OBITUARY NOTES.

LYDIA LAURETTA LEWIS.

Lydia Lauretta Lewis departed this life on February 22, 1895, at Oxford Idaho, after a short but severe illness, of peritonitis, being sick only eight days. Deceased was born at Oxford, Idaho, July 10, 1866; she was the wife of Wm. A. Lewis, who is left with three small children to mourn their sad loss. She was a pure and loving wife, a kind and indulgent mother and a faithful Latter-day Saint. She was an earnest worker in the Woman's Relief Society of the Oxford ward, being its secretary, which society passed appropriate resolutions on the occasion of her lamented demise.—[COMMUNICATED.]

SARAH LOUISA ALLEN.

SANDY CITY, Utah, March 12, 1895.—Sister Sarah Louisa Allen of this place departed this life March 9, 1895. She was the beloved daughter of James and Sarah Ann Allen, and was born in Lehi, Utah county, on the 10th day of October, 1873. She died as she had lived, a true Latter-day Saint, in the hope of a glorious resurrection, surrounded by her loving father and mother, sisters and brother and friends. The funeral services were held in the ward house at Sandy on March 11, 1895, and were largely attended, the house being entirely too small to accommodate the people. Elders Angus M. Cannon and E. Holman spoke of the many virtues of the deceased, and advised the family to live so that they could claim her when she came forth in the first resurrection. The coffin was beautiful, being all white and was also beautifully decorated with cut flowers. Six young ladies acted as pallbearers. The family feel to thank all who have kindly rendered them any assistance.—[COMMUNICATED.]

HANS NIELSON TUFT.

MONROE, Utah, March 18, 1895.—Hans Nielson Tuft passed away very quietly about 8 o'clock on the evening of February 25, 1895, at the good old age of 87 years, 5 months and 12 days. He was born in Gekly Vile, Denmark, September 13, 1807; married Annie Thompson in the year 1841; she bore unto him nine children, seven boys and two girls. He was baptized a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints September 13th, 1852, in Denmark. His wife died in 1882. He emigrated to Utah in 1863, locating first in Gunnison, Sanpete county, Utah, where he received the office of High Priest; later he moved to Mayfield, and joined the United Order, and from here moved to Monroe in the year 1877. He has a wife yet living whom he married in 1864. He died in full faith of the Gospel.

Funeral services were held in the ward meeting house on Thursday, February 28, 1895. The speakers all referred to his noble character; he was always ready to contribute to the cause in which he was engaged. Brother Tuft also did a great deal of work for his dead relatives and friends.—[COMMUNICATED.]

DAVID MUSTARD.

TREASURER, Bannock county, Idaho, March 18, 1895.—Elder David Mustard departed this life on Friday evening, March 15th, at 8:30 o'clock, at his residence, of bronchitis on the lungs, after a short illness. Deceased was a native of Blairgowrie, Perthshire, Scotland, and was born July 6, 1819; he was therefore nearly 76 years of age. He embraced the Gospel on the 18th of August, 1848, emigrated to this country in 1850, and from that time until the day of his death he was a faithful Latter-day Saint. He was a pioneer in every sense of the word and honorably filled two missions to Scotland; he was among those called to go and settle St. George; and while there he labored seven and a half years in the Temple for the living and the dead; he was also with the brethren in the Echo canyon war, (so-called). So you see he did not live entirely for self. He leaves a wife and many friends to mourn his loss.

We held funeral services over the remains on Sunday the 17th, and then laid him to rest until the resurrection of the just. WM. H. RHODEHOUSE.

WILLIAM WALLACE HAWS.

COLONIA PACHECO, Chihuahua, Mexico, March 9, 1895.—I regret exceedingly to be under the necessity of informing you of another unexpected death in our little colony in which we are bereft of a valuable worker and faithful fellow-laborer, that of Elder William Wallace Haws, who departed this life at 8 p. m. on the 6th inst. of pleuro-pneumonia, after one week's illness. He was born in Wayne county, Illinois, U. S., February 18, 1835, and was the son of Gilbert and Hannah Haws. He was baptized by Apostle Erasmus Snow in Salt Lake City, November, 1848. He located at Provo in the spring of 1849, helped to build the first old fort on Provo river, and was put on military duty when 14 years of age. He served in the fight with the Indians when Joseph Higbee was killed and several others wounded; was made captain of a company of infantry, and sent to Echo Canyon to meet Johnston's army in 1857; helped to build the fortifications and was eventually commissioned a major. He was a member of the Provo police force for twenty years. He was ordained a Teacher in 1852, a Priest September 23rd, 1855, and a Seventy January 31st, 1860. On his 59th birthday he was ordained a High Priest by Elder John Henry Smith at this settlement. He filled a short mission in 1871 to the United States and labored chiefly in Illinois among his relatives. He moved from Provo in 1879 to Arizona in response to a call for volunteers, and located on the Mogollon mountains. In December, 1882, he moved to the Gila river where he lived two years, when he moved to Mexico in company with twelve others, arriving at Casas Grandes February 10th, 1885. Elder George Lake of Colonia Dublan is now the only one left of this twelve remaining now in Mexico. He farmed for the Mexicans during that summer, and removed in December of the same year to Colonia Juarez. In the spring of 1887 he removed to Colonia Pacheco, being among the early settlers in the Corrales baslu. As a pioneer he was a success, being a man of remarkable physical and endurance.

The funeral services were held at 2 p. m. on Friday, the 8th inst., in the meeting house, when comforting and instructive remarks were made by Patriarch Henry Lunt and Bishop Jesse N. Smith Jr. His son, George M. Haws, expressed his thankfulness to the Saints for their kindness to his father and family during his sickness. There was a large attendance at his funeral and a heavenly spirit prevailed. He was buried under the shade of the majestic pines of the Sierra Madras in the colony cemetery, the grave being dedicated by Elder Henry Lunt. He leaves a large family, having been the father of twenty children, eighteen of whom survive him. He was grandfather to thirty-eight children, thirty-three of whom are living, who, with a host of friends, mourn his loss.
