GEN. JIMINEZ IS ARRESTED.

Captain Stamper Takes Him Into Custody at Cienfuegos.

PRISONER WAS VERY ANGRY

Claim That the Arrest Was Illegal—Chief of Cuba's Secret Service Shows Energetic.

Havana, Aug. 18.—In view of the fact that Col. Ducaldo, chief of the secret police, persisted in his declaration that Gen. Jiménez, on arrival in the jurisdiction of Sagua Dominica was in Havana, when and having left of having returned, the military authorities telegraphed to Cienfuegos requesting Capt. Stamper, captain of cavalry there, to ascertain whether Jiménez was on the Moorita steamer when he left Sagua and arrest it that proved to be the case.

Just as the steamer was about leaving Cienfuegos Capt. Stamper boarded Jiménez and arrested him. Jiménez expressed the arrest as an outrage. He said he had to go on an errand and would return in two hours. Capt. Stamper replied that he was ready to see him if possible and Jiménez then yielded, remarking that he was ready to be tried by any court.

Some Press stories of Confederate refusal to make the arrest are emphatically denied. Jiménez was on his personal friend whom he had known intimately for years. Capt. Stamper was taken into custody, since Pino was found with a police inspector to cross examine Jiménez, and also Pino's and Arolas's secretary. It is believed the major was anything like so civil. Jiménez is in general himself and is well for a better opportunity.

Capt. Stamper informed Jiménez that he would make his as comfortable as possible, and after Jiménez had his necessary had packed their effects they were driven, accompanied by the chief of police and Capt. Stamper, to the Cuba hotel, where two rooms and a dining room were placed at their disposal. Gen. Jiménez will be kept under police charge until further advice are received from the governor general. There is much excitement among the people of Cienfuegos over the affair.

The sentiment is generally expressed that the authorities had no right to arrest Jiménez, as a general officer, acting apparently to pacificate de Cuba, and if he was arrested on the ground that if he was going to San Domingo, he would only be returning to his native country.

Senor Arolas, a representative of Jiménez, left Cienfuegos for Santiago de Cuba last Tuesday after securing at the lottery place for days. It is believed he tried to fit out an expedition, as a small schooner was seen lying outside the harbor, supposed to be awaiting the coming of Jiménez. Arolas had also secured passes for Key West several days before.

President Reviews Troops.

Plattsburg, N. Y., Aug. 18.—Promptly at 4 o'clock this afternoon the cannon on the parade ground at Plattsburg barracks boomed out a Presidential salute, signifying that President McKinley had arrived at the government fortifications, where he was to review the Twenty-ninth regiment. The President's special party drove after from Mount Champlain and proceeded directly to the reviewing stand. In the party were President and Mrs. McKinley, Vice President and Mrs. Hobart and son, Attorney General Griggs and Mrs. Griggs and their two daughters and Secretary of the Interior Bliss and wife.

Mrs. McKinley presented a handsome silk flag to the regiment. On this flag will be hung all the colors. The flag was then taken to the color sergeant of the company, who bore it back to his place in the ranks. After the entire battalion, passed in review before the President, President McKinley spoke in the highest terms of the soldiers. The regiment will leave for Manila in a few weeks.

After the review the members of the Presidential party were entertained at lunch by the officers of the regiment. A reminder of the day was spent rather quietly by the President, as the weather was decidedly warm.

KID M'COY KNOCKED OUT.

McCormick Does It With a Terrific Blow on the Jaw.

End Came in the Third Round—It was Generally Thought McCormick Stood No Show.

Chicago, Aug. 18.—Jack McCormick of Philadelphia knocked out Kid McCoy in just 2 minutes and 47 seconds tonight. The best betting was against McCormick and it was generally thought McCormick stood no show at all. He followed each before entering the ring that he was going to do his best and not to go at that. The fight was so short and so quickly over that there was almost nothing to it but the punch that put McCoy to sleep. The fight was under strict sporting rules, letting with one glove two ounces.

When the gong sounded McCormick started to rush Coffey, relying on his greater weight and reach to keep the lighter man off. McCoy's science. He received a straight left in the mouth, the first time he tried it, and a moment later he received left hook on the side of the head which did a second time. This he repeated again, covering McCoy in the same left hook. For the first time in his life McCoy was seen without his guard. The second time that came from the same left uppercut, McCoy fixed his left and delivered a hook to McCormick's stomach, stopping him in the fight. McCormick by now, nothing a protector of stomach and chin, McCormick had been vanquished. McCormick ran in the order of Referee Hogan with a straight left to the jaw, and McCoy went down but on his feet. McCoy with down this a good time, but on the fall, McCoy was constructed, his face showing suffering to the ceiling. It was cruelty. Hogan counted McCormick out and the fight was over. McCormick was brought to his feet and Referee Hogan took his hand and McCormick was pulled out of the ring. Referee Hogan then called McCormick back and he was brought to the ring by the side of McCoy and shouted so all of the people in the gallery can hear. McCoy was put on hearing. At the time he was called his head cleared and Hogan passed on instead before he shouted out, but McCoy was still out of it. Thirty seconds would not have brought him into condition to fight again.

The United Press started the word that after the fight in Madison, the referee in the fall increased until it was decisive. The word "fall" came so quickly that it took the crowd a few seconds to realize that McCoy had been beaten. The second of McCormick's fairly flapped over was to turn delight and the big fighter stood with a smile on his face as though wishing love it was all over again. For all that he had won a good fight, fairly fought, and fairly deserved his victory.

IS SURROUNDED AGAIN.

Another Would-Be Assassin of H. Leber Located.

This One is on the Way to Paris, Tired and Worn Out—Trail Picked Up at a Farm.

New York, Aug. 18.—A dispatch to the Journal and Advertiser from Hoboken says:

The assassin of Leber is surrounded and should be caught and brought in within forty-eight hours. He was last seen at a farm on the road between the Ringwood road and Boonton, on the road to Paris. He was seen passing along the road early Thursday morning. He stopped at a farmer's house and got a meal to satisfy himself, he looked tired and worn out.

Bloodhounds were also found of him at Chatham Green, some miles farther on, and it is now evident that he is following the road to Paris.

PONCE VALLEY IS A RUIN.

Trees, Houses, Bodies of Cattle and Debris Everywhere.

Official Report of Casualties—Misery in Very Great—Better is Being Distributed.

New York, Aug. 18.—A dispatch to the Herald from Ponce, Porto Rico, says:

Those official figures are given of the casualties in the Ponce district, due to the hurricane:

Dead bodies in city, 16; dead buried in country, 10; except out to sea and drowned, 10; private houses ruined, 1,000; public buildings ruined, 10; cattle, 1,000; horses, 10.

The whole of the Ponce valley from Juan Alva down to a mountain run, T. A. Schomburg gave of 1,000 cattle, half of cattle and general fabric are entirely overturned.

The highway cannot be passed on in the mountains, a breakage and driving is dangerous even yet. In Ponce houses are being pasted outside. The only publication are not enough to supply of the effects under left by the flood. The most stores are running outside the city. Ponce and Arecibo are not back overwhelmed with the flood.

The French Railway company has failed. Other failures of importance may follow, as the ice stores are carried away in flood. (Reuter.)

Lord Gamer, president of the board of health, has left the hospital before the storm, in the case of fever fever and eight cases of smallpox. The latter were found in a cottage in the hospital and further cases have developed. He thinks the city is perfectly safe from an epidemic of the disease, but if it shows some he is fully equipped and able to check it.

The people are rapidly resuming their normal military condition and in less than 3 weeks, they will be in better shape than before. Good supplies and stores will be carried through and some cargoes are now on the ocean. The cable connecting Ponce is repaired, water. The supply is plentiful, but usually the water is not fit for drinking. The people shall but it. The supplies are dodge rapid transition.

The Ponce Cable Company, Limited, during the first three days, but prompt work prevented it.

Mr. Hubbard is dead, the Hubbard estimates that there is grave doubt exists in the minds of very few people in Ponce. He thinks it would be better for the best plan of relief would be to give the people the opportunity to work. Ponce is particularly of the opinion that
