BRITISH PUBLIC IS REASSURED.

Believed that Low Water Mark Has Been Reached in the Reverses in South Africa.

Looking for Victory Now—Boer Resistance Expected to be Stubborn—More Troops Wanted—Report of Big Victory Disbelieved—Gen. White Giving Hard Blows—Alleged Disregard of White Flag—Gen. Joubert's Policy—British Fleet—Important Dispatches, but Contents Kept Secret—No Looting by Boers—Narrow Escape of Durban Volunteers—Many Boers Dead—British Success—Boers in Zululand—Defense of Pietermaritzburg—Stromburg Bridge Blown Up.

LONDON, Nov. 6.—An air of relief was present among the British city offices today as a result of yesterday's news from Ladysmith, and the tone of comment in the war office has assumed a more cheerful tone. The general belief is that the worst of the reverses in the progress of the war seems to be over, and that the arrival of the first contingent of reinforcements has contributed to raise the low water mark of confidence