slate roof and one iron door of great strength. The magazine was three hundred feet east of the cottage of John Glunand and 700 feet from the residence of Mr. Tierney. When the rain began to fall in the morning the people in the vicinity were all indoors, many of them prolonging their Saturday night's rest. An occasional wagon passing along the Archer road was the only sign of life outdoors. Just preceding the explosion,

A LONG VIVID ELECTRIC FLAME

SEEMED TO BURST FROM A CLOUD

directly over the Laflin and Rand magazine. In an instant the air was filled with flying missiles. Masses of brick and clay, sheets of tin, large stones and pieces of timber performed indescribable gyrations hundreds of feet in the air, some falling back close to the points from which they started, while others shot off through space with frightful velocity, only conforming to the laws of gravity after a long flight. Stones weighing from one to 150 pounds were thrown into the fields two miles distant from the scene. Trees were stripped of their foliage, fences, by the mile, were laid low, telegraph wires were snapped like fragile threads, and the prairie bore scams as if a thousand steam plows had been at work. Not a building left standing within a mile of the explosion escaped damage. The little cottage of John Guhl, with its surrounding outhouses was laid low without warning, and in a moment parts of the exploded warehouse began falling on the debris of the cottage. Guhl's family consisted of himself, his wife and Carrie Ahrenwerth, 14 years of age. The latter was

INSTANTLY KILLED,

While Guhl and wife were dragged from the ruins frightfully mutilated. Their horses, cows and swine were all killed by the concussion, and the bodies blown full of dirt and powder. The ruins of Guhl's house immediately took fire and the fragments burned out during the day. The body of Carrie Ahrenwerth presented a shocking spectacle. Half the face was torn away, the eyes were almost blown from their sockets and there was a gaping hole in the forehead, large enough to receive a man's fist, while the girl's left arm was torn from the shoulder. The body was removed to the home of her uncle, August Ahrenwerth, on California Avenue.

The exploded magazine contained, it is estimated, 140,000 pounds of powder and half as much dynamite. In the neighboring ten store houses was 500,000 pounds of dynamite and twice as much powder. Not one of the eleven buildings had lightning rods or conductors. Directly south of the powder mill stood the little frame house of Mrs. Eliza Devine, aged 65. The little structure had seemingly been crushed to atoms, and a stone 300 pounds in weight lay on top of the ruins, in which were found Mrs Devine, her right leg crushed into a shapeless mass while a large piece of glass had entered under the collar bone and was forced out through her armpits.

Peter Kenna, a farmer, while driving past in a wagon, was immediately in front of the magazine when the explosion occurred.

HE WAS BLOWN 200 FEET INTO A CORN FIELD

and frightfully injured. One of his horses was killed outright and the wagon reduced to splinters. The first shock of the explosion reached the Church of the Jesuits of the Holy Family, where mass was going on. There were a thousand people at the services who made an indiscriminate plunge for the staircase and windows. Men fell in heaps over fainting women and children, a general panic ensued and a great many women and children were seriously injured. At the Church of the Nativity, 37th and Dishel Streets another panic took place and several were more or less injured. The board of trade building was greatly affected by the disturbed condition of the atmosphere. Plate glass 12 feet square was shattered into fragments, the largest piece being no larger than a 50 cent piece. An electric light man, who was in the tower at the time of the explosion, states that the tower swayed so that he thought it would topple over. The electric lights in the Palmer House were extinguished and the building shaken from roof to foundation.

SEVEN MILES FROM THE SCENE

A similar scene occurred at the Grand Pacific Hotel. In the Union building, where is located the general office of the Associated Press, several windows were broken.

The dead and fatally injured are Miss Carrie Ahrenwerth, killed instantly; Peter Kenn, a farmer, ribs broked and fearfully burned; John Guhl, teamfor Oriental Powder Co., ribs fractured right leg broken in two places and internal wounds; Mrs. Guhl's skull crushed; Mrs. Eliza Devine, right leg crushed to a jelly, breast transfixed with a strip of glass. The shock caved caved in two magazines of the Oriental Powder Co. and also those belonging to the Warren Powder Co., Hazard, Dupont Co.,s and Forcete dynamite storehouse. The Laflin and Rand was Co.'s was the only one that exploded. Where it stood is now an immense excavation of great depth.

The "Daniel Drew" Burned to the Water's Edge.

RONDOUT, N. Y., 29.—At 3 o'clock this afternoon, the large passenger steamboat Daniel Drew, of the Albany line, caught fire at her moorings, at Kingston Point, and burned to the water's edge. The Drew was held in readiness for use in case of accident to either of the other two boats of the line. All the furniture belonging to the boat was on board and nothing was saved. Just after the fire broke out, a futile attempt was made by the crew of the steam yacht Charles A. Schultz to pull the Drew from the dock.

The Drew, which was one of the largest and swiftest passenger steamers on the Hudson River, was built by Thomas Collyer, of New York, in 1860. Her blackened hull sank in the river this evening. Loss $150,000.

A Crater Lake 2,000 Feet Deep.

WASHINGTON, 29.—A party sent out by the Geological Survey under the command of Captain Clarence E. Dutton, U. S. A., has succeeded in reaching and making a complete survey of the Crater Lake in Oregon, a body of water whose shores, with the possible exception of one point on the south, have never before been touched by the foot of white men. The party's boats were hauled 100 miles by mule teams, dragged by a detail of soldiers up the snow-clad sides of the ridge, which surrounds the lake and lowered by ropes from the crest to the water, 900 feet below. One hundred and sixty soundings were made, the result of which gave the general character of the lake bottom. Two large submerged cinder cones were found respectively 500 and 1,200 feet high. The rest of the bottom being flat. Captain Dutton believes this to be the best body of fresh water on the continent. The greatest depth attained by the sounding line was 2,005 feet.

Sailed Away.

NEW YORK, 28.—Henry Irving and Miss Ellen Terry, sailed for Europe to-day.

FOREIGN.

THE SITUATION IN THE OLD WORLD.

Brief Notes from Berlin Bulgaria, Etc.

BERLIN, 28.—Prince Bismarck will remain here a few days for the purpose of conferring with Emperor William. He will then proceed to his country seat.

The King of Portugal arrived here Thursday. Emperor William, Crown Prince Frederick William and other members of the Royal family met the king at the railway station. The state carriage drawn by four horses was awaiting his arrival and in it he was conveyed to the Castle, where he was greeted by the Empress Augusta.

In the evening a grand banquet was given in honor of the royal visitor. On Friday morning at 8.30 o'clock Emperor William received King Luis on the parade ground and the two rulers witnessed the exercises of the Guards. Subsequently they visited the Temple of Fame, Arsenal and the Fine Art exhibition and in the evening dined at Babelsberg. King Luis has been created an honorary Colonel of the Prussian Hussars.

The pupils of the Steinwerler Navigation School have built and presented to Bismarck a model of a full-rigged ship, completely equipped. It has been placed in an artificial lake in the Prince's park at Friederichsruhe.

The Chancellor spends hours in pistol practice at Schuinoff's gallery at Gastein. He fires at a target at a distance of forty paces.

Prince Leopold, the late Prince Frederick Charles' only son, has finished his studies at Bonn, and now resides in the palace of Gleinicke, at Potsdam. He has been appointed to the regiment of the Foot Guards, and will accompany Emperor William to Alsace to witness the army maneuvers.

The funeral of the Bishop of Metz was attended by Prince Hohenlohe, Governor of Alsace-Lorraine, and many high German and French ecclesiastics. The Municipal Council of Metz paid 8,000 marks for decorations for the cathedral on the occasion.

A congress will be held in September to discuss the methods of advancing German interests in the countries beyond the seas. Various exhibits will be made by the Society of Naturalists and a number of prominent physicians have ordanined a medical section. Geography, climatology and tropical hygiene will be considered in connection with the German colonies.

The Prince of Wales attended the concert at Hamburg on Wednesday evening. The first row of seats was reserved for him, and the manager of the theatre raised the price of the stalls on the next two rows to ten marks, the usual price being half of that sum.

One hundred and forty-six gold florins of the time of Emperor Sigsmund, and earlier than the 15th century, coined at Nuremburg, Frankfort, Nordingen, Bale, Coblentz and Bonn, have been discovered in a private garden at Wurtemburg.

The North German Gazette severely censures the municipal authorities at Berlin and Munich for not going to Buda on the occasion of the bi-centennial celebration there. The Gazette says that Germany had better remember the things that unite her to Hungary, than those that sever her from that country.

Marquis Tseng, in a recent interview, expressed his admiration for Prince Bismarck, and said he hoped the conferences at Kissingen and Berlin would strengthen the relations between China and Germany. China, he said, was trying to get a navy of the European pattern which would be worthy of China's greatness, and which would prevent an infringement of her interests. The Marquis inspected the Hennitz Iron Works and the Gruson Steel Works at Magdeburg.

It is reported that Prince William of Prussia will visit the Czar at his Lubaldek hunting lodge on the 11th of September next.

The Czar has conferred the decoration of the order of St. Ann on General Gratmann.

Lemberg, 28.—Prince Alexander started this afternoon by special train for Lompalanka. From Lompalanka he will proceed to Sofia. It is not settled yet what route he will take to reach that city. Before leaving Lemberg the Prince consulted an eminent physician.

Rome, 28.—Among the towns in Italy where the earthquake was felt are Syracuse, Rigges, Calabria, Patense, Pozzuki, Baran and Vellino. The people were panic stricken and took refuge in fields and churches.

Berlin, 28.—Public interest here is centered in Prince Alexander. He has become a favorite, and the news that he has been liberated has caused a storm of popular delight. The Prince's portrait is displayed in many of the shop windows. Some of the newspapers denounce this deposition as an audacious act of scoundrels, who have been bought with Russian money. One journal warns the Czar that Alexander is a German, and that the indignity put upon him is an insult which will never be forgotten.

Emperor William received the news of Alexander's deposition from Gen. Van Werser on Sunday, at the mess of the officers of the Guards at Potsdam.

The porte has expressed its willingness to adopt the views of the Bulgarian Commission in connection with the revision of the organic statute. It was proposed to elaborate a new statute to consist of two parts, the first dealing with the rights of the Sultan, the second with the internal administration, and the third with finance, railways, passports and customs. The Porte wishes to add a fourth section dealing with the position of foreigners and with capitulations.

English Hop Growers.

LONDON, 28.—It is reported that the British Government is prepared to concede the demand of the English hop growers to impose a small import duty on foreign hops.

Alexander Returns.

SOFIA, 29.—Prince Alexander has telegraphed to the regency to announce to the people his intention of returning to Sofia. The rebellious troops here have submitted, and will not be punished on condition that they quit the country. The revolution was quite bloodless and no further opposition is feared.

DEATH FROM HYDROPHOBIA.

The following interesting but painful history of a fatal case of rabies is related in a late dispatch from Fort Worth, Texas:

"On the farm of W. K. Gandy, near this city, on August 8th, a rabid dog bit Walter Gandy, a boy four years old, in the face. Several of the animal's teeth entered the flesh in the cheek and above the eye. The dog ran off, pursued by a mastiff, which was bitten several times by the rabid dog. The mastiff was locked up and symptoms of hydrophobia watched for, but they never appeared. For five days after being bitten the little boy did not suffer, except from the laceration, but the parents at once took him to Denton, where a madstone was applied. It would not adhere, and it was said no virus had entered the system. Not satisfied, the father took the boy to Mansfield, where a second mad stone was applied. It also refused to adhere. Saturday the little fellow said his throat was sore, and refused to eat. He would cry when water was brought near him, and soon became frantic. Physicians went out from Fort Worth and exhausted their skill, but the boy grew worse. Greenish foam issued from his mouth. His piteous cries and contortions were simply horrible. Little playmates came to see him this morning, and Walter snapped at one of them, biting him slightly in the face. Physicians fear this boy has been inoculated with the poison. At 11 o'clock to-day the sufferer became quiet for a while, and then slept a few minutes. He woke with the tremor, barked like a dog, bent himself nearly double and gnashed his teeth. Blood and foam gushed from his mouth and he was dead. Mrs. Gandy, the mother of the boy, is prostrated with grief. To-night it is feared she will die from the shock received. The incident has caused the dog law to be enforced, and the pound is full of canines of all descriptions, while a number of them were killed to-night.

Suffering in Texas.

The following recent dispatch from Fort Worth tells of the sufferings in Texas, resulting from drouth:

"Col. Hunt, a cattleman of Eastland County, was in the city this evening and gives a full account of the condition of the people in the drouth-stricken district. The counties in the worst condition are Callihan, Coleman, Eastland, Stephens, Young, parts of Brown and Jack. The people are not starving now, but will be in a very short time unless aided. The farmers are now ready to plow for wheat if they knew they could get seed. They are waiting for the seed to be given them, and if this is not done there will be a hegira from all the counties mentioned, and the improvements by them will be lost. They have the land, which is now in fine condition from the late rains; they have the teams and the implements, and all they ask is seed and breadstuffs and a little bacon on which to live. The people ask that an account be kept of everything furnished them, and when able they will return the same or pay for it. Texas cities are doing what they can, but the merchants and farmers in the districts say the great cities of St. Louis and Chicago might aid them. The railroad companies have agreed to carry seed and provisions free of charges. The need is pressing, and if they have seed furnished, it must be soon to be of any benefit. Fort Worth has done something for the distressed people by [illegible] to take concerted action on the matter. Capt. Wm. Veal, of Stephens County, will visit St. Louis and Chicago and lay the matter before the citizens of those places, while Sheriff Douglass goes to Austin to do what he can there.

NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING
A book of 100 pages. The best book for an advertiser to consult, be he experienced or otherwise. It contains lists of newspapers and estimates of the cost of advertising. The advertiser who wants to spend one dollar, finds in it the information he requires, while for him who will invest one hundred thousand dollars in advertising, a scheme is indicated which will meet his every requirement, or can be made to do so by slight changes easily arrived at by correspondence. One hundred and fifty-three editions have been issued. Sent, post-paid, to any address for 10 cents. Apply to GEO. P. ROWELL & CO., NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING BUREAU, 10 Spruce St. (Printing House Sq.), New York.
