Salt Lake Baseballers Won't Join the Three-State League.

Baseball enthusiasts get together on Saturday night and hold a meeting the outcome being that Salt Lake City will not be represented in the proposed three-state baseball league this year. The reason for not entering the combination is purely financial, those interested having given the subject thought have reached the conclusion that the city cannot maintain a salaried team and pay its expenses on trips to Butte, Anaconda, Helena or Great Falls.

Jack Melnotte, the renowned baseman of the old Park City team, who last year was with the Salt Lake team, will captain the new Salt Lake team. Three other men who last year were with Salt Lake will be back in the city to take to the cause of the new club. Their names are Hughey, Grigas and Barrett. Another Salt Lake man who last year was in the team last year the enthusiasts will feel the loss of four such good men.

A good deal of interest centers around the new man who will make up the personnel of the team. Cronnons, who tried to play for Seattle, is already in this city, he will catch. Hayes, one of the crack pitchers in the Northwestern league last year, will be here and he will arrive here on Thursday. Mc. Cantzel of Denver, who was catcher in the Colorado team last year, is here. Lee Hoskins, an left-hander from California, is here and will pitch with the home team. As these men can and do hit they will be a strong aggregation in a good catch for the best cash.

This week a committee will solicit subscriptions for the proposed new ground. The message of the new club will be William Hardy. While George Wilson will act as the official scorer. An effort is being made to secure a ground in Liberty Park.

SERVICES IN THE TABERNACLE

Returned Elders Occupied the Pulpit on Sunday Last.

MISSIONARY EXPERIENCES.

The Mission in Samoa and the Pacific Isles—Work in the Southern States and in Scotland.

The Tabernacle services on Sunday last were opened by singing the hymn on page 221.

"Prayer is the soul's sincere desire,
Uttered or unexpressed;
The motion of a hidden fire
That trembles in the breast."

Prayer was offered by Elder Joseph S. Tanner.

The choir sang the hymn on page 214:

"Though deep'ning trials throng your way,
Press on, press on, ye Saints of God."

President Angus M. Cannon announced that several young men lately returned from missions would address the meeting and he requested the attention and faith of the congregation in their behalf.

ELDER E. J. WOOD.

Elder E. J. Wood said; I am much gratified with the privilege of standing before you this afternoon. In the past I occupied this position, after returning from Samoa. In the year 1894 I was again called to visit those islands of the South Pacific, I went to Samoa again and greatly enjoyed my labors there. The war which is talked of in our papers began and ended while I was there. The war was between Mataafa and Malaafa. At that time there were only three of the chiefs at Samoa—German and an American vessel. (The speaker here explained the origin and course of the civil war in Samoa, which it has hitherto been published in the "News.") We have on the islands 1,100 members, 1,000 have been received in the thirty-three Elders and five sisters do only their whole time is the work of the ministry. There are about 1,000 children born just as orderly the truths of the Gospel, as do the children of any people. I had the privilege of visiting other places in the Pacific before my return. I saw the Great groups of islands, and then went to New Zealand. There I visited the natives in their natural state, the Maoris. These compared favorably with our North American Indians; they dress like them, and resemble them in some ways. I went also to Australia, and visited the branches of our Church in the cities of that continent. We also touched at the lonely archipelago of the Philippine Islands, and the Fiji Islands. Returning, we came home by way of Victoria and Vancouver Island. In all my journeyings have amounted to 32,000 miles by sea and land. (Applause.)

Our people in Samoa are not in any special danger there by reason of the heathenish people around us, in the newspapers, Angle notice is usually given to the people of a village before any heathenish ceremony is to be made, or doing well. We have there a number of the choicest young men and women anywhere to be found, and there is no better mission anywhere in the world that the mission in Samoa. The Elders have to labor hard and study much to keep ahead of the native, who are very bright of mind and learn the principles of the Gospel very quickly. The most mean mission is one of the best upon which a young man can go. He must earn his bread, he must do all those menial tasks, and there is no hypocrisy among them in religion. They look to the very most of an Elder, and the Elder must set down and talk as if to a child, and yet not be a child himself. He must instruct the people and not retain his dignity of his calling. We have few young ladies coming from Samoa to come to see and how to do necessary household work. The native women who can make the finest of fine mats are proud of their skill, they are unassuming and virtuous. I hope that the spirit which teaches the young people to take hold in the world and to make themselves generally useful will increase, as a preparation for the work of a mission. Upon journey of President Cannon, Elder Wood bore his testimony in the Samoan language.

ELDER WM. M. WOOLLEY.

Elder Wm. M. Woolley said: I feel it a wonderful thing to be here today, perhaps in the same way that the Apostle to the Gentiles felt, when he wrote his epistle to the Corinthians. I feel to pray the Sir, that I may be able to speak in demonstration of the Spirit and of power. My labors in the experience and travels have been in the Southern States. We have a mission of 400 elders preaching throughout the states, proclaiming the principles of the Gospel, crying repentance to the people. We have received the Gospel that John the Baptist sounded when he came out of the wilderness. We do not think the Gospel has changed since the days of our Master and His apostles. We have the same Gospel, the same principles today, calling men to investigate the principles of "Mormonism," which is the Gospel of Jesus Christ. We sometimes hear the cry "Take poison," or hear it charged that we are worshiping a false prophet, just as Paul at Athens and at Athens was thought to be teaching a strange doctrine, a false prophet, and yet he was sent to the people of that other place, only in those days, God has condescended to speak more frequently than in ancient times and has revealed to earth His Priesthood. I have traveled in the South, I have found a people who are seeking for the truth, who were willing to listen to the message of salvation. I testify that God lives, that Christ, His Son, also lives, and that this is the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

ELDER GEO. TAYLOR.

Elder Geo. Taylor said: I labored in the South Western Conference for twenty-nine months, and I can say that it is one of the grandest and most enjoyable labors I have ever engaged in. I was assigned to that conference in a new district, and led the priesthood of opening up a mission in Johnston county, where "Mormons" had scarcely been heard of before. We have now in our beautiful fertile valley between 100 in the church and twenty a few miles off. I found there no Sunday schools, no Sunday to be starting for the front seat. I thank God that I have had the privilege of being in the South. I am convinced of the Gospel of Christ, for it is the power of God unto salvation. I have seen people who in the world, but the time will come when they will bow the knee and ask to be forgiven for their sins. I testify that God lives.

We have baptized 100 in the North Carolina conference, which embraces the eastern part of North Carolina. We have there a band of brethren laboring earnestly among the people, who I believe are the best people in the world, outside of our own people. If any of you have loved ones there, do not worry over them. They are with a kind people and the hand of God is over them.

I know that the Gospel is true, for I have tested it, and have tested other faiths also and I know that they are not true.

Miss Ethel Pratt, of Setafia, Mo., sang the solo, "Rock of Ages." She is a student of Tracktin, the noted voice trainer of Paris, and is in company with her mother, is now on her way to her home in Missouri.

ELDER JOS. McKNIGHT.

Elder Jos. McKnight said: It is not usual for an Elder in the South mission to address an audience like this. But it gives me joy to speak relative to Zion. In the last two years, when in the south, where I had to seek the help of God, it was only when I went out into the world and saw the conflicts, the uncertainty among the honest in heart, that I realized the worth of the Gospel or the significance of its restoration in these days.

We have met a people who have frequently said to fight for religious liberty. They are honest and believe in God and are acquainted with the Bible and their children are also versed in it. Yet doubt and infidelity are spreading faster in Scotland than is a belief in Christ. We met there with spiritualists, who were quite numerous. They would not accept the Bible. They held that the story of Eden was a fable, the representation of a romance, etc.

When we testified that God had revealed himself in these days, they seemed inclined to doubt, and were inclined to credit our testimony. We had a living faith, and we knew that we spoke the truth. We do not have to rely alone upon the Scriptures, which have been handed down and which have been corrupted by men. The God they pray to they do not know; they have no conception as to the kind of being He is. And many of their young men are saying, in the words of Jeremiah, "Our fathers have inherited lies and vanities and things wherein there is no profit. Light is dawning upon people. Many of them refused to hear the testimony. We often found in that country that it was the ladies who first invited us to take an Elder by the hand and make him welcome, for they liked to hear of the Gospel.

I have learned to love the Gospel and to love the Latter-day Saints. I have learned what the Gospel means. I realize that our people must be a light to the world. I have wished sometimes that our talents in silver and gold gather to Zion. I know that Zion is yet to be a place where the people may be all united and where the will of God may be done on earth as it is done in heaven.

Our work when we come to Zion, is not ended, we have not accomplished the work we came to do. We have been here. As spoke the Lord through the Prophet Jeremiah: "Let not the wise man glory in his wisdom, neither let the mighty man glory in his might, let not the rich man glory in his riches, but let him that glory glory in this that he understandeth and knoweth me, that I am the Lord, which exercise lovingkindness, judgment and righteousness in the earth: for in those things I delight, saith the Lord." Let us glory in that we know the Lord our God, for to know Him is eternal life, while the things of the world will pass away and the lust thereof.

The choir sang the anthem:

"God of Israel," Mrs. Linnie Thomas Edwards, Mrs. Ethel Pratt, Mr. Geo. Ashworth and Mr. Willard Christophersen, rendering the quartet.

The benediction was pronounced by Patriarch John Smith.

FIFTY MILES AN HOUR.

The Windstorm Yesterday Afternoon Caused Much Discomfort.

From noon until 4 p. m. Salt Lake City was in the grasp of a windstorm yesterday that made the reminiscent "old timer" hang his head, for the velocity of the wind reached no less than fifty miles an hour. This record is the second highest ever recorded in the Salt Lake weather office, the highest being April 18, 1894, when the aerodynamic rating machine reached off to the extraordinary figure of 60 miles. It is recorded that both these winds failed from the same direction and strange to say the storm lasted about forty-seven hours on the same day of the month, although twenty-five years apart.

Yesterday afternoon people started to remark that they had no notion that real estate was so high in Utah. The wind seemed to be in a playful mood, carrying dust, straw hats, professional shingles and general rubbish, in some instances, over the highest buildings in the business part of town.

The unfortunate pedestrian who earlier in the day took a spin out towards American Fork had a terrible time of it; the tempest blew him back, up the hill, frustrating his noble efforts. He takes altogether people who were abroad were kept too busy executing sidelong from the dust and rubbish to indulge in anything stronger than cursory observations.

THE BEST IN THE WORLD.

We believe Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the best in the world. A few cents invested in a bottle with a few cents and a troublesome cough, and having read their advertisement in our paper, we decided to try it. We purchased a bottle to see if it would effect us. It cured us before the bottle was more than half used up. It is the best medicine we use for colds and coughs.—The Herald, Andersonville, Ind.

SAVE THE OLD LAND MARK.

Work of Tearing Down the Old Mill in Liberty Park Stopped.

PURPOSE IS TO PRESERVE IT

Council Will Be Asked to Make an Appropriation Therefor—Second Mill in Utah.

A committee of the City Council this morning ordered the work of razing the old Pioneer Young mill in Liberty Park to cease. The order was obeyed forthwith and the destruction will probably be permanently stopped—certainly until after the next meeting of the City Council.

The inspection was the result of a visit to the grounds by Councilmen Patrick, Sudweeks and Wallace and Messrs. Walker, Sickles and Hill of the Salt Palace company, all of whom were accompanied by Hon. Spencer Clawson, who is the prime mover in the effort to stop the work of destruction stop, being of the opinion that the historic old structure is too eloquent a story of early day conditions to be wiped out of existence by what he thinks is little less than an act to vandalism. The committee of the members of the Salt Palace committee took practically the same view of it.

The work of demolition was recently ordered by the Council. This order, it is believed, will be abrogated. Then the Council will be asked to make an appropriation to repair that which has been destroyed both by workmen and the cycles of time. The former have torn down a part of the original structure that surrounded the roof and removed a part of the north gable. The wind has also caused a part of the adobe above the foundation on the west side. A proviso by Councilman Patrick calls for an appropriation to the preservation of the building. That was several years ago and no steps were taken to carry out the purpose. Just why has never been made clear except that there was a misunderstanding on the part of certain officers to comply with the order.

This afternoon Franklin D. Richards, chairman of the Utah State Historical Society, and Hon. Spencer Clawson, said that it is the purpose to save the old mill, the object being to have Mr. Richards and the society over which he presides assume responsibility in the matter of its preservation. It is estimated that it could be put in shape at a reasonable small expense so as to last for many years to come. It is a timestery structure with massive walls of rock and heavy timbers at the base of the rice upon which it is proposed to erect the Salt Palace. It was built in 1851 by Brigham Young, the first and only mill erected in Utah, the first being built in Mill Creek.

In almost every neighborhood there is some old structure which has been used by Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and which people remember distinctly by the use of that medicine. Such persons make a point of telling it whenever opportunity offers, hoping that it may be the means of saving other lives.

The many friends and acquaintances of Miss Angie Eskins will be much grieved to learn of her sudden death, which occurred after one hour's illness, at her home in the Twenty-second ward, at 2:30 p. m. Saturday, April 15.
