LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

THEATRE.—A fuller house than usual assembled to see and hear the Berger Troupe last evening. The rushing and crushing for tickets reminded one of palmy olden times.

The entertainment was varied but unique, commencing with the Carnival of Venice by the Berger family on the hand-bells. Then followed a ballad by Miss Nellie E. Knapp, who has a powerful voice of high range, a cornet solo by Miss Anna Berger, nicely played, especially the echo; a flute solo by Mr. Earnest Thiele, cleverly executed; character songs, facial characters, and a "Woman's Rights and Wrongs speech" by Sol. Smith Russell, staff bell solo by Miss Henrietta Berger; operatic ballad by Miss Alexanda Brandt, and a further programme on bells, violin, flute, cornet and other instruments, including a cornet quartette by ladies.

Most portions of the entertainment were rapturously applauded and many determined encores were vociferated, sometimes double and treble ones. The audience was evidently thoroughly satisfied. The Troupe appear again to-night, and to-morrow evening is the last of the engagement.

THE PROVO MEETINGS.—We learn that the two days' meetings at Provo on Saturday and Sunday were well attended, good instruction was given and a good influence prevailed.

Elder John Taylor left Provo on Monday. Presidents B. Young and Geo. A. Smith and others returned yesterday, leaving Provo in the morning in a rain storm, which, after they had crossed the river, changed into a snow storm, right in their faces, and continuing for ten miles.

CLAGETT'S TERRITORIAL JUDICIARY BILL.—In the U. S. House of Representatives, May 6, Mr. Clagett, delegate from Montana, introduced "A Bill Relating to the Courts and Judicial Proceedings in the Territories," which was read twice, referred to the committee on Judiciary, and ordered to be printed.

The Bill provides for the organization of the Territories, District of Columbia excluded, into three judicial circuits of three Territories each, with a judge for each circuit, having the same compensation, power, and jurisdiction as other circuit judges in U. S. cases, and also the powers and jurisdiction of the Territorial Supreme Courts. Appeals and writs of error to be allowed as in circuit or district courts, also in cases involving the constitutionality or legality of a Territorial statute. Otherwise the decrees of said circuit courts to be final. New Territories to belong to the circuits they find themselves in. Two terms to be held at each Territorial capital annually, times to be fixed by the presiding judge. Said courts to sit as Territorial Courts in Territorial Cases, pleading, practice, and procedure to be regulated by the Territorial Legislatures.

Utah is invidiously singled out to have specially inflicted upon her some of the infamous features of the Voorhees and Cragin bills, excluding Territorial officers from the courts, and empowering the dipping of Federal officials into the Territorial treasury, or their confiscating of the Congressional appropriation to the Legislature. Juries in Utah to be drawn from 500 male citizens of the U. S., selected jointly by the district and probate judges. Time allowed to pronounce the judgment in all criminal cases. Polygamists not to be eligible as jurors. Three triors appointed by the court to decide who are or who are not polygamists. Adulterers and whoremongers and libidinous persons generally not ineligible. Three fourths of the jury sufficient for a verdict.

We have no comments to make upon such tyrannical special legislation, proposed by a man who could utter in Congress the infamous statement of the voluntary raising and compulsory lowering of the British flag in this city.

"HOW'D YOU ENJOY THE SCHOOL EXCURSION?"—Henceforth if anybody asks the above question, or any similar one, he should be taken before Justice Clinton at once, and fined—with the utmost rigor of the law.

THE STORM.—Mr. Mark Lindsay informs us that the rain and hail storm on Tuesday night was exceedingly heavy at his pleasure gardens on the bench, severely injuring his grape vines, peas, flowers, and other early vegetation, also damaging his upper bowery and other portions of his establishment.

ARRIVED.—Geo. C. Bates, Esq., U. S. District Attorney for Utah, arrived at the Townsend House last night. This gentleman, by the honorable course taken by him with regard to the McKean judicial usurpations, has gained for himself a most extensive reputation for correctness of judgment and soundness of legal attainments. That he is a lawyer of high order of ability need not be stated by us, his works prove it and they are not only before the country but before the world.

THE SOUTH.—Bro. B. F. Pendleton, of St. George, arrived last evening. He reports everything in the South prosperous. The grape crop especially promises to be heavy, while the other fruits will be average, except apricots, which were mostly bit by frost and destroyed. Rain had fallen abundantly up to two weeks ago, when Bro. P. left home. On his way he met Bro's Terry and Pulsipher with a train of flour, furnished by the brethren of Sanpete to sustain the workmen on the Temple at St. George. He also met a large number of teams freighted with supplies for Pioche, Bullionville and other places. The Colorado gold mines had turned out to be a "bilk."

Per Deseret State Telegraph.

EUREKA, May 15.—The Utah County Agricultural Society contemplates preempting 160 acres of comparatively worthless land for pleasure ground, race course, &c.

Hoppers are appearing in force at Spanish Fork.

Salem, alias Pondtown, is becoming a large place and owes its prosperity to the large and long irrigating canal tapping Spanish Fork River near the mouth of the kanyon.

Heavy rain and snow and hail storms have prevailed for several days and nights past in Utah Co., making the roads very bad.

The altitude of this place is 6,500 feet, Silver City 6,200 feet, Goshen 4,660 feet, Payson 4,900 feet, Spanish Fork 4,775 feet, Springville 4,780 feet, Provo, 4,400 feet, Summit, Between Goshen and Diamond, 6,780 feet.

Crops everywhere look very promising. Snowing and blowing here this morning like fury. A. M. M.

WATER ABUNDANT.—We met Brother S. Collett, of Cache County, this morning. He arrived from there last night. We are informed by him that nearly all the bottom lands in the county are inundated, the rivers and streams having over-flowed. Most of the bridges are in constant danger of being carried away. A gang of men had been at work, endeavoring to save the one over Bear River, between Logan and Newton. There is a greater abundance of water than there has been in any season since 1862, and it still keeps rising. The floods are occasioned by the melting of snow in the mountains, the fall during last winter having been unprecedentedly large.

Grasshoppers have not yet appeared.

NOT STRICTLY CORRECT.—We were informed to-day that the statement in the article in yesterday's NEWS, regarding the school excursion, that the people exposed to the storm at the depot were not invited into the railroad warehouses, is not strictly correct. We are told that large numbers of the people were urged to take shelter there. Our statement was true so far as our personal observation extended, there being numbers of people where we were, who, for a considerable time, had no shelter, although we stand corrected when we understand that people in other places were invited to the warehouses.

It was Miss Mary and not Miss Ida I. Cook who walked back from Sandy Station to Draper.

Many of the excursionists speak commendably of the care manifested by the railroad employes and officials to prevent accidents, and it is gratifying that their efforts were entirely successful.

REPAIRING DAMAGES.—The storm on Tuesday evening did considerable damage to the water sects in the Twentieth Ward, tearing up portions of the ground, and filling up and breaking down the water courses. Mr. I. Groo, city watermaster, has been around examining the sects and inspecting the damage done. He has a force of twenty men engaged repairing the mischief near the cemetery.

Mr. Mark Lindsay, watermaster of the Twentieth Ward, desires us to request all hands in the ward, that have not turned out this spring to repair and clear the sects, to meet him at 7 a. m., to-morrow, Thursday, at the Twentieth Ward Schoolhouse.

He also particularly wishes that unauthorthorized persons refrain from turning the water out of the creek into the sects, as, if done just now, it will cause overflow and breakages, the storm not having left the watercourses in a condition to carry much water. The overflow and tearing up of the sidewalk near the residence of H. W. Naisbitt, Esq., was caused by an imprudent act of that kind.

EXCURSION PARTY.—The following are the names of an excursion party which arrived from the east this morning, and which is composed almost entirely of officers of the Pennsylvania railroad and their relatives:

C. E. Harrington, Denver; J. Couthoy, (Manager) Chicago; W. J. Howard, wife and daughter, Wm. Auspach and neice, Josiah Bacon and son, Saml. T. Bodine and sons, A. M. Fox, wife and son, E. C. Knight, wife, son and daughter, G. M. Coates and friend, Enoch Lewis and wife, Dr. Pancoast, wife and daughter, Philadelphia. The party is staying at the Townsend House.

MATINEE.—There will be a matinee by the Berger Family at the Theatre to-morrow, Thursday, at 2 o'clock.

MEETINGS AT WEST JORDAN.—Elder E. Stevanson hands in a report of two days' meetings, held on Saturday and Sunday (May 11 and 12) in the West Jordan meeting house. On Saturday the congregations were addressed by Elders Reuben Miller, Milo Andrus, Absolom Smith, M. B. Shipp, and James Freeze.

On Sunday morning the audience were addressed by Bishop Thomas Taylor upon the benefits and blessings of the gospel; Elder David Candland upon the necessity of the Saints cultivating and preparing themselves for the rapid advancement and future greatness of the kingdom of God; Elder E. Stevenson upon the benefits of sustaining home manufacture of wool and other material; Patriarch John Smith upon patriarchal blessings and the obedience of children to their parents; Bishop R. Miller upon the good spirit manifested and the good counsel given; he appointed two days' meetings to be held in the South Cottonwood Ward, May 25 and 26, commencing at 10 a.m. In the afternoon Elders Isaac Groo, J. P. Freeze, Milo Andrus, M. B. Shipp, and David Candland addressed the congregation upon temperance, obedience, and the general duties of the Saints.

An excellent spirit prevailed and the audience more than filled the house.
