SALT LAKE COUNTY COURT.

Recommendation Regarding School Taxes.—Election Judges for the City.

At its session yesterday afternoon the county court named judges for the city precincts for the bond election to be held next Monday. The purpose of the court was to appoint at each polling place one Liberal, one Democrat and one Republican, and the following named persons were designated:

First precinct—J. W. Houston, A. H. Parsons and William Fuller.

Second precinct—Poll 1: C. M. Hammond, W. P. Appleby and Geo. E. Yesdon.

Second precinct—Poll 2: W. P. Rowe, T. D. Lewis and W. C. Benton.

Third precinct—Daniel Dunne, E. B. Tyson and Eli A. Folland.

Fourth precinct—J. D. Adams, L. M. Earl and Robert Patrick.

Fifth precinct—Poll 1: W. M. McCrae, C. Banks and E. E. Steppard.

Fifth precinct—Poll 2: H. E. Cottle, F. P. Platt and D. L. Levey.

Fifth Precinct—The clerk was instructed to direct the Utah Central Railway company to repair certain crossings at the mouth of Emigration canyon.

A communication was received from C. E. Stanton, secretary of the joint city and county building committee, with reference to the $815 claim of the E. C. Coffin Hardware company, and stated that the committee had recommended that the city and county each pay half the amount.

The petition of R. S. Thompson for relief from a double assessment, amounting to $21.75, was granted.

Superintendent Hitman's report for February was received, stating that nine persons had been admitted to the infirmary during the month; forty were there on February 1st, and three had been discharged. Filed.

The county physician reported patients in the city hospitals as follows: St. Mary's 1, St. Mark's 5, Deseret 7; total 13. Filed.

Sheriff McQueen reported that he had furnished 1475 meals to county prisoners during the past month. Filed.

The Chamber of Commerce sent in a resolution, the same as recently submitted to the City Council, relative to the establishment in this city of a tile factory by McLean and Gladding of San Francisco.

D. R. Allen, county superintendent of schools, sent in the following communication:

In 1892 the County Court assessed a two mills tax upon the taxable property in the county for school purposes, and I was of the opinion that the rate should be lowered this year at least one-half of a mill, but I am now convinced that the rate (two mills) will be necessary.

Last year the territorial school fund furnished $5.61 per capita of the number of persons of school age. This year it is only $3.31 per capita, a difference of over $2.22 for each child of school age in the county. As we counted on the territorial fund for this year being the same as in 1892, and as there were 16,31[illegible] children in Salt Lake county between the ages of six and eighteen years, this makes the school fund fall over $30,000 short of the amount estimated as being needed for the schools this year.

Many of the districts of the county will run short of funds; indeed some of the schools have already been compelled to close for this season. I am informed that the schools of Salt Lake City will close this year with a deficit.

In the light of these facts a two mills tax will be needed for the schools of Salt Lake county for the ensuing year, and I ask your honorable body in behalf of the schools of Salt Lake county to levy a tax of two mills upon the taxable property of the county for school purposes.

The communication was filed and the court adjourned till Thursday next.

FATAL ACCIDENT.

Henry Kleinman, of Toquerville, Washington County, Killed.

George Spilsbury writes to the NEWS: "A sad accident happened in the little town of Toquerville, Washington county, Utah, about 4 o'clock in the afternoon of the 18th of February. While Henry Kleinman was riding on a buckboard through the town, the horses became unmanageable, ran away and threw him to the ground with such force as to fracture his skull. He was rendered insensible and never recovered consciousness. He died about 3 o'clock the following morning, leaving a wife in a delicate condition and two children, a boy about eight and a girl about six years of age to mourn his sad and sudden death. His wife is the daughter of George and Fannie Spilsbury of Toquerville.

The deceased was the son of Conrade Kleinman, an old and veteran pioneer.

IT HUMILIATED HER.

Nellie Kingsley Wants $299.99 for Being Denied Admission to the Theater.

Nellie Kingsley is the court name of an alleged frail female who has brought suit before Justice Whitehorn for $299.99 against the Salt Lake Dramatic company of which Charles S. Burton is manager. The action is the result of the refusal of Mr. Burton to admit women of shady reputation into the parquette and dress circle of the Theater. The plaintiff alleges that she presented a ticket of admission at the Theater door on the night of the 2nd inst., and that she was informed that she would not be allowed to enter the building. She alleges further that such refusal so humiliated and injured her that she must be recompensed in the amount set forth in her complaint.

Gasoline Accident.

Mrs. H. C. Bennett, wife of the local agent of the Colorado Midland, at 68 B street, met with a serious accident yesterday. While cleaning a silk dress with gasoline the fluid exploded, and she was almost completely enveloped in flames. By the presence of mind of herself and neighbors they were extinguished in time to save her life. Her escape was a narrow one and she will long remember it.

The New Market Company.

Articles of incorporation of the Continental Market company, it is expected, will be filed with Territorial Secretary Sells in a few days. The capital stock is $77,000. The officers are: Joseph E. Caine, president; J. R. Farlow, vice president; Walter E. Jennings, secretary, treasurer and general manager.

Snowflake Stake Conference.

The quarterly conference of the Snowflake Stake of Zion was held at Snowflake on Sunday and Monday, Feb. 26 and 27, 1893.

Sunday, 10 a. m.—The time in the forenoon was occupied by Elders Jesse N. Smith and L. H. Hatch of the presidency of the Stake, and Elders Dalton and Cluff of Utah, who spoke of the temporal and spiritual condition of the Saints in the Stake, the coming forth of this Gospel, and some of our duties as Saints.

2 p. m.—The Sacrament was administered to the congregation. The speakers were Elders D. K. Udall, G. H. Crosby and C. T. Kemp, who ably treated upon our duties as Saints, the coming forth of this Gospel, the kingdom that Daniel spoke of and other points of interest.

In the evening there was a Priesthood meeting at which some business was done and much good instruction given.

Monday, 10 a. m.—After the opening exercises the time was occupied by Elders W. M. Haines, John Lundquist, Edmund Ellsworth and Joseph Fish, who addressed the Saints speaking upon the order of this kingdom, the testimonies that have been given, missionary experience, the advantages that the Gospel has given unto the Saints and the fostering of our educational matters.

2 p.m.—The statistical report was read by the clerk and the general and local authorities were presented and sustained by vote of the conference. The remainder of the afternoon was occupied by Elders M. Hancock, E. T. Hatch, L. H. Hatch and Jesse N. Smith, who gave some excellent instructions. They spoke of their missionary labors, the coming forth of the Book of Mormon, the preaching of the Gospel to all nations before the coming of the Savior.

There was a very good attendance, but the first day was windy and disagreeable. A good spirit was manifested during the entire conference and the people felt greatly blessed and strengthened. The teachings were good and timely and of such a character as to encourage and strengthen the Saints.

JOSEPH FISH, Clerk.

SNOWFLAKE, March 1, 1893.

Millard Stake Conference.

The quarterly conference of Millard Stake of Zion convened in the Meadow Creek meeting house Sunday and Monday, February 19th and 20th. There was a good representation of the Stake and ward authorities, and as many of the Saints as the house could hold. Of the general authorities we were favored with the presence of Elder F. M. Lyman.

After the opening exercises Sunday morning, Elder F. M. Lyman complimented the Saints of Meadow ward for having completed such a nice, substantial and well proportionate house. He said it was proper that it should be dedicated although it would not be used for meetings exclusively. Elder Lyman then offered up the dedicatory prayer, after which Elder Daniel Thompson reported the labors of the presidency and the condition of the Stake. Elder Hinckley had been called away on important business so that he could not be present.

In the afternoon Elder Lyman read a part of the 17th chapter of St. Matthew and spoke upon the necessity of building upon the rock. No man is worthy to be a Bishop or High Counselor who goes into a saloon and drinks intoxicating drinks, or that does not pay his tithing; they are not built upon the rock; this applies also to other officers in the Church. He advised the young people to refrain from promiscuous kissing as it very often leads to sin. Young men should get the consent of the parents before keeping company with the daughter; that doctrine should be taught throughout the Stake.

Monday forenoon Elder D. R. Stevens spoke on the duties of the various officers of the Stake and the wards, after which Elder Lyman delivered another of his practical discourses, in which he spoke very earnestly against the practice of card playing and all kinds of gambling; called card playing an all fashionable evil, a practice belonging to the worst class of society, leading to drinking, cheating and sometimes murder.

The wards and High Priests' quorum were reported, and the general and local authorities presented and sustained unanimously. The reports showed that peace and good will prevail among the Saints.
